

To Be Presented This Afternoon By Graham Memorial

Pictured above is the Bennett College choir, composed of over 30 Negro voices, who will be presented this afternoon by Graham Memorial in the main lounge at 5 o'clock. The choir is under the direction of Dr. Nathaniel Dett, well-known Negro composer and musician. This afternoon's concert will be the final attraction to be offered by the Student Union during the fall quarter. The choir will sing several selections by European masters, some Negro spirituals, and songs from Dr. Dett's compositions.

CAROLINA GROUPS SPREAD YULETIDE CHEER IN VILLAGE

Organizations Aid Needy, Plan Varied Pre-Holiday Program

Christmas cheer, as for several years in the past, will again be spread around the Chapel Hill community this season by University groups and organizations. During the past week and through next week, contributions to the village needy have been and will be received by local welfare agencies.

Following the reading of Dicken's "Christmas Carol" by Dr. Koch tonight, those interested in singing carols around the campus and village will meet at the YMCA lobby. The singing tour is being sponsored by the YWCA, and all are invited to participate.

CHARITIES

During the past week, Phi Gamma Delta, Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Theta, and Chi Omega, and the Junior Service League have contributed to a colored baby fund, tuberculosis milk fund, and collections of clothes and toys.

For the seventh year the Phi Delta's will give 12 baskets of food and toys to needy families. The Phi Gamma clothes collection was made Wednesday night, and the Chi Omegas have contributed to a milk fund for a tuberculosis patient. The Pi Phi's and the ADPi's will have Christmas parties tonight, toys from which will be given needy children.

Yesterday afternoon the Betas gave a party for about 40 underprivileged children. Following several games, Santa Claus appeared and presented each youngster with toys and a bag of fruits and confections. Rooms were decorated with lighted trees. Following the party, those attending gathered around Santa Claus and sang carols.

1,100 Will Sing In Candlelight Service Thursday

Approximately 1,100 Chapel Hill school children, University students, faculty and townspeople will participate in the second annual Candlelight Carol service in Memorial hall Thursday night at 7:15.

Dr. Jan Philip Schinhan, Dr. Earl A. Slocum and William Klenz of the University department will aid in directing and playing for the service. Several school groups, directed by Mrs. Roben J. Maaske, will be accompanied by Mrs. Benjamin Swalin at the piano and Mrs. A. W. Honeycutt at the organ.

Those who will sing Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus," which will be directed by Dr. Schinhan, will meet for rehearsal at Hill music hall Monday night at 7:30. Small children, dressed in white and carrying lighted candles, will open the

Program To Include Negro Spirituals, Classic Selections

A program of spirituals and compositions of European masters will be presented by Nathaniel Dett's Bennett College choir in a concert to be held in the main lounge of Graham Memorial this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Today's appearance will be the second Dr. Dett, noted Negro composer and conductor, has made here this quarter.

The Bennett College choir has gained prominence in many recitals throughout the state, receiving laudatory notices from the newspaper critics. After a recent concert the Greensboro Daily News commented, "Combining a deep understanding with rich expressiveness and mood, the spirituals were interrupted with natural fullness of tone and feeling. . . . Clear, rhythms, vibrant, these songs were rendered with a profound effect, abounding in warmth and sincerity. . . . The interpretation of the other numbers was an abiding faithfulness to the spirit of song."

PAST PERFORMANCES

During the last few years, the chorus has made many appearances throughout the country. Concerts were given in Depauw University, Greencastle, Indiana; Centenary Church, Binghampton, N. Y.; Elm Park Methodist Episcopal Church, Scranton, Pa.; Aycock Auditorium, Woman's College, Greensboro; and a nation-wide broadcast over the Columbia Broadcasting Company from Philadelphia's station

China Aid Committee Plans Xmas Campaign To Assist Refugees

The local China Aid committee announced today its plan to raise a Christmas fund for the support of Chinese refugee children. Donations will be solicited by mail and sent through the National China Aid Council to China. All funds go directly for relief.

At the same time cans for the collection of money for medical aid will be placed in conspicuous places throughout the campus and the village.

The China Aid council, through which the funds are to be sent to China, is a national organization with Mrs. James Roosevelt as its honorary chairman, and the Honorable William E. Dodd, lately ambassador to Germany, Sherwood Eddy, who spoke here a few nights ago, and Dr. Frank Graham are among its sponsors.

Lest Auld Acquaintance Be Forgot - - Etc.

