CPU Presents Holt, Pepper Week Of 20th

Pepper To Answer Holt's Attacks On Defense Plans

Fiercely national politics will be brought to the campus during the week-end of November 20, when the Carolina Political Union presents two of the most antagonistic United States senators—Rush D. Holt, West Virginia Democrat, and George Pepper, Florida Democrat, to address the student body.

Bill Joslin, chairman of the CPU, announced yesterday that Senator Holt will definitely speak on November 20, while Senator Pepper will appear on November 25 in answer to Holt.

From advance reports that have reached CPU headquarters Holt will lambast those persons who he claims are leading the country into war. He is expected to quote figures showing profits of various munition companies as a result of the armament program. Also, he will probably attack members of the William Allen White committee, giving their connections with Britain, and their holdings in firms profiting from defense spendings.

Holt Fought Defense

Holt has bitterly fought defense measures in the Senate, and has attacked the Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill consistently. Holt also soundly criticized the destroyer deal with Britain, claiming that it would lead the United States into war.

Pepper, who will answer Holt, has led the fight for full aid to Britain. Pepper would favor giving Roosevelt what amounts to practically dictatorial powers to coordinate the nations national defense effort.

During the furious debate on the Burke-Wadsworth bill in August, the Mothers of America hung Pepper in effigy because of his belligerent attitude.

Joslin disclosed that arrangements are underway to secure a coast to coast hook up for Senator Pepper's address. He also said that open forums will follow the speeches.

Debate Team Meets Drake

A Carolina debate team will meet Drake University on the campus here the last week in November, Ed Maner, executive secretary of the Debate Council announced last night.

Other scheduled debates at the present time include a clash with Randolph-Macon sometime this quarter, and the University of Pennsylvania February 2.

A ballot will appear soon in the TAR HEEL containing three questions of importance as possibilities for the debate subject. The Debate Council wishes to sponsor debates on questions of interest to the whole campus.

The campus at large will be asked to vote on the one of the three questions they consider of the most importance, and a booth will be set up at the YMCA for the voting.

Grail Presents Dance Set On Week-End Of Duke Game

Duo-Piano Team To Give Recital On November 14

The first two-piano recital ever to be given in Chapel Hill is scheduled for November 14 at 8:30 p. m. in Hill Music hall. The recital will be sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha, national honorary music fraternity, and will feature Raymond Burrows and Anthony Loudis.

Burrows is professor in charge of piano in Columbia university. He holds piano diplomas from the Juilliard school and has Masters, Bachelors, and Doctors degrees from Columbia. Burrows studied under Percy Granger, Ed Hughes, Ethel Leginska, and Guy Maier. His work has brought him prizes and awards from the New York Music Week association and the Juilliard Foundation.

Professor Loudis is head of the music school at the University of Delaware and is a member of the faculty of Columbia. Loudis also holds degrees from Columbia university and the Juilliard school.

University Symphony Plays First Fall Concert Tonight

The University symphony orchestra, under direction of Dr. Benjamin Swalin, will present its first concert of the fall quarter tonight at 8:30 in Hill Music hall. Mrs. Paul Oncley, pianist, will be featured soloist, and her husband will be the guest conductor for the number. Both are members of the faculty of the Woman's college in Greensboro.

The program will include the Overture to The Sicilian Vespers, a brilliant work written for an obscure opera in 1855 by Verdi; Concerto for piano and orchestra No. 5 in E flat, Opus 73, by Beethoven; Songs My Mother Taught Me by Dvorak; Adagio Pathetique by Godard; and The Irish Washerwoman, a reel arranged by Sowerby.

When the orchestra was first organized by the late Charles T. Woollen in 1905, it gave no independent programs of its own but merely supplied the incidental music for pageants and plays. In 1920, due largely to Woollen's influence, a music department was established in the University. Early directors of the orchestra were Carl Wiegand, a law student, and Smith McCorkle, now of Southern Methodist university, became the director. He was followed by Harold Dyer, head of the music department until 1933, Earl A. Slocum, present director of the University band, and Dr. Benjamin Swalin in 1935.

This year plans are being made for appearances in Asheville, Greensboro, Pinehurst and Raleigh as well as the quarterly home concerts.

Steele Dorm Originates Plan To Spend Utilities Savings

Coleman Finkel Conceives Idea

Originated by Coleman Finkel, a plan whereby Steele dormitory may spend savings from reduced light and water consumption for permanent equipment has been approved, Administrative Dean R. B. House and Assistant Controller L. B. Rogerson announced yesterday.

Assisted by section and floor leaders, Finkel, who is president of Steele, has already started an active campaign in the dormitory to cut down the light and water costs.

