PHANTOMS MEET DEACONS TONIGHT IN SEMI-FINALS

Carolina Quint Pulls Away Early, Remains In Lead

By SHELLEY ROLFE
MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM, Raleigh, Feb. 29.—There will be no Clemson money push to the Southern conference basketball finals this year. Carolina took care of that tonight, crushing the defending champions in the first round of play, 50-41.

It was the Phantoms' third win of the year over Clemson. They play Wake Forest in the semi-finals tomorrow night.

It took two magnificent scoring performances by George Glamack, a man by now used to such point-making pyrotechnics, and Bobby Rose, a

SP MEN ANNOUNCE ACCEPTANCE OF SOPH NOMINATIONS

New System Gains Approval With Party Leaders

The Student party's rising sophomore class slate, recommended by a mass assembly of nearly 100 freshmen and officially nominated Wednesday night at a general party convention, yesterday expressed appreciation of the honor and acceptance of the nominations.

"We have firmly resolved to do all we can for the class of 1943," Warner Washington, candidate for president, said yesterday.

Other candidates entering the campaign are Hobart Morris for student council, Moyer Hendrix for vice president, Steve Karres for secretary, and Mike Mangum for treasurer.

"IMPROVEMENT"

Party leaders yesterday reiterated their satisfaction with the new method of naming rising soph candidates, introduced this year. They agreed unanimously that the idea of a special meeting of freshmen to select their own candidates was an improvement over selection by a general party convention or steering committee.

"First-year men are too numerous and too new on the campus for men from other classes to pick their candidates," said Preston Nisbet, chairman of the Student party.

WASHINGTON'S RECORD

Washington, now a resident of Charlotte, graduated last year from McComb, Miss., high school, where he was president of his senior class, vice president of his junior class, active in the student council, a member of the debating team for two years, manager of the basketball and track teams for two years, quarterback on the football team, a leader in the Hi-Y, Latin club, Monogram club, and literary society, and winner of the award for the most outstanding freshman in the city schools.

Morris, candidate for student council, is a member of the student legislature.

Yackety Yack To Buy Snaps Of Campus Life; To Pay 15 Cents, Up

"We'll pay 15 cents and up for good snapshots of campus life," Jack Lynch, editor of the Yackety Yack said yesterday.

Shots around the Tin Can, Woollen gym, South building, downtown; shots depicting various phases of campus life, dormitory and fraternity scenes, weekend fun, extra-curricular activities, intramurals, etc., will be acceptable.

Clearly defined gloss prints are necessary in order to make good engravings for the yearbooks' pages of informal scenes. They should include more than one person and should not be posed.

These photographs may be turned in any afternoon this week at the Yackety Yack office in Graham Memorial between 2 o'clock and 3:30.

ORIENTAL POLICY TO BE DEBATE QUERY TONIGHT

Ellis, Kershaw To Meet Team From George Washington

University debaters Phil Ellis and Maury Kershaw will meet Alton Henda and George Pope, George Washington university debaters, tonight at 8 o'clock in Graham Memorial to argue the query: "Resolved, that the United States should withdraw from the Orient."

Ellis and Kershaw will be the negative speakers. The debate will be non-decision.

Several current problems will be discussed in the course of the debate. Some of the issues will be the American attitude toward the Sino-Japanese conflict should be, what the United States is going to do with the Philippines, and how the west coast may be protected.

ACTIVE IN FORENSICS

Both Carolina debaters have participated in several campus forensic activities. Ellis debated against the Oxford team in the fall, is speaker of the Phi Assembly and announces at the campus radio studio. Kershaw is a member of both the debate squad and the Dialectic Senate.

This will be the last debate of the quarter.

Miss Pollock To Speak

Hillel foundation reform services will be held tonight at 7:15 in Gerard hall. Miss Polly Pollock, secretary of the YWCA, will be the speaker.

Orthodox services will be held at 7 o'clock in the Grail room.

Registrar's Wife Ill

Mrs. Thomas J. Wilson, wife of dean of admissions and registrar of the University, was reported seriously ill at Watts hospital last night.