This issue of the DAILY TAR HEEL is the last for this year. The next one will be published next year on January 4.

Until then, we say good luck on your finals, Merry Christmas, Happy New Year, Season's Greetings, and may the Lord have mercy on your soul.

CENTRAL RECORDS OFFICE REPORTS 1,186 REGISTERED

Another Week Left To Have Winter Schedules Arranged

When the doors of Memorial hall closed at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the end of two and a half days of registering, a total of 1,186 students had been registered for the winter quarter, Central Records office announced.

It was thought at the end of the day that most of the General college had been registered. Graduate students are not represented in the total, since their registration does not begin until tomorrow morning.

Registration will be resumed at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning for the second week, and will continue until 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Regular hours for the entire week with the exception of Saturday will be from 9 till 5 o'clock. Tallying will be resumed in January when the winter quarter begins. It is hoped that all students now enrolled and eligible will be registered by Saturday. The procedure for the remaining period will be the same as before as printed in the DAILY TAR HEEL.

Sale Of Tuberculosis Seals To Continue; Grimes Dorm Leads

Tuberculosis Christmas seals will be on sale throughout this week at the YMCA and at Ledbetter-Pickard's, Sam Teague and Mary Sue Robertson, who are in charge of seal sales on the campus, said yesterday.

Preliminary reports, they said, show that the sales thus far have been "entirely satisfactory." Grimes has sold more seals to date than any other dormitory, being the only one that has gone back for more seals since distribution.

George Webster, second floor counselor of Grimes, has the record for individual sales.

"Maintain Good Posture And You'll Feel Better"

MADISON, Wis.—(ACP)—Maintain good posture and you'll feel better. That's the prescription of the University of Wisconsin's Dr. Frances A. Hellebrandt, a member of the medical school staff.

"To stand correctly is extraordinarily cheap from the viewpoint of its energy needs," she said.

"If the posture is relaxed, standing is practically indefatigable. It costs little more energy units to stand properly than to beat an egg, although nearly three-fourths of the muscles in the body are being used," Dr. Hellebrandt continued.

No person can stand without swaying, she found. "A person's center of weight falls remarkably close to the center of the base of support between the two feet," she said. "Although nature is a good engineer, the center of weight dances to and fro as we stand, producing gravitational stresses which must be met by the muscles of the legs to keep us from tottering."

CLEMSON GETS PERMIT TO PLAY IN COTTON BOWL

Conference Sets Dates For Loop Championship Meets

By LEONARD LOBRED

Clemson college was granted permission to play in the Cotton Bowl game and dates for the conference championship meets were set at the annual meeting of the Southern conference at Roanoke yesterday.

Having been asked by Jess Neely, Clemson coach, for permission to let the Tigers play in the Cotton Bowl game at Dallas New Year's day, the conference executive committee recommended that the conference ruling forbidding post-season games be waived in this case. The executive committee is composed of Dean Wanamaker of Duke, president; Dean Hobbs of Carolina, vice-president; Col. Cooper of VMI, secretary-treasurer; and Forrest Fletcher of W&L.

Dates for the conference championships left the basketball and swimming, and boxing and indoor track on the same weekends. No report was made for golf. The schedule is:

- Boxing — At Columbia, Feb. 23-24.
- Indoor track—Here, Feb. 24.
- Basketball—At Raleigh, Feb. 29-March 1-2.
- Swimming—Here, March 1-2.
- Tennis—At Duke, second weekend in May.
- Outdoor track — At W&M, May 17-18.

The three amendments on the eligibility of freshmen who matriculate at one school and transfer to another to participate in athletics were rejected.

An interesting discussion arose led by Coaches Pooley Hubert of VMI and Jess Neely of Clemson. They told the conference meeting that certain schools have printed forms which are signed by high school students who are prospective athletes while they are still seniors in high school. Hubert and Neely thought that, although the high school seniors could not be bound to such contracts, they imposed a moral obligation upon them and, therefore, the practice should be stopped. They mentioned no schools and no athletes, but Wallace Wade suggested that a committee write a code of

Vespers To Continue Through Wednesday

Completing the fall series, vesper services will be held at 6:40 each night through Wednesday with Charles Putzel, Bill Gordon, and John Bonner taking charge.

The services, held nightly during the week, are sponsored by the University Christian associations, and thus far have had a regular attendance. They will be continued after the holidays as part of the program being worked out this year by the YW and YMCA.

