Tar Baby Pass Attack Fails To Break Up Deaclet Victory

PLAYING THE GAME

With LEONARD LOBRED

NEW YORK, Nov. 1-This metropolitan center is as much astir about the Carolina-Fordham game as it is about the Notre Dame-Army clash tomorrow, and in circles following the Tar Heel caravan the spirit is high and hopes and expectancies are for a Carolina victory.

awaiting. About 800 students came ni, too, are quite plentiful.

The New York Athletic club was the place of an alumni meeting and dinner tonight, attended by Carolina graduates most of whom live in New York. Alumni Secretary J. Maryon Saunders represents the Alumni association. Doc Ollie Cornwell of the physical education department is here to show motion pictures of the Texas Christian Kay Kyser, the pride of Rocky Mount and Chapel Hill, is the bestknown of the Carolina alumni. George Stirnweiss, co-captain of the 1939 eleven, runs him a close second and is best-known among the recent classes. There is also Ace Parker, Duke alumnus whose present occupation is performing as an all-star for the Brooklyn pro grid team.

New York chapter of the alumni. They Corum, whose sports column in the New York Journal-American is syndicated throughout the country.

Everyone awaits the parade and pep rally in the morning, at which Kay Kyser is expected to be top man. Ferebee Taylor, University club president in charge of arrangements, has been very busy since his arrival helping to plan pre-game and post-game festivities. Carolina students are scattered all over the city. The Carolina team is staying at the Croydon. Students are staying at the Lincoln, Piccadilly, Waldorf and Pennsylvania. Others have gone on to cities and towns beyond New York.

Home-town rooters for Sid Sadoff, Dick Sieck and Frank O'Hare are expected to turn out for the game to pull for these former New York high school stars. Hatboro, Pennsylvania, is reported to be sending almost 2,000 to see Carl Suntheimer, who is the most famous college player in that part of Penncy near Philadelphia.

Carolina students who left Chapel Hill without buying game tickets have been getting them in a last-minute rush. Carolina is pointing for a victory. We shall see . . .

Coeds Schedule Archery Match

Coed archers will hold an intramural tourney beginning Thursday, November 7, announced Marjorie Johnston, president of the Women's Athletic association, yesterday.

round, will consist of 24 arrows at 40,

Coed golf will be held at 2 o'clock instead of 4 o'clock on Tuesdays and Thursdays, Mrs. J. G. Beard, director of woman's sports, announced yesterday.

30 and 20 yards, with the first round beginning at 4 o'clock Thursday.

To be eligible, coed contestants must be a member of a team of two. Each league will receive 50 points for every team entering the contest, and of the winning team. A gold archery the winning league.

All interested coeds must notify trance in the tourney.

Severin Goes To Fullback On Defense

(Continued from first page)

the half or game, and manages to remain on its feet throughout heavy battering, terrific heat or any combination of destructive forces. Scoreless Last Time Carolina's last showing at the Polo grounds ended in a scoreless tie in 1938 between the Rams and the Tar Heels, but Fordham holds the edge in Pre-game publicity for the Notre the series on the strength of its 14-0 Dame-Army and Cornell-Columbia victory in Kenan stadium in 1937 when games has slightly shaded that of the Alex Wojciechowicz at center, and encounter Tar Heel followers are Edmund Franco and Al Babartsky at tackle played their parts with the from Chapel Hill by bus and train, and "Seven Blocks of Granite" while addhundreds more by automobile. Alum- ing their bit toward gaining first All-American recognition.

Carolina has never been beaten in New York, though, either by Fordham or by New York university's Violets, whom the Tar Heels have defeated four times in as many seasons, and pre-game dope indicates that that record will remain good for another year at least.

Victory for each team will be difficult, but on the basis of the Tar Heels' showing against Tulane last Saturday it is expected that only a very topnotch performance by the Rams will win for the home team. Left halfback Len Eshmont, an all-star threat for the third year, has been given aid from Blacky Blumenstock at blocking back and has Quarterback Jim Noble and Fullback Steve Filipowicz to share passing duties. Around them Crowley has fashioned an aerial attack that explodes anywhere on the field and at any time.