New Body Charges Established Parties With Misuse

Announcement of a platform advocating democratic reforms in all student organizations and a promise to put up next week a candidate for the student body presidency were made last night by the Carolina party, new political group on the campus.

Specific planks of the platform concern reforms of the honor system, the Student Legislature, campus elections, student entertainments, publications, dormitories, and the student union. The platform, which was released by party chairman Bob McLemore, after it had been approved by the steering committee, is as follows:

"The Carolina party was organized to wrest campus political control from certain groups which now possess and misuse it for their own ends. These groups have extended their power and influence into all student organizations. We are putting up and supporting students who, on their election, will bring about permanent, and much-needed changes in all campus activities."

HONOR SYSTEM

"We propose, first of all, a rejuvenation of the honor system to be brought about by stimulation of the class honor councils which have been dormant too long, and a more forceful, less boring presentation of the honor system to freshmen. The Carolina Party advocates changes in the student legislature, where the primary bill was recently killed merely because it threatened the power of certain factions. There is need for better qualified representatives and earnest, industrious committees. We believe that either these reforms should be made or the legislature abolished. We are in favor of the adoption of the new constitution."

"Another of our main objectives is to bring about fairer, more efficient

Handbook Bids Due

Applications for editor and business manager of the Freshman handbook and business manager of the student directory must be filed in the YMCA office by Monday. Appointments will be made before the end of this quarter, if possible.

Those Cocktails In 'Kiss The Boys' Not Real Cocktails

After imbibing numerous cocktails, which in reality were only brown sugar and water, the cast of "Kiss The Boys Goodbye" repeated their performance last night before a full house. Again tonight, with the aid of the brown sugar cocktails, the Playmakers will present Clare Boothe's drama in their theater at 8:30.

John Parker, business manager of the Playmakers and director of "Kiss The Boys," explained that a type of burnt sugar coloring which can be purchased at drug stores was added to water and used as cocktails. Any other type of beverage, especially those containing carbonated water, would affect the voices of the actors.

For two nights the play has been given before a full house and it will be presented again tonight and tomorrow night to audiences made up of students from St. Mary's, Elon, Campbell, and Meredith as well as local students and townspeople.

Tickets for the production are on sale at 316 South building and at Ledbetter-Pickard's for 50 cents or a Playmaker season ticket.

Woman's Athletic Council Announces Coed Court Team

The Woman's Athletic council announced yesterday the University team which will play Duke and Chapel Hill high school next week, composed of Sylvia Cullum, Nancy Taylor, Ann Williams, Sarah Hurdin, and Ella Keen Steel of the Chi Omega team; Elaine Terris, Jo Jones, and Margaret Herndon of Dorm 2; Mary Sue Robertson of the Pi Phi team; Ann Moore of Spencer.

Undefeated and untied, the Chi Omegas lead in the first coed basketball tournament in the history of the University.

The Chi O team has won five games, and Dormitory 2, which ranks in second place, has won three games and tied one. Other teams competing in the tournament are: Pi Phi, ADPI, Spencer, Town Girls, Dorm 1 and 3.

rehearsals, a half-hour vocal and instrumental program will be given, with Mrs. Fred B. McCall, Mrs. Roben J. Maaske, Earl A. Slocum and David Bennett directing.

One of the most interesting features of the afternoon program, which will be given from one to 3:30, will be a square dance, with 352 children taking part, with Dr. Robert B. House, dean of the University administration, calling the figures. School bands will accompany the dances, part of which will be broadcast from radio station WDNC in Durham from 2 to 3 o'clock.

VARIETY OF CONTRIBUTIONS

Five-minute contributions of musical nature will be given during the first part of the afternoon program. Railroad work songs, Indian music, native blues songs, sea chanties, cowboy music, mountain and romantic songs will be among those presented by the following 11 schools: Hillsboro, West Hillsboro, Aycock, Caldwell, Carrboro, Efland, Murphy, Orange Grove, St. Mary's, White Cross and Chapel Hill.

Among those aiding in the event are: Mrs. E. A. Slocum, piano accompanist; Mrs. N. L. Simmons, arrangements; Charles Milner, motion pictures; and Earl Wynn, recording.