Bull's Head Presents Dr. McKie Wednesday

Dr. George McKie of the English department will be guest speaker at the last Bull's Head tea of the quarter Wednesday afternoon at 4:15. Dr. McKie will read "The Sister of the Angels" from Elizabeth Goudge's book, "The New Christmas Story."

Kyser Telegraphs His Appreciation

In reply to a telegram sent him immediately following the Duke incident thanking him for his support and signed by hundreds of University students, Kay Kyser sent the following telegram yesterday to Reddy Grubbs, president of the University club:

Dear Reddy: This is first chance I've had to express the thrill I got out of the wonderful telegram everybody joined in sending. The hospitality you and everyone else there extended us was marvelous but the telegram was the climax. Hope you'll express my deep gratitude to everyone and tell them what a happy man they made me even if we didn't win the game. In spite of the Duke loss we had a wonderful season and we are all proud of our school, our team, our coach and good old Carolina spirit. KAY KYSER.

Old Scrooge Sees A Ghost

"Proff" Koch is shown here portraying the part of Scrooge in Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," which the Playmaker director will read tonight at Memorial hall. The annual reading is "Proff's" greeting card to everyone on the campus and in the village, and has been his custom since he came to the University in 1918. Tonight's performance will be the 177th time that Koch has read the immortal story. This year his tour includes approximately 15 engagements throughout the state.

Koch Will Present Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" Tonight

Memorial Hall Opens At 7:45; Reading Will Begin At 8:30

The campus will get its first real taste of the Christmas spirit tonight at Memorial hall when "Proff" Koch presents the University and the village with his annual season's greetings card, a reading of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol."

The doors to Memorial hall will be open at 7:45, and Robert Brawley will present an organ recital of Christmas music until Dr. Sherman Smith of the chemistry department opens a community sing at 8 o'clock, leading the audience in some of the familiar Christmas carols. Dr. Koch will begin his reading at 8:30. No admission fee will be charged for the program.

"ENTRE ACTE"

Between staves of the "carol" recordings of Christmas music, made by the Vienna Choir boys, will be played.

Long famed for his reading, (this will be his 177th performance) Dr.

HOCUTT PRAISES SAFETY COUNCIL

State Official Writes Vincent

Jack Vincent, organizer and chairman of the recently formed student safety council, received a letter yesterday from Ronald Hocutt, director of the state highway safety division, in which Mr. Hocutt expressed the support of the state in aiding the council to carry out its work.

Hocutt said in his letter: "I want to congratulate you and your fellow students at the University of North Carolina for the interest that you have displayed in your efforts to bring about a safer community and arouse a safety consciousness at the University. For a long time I have felt that education is our principal weapon in the fight to reduce highway accidents in North Carolina. . . . this department is anxious to cooperate with you in every way and welcomes you into the fight to reduce highway accidents in North Carolina."

The safety council is an organization which will attempt to reduce accidents in Chapel Hill and promote safety education on the campus.

CAROLINA ARTS GROUP ANNOUNCES WINTER SPEAKERS

Zora Neale Hurston, Paul Green, Daniels To Be Presented

Zora Neale Hurston, Paul Green, and Jonathan Daniels will be the Carolina Arts Group winter quarter speakers Simons Roof, chairman of the organization announced yesterday.

The announcement was made at a meeting when three graduate students and four undergraduates were voted into membership: the graduates, Martha Frazer, Lytt Gardner, Sexton Leyton; and the undergraduates, Allen Grimes, George Simpson, Richard Nickson, and Mary Munch. Six names were withheld from consideration, because all members did not know the applicants, but the names were to be voted on at the first winter quarter meeting.

AUTHORS

Zora Neale Hurston is the brilliant Negro authoress of numerous successes, among them, "Their Eyes Were Watching God," and the more recent "Moses, Man of the Mountain." Miss Hurston's interest in establishing a native Negro drama is evidenced by recent dramatic activity under her direction in North Carolina.

Paul Green, local playwright, will consider in his speech some aspect of the modern theater, its bearing on his present work. The second play in his trilogy, "The Highland Call," has just been presented here.

Jonathan Daniels, editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, and author of the popular "A Southerner Discovers the South," will speak on a topic related to a forthcoming book of his.

Pharmacy Photos Will Be Retaken

Pictures will be retaken for all freshmen and sophomore pharmacy students tomorrow morning in front of the Pharmacy building. Sophomores and transfer students will have their picture taken at 10:30, and the freshmen picture will be taken at 12 o'clock. Wear coats and ties as this is the final retake.
