

Campus Radio Studio Begins Operation Sunday Afternoon

Variety Show Will Open Series Of Broadcasts

Opening the new University broadcasting studio Sunday in remodeled Caldwell hall, with the presentation of a Variety Show written by Fred Howard and Donald Mason, the Radio Players will fulfill what has long been an aim of Carolina and dedicate a campus owned and operated station with complete broadcasting facilities.

Headed by Earl Wynn, with a complete technical crew and student performers, the studio group has at its disposal a completely equipped and modern station.

Wynn announced that the variety show will be given at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon over three southern Columbia broadcasting system stations; WDNC in Durham, WBIG in Greensboro, and WSJS in Winston-Salem, Joe Lederman is in charge of arrangements for the variety production which will depict scenes of student life with the University glee club singing college songs as background. The Glee club will also furnish songs for the interludes. The cast has not as yet been chosen.

Next Tuesday at 3 o'clock the radio group will present Robert Finch's "His Last Skirmish" over four stations of the Southern Broadcasting chain. The play will go from the campus studio to WRAL in Raleigh by direct wire and will be transmitted from there to WSTP in Salisbury, WAIR in Winston-Salem, and WSOB in Charlotte.

"The Last Skirmish" has a revolutionary setting in North Carolina on Moore's Creek. It tells of an elderly Confederate soldier who is goaded by his young wife into his "last skirmish." Wynn said, of this production, "It has a fast, interest-holding dialogue and tells a fascinating tale of this state and its conflict with the tories."

"Throughout the year the Players have presented weekly programs to the radio public of the state and with the completion of the long-awaited campus studio hope to institute a policy of broadcasting several programs a week," the director continued.

DEMOCRATS PASS CONSTITUTION

Farley's Address Still Indefinite

Initiation of plans for a banquet or a President's ball and the passing of the constitution featured the meeting of the Young Democratic club last night in Gerrard hall. Whether or not Jim Farley will come to speak at the club's banquet is still indefinite.

Secretary Ernest King reported that he had received a letter from A. D. Folger, national committeeman, saying that Farley will be in the state January 24 and that efforts will be made to have him come to Carolina. Farley has already expressed his willingness to do so.

In case the postmaster-general cannot come, it was planned either to hold the banquet with another speaker or to sponsor a President's ball on January 29. Some of the alternate speakers suggested were Governor Hoey, W. D. Siler, Greg Siler, Willis Smith, and J. M. Broughton. Investigations will be made concerning the cost of sponsoring the ball.

The constitution was passed in sections with President Joe Dawson presiding. In charge of arrangements for the banquet and ball is the banquet and publicity committee: Bert Premo, chairman, Bob Sloan, Fred Edney, Joe Zaytoun and Winfred Norman. Ap pointed on the attendance committee were: Bob Berbett, chairman, Charles Barker and Mack McClendon. On the membership committee will be: Ott Burton, chairman, Mitchell Britt, Herb Hardy, Jimmy Pittman, Pres Nisbitt, Fletcher Mann and Bill McKinnon.

Saturday Is Deadline For Soph Pictures

Bill Alexander, president of the sophomore class, issued a reminder that Saturday is the deadline for sophomore pictures for the Yackety Yack. All sophs who haven't had their picture made by then will not be seen in the yearbook.

Unemployment Going Up...?

An important meeting of members of the DAILY TAR HEEL reporter staff will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Absence of any member will increase the nation's unemployment figure.

KAPPA EPSILON TO ESTABLISH CHAPTER HERE

New Pharmacy Sorority To Become Active Tomorrow

Miss Gertrude Horsch of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, national vice-president of Kappa Epsilon sorority, will begin installation of a Lambda chapter at the University tomorrow afternoon when private ceremonies will be held in the woman's association lounge.

Following initiation, a formal banquet will be held at Carolina Inn for new members in the pharmacy sorority.

The following will become members of the new sorority: Anna Dean Burks, president of the Kappa Epsilon society; Elizabeth Weaver, vice-president; Lee Smith, treasurer; Alta Jane Holden, member-at-large; Ernestine Barber, Jean Bush, June Bush, Rose Stacy and Josephine Eldridge. Pledges of the sorority will be announced later.