Daily readings of the light and water meters will be posted for comparison with average daily consumptions of last November. At the end of the month the difference in costs will be credited to the dormitory for buying permanent equipment.

In November, 1939, Steele consumed electricity and water costing a total of $69.60. The efforts to save will cause an estimated 10 to 25 per cent decrease.

Possible purchases would be extra furnishings and fixtures for the social and regular rooms. Proposed equipment will be submitted for the approval of the student advisory committee.

Finkel mentioned his plan a month ago to George Riddle, chairman of the committee. They then conferred with J. S. Bennett, superintendent of operations, and the assistant controller to investigate the practicability of the proposal. After the administration's approval, R. G. Deyton, assistant director of the state budget bureau, consented to the transfer of the savings within the University's budget from the "heat, light and water" section to the "permanent equipment" allotment.

Finkel, a senior from Baltimore, is a representative to the Student Legislature and co-captain of the Carolina lacrosse team. Last June he played in an all-star game between picked lacrosse teams from the North and South.

Johnson, Bowles To Provide Music

Beginning with a tea dance from 4 to 6 o'clock on Friday afternoon, the Order of the Grail will present the first set of dances ever sponsored by the organization, during the weekend of the famous Carolina-Duke gridiron classic, Joe Welborn of the Grail, announced yesterday.

Freddie Johnson and his popular campus band will take the stand in the beautiful main lounge of Graham Memorial for the Friday afternoon tea dance and on the main floor of Woollen gymnasium for the informal dance Friday night from 9:30 until 10 o'clock. Bowles Plays Saturday

Rising campus maestro Skipper Bowles and band will play for the football-minded dance crowd Saturday night after the game in Woollen from 9 until 12 o'clock.

Being the only organization of the campus authorized to sponsor informal script dances, the Grail will issue a set of bids for the three dances for two dollars. Door admission will be fifty cents for the tea dance and one dollar for each of the informal night dances.

NC-Duke Plan Joint Action

Meeting To Seek More Cooperation

Students from Carolina and Duke University will take joint action Sunday night at Duke to strengthen the relations of the two schools and bring about closer cooperation.

Nine Carolina students have been invited by Dick Connor, student body president at Duke, to attend a dinner in Durham Sunday night. The purpose of the informal get-together is not only to improve relationships, but to encourage sportsmanship previous to the Duke-Carolina game of November 16.

The members of the Carolina delegation are Dave Morrison, president of the student body; Ferebee Taylor, president of the University club; Paul Severin and Gate s Kimball, co-captains of the football team; Don Bishop, editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL; Charlie Nelson, head cheerleader; Ben Heath, Interdormitory council president; Chris Siewers, president of the Interfraternity council; and Fred Weaver, assistant to the dean of students.

After the dinner, co-captains Severin and Kimball will meet Al Winteron, captain of the Duke team, and join the student body in a community sing.

Lawyers Comin'; Possoms, Look Out

Several prominent members of the law school student body will be entertained tonight at the palatial winter home of Mr. and Mrs. Toy Farrow, near Pittsboro, authoritative sources reported yesterday.

It was stated that Mr. Farrow has long taken a deep interest in the law school and the students there, but lately business connections have forced him to give up active participation in the school activities. Therefore it is with great pleasure that he has found time to renew his old connections tonight.

Following a possum hunt, which begins at sundown, the students will return to the home of their host, where Mrs. Farrow will serve refreshments.

ASU Soon Will Begin Publication Of Bi-Monthly Campus Newspaper

Representatives of the American Student Union here announced yesterday that within a short time this organization will begin publication of a bi-monthly campus newspaper. News articles concerning the campus ASU chapter, the national organization, national and international events, and a regular feature column analyzing these articles will be contained in the paper.

It will be distributed among ASU members of the three branches of the University. Copies will be placed at strategic points on the campus, Graham Memorial, and the Book Exchange, to be available to the student body. The paper will also be mailed to certain individuals on the campus interested in the organization's work.

Nazis Refuse U.S. Ship Safe Conduct

Italian Drive Gains Ground On Three Fronts

By United Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The State Department disclosed today that Germany has refused to guarantee safe conduct for an American ship to repatriate 1200 Americans from the British war zone although her Axis partner Italy readily assented.

The German note, transmitted through the embassy here, said promptly that "on the basis of the previous statement of the German government to the effect that the areas around England are areas of military operations, the Rome government is not in any position to furnish any sort of assurance of the nature requested."

Department officials would not discuss the rebuke or possible counteraction, but observers believe that they will move swiftly and probably in cooperation with the British. They suggested the possibility that the American warships might be sent for the refugees or that a naval convoy would escort a passenger liner into and out of the war zone.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Nov. 7 — Violent fighting was reported in three sectors of the Italo-Greek front in border dispatches tonight, and it appeared that a major Italian offensive was gaining ground.

