Tar Heels Favored Against Virginia

Cavaliers Thirsting For First Victory Since Upset In 1932

By SHELLEY ROLFE

One of the finest University of North Carolina football teams in years reaches the end of the 1939 trail at Kenan stadium tomorrow afternoon when it plays Virginia at 2 o'clock.

The Tar Heels will be overwhelming favorites to defeat the in and out Cavaliers and finish the year with eight wins, one loss, one tie and fourth place in the Southern conference. Virginia goes into the game with five games won and three lost and a deep-set ambition to knock down Carolina for the first time since 1932 when it won 14-7, when Coach Chuck Collins used his second team most of the way.

While the general trend of thought among the more expert of the citizenry is that Carolina can name the score,

CAROLINA	Position	VIRGINIA
Severin	le	George
White	lt	McLaughlin
Woodson	lg	Winokus
Smith	Center	Murden
Slagle	rg	Sauerbeck
Kimball	rt	Frerotte
Mallory	re	Gianakos
Stirnweiss	qb	Dudley
Radman	hb	Gillette
Bobbitt	hb	Cardozo
Dunkle	fb	Neudstedter

Ray Wolf is not so optimistic. The Coach has been official Chapel Hill pessimist from the first day of practice and he sees no reason to change tactics—just yet.

WHY MENTION IT?

Ever since the Duke game, the battle which knocked the local heroes from the ranks of the undefeated and out of first place in the conference, Wolf has warned his men not to take

German Professor Writes History Of United States

"The Political and Literary History of the United States in Three Hundred Years" is the translated title of a book written by Dr. Werner P. Friederich of the University German department and published in Bern, Switzerland just recently. The book, which is written in German, was begun by Dr. Friederich in the spring of 1938 while he was teaching in the University of Bern. In the words of the author the purpose of the book it, "to work against the very superficial tourists' descriptions which, unfortunately, are very prevalent."

Each chapter is devoted to a particular period of American history or literature and describes the life of the most outstanding man in it. Historical leaders are: William and Mather, Franklin and Washington, Monroe and Jefferson, Lincoln and Lee, and Rockefeller and Wilson. Literary standouts are Irving, Hawthorne, Poe, Emerson, Whitman, Twain, O'Neill, and Lewis.

Grail Announces Holiday Dance

The Order of the Grail last night announced a dance tomorrow night for students remaining in Chapel Hill during the holidays.

Freddy Johnson and his orchestra will play for the affair in the main lounge of Graham Memorial from 9:30 to 1 o'clock.

ALUMNI WEDDINGS ARE ANNOUNCED

Betty Norcross To Wed Tom Myers

Betty Norcross, who was voted the most beautiful girl in the senior class last year, will become the bride of Tom Myers, also a Carolina graduate, at the Methodist Episcopal church in Smithfield December 6.

Announcement of the approaching marriage was made by Miss Mary Elizabeth Wells, aunt of Miss Norcross, recently. Miss Norcross was a member of the Chi Omega sorority and was well known on the campus.

Bill Malone, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. E. Lucien Malone of Clarksdale, Miss., and John Turner Rough-ton of Charlotte will be wedded at the St. George Episcopal church in Clarksdale December 27.

Miss Malone was head of the woman's association, member of Chi Omega and Alpha Kappa Gamma, and hostess of Graham Memorial during her stay in Chapel Hill. Mr. Rough-ton is also a Carolina alumnus.

Phi Favors Restricting Davis From Legislature

Sticking its head into the thick of the current campus fight of student legislature versus student council, the Phi assembly last night cast an overwhelming vote in favor of restricting student body president Jim Davis' participation in legislative sessions to gallery attendance.

A vote of 32 to 5 was cast in favor of the bill, "Resolved: That, the student body president can speak on the floor of the student legislature only by special permission of the chairman."

The assembly passed three more bills in rapid fire succession.

"Resolved: That, the Phi assembly take action to get an improved phone system in the dormitories," was the next bill and won a 37 to 2 majority.

A 34-to-5 vote favored the Phi's sponsoring a Sadie Hawkins' day inspired by Al Capps Li'l Abner of comic section fame. Plans for the event will be announced next quarter.

Agreeing with President's action, the assembly decided against the advisability of allowing ships owned by United States shipping companies to sail under the flag of any other country.