BANQUET

The banquet will be arranged by Misses Weaver, Burks, Stacy and Holden. Among the speakers at the banquet will be Miss Horsch and Miss Alice Noble, advisor to the society. The charter will be presented formally at the dinner.

Saturday afternoon, Kappa Epsilon sorority members will make their bow to campus and village society at a formal tea in the main lounge of Graham Memorial. Faculty members and representative students have been invited to attend. In charge of the tea will be Margaret Lloyd, Connie DuBose, Jessie Lee Smith and Halcyone Collier. Initiates will receive with Miss Horsch and Miss Noble, and pledges will serve refreshments.

Textbook By Staab Is Placed On Sale

Just recently put on sale in the Book Exchange, Dr. H. H. Staab's new textbook, Cours de Francais Commercial, is now being used in Commercial French, French 21.

The book, on which Dr. Staab has been working for the past year or so, is composed mainly of business letters dealing with banking, business relations and documents, stock exchange and transportation. Most of the letters used were originally Dr. Staab's.

Kreisler "Never Bothers" About Care Of His Hands

World Famed Violinist Is Scheduled For Appearance Here Tuesday Evening

Acclaimed by audiences the world over, Fritz Kreisler, famous violinist, will appear here at Memorial hall Tuesday night at 8:30. His appearance will be sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha, honorary music fraternity.

Contrary to stories told about the care many violinists and pianists lavish on their hands, Kreisler said: "I have never bothered myself about my hands. During my whole life, I've never treated them as if they were anything special. It's the same way with my violins. I won't let them be a burden to me." Also, Kreisler has adopted a more or less passive attitude toward life. He believes in taking life just as it comes, living on the todays, and never the yesterdays or tomorrows.

Combine the peculiar artistic attributes of the Slav with the gay, urbane quality, the polish and sophistication of the Viennese; add to this two more diverse elements, the violinist's

HORNER SUCCEEDS WALT SPEARMAN AS PU OFFICIAL

English Teacher Will Hold Post For Two Years

Professor George Horner of the English department has been appointed by the administration to serve as faculty member of the Publications Union board for the next two years, succeeding Walter Spearman, journalism professor, whose term of office closed at yesterday's meeting of the board.

Commenting on the change, Ed Rankin, president of the PU board, said: "The Publications Union board wishes to thank Professor Walter Spearman, of the journalism department for the two years of valuable help which he contributed to the board as a faculty member during 1938-40. His knowledge of publications, his patience with the three new student members, and especially his wit were of the greatest possible aid."

WELCOMES HORNER

"We also wish to welcome Mr. Spearman's successor, Professor George Horner, and hope that he will find his two-year term on the board enjoyable."

Professor R. B. Sharp of the English department, whose term ends next year, is the other voting faculty member of the PU board.

J. M. Lear of the commerce department is faculty adviser.

Dexter Freeman of the library staff, representing the Thomas Wolfe memorial fund committee, appeared before the board to ask that it contribute toward the fund. The committee is raising money to bring some of Wolfe's original manuscripts to the University library.

After the meeting Rankin issued the following statement concerning Freeman's proposal which was tabled by the board:

"The board has been approached (Continued on page 2, column 6)

HARDY ELECTED TO LEGISLATURE

Dormitory Council Petitions Faculty

At the Inter-dormitory council meeting last night Herb Hardy was elected to replace Paul McGinty as the council's representative to the campus legislature.

The council petitioned the University administration to change the date of the Comprehensives to some other time as they will conflict with the annual Inter-dormitory ball which is to be held in collaboration with the Order of the Grail.

Bob Barber was appointed chairman of a committee to make plans for an Inter-dormitory banquet which will be held on Friday, February 9, preceding the dormitory dance that night. The banquet will be held for members of the council and their dates.

Al Donahue's Orchestra Signed To Play For Grail-Dorm Dance

Fortunate Gentlemen, May Now Give Coeds Dose Of Own Medicine

By SANFORD STEIN

"I'm awfully sorry to have kept you waiting, Georgia, but I simply couldn't get my tie fixed right and the part in my hair is a perfect mess." "Oh dear, Judy, I just know my after-shaving powder isn't on right. Is my chin shiny?" "Wait a minute, Martha, I forgot to sign out. And the dorm manager is very strict."

