

Band Parade Will Start Pep Rally Tonight At 7

Co-Cheerleaders To Lead Program In Memorial Hall

A pep rally in preparation for the State-Carolina game will start with a parade at 7 o'clock in the upper quadrangle of men's dormitories, it was announced last night by Ferebee Taylor, president of the University club which sponsors the campus pep meetings.

The University band will form in the upper group of dormitories and start a march taking in both quadrangle of men's dorms, the women's dormitories, the business section of

All members of the University band are asked to meet in the upper quadrangle tonight at 6:45 with instruments to march in the pep rally preceding the Carolina-State game tomorrow.

Chapel Hill, the fraternity courts and will end at South building around the Old Well.

No Speakers Tonight

Co-head cheerleaders Charlie Nelson and Jane Rumsey and their squad of whoopee-uppers will lead the turnout in the four University songs and through the routine of several yells. No speakers have been scheduled for the gathering, it was announced.

In commenting on the rally, Taylor said that he was purposely making it a short program because of the game Saturday being away from home and because of the special plans for the Tulane rally.

"The main idea of the rally," he said, "is to get the students together and to show the team that the student body is behind them."

Griffin Reports Students Trebled Here Since 1920

Student enrollment at the University has almost trebled in the last 20 years, according to the final report for the fall term, released yesterday by I. C. Griffin, director of the Central Records office.

Associate Registrar Ben Husbands dug into his files and found that the enrollment for the fall of 1920, two decades ago, was 1420, and that for the fall of 1930 it was 3017.

The final count for this fall was 4095, representing a new record and an increase of around 250 over last year.

A total of 2630 or almost two-thirds of the students served by the University come from North Carolina. However, the others were scattered over 44 states and several foreign countries, showing how widely the University's reputation and influence have spread.

New York and New Jersey led the outside states with 340 and 141, followed by Virginia and South Carolina, which showed significant increases in the graduate and six professional schools, which now have 979 students or almost one-fourth of the total student body, and in the number of women students, who now number 634 or more than 15 per cent of the total.

The 3116 undergraduates were divided between the General College with 1695, Arts and Sciences with 1016, and Commerce with 405.

The graduate school listed 622 students, while the enrollment in the six professional schools were as follows: Pharmacy 135, Law 102, Medicine 77, Social Work 51, Library Science 30, and Public Health 13.

Dr. Woodhouse To Lead Forums

Dr. E. J. Woodhouse, political science professor, will conduct a forum discussing the international situation Monday evening, October 21, at Mocksville. Following the program on Monday night, Dr. Woodhouse will conduct another forum Tuesday evening at Coolemeec.

The forums are conducted in conjunction with the United States Commission of Education, and are sponsored by various communities interested in discussing vital problems.

Dr. Woodhouse, commenting on the forums, stated that the guest speakers open the session with a brief address explaining their position.

SOPHOMORE CLASS President
Johnny Hearn will call a meeting of his class next week to decide whether the Yackety Yack will have individual pictures of second-year classmen this year. At the same meeting, Hearn announced, the class budget will be voted upon.

Final Services For Few Today

President Graham Expresses Sympathy

Final rites for Dr. William Preston Few, president of Duke University who died Wednesday after a week's illness, will be conducted in the Duke Chapel at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Interment will be made privately in the chapel crypt after the body has lain in state from 9 o'clock until 2:30.

Dr. Frank P. Graham, president of the University, sent the following telegram to Mrs. Few yesterday:

"Just heard sad news. Personally and on behalf of the University of North Carolina, I wish to extend our deepest sympathy to you and all the family in this great loss to higher education, to the church, to North Carolina and the nation. The University of North Carolina mourns with Duke university."

Joined Faculty in 1896

Dr. Few died at Duke hospital on the campus of the school he has served since he joined the faculty in 1896 as an English professor. He served as dean from 1902 until 1910 when he became president of the University.

Holding high offices in educational and religious organizations of the South, Dr. Few was long associated with many aspects of southern progress. Various colleges and universities in life recognized his merit by bestowing upon him honorary degrees, and in death many are sending expressions of sorrow in his passing and appreciation of his life's work.

Elizabeth Mack, president of the (Continued on page 2, column 2)

Particularly Unusual

It's not particularly unusual for a boy to be happy because of a girl. But yesterday it was.

Walking into class several minutes late with a smile on his face and a cigar in his hand, one of Dr. E. E. Ericson's students startled the professor into stopping his lecture. "Have a cigar," he said.

Dr. Ericson and the class raised eyebrows and stared.