The program was arranged by The passing attack is Fordham's Claiborne Carr, Jr., a former editor big threat, but is more than offset by of the TAR HEEL. Bill Blount, former the air game of the Tar Heels, whose Carolina football player, heads the experience at chucking and receiving dates back several seasons. Jim Lahave invited Jim Crowley, Fordham's lanne and Paul Severin, an All-Ameribrilliant 39-year-old coach, and Bill can pass combination, are looked to for aerial fireworks, and the Heavenly Flower from Louisiana can be counted on for great gains on running plays.

> The Lalanne-to-Severin combination isn't considered the end of Carolina's potentialities, for each member of the Tar Heel line and backfield has shown himself capable of holding out against competition of all description. And Coach Ray Wolf has given the (Continued on page 4, column 8)

Varsity Harriers Begin Training For Conference

After disposing of Duke with considerable dispatch in Thursday's cross country meet, the varsity harriers are looking forward to a period of intensive training in preparation for the conference meet which is scheduled for November 16 at College Park, the squad sat back to survey the satis- Furman team, under A. P. McLeod, this year. Each team, studded by indifying results of the Maryland and has shown much improvement also. vidual stars, has been defeated, Duke Duke meets. The Tar Heels, as a Footbal circles are calling the game falling to Tennessee, 13-0, and Georwhole, showed up remarkably well in even. both engagements, and Coach Ranson is justly proud of their efforts. Particularly gratifying is the work of Mike Wise, by beating Duke's Wendy Lockwood to the finish in Thursday, proved himself to be a real competitor and a definite Carolina hope in the conference meet. Shiny Showing

The showing of the team in the lower brackets also merits particular attention and Sim Nathan, John Eddy, Charlie Howe, Lamar Wood, Holt Allen and Jim Toy will come in The contest, a Columbia Junior for some well-deserved recognition when those team scores begin to mount up at College Park on November 16. Dave Morison seems to have found himself, and with Wimpy Orleans in a major intersectional Lewis, Rich Van Wagoner, Henry game. Tulane eked out a 7-6 score Branch and Wise filling in, things over the Tigers last year, the only have taken on a brighter hue than loss of the South Carolina men, and be a wide-open affair with Maryland last week against Carolina. almost conceded a first from the start. Tommy Fields looks to be the cream of the crop and with Gene Oschenreiter, who didn't run in the Carolina meet, competing, the Marylandrs will 100 points will be awarded the league be hard to beat. In addition, it is particularly significant that the meet pin will be presented to the individual will be held over the Terrapin course high scorer and an archery plaque to on which the Tar Heels met their only cross country defeat last year.

Lockwood and Profenuis of Duke Mary Louise Brezeale, manager of the and Len Tucker and Johnny Forsyth Blue league, or Randy Mebane, man- of Virginia will throw a note of unager of the Red league. Monday, No- certainty into the proceedings, and vember 4, is the closing date for en- will furnish individual dark horse competition.

THE TAR HEELS' NO. ONE BLOCKING BACK is Harry Dunkle who handles the kicking assignments when he is in the game. Blocking backs usually don't get the amount of recognition they should, but everyone will agree that Dunkle is a valuable man to have in the backfield either on offense or defense. He's scheduled to start at his blocking back post against Fordham in New York today.

Furman, Wolfpack Contest Only Southern Loop Game

Duke Given Edge

On Georgia Tech

With the day starting off with a

Game time is 2 o'clock.

in Chapel Hill two weeks off.

gia Tech to Notre Dame, 26-20, and

Johnny Bosch, the Engineers' sensational halfback, will match his running ability and throwing arm against

Wes McAfee's talents in what will probably be the top individual duel of the game. A punting duel is expected between Neil Cavette, Tech guard, and Steve Lach, Duke's powerful halfback.

game, which is rated the most tricky in the South. Duke, also, has been working on its passing in practice

drills this week and is expected to uncork another strong running game with enough aerials to confuse the

Although Georgia Tech has always

(Continued on page 4, column 1)

opposition.

Bosch will direct the Tech passing

Auburn, 16-7, in a thriller.

William and Mary To Contest VMI

Furman and North Carolina State hold the spotlight in the conference In Game Today race this week-end with Carolina stepping off to New York, Clemson to New Orleans and Duke handling Georgia Tech at Durham.