Republican-Democrat Debate Is Postponed

The Young Republican club decided at its meeting yesterday to postpone the debate between the Young Republicans and the Young Democrats until after Christmas. The reason for the decision was given as the imminence of exams after Thanksgiving.

A program committee was appointed to prepare and give programs that relate to the interests of the club. Members of the committee are: Jeter Pritchard, chairman, Charles E. Mashburn, Robert Wright, Tom Hardy, and H. Byrd.

Omigad! No Turkey For Thanksgiving

Wasting away at the prospect of not eating Ma's turkey for Thanksgiving, 21 patients lay despondent in the infirmary yesterday. Those "down at the mouth" were:

Speaker Bankhead To Deliver Principal Address At Session In Music Hall At 8 O'Clock

Yes, Then Again No; Perhaps—But Maybe

CHAPEL HILL, Nov. 28 — Rumors reported in a communique from usually reliable sources indicated late tonight that alleged beliefs that Thanksgiving holidays would begin this afternoon at 1 o'clock might possibly be true.

Another likely report from an informant in what is sometimes presumed to be high official circles hesitantly stated that the holidays would end at 8:30 Monday morning. However, possible readers are warned that all news is subject to censorship and they must judge its contents accordingly.

'HIGHLAND CALL' TO BE PRESENTED

Drama Well Received In Fayetteville

Tickets for Paul Green's historical drama, "The Highland Call" which will be presented in the Playmaker theater December 5 and 6, will go on sale today in the Playmakers' business office in 316 South building and at Ledbetter-Pickard's. The play will begin at 8:30 both nights, and will be a season ticket attraction, with other tickets for the performance selling at $1.00 each.

The drama is the second of a trilogy of American historical plays. The first was "Lost Colony" and the third will probably be on Williamsburg, Virginia.

"The Highland Call" was presented in Fayetteville to capacity houses for five consecutive nights last week for the Fayetteville Historical celebration. It concerns the legends and historical stories around Fayetteville, and the dances and chorus work were planned with authenticity by members of the Flora MacDonald faculty and their parts will be played by the original casts from Flora MacDonald college.

The several from Chapel Hill who are connected with the presentation are Dr. Frederick H. Koch, advisory director; Elmer Hall, scene designer, John Parker, director, and Ora Mae Davis, costumer.

Pharmacy School Names Committees

The committees for entertainment and the Yackety Yack have been chosen by the pharmacy school.

Those on the entertainment group are B. C. Sheffield, Jr., chairman, Jessie M. Pike, Edwin Royall, Jr., Solon S. Minton, and John A. McNeill.

The Yackety Yack committee includes Altajane Holden, chairman, William J. Sheffield, Edward Hamlet, Hildred Williams, and D. A. Plemmons.

Several Hundred Officials Expected At Exercises

Several hundred local, state and federal officials will gather here today to take part in the formal opening of the Institute of Government's new $50,000 laboratory tonight.

Speaker William B. Bankhead, who is accompanying the North Carolina congressional delegation here for the event and who is to make the principal address, arrived last night.

Governor Clyde R. Hoey and all the state's living former governors, J. C. B. Ehringhaus, O. Max Gardner, and Cameron Morrison,

Albert Coates have been invited to participate in the event, along with a majority of the state legislators, state officials, and several hundred city and county officials from all sections of North Carolina.

ASSEMBLY INVITED

The members of the general assembly were invited by the institute jointly with Lieutenant Governor W. P. Horton and Speaker D. L. Ward.

Local Democratic, Republican, Young Democratic, Young Republican, and election chairmen have also been invited jointly by the institute and their respective state heads, Gregg Cherry, J. F. Newell, Forrest Pollard, E. H. Stanley, and W. A. Lucas.

The program for the opening of the new laboratory, which is the first of its kind in America and which is unique in that it serves city, county, state

John Busby Elected Di Senate President

New officers of the Dialectic senate elected last night to serve during the winter quarter are John Busby, president; Mary Lewis, president pro-tem; Truman Hobbs, critic; Lewis Williams, clerk; and Frank Williams, sergeant-at-arms.

Busby, a senior, has served as sergeant-at-arms and as treasurer of the senate. Miss Lewis has also held office in the senate, while the other three are new senate office-holders.

These newly elected officers will be installed at the meeting of the senate next Tuesday night. The installation will be followed by a social gathering of members.

Reports of committees were read and accepted. The ways and means committee recommended that in the future a coed be included as a member of the ways and means committee since the coed membership of the Di has increased so much in the last quarter.