"I've just become the father of a baby girl, 7 pounds, 2 ounces," the tall fellow explained. "You're not going to give a quiz, are you?"

And he took his seat.

After the class recovered its poise, the professor continued with Chaucer. The student was Roy Gibson, 19-year-old Chapel Hill sophomore. After class, Dr. Ericson offered proper congratulations.

Both father and professor are doing well.

Students Meet To Organize Carolina Club

New Organization Plans to Discuss Problems of State

Plans were made yesterday for the formation of a new club on the campus designed to study and discuss the economic, social and political aspects of the state of North Carolina.

About 20 students in an informal meeting discussed the structure of the new organization and selected a committee to draft definite details and decide on the time of the first meeting. On the committee are Ernest Morris, George Simpson, Frank Williams, and Bill Snider.

The organization will be called the Carolina club.

As yet the club has not drawn up definite plans as to exact nature of the meeting that will be added. The general trend of opinion leaned toward (Continued on page 4, column 4)

State Symposium On Accounting Set For Oct. 25, 26

The program for a symposium on accounting to be held in Chapel Hill and in Durham on October 25 and 26 was announced here yesterday.

Sessions will be held under the auspices of the North Carolina Association of Certified Public Accountants in cooperation with Duke university and the University of North Carolina.

Purpose of the Symposium is to bring together accountants, controllers, financial officers of corporations, bankers, and others for "discussion of the responsibilities and limitations of accounting, the extensions of auditing procedure, North Carolina State taxation and the federal emergency taxations."

Another of the Very Numerous So-Called Battles of the Century, One of the Greatest Rivalries of All Time and in All Football

history at the University, the annual Tar-Mag vs. Yackety-Buc grid contests will be renewed in the near future between a hand-picked team from the DAILY TAR HEEL and Carolina Magazine and a nondescript group from the Yackety-Yack and what remains of the Carolina Buccaneer.

Discontinued last year despite its unusual success for many previous years, the Tar-Mag—Yackety-Buc

(Bulletin, Graham Memorial, Mid-night — Speculation was aroused late last night whether the daring challenge of the TAR HEEL and Magazine would be accepted by the Yackety Yack and the Buc (?). Therefore readers are cautioned to await the answer of the enemy before permitting their anticipations to rise too highly.)

game will take on added roughness and color this fall because teams from all of the publications staffs are rusty from the year's lay-off. It is extremely probable that the Tar-Mag team will reach the peak of condition sooner than the opposition, since arrangements are now being made to lease Kenan stadium for secret practice.

Sophomores Must Meet Next Week To Vote on Yackety-Yack Pictures

Draft Call Set for November 18; 800,000 To Be Enlisted by June 15

By United Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—The initial call to the colors for 30,000 of the men who registered only yesterday for the nation's first peace-time draft will be sounded November 18 and a total of 800,000 will be under arms by next June 15, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson revealed today.

His disclosure came within 24 hours after an estimated 17,000,000 men between 21 and 35 had registered.

This means that within the next eight months the draft will touch one out of every 20 registrants or one out of every four Class 1-A—those available and fit for immediate service.

Stimson also announced that an additional 130,000 national guardsmen will be mobilized between January 3 and February 3, 1941. About 98,000 military men already have been inducted into the nation's armed forces.

Revising earlier figures made public at a press conference Stimson said the conscriptions would be called up as follows: November 18—30,000 men; December 2—60,000 men; January 3—60,000 men; January 15—90,000 men;

February 10—160,000 men; March 5—200,000 men; June 3—200,000 men.

Asked if any other calls would be made beyond these dates, the cabinet officer replied, "Only God and Hitler know what will happen to the United States."

LASHIO, Burma, Oct. 18—(Friday)

—The Burma munitions route which links the port of Rangoon with Nationalist China's capital in Chungking was reopened to traffic today in defiance of threats of Japanese aerial bombing and a possible Japanese land drive from bases in French Indo-China on the vital mountain highway.

Thousands of Chinese laborers burst into cheers as the great highway resumed operations and cheered again when Chinese officials announced that four American ships with cargo for the highway had reached Rangoon during the past week.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—The United States government began negotiations tonight looking toward providing (Continued on page 4, column 2)

Class To Vote Yearly Budget At Same Meeting

The sophomore class will meet next week to decide whether or not it will have individual pictures in the Yackety Yack, President Johnny Hearn said yesterday.

The whole class budget will be voted on at the same time, he said.

In order to approve the individual pictures and to pass on the proposed budget, half of the class will have to be present at the meeting. Of those present, at least 51 per cent will have to approve the proposals.