These, or similar phrases, will be uttered by those fortunate males who will have the pleasure of giving coeds a dose of their own medicine when New Woman's Dorm number one (popularly known as Kennison hall or Corn-House-on-the-Cobb) gives a formal leap year dance tomorrow night from 9 to 1 o'clock to the strains of Charlie Wood and his orchestra. Miss Nancy Taylor (who is famous for her nightly social gatherings in the hallway outside the library reference room) and Miss Mary Jackson are in charge of arrangements for the dance.

FAMOUS NUMBERS

Between 9:30 and 10 tomorrow night, all boys' dormitories and fraternities will be besieged by those sweet young creatures who have made 6091, 6096 and 3071 three numbers as internationally famous as 10 Downing street or 1026 Conti street. The girls, in short, will be the escorts and, after having someone inform their dates that they are waiting, will undergo the ordeal of pacing the vestibules or the outside steps of the various dorms and frat houses until the desired males have decided that their respective toilettes are complete. And most of the boys invited have revealed that, unfortunately, it will take them at least a half-hour after their escorts arrive before they'll be ready.

Those coeds who have bravely descended into the wilds of the lower quadrangle for their dates are assured of the usual hearty reception, not to mention various delicate compliments and melodic vocal sounds, usually accorded anything in skirts under 60 that happens to stray within that sacred court. If the boys care for something to eat or drink before the (Continued on page 2, column 3)

Berryhill Denies Epidemic Of Colds Despite Sick List

Despite recent infirmity lists numbering in the 60's Dr. W. R. Berryhill yesterday declined to call the present prevalence of colds on the campus an epidemic.

"It is true that there are more students sick with colds than usual this winter, and many of the colds have developed into flu and even pneumonia. However, the illness of 60 out of 3500 students does not warrant the announcement of an epidemic," he said yesterday.

Dr. Berryhill advocated three precautions. He advised, first, that all crowds and gatherings such as movies and dances should be avoided as much as possible; second, that attention should be given to a cold as soon as it is contracted; third, that everyone with a cold should avoid all exercise.

Fifty-three patients were confined to the infirmary yesterday. They were:

Clarence Sinclair, William Harward, George Millaway, William Richardson, Fred Swindal, William York, Paul King, Weson Batchelor, Michael Nolan, Carrington Gretter, Nathaniel Bliss, Evan Farber, Herman Vandernolen, Glenn Brooks, J. M. Jenrette, Doremer Carol, Sarah Summerline, Gertrude Clark, William Dye, Mary Rhyne, Herbert Stang, E. T. Sessoms, Leonard Suprenant, Mrs. Jerry Daniel, Haynes Baird, Jane Rowe, James Williams, Alonzo Squires, Louis Waller, Benjamin Denkins, Sewell Moore, Mary Heath, Helen Jacobs, Mary Daffin, Frances Prizer, Anna Ballentine, Ona Whitley, Hilah Mayer, Eleanor Jenkins, Halcyone Collier, Laura Shaver, Isabel Pelton, Charles Rhyne, M. M. Malkin, John McKeever, Jashua Goldberg, Albert Hendrix, David Clark, Mortimer Stang, Cecil Council, George Council, George Wilson, Edwin Easter and Suzanne McLauran.

PLANS ARRANGED FOR ROOSEVELT BIRTHDAY DANCE

Smith Announces Varied Program For January 30

Extensive plans are being made for the Chapel Hill-campus observance of the President's birthday, January 30, which will include round and square dances given under one roof, E. Carrington Smith, general chairman of the party, announced following a meeting at the Carolina Inn yesterday.

Several committee chairmen were selected to aid in arranging the party and prices of admission were decided. Script will be 50 cents per person and one dollar per couple.

A varied program will be arranged to be given during a one-hour intermission at the affair. University professors and much local talent will take part in a number of skits. Refreshment stands will be operated at the benefit affair.

STRING BAND

A string band, with an experienced caller of figures, will play for the square dance, and a local orchestra will be obtained to furnish music for the round dance.

Proceeds from the party will be devoted to a fund for aiding persons suffering from infantile paralysis. Braces and other medical and surgical equipment have been purchased through the fund which has accumulated during the past few years.

