"I FOUGHT GATES KIMBALL" — A TRUE CONFESSION

We were so fortunate as to be seated next to Mr. Bill Bailey the other night on a bus out of Greensboro. Mr. Bailey was returning to the Duke campus from High Point, where he is currently courting the girl he expects to marry in April.

It will be recalled by sharper minds that Bill Bailey is the All-Southern football star at Duke who was man enough to get in the same ring with Gates Kimball. Interesting results followed.

Bailey eased his 6-foot-four-inch frame into one of the Carolina Coach company's lush, velvety seats (sarcasm) and stuck a finger in his nose. "See," he said, "This is where Gates slugged me in the second round."

A neat cut, not yet healed, was on the undersurface of Bill's proboscis. The 225-pounder from Lexington continued. "I believe I could have stayed three rounds with Kimball if I hadn't gotten excited. I left myself open, he cracked me on the jaw, I was dazed, and then he let me have it. Gosh, what a punch he's got."

But Bill admitted that he didn't think he could have possibly licked Gates. "I wish him all the luck in the world in the conference tournament. I'm sure he'll win the heavyweight title. He knows too much about boxing and has too much power to get beat."

Bailey, while describing the golden hair of his lady friend and telling he spent $75 a month commuting between Durham and High Point, discoursed briefly on his own boxing career.

"I fought in Lexington high school as a light-heavyweight," he divulged as the bus skidded to a stop in Burlington. "Until I met Kimball, I had lost only one fight in my life."

Mr. Bailey got "excited." This is likely to happen to any fighter who mixes with Gates, and is just a prelude of bigger and better things to come. Seriously, Kimball meets capable competition in the Columbia tournament today and tomorrow in Warren Wilson of Clemson and Dick Baxter of South Carolina. Both gentlemen are bruisers who know how to box. Still, since Kimball also knows how to box, we'll be loyal and stick by the old alma mater in picking a winner.

Unless Clemson, Citadel, South Carolina and Maryland are exceptionally in the groove during the next 48 hours—and Carolina badly off form—the conference title should really be the Tar Heels' for the first time since 1929. Billy Winstead can defend his 120-pound crown efficiently. Andy Gennett will spring an upset over Maryland's Nathan Askin at 135. Ed Dickerson wants the title he narrowly missed last year. Red Sanders is out for real blood, and there's always Gates Kimball. Also, Jack Johnston and Bob Farris will be wanting to make their first tourney a successful one.

TAR BABIES LOAF LAST PERIOD AND ARE PUSHED HARD

By HARRY HOLLINGSWORTH
DUKE GYM, Durham, Feb. 22.—After holding the Duke frosh to two points for the first half here tonight, the Carolina freshman basketball team coasted, except for the final two minutes of the game, to a 27-23 win over the Blue Imps. The score at the half was 16-2.

The Tar Babies guarded almost perfectly for the first half, limiting Duke to a lone field goal—and that came with only two minutes left in the half.

The win gave the Babies a clean sweep of their two-game series with the Imps for the season, and they finished the season in top place in the Big Five freshman standing, having lost only one game.

Duke never seriously threatened. The closest that they came to the Babies was in the final second of the game when Starke's field goal drifted through the basket as the gun sounded. They had previously pushed the score to 25-20, but Fred Moore's field goal lifted the Babies' total.

Joe Nelson and George Paine were the top performers for the frosh. Nelson led the night's scoring with 11 points, while Paine played one of the finest floor games that he has played. Nelson fouled out with 20 seconds remaining in the game.

The Imp's big gun, Larry Coyte, was nearly silent, although he did play a good floor game. Bill Wetmore, a tall, slim lad, took the honors for Duke with six points.

The game started slowly and after six minutes of play Carolina had only a 6-0 lead. Moore, Kenfield, Paine and Nelson combined and made it 14-0, and then Wetmore scored the Blue Imps' lone points in the first half on a shot from the side court. The half ended a couple of minutes later with Carolina leading, 16-2.