Always considered a fine defensive club, the Furman team which battles State tonight has become one of the leading offensive teams in the nation, averaging almost 25 points a game.

State, very unpredictable, has played some good ball games this fall and some poor ones. Its game against Carolina ranks as one of the best of the fall. The club has been called "the most mystifying club that has played in this state during the de-

Pulling a major upset in the con- one point, ference last year, State managed to Fine Teams lick Furman, 12-7, after a hard, bruis-

The William and Mary-VMI game at Lexington is the only other game in the conference matching loop teams. VMI, from its defeat by Richmond last week, may have what it takes to lick Carl Voyles' squad. Virginia didn't have it last week when it was beaten by the Cadets, 13-6.

University of Maryland, which isn't having such a good season under its coaching board, takes on the strong Georgetown team which is happy over its 26-0 win from NYU. Maryland managed to score a 6-0 victory over West Virginia last week for one of its few wins of the season.

Clemson takes on Tulane in New rates a slight favorite today. Tulane, However, the conference meet will after a poor start, reached its peak

In another major Virginia game the University of Virginia meets Virginia Tech in their annual game at Blacksburg. Tech defeated Washington and Lee last week, 21-0, while Virginia was falling.

Other games pit West Virginia against Washington and Lee at Charleston, W. Va., Penn State against South Carolina at Columbia, Hampden-Sydney and Richmond at Richmond, and Centre and Davidson at Davidson.

Send the DAILY TAR HEEL home.

Probable Starters

Carolina		Fordham
		The second secon
Severin	le	Dennery
Sieck	It	Kuzman
Nowell	lg	Bennett
Dunkle	lh	Eshmont
Lalanne	qb	Noble
Suntheimer	c	DeFillipo
Sadoff	fb	Filipowicz
Connor	rh	Blumenstock
Marshall	rg	Sartori
Kimball	rt	Ungerer
Richardson	re	Lansing

Seven Mural Teams Still Undefeated

Inclement weather and a general exodus in the direction of New York and the Fordham game by a large part of the student body combined to force a postponement of yesterday's mural games, and put an end to a hectic week. Despite the number of close contests, all the undefeated teams maintain their status, several emerging victorious only after putting forth their greatest effort.

Leading the dorm parade are Lewis and K No. 1, with five consecutive victories to their credit, close on the heels of the leaders is Med School. boasting four victories and no defeats. Lewis, behind a fast charging line and several speedy backs, with Jennings leading the attack, had the closest call of the week, when it barely managed to squeeze by Manly in an overtime game.

won a notable victory by downing a second quarter and immediately directstrong Mangum team, 20-7. Without ed a Tar Heel advance to the Wake any individual stars on the team, the Forest 39, the closest the Tar Babies K team worked well as a unit, hurd- came to the Deaclets' goal line in the ling one of the most difficult obstacles first half. in its campaign to seize top honors in the dorm league. Med School won played by the Deaclets in the first half, its only game of the week by the for- performed much better during the feit route, but the doctors have not final half and especially toward the had a real test yet.

K No. 1 early in the season, but led the field. Thirty thousand spectators are exby Marks, it has put in a strong bid pected in Durham this afternoon when for recognition. Ruffin, with two Duke's Blue Devils rally against the fine backs in Gersten and Briggs, has backing up the line. Tom Lytle and "hot-magic" of Georgia Tech in the racked up the tremendous total of 180 John Wood divided time at center and feature game of the state this week. points, and has suffered its only defeat at the hands of K No. 1.

The frat race has narrowed down large homecoming parade at 10:30, the to four teams, with several others game will draw the largest crowd to within striking distance of the leaders. Sigma Nu, led by Looch and and a 66-yard run from scrimmage in see a football contest in the state so far this season. It will probably be Briggs in the backfield and Parks and second only to the Carolina-Duke game Coxhead in the line, turned in their sixth straight victory this week by Marked by small scores and the undowning Chi Psi, to shake the losers expected, the Duke-Georgia Tech foot- out of the all-victorious circle. Only ball rivalry dates back to 1933, and one more game remains on the Snakes' since then three games have been de- schedule. Zeta Psi, idle during the the Tar Babies' 11 but a fumble and cided by one touchdown and two by week, and Kappa Sigma, with a 20-0 win over Pi Lambda Phi, are blowing without a score. Other than on that its hot breath on the neck of the lead-Wallace Wade, Duke coach, and Bill ers. The Zetes have a record of five ing game. Coach Doc Newton has a Alexander, Tech mastermind, have wins without a loss, and boast a fine Little was done yesterday. Since much better club this fall, but the two of the finest teams in the South passing threat in the Wilson-to-Nash combination.