Committeemen serving under the leadership of Mr. Smith are as follows: Mrs. Roland McClamroch, square dance; Mrs. R. W. Madry and Mrs. A. H. Shepard, round dance; Leigh Skinner and Paul M. Thompson, refreshments; Judge L. J. Phipps, ticket sale; W. A. Hogan, string band; Tommy Howard, finances; and W. M. Pugh, printing; W. R. Weaver, orchestra and publicity. Committee membership will be announced later in the DAILY TAR HEEL and Chapel Hill Weekly.

ASU To Discuss Radio Broadcast

The proposed radio program and the new series of open forums will be the chief matters of business when the ASU meets tonight at 7:30 in room 212 of Graham Memorial. Negotiations are now under way to secure radio time on a local station.

Under the new system of bi-weekly meetings soon to be inaugurated there will be a panel discussion at each meeting of some pertinent topic with faculty members as speakers and the public invited. The panel discussion will be followed by the usual open forum discussion.

Business Machine Man Will Speak

A representative of the International Business Machine corporation will be in Chapel Hill on Tuesday, January 16, to show movies and discuss possibilities of obtaining jobs with seniors and graduate students.

At the gathering in 103 Bingham hall, he will talk about work that is available and how to go about getting it, but will not offer any interviews.

Interdorm Set Begins February 9 With Campus Band

Al Donahue and his nationally famous orchestra have been scheduled to appear at the University on February 10 for a Grail-Dormitory dance in the Tin Can, it was announced yesterday by Dick Worley, exchequer for the Grail, and Stancel Stroud, chairman of the inter-dorm dance committee.

The set of dances will open Friday, February 9 with an inter-dormitory dance. A campus band will probably play for this dance.

Donahue will play Saturday afternoon at a dormitory tea dance and for the Grail-Dormitory dance Saturday night. There will be an admission charge for the evening dance to be given in honor of the dormitory men.

Married to a social registrate, Donahue is dubbed by many as the "society" band leader. He is considered one of the most handsome and best-dressed bachelors in the business.

HOLDS RECORD

Donahue is coming to Carolina direct from the Rainbow Room atop Radio City in New York. He is credited with having started the swank patrons of the Rainbow Room jitterbugging. His record of six return engagements at the famed Radio City night spot has not been equaled by any other orchestra.

Pretty Paula Kelly and Phil Brito, both accomplished singers, vocalize with the band.

COMPOSER

Donahue's theme is entitled "Low-down Rythm in a Top Hat." Heading the "Hit Parade" for several weeks this past season was "Don't Cross your fingers, cross your heart," one of Al's contributions to the field of popular music. He has written many songs including several novelties. The orchestra plays sweet music, but they can also "swing-out" right along with the rest of them.

Those in charge of the dances feel that the weekend will be an excellent one for a set in that there are other activities scheduled. Friday night the Maryland boxing team will meet Carolina here and Saturday afternoon will feature a swimming meet with VMI in addition to the dormitory tea dance. The varsity freshman basketball squads will meet the Duke teams in Woollen prior to the dance Saturday night.

Civil Service Exam In Special Fields Open To Students

The Civil Service commission has announced that it will offer an open competitive exam here for junior professional assistants, who will receive a salary of $2,000 a year.

During the coming week a representative of the commission will be here to discuss types of work available under the Civil Service.

Optional branches in the examination will include: administrative technician, agricultural economist, agronomist, animal breeder, archaeologist, archivist, biologist (wildlife), chemist, engineer, entomologist, forester, geographer, information assistant, legal assistant, librarian, metallurgist, meteorologist, oleiculturist, plant breeder, poultry husbandman, public welfare assistant, range examiner, rural sociologist, social anthropologist, soil scientist, statistician, textile technologist, and veterinarian.

Applicants must have completed four years of college courses leading to a bachelor's degree majoring in the optional field chosen. Senior students, or for legal assistants, law students, now attending recognized institutions may take the examination, but they must furnish proof during the existence of the eligible register that they have completed the required course prior to July 1, 1940.

Applications will not be accepted after February 5.

Faculty May Obtain Reserved Tickets

Faculty members holding season athletic tickets may secure reserved seats for games by calling for them at the Woollen gymnasium ticket office.