Duke came out strong at the start of the second half and scored four goals in succession. Outscoring the Tar Babies 21-11, in the second half, Duke made up for its bad first half.

GLAMACK GETS 20 OF 24 POINTS BEFORE RETIRING

best he has ever been in his two years of tremendous varsity play. He collected 20 points although fouling out five minutes before the end, and when he left the Phantoms were holding to a 24-21 margin and all but four of the points had been contributed by Mr. Glamack.

It was a great personal triumph for George and strengthened his position as the top of the conference individual scoring race with 221 points. George has made 62 the last three contests against State, Clemson and Duke which is to be considered big league point gathering of the highest sort against any and all grades of competition.

There is no telling what disastrous feat might have befallen the White Phantoms had not Mr. Glamack risen to the occasion as nobly as he did. The team had trouble getting started and it was up to George to personally unhitch it from the post and keep it in the race.

He did the job very adequately to put it mildly. Duke hopped off to a two point lead after almost five minutes of play when Bill Mock tapped in a field goal. In came George with two fouls. George flipped in a two pointer that sent the Phantoms ahead. They remained in the lead the rest of the way except for a brief moment in the second half when Duke moved three points ahead but Glamack took ample care of the situation with two rapid field goals.

It was George all through the first half. He sent Carolina ahead 4-2, made it 5-2 with a foul shot and 7-2 with a hook try. After that Duke limped home very dejected and pained and finished at half-time at the short-end of an 11-8 count.

But there was not an "all is lost" attitude around the Blue Devil camp. Last time Carolina and Duke met the Phantoms had a 12 point half-time margin and then proceeded to give it.

Drawing track athletes from all over the Southland, Dixie's greatest track and field carnival will be held here tomorrow when the Southern Conference Indoor games start at 1:30 in the Tin Can and move over to Woolen gymnasium at 2:30.

Eleven Southern conference teams, seven non-conference entries, nine freshman teams and 24 scholastic contingents will be represented tomorrow by a total of 474 athletes, 50 more than the number of participants in the games last year.

Preparations for the meet are about complete. Bleachers have been moved to the west side of the gym, where they

The meet is the biggest athletic event in the South. Competition will be held in four divisions—Southern conference, non-conference, freshman, and scholastic. Carolina, defending champion, and Maryland, with six returning champions, are leading contenders for the conference crown.

HEIGHT, CHI PHI, WHITE OF K WIN FOUL SHOOTING

Leon Height of Chi Phi and Frank White of "K" became the foul shooting kings of the fraternity and dormitory leagues yesterday as they trained their eagle eyes and accurate shooting to bag 40 and 39 goals in the finals of the tournament. Height's 40 gives him a total of 78 out of 100 shots and White's 39 gives him 77 out of the 100 shots.

In the fraternity league Height was closely followed by Kushin, who bagged 35 for a total of 77 after leading at the end of the first round with 43. Watts Carr of SAE ran third with 36 for a total of 76. Sternberg was fourth with 74 while Tomlinson of SAE ran fifth with 71. Reynolds of Kappa Sigma carded 69 for sixth, and Neill of Chi Phi and Woodall of Beta Theta Pi tied for the next place with 68 each. Clark of Phi Gamma Delta, Grant of Beta Theta Pi, Mangum of ATO and Headlee of Phi Gamma Delta scored 65. A. Carr of Zeta Psi was next with 62 and Hollingshead of DKE ended it all with 61.

In the dormitory league White maintained the lead that he had in the opening round and was followed by Asch of Lewis with 73. Barrier of Aycock and

Walter Blackmer Elected Captain Of '40 Wrestlers

Coach Chuck Quinlan and his Tar Heel wrestlers went into a secret conference yesterday afternoon and elected Walt Blackmer 1940 varsity captain and Don Clement and Hobie McKeever co-captains of the freshman squad.