Kappa Sig appears to have the (Continued on page 4, column 1)

The Why and How

n-	Tare it any ware
n-	Wake	Forest	Carolin
st	First Downs	10	10
ш	Passes Attempted	9	20
of	Passes had intercepte	ed 1	1
DS	Yds. gained passes	64	136
DI	No. of punts	8	12
K.	Av. yardage punts	32.6	32
g	No. of penalties	7	7
y	Yds. in penalties	65	35
n	Fumbles	6	3
e	Opp's fumbles recov'd	1	3
1-	Yds. gained rushing	224	119
e	Yds. lost rushing	14	40
	Scoring touchdowns	: Wak	e Fores
	-Perry (2), Jordan.
	lik, Emack. Point af
	Perry and Sadlik (P)

Wake Forest Frosh Take Game, 19-13

By Harry Hollingsworth

Beaten 19-0 with just six minutes left in the game, the Carolina frosh turned on a surprising aerial attack in the closing moments and gave the Wake Forest Deaclets a scare before they could escape with a 19-13 win yesterday afternoon in Kenan stadium.

A 165-pound tailback, Leo LeBlanc, and a 180-pound end, John Hussey, combined their talents to put the Tar Babies back into the game. Hussey caught six of eight passes completed by the Babies for a total of 90 yards. Although Hussey didn't score either of the touchdowns, his pass-snagging placed the Tar Babies into position to run the ball over.

But Hussey and LeBlanc were not the entire show for the Tar Babies. John Sadlik, who was moved to fullback in practice drills this week, came up with a sparkling performance, scoring the Babies' initial touchdown from the one-foot mark. Jack Emack scored the Babies' second marker when he took a pass and ran 25 yards through the Deaclet team. Emack, considered a fine prospect for the track team, was fairly consistent in running with the ball, and especially on a reverse was he able to pick up much yardage.

Although his passes were not as consistent as LeBlanc's, Hugh Cox, tailback, was the best running back for the Tar Babies in the game. Cox came Keeping pace with Lewis, K No. 1 into the game at the start of the

The Tar Babies' line, which was outend of the final period. Vance McGirt, Close behind the three leaders are Charlie Gordon, guards, Frank Clemtwo strong teams, Town No. 1 and ent, Marshall Parker, and Tom Bryum, Ruffin with only one defeat to mar tackles, and Craven Turner and John their records. The Town team suf- Hussey, ends, were outstanding. fered its only defeat at the hands of Turner was the best defensive man on Hal Alderson, Mike Buss, Bob Shuford and Bob Jordan all did a fine job both played well.

Completely outplayed the first half, the Tar Babies performed like a new team the last half. Superior punting in the first half, a 21-yard punt return the third period told the Deaclets' scoring story.

Playing on the offense the entire first half, the Deaclets stayed on the defense the final half. One advance other than the score, carried them to a Carolina recovery of it stopped them drive, the Deaclets stayed in their territory the entire half.

Hugh Cox suffered a knee injury mid-way through the third quarter and left the game not to return. Le-Blanc and a 15-yard penalty against the Deaclets started the Tar Babies' scoring.

Set to the Wake Forest 45 by the penalty, LeBlanc passed to Hussey who caught the ball on the 10 and pulled three Wake Forest men to the five before falling. Another pass to Hussey put the ball on the one-vard line. There Sadlik put his head down and blasted himself a hole through the line for six points. A fumble kept LeBlanc from attempting the extra (Continued on page 4, column 4)

> HEROKEE'S AROLINA HRISTMAS ARDS Will Be Out Soon

A Quiet Week-End? NO!

SAM BARBEE'S ORCHESTRA

Will Play From 9 O'clock on Both Saturday and Sunday Nights

— at —

Danziger's Viennese Stueberl

Sandwiches — Drinks — Pastry