Photographing of the class members hit a snag early this week when Byrd Merrill, Yackety Yack editor, discovered, after over 100 pictures had been taken, that the $2.00 photo fee is not being collected by the University cashier's office.

Fees Collected Last Year

Wooten-Moulton Studios had been making the pictures on Merrill's assumption that the fees, collected from sophomores for the first time last year, would automatically be collected again this year.

The matter came up when Clyde Shaw, student activities auditor, learned this week that the accounting department's record of last year's collection was marked "approved for 1939-40 only." Picture taking was stopped until the facts could be found.

University Policy

In the past it has been the policy of the University collections department to collect the same fees every year that were collected the year before unless contrary instructions were received.

However, the letter which Bill Alexander, last year's sophomore president, wrote to the University authorizing the additional fee, asked that the fee be collected for "1939-40."

Ball, Jinx Party Finish Greater University Day

With the annual Alumni ball at Frank Thompson gymnasium and a jinx party to be given by band leader Jack Wardlaw at the Carolina Pines, students attending the Greater University Day celebration will find plenty to do Saturday after the Carolina-State game.

Tickets for the ball went on sale at 85 cents yesterday afternoon in the director's office of Graham Memorial. Barry McKinley, who has sung with Vincent Lopez and Al Donahue, will furnish the music with his recently organized band. During the past summer he popularized his "sweet" style at Virginia Beach and the Tantilla Gardens in Richmond.

Caters to Superstition

Wardlaw's "jinx party" will cater especially to the superstitious. Thirteen years ago as a freshman at the University he organized his first band and also saw State beat Carolina 19 to 6. In his present orchestra he has 13 members.

This thirteenth year has already jinxed the band. The Terrace Beach club, where they played early in the summer went broke. The hurricane swept away Folly Beach at Charleston, S. C., the day they were supposed to play.

All of Carolina Beach burned down shortly after they completed an engagement there at the last of the summer.

Grads To Take Language Exam

All graduate students who wish to take the reading knowledge examinations in French, German and Spanish must register in the graduate office by Monday.

The German examination will be given Saturday, November 16, at 9:30 in Saunders 109, and the French on Saturday, November 23, at 9:30 in Murphy 314. The Spanish examination has not yet been scheduled but will come some time in November.

Graduate students should note that they must pass these language examinations before making applications for candidacy for higher degrees.

CPU To Present Dr. Muste, FOR Head, On October 31

Speaker To Give Pacifist Position

The Carolina Political Union announced yesterday that the Rev. A. J. Muste, director of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, has agreed to speak in Chapel Hill on October 31 at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Muste, an outstanding spokesman for the pacifist movement will present the pacifists' alternative to a program of armament and warfare.

Dr. Muste was ordained to the ministry of the Reformed Church in 1909. He held posts in New York, and Newtonville, Mass. He resigned the latter post during the war under pressure for refusing to keep silent on his pacifist views. He has participated in leadership of strikes in Lawrence, Mass., in 1919 and others including the General Motors strike in 1935 and the Goodyear Rubber strike in Akron in 1936. Dr. Muste was also one of the leaders of the Trotskyist section of Communist Party in the United States but resigned in 1936.

Dr. Muste has contributed articles to New Republic, Nation, Christian Century magazines, and has written several pamphlets and books on pacifism. He recently resigned the directorship of the Presbyterian Labor Temple in New York, which he served for three years to become director of the Fellowship of Reconciliation.

Recently, Dr. Muste "returned to (Continued on page 4, column 3)

Lauterpacht Talks Tuesday

IRC To Present English Lecturer

Professor Hersch Lauterpacht, Whewell professor of international law at the University of Cambridge, England, will speak to the campus next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in Gerrard hall under the auspices of the International Relations club, Manfred Rogers, president of the IRC, announced yesterday.

"Post-war Problems of International Adjustment" will be the subject of Lauterpacht's talk. This problem is considered of equal importance to the present world crisis by the U. S. state department, which views his speech with interest. Lauterpacht, who is an adviser of the British Foreign office, is particularly well-qualified to speak on war and post-war problems.

Carnegie Endowment

The Carnegie Endowment for International Peace is bringing Lauterpacht to the United States for four months, during which time he will visit the leading universities of the country. The law and political science departments of the University arranged for his visit here, and the International Relations club is sponsoring his speech to the campus.

LITTLE DEMON is what they call Leonard K. (Kickapoo) Lobred. Commenting on the forthcoming Tar-Mag vs. Yackety-Buc(?) grid game, he said, "I'll be captain, quarterback, passer, punter, runner, blocker, coach, and trainer for the Tar-Mags. How can we (I) lose?"