A two-year veteran and only senior on the squad, Blackmer has fought both 136- and 145-pound fights this season and come out with major successes, losing only to Washington and Lee's Tommy Fuller. Up at Annapolis last month, Blackmer saved the Tar Heel matmen from a shut-out with his inspiring fighting in the 136-pound spot. A transfer from Appalachian State, Walt was ineligible his sophomore year, but came out for the varsity last season and turned in a victory in the opening meet against VPI and went on to fight in the rest of the contests with only two defeats to his '39 record.

Coach Dick Jamerson

Coach Dick Jamerson's Blue Dolphin swimmers, only two years old, yesterday captured first place standing in the Southern conference by whipping Duke, 51-24. The coach was happy, the Dolphins were happy, so they dropped him in the pool in celebration.

TAR HEELS HEAD CONFERENCE FOES IN RING TOURNEY

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 22.—Capable college boxers from many Southern conference schools arrived here early tonight by bus, train, and automobile as time drew near for the opening of the league's official fight tournament tomorrow afternoon.

Coach Mike Ronman, scheduled to make his first appearance on the radio tonight when conference dignitaries have an airwave confab, brought under his wing the boxing squad which won for Carolina its third consecutive state championship last Saturday by decisively doing away with Duke.

Defending 120-pound champ Billy Winstead, only one of four Tar Heel finalists last season to win a crown, will weigh-in tomorrow morning with teammates Johnny Johnston, Andy Gennett, Ed Dickerson, Bob Farris, Eldon Sanders, and Gates Kimball.

Kimball, one of the best conference heavyweights since the league began holding tournaments 13 years ago, was a minor sensation all by himself. Boxers of rival teams introduced themselves, admired his physique, and wished him luck. That is, all but the few heavyweights wished him, luck. The bigger fellows either began contemplating the wisdom of a forfeit or considering the chances of getting away with plaster of paris in their gloves.

Gates is the only one of Ronman's boxers to finish the season with six straight wins, two of which were forfeited to him for reasons apparent. Dick Baxter, huge University of South Carolina fighter, is the only man expected to give Gates any concern whatsoever.

Winstead, beaten once and drawn once this year, is rated an even chance to keep his title. Last year, twice defeated, the classy little boxer came back to decision every man his weight.

The Appalachian State Teachers college wrestling team has won 54 straight matches.

SWIMMERS AMASS SECOND HIGHEST SCORE OF YEAR

By LEONARD LOBBED
Carolina's varsity mermen, tugging points away with almost surprising regularity, rolled up their second highest count of the year here yesterday, sent Duke home in complete rout, and took first place in the Southern conference standings. The score was 51-24.

The Blue Dolphins, already having taken five league victories, were out to get their sixth and especially wanted to make the Devils their final victim, and they succeeded in a fashion that pleased even the most optimistic Tar Heel supporter. They gave up four first places, two of them very close, but Duke failed completely to get any seconds at all. The Tar Heels meanwhile broke two Carolina records and equalled another.

Only the Southern conference championship meet remains to close the Carolina swimming season, and the Tar Heels will doubtless enter that meet, to be held here in Bowman Gray pool next week-end, favored to knock Clemson, Duke and VMI out of the one-two-three ranking they won last year.

The Dolphins smothered Duke in a big way, outswimming the Blue Devils and overcoming the master-minding of Duke's Coach Persons, and showed their enthusiasm at the finish by tossing their own Coach Dick Jamerson into the pool.

Lou Scheinman got off to a very small lead in the 300-meter medley relay, the first event, Murray Drucker fell behind on the breaststroke leg, and Captain Ed Mueller made up six yards on his anchor 100 to put the Tar Heels in the lead at the start. Captain Dave Emmett of Duke then won the first of his two first places, going out very fast on his first 100 to beat Billy Stone and Buzz Mitchell in the 200, but Carolina was still ahead and moving fast.

Fleming Stone and Whit Lees swept first and second places in the 50-meter sprint, Stone lowering the Car-