In the Koritza-Biklista sector the momentum of the Greek troops into Albania was said to be diminishing under strong Italian counter-attacks with the Greek rear under Italian artillery fire. Italian defenses advancing into the coastal sector from Konispoli were reported to have crossed the Kalamas river near the village of Minina on the main road.

CPU, IRC Refuse To Make Effort Towards Agreement

Bitter Competition May Be Result

By Charles Barrett

Bitter competition in presentation of speakers to the campus may be the result of decisions by the Carolina Political Union and the International Relations club to sit tight and make no effort towards an agreement, observers said yesterday.

Each organization in closed sessions has discussed the advisability of approaching the other concerning some sort of concord, but each has decided to hold back and wait for the other to move first.

This means a warm contest for supremacy, forecast some weeks ago when the IRC started seizing some of the limelight formerly reserved for the CPU.

Leaders of both organizations already have indicated they might seek to outdo the other by presenting a barrage of speakers such as the campus has never seen before. They apparently have decided such a campaign would neither sour the campus on speakers nor sour speakers on the campus.

Phi Beta Sets Up $100 Scholarship

Legislature Fails To Obtain Quorum

The quorum bogie—successfully encountered by the three upper classes—struck suddenly at the student legislature last night.

For the first time in history, members were dismissed because 51 per cent of them were not present to conduct business.

Of the organization's 52 members, only 24 were present—two short of a quorum.

Speaker Bill Cochran last night remarked, "I still feel that the members are sincere . . . we just happened to pick a night when so many conflicts arose that it was impossible for a good many of them to attend."

Sophs Approve Class Budget

Individual Annual Photos Also Passed

The prediction of Sophomore Class President Johnny Hearn that "music hath charm" proved correct yesterday, when a quorum of sophomores met to hear a swing session, and also pass upon the class budget.

This event was of great importance to all sophomores because it provided for individual sophomore pictures for the Yackety Yack, Hearn said. This was the original plan but a misunderstanding terminated picture taking earlier in the year.

The photographing of class members hit a snag when Byrd Merrill, Yackety Yack editor, discovered, after over 100 pictures had been made, that the $2.00 photo fee was not being collected at the University cashier's office. See SOPHS APPROVE, page 2.

Lobred Interviews Lewis, Morrison On Radio Today

Wellington Lewis and Dave Morrison, members of the University cross country team, will go on the air this afternoon at 3 o'clock in an interview conducted by Leonard Lobred, sports editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL, and track expert. Announcer for the occasion is Joe Saleck, master of ceremonies of Faculty Day last fall. The program is under the direction of Joe Morrison, journalism department assistant.

The 15-minute program to be heard this afternoon is the first in a new series of regular biweekly interviews. The schedule for the rest of the year's programs, which will probably be given at a different hour, will be announced later.

Originating in the University radio studios, the programs will be broadcast through the facilities of six North Carolina stations: WRAL in Raleigh, WSTP in Salisbury, WAIR in Winston-Salem, WSOC in Charlotte, WFTC in Kinston, and WGTM in Wilson. These stations make up the Southern Broadcasting System and are connected with the Mutual Broadcasting network.

Wellington Lewis, to be interviewed this afternoon, is captain of the cross country team and holder of a Grail scholarship, while Dave Morrison is a member of the team and president of the student body.

Plants Displayed In Davie Hall

Dr. H. R. Totten of the botany department announced yesterday that a few hundred plants are being displayed in Davie hall so that the Botany 41 class may study up for its plant quiz.

Dr. Totten also said that he would deliver a speech this evening in Asheville to the Garden Clubs on "Native Vines." He will speak to the Science Club at the North Carolina Teachers college on the "Trees of the Carolina Mountains" Thursday evening.

Taylor Speaks At Initiation Of 22 Members

The University chapter of Phi Beta Kappa last night initiated 22 new members and established a $100 scholarship to be awarded to the rising junior with the highest scholastic average.

The chapter unanimously passed the motion creating "A scholarship to be awarded to the rising junior with the highest scholastic average (not less than B) who fully qualifies with the self-help committee; and to be given as an extra scholarship." If the winner has previously been awarded a scholarship, he is still eligible for this one. The scholarship will be given for one year only.

"This action in creating the scholarship," Irwin Zuckerman, president of the organization, stated, "is taken towards achieving the goals of Phi Beta Kappa—fraternity, morality and literature.

Lower Fee Proposed

On a motion by Dave Morrison, a committee was appointed by President Irwin Zuckerman to consider a change in by-laws which would lower the initiation fee. The committee consists of Morrison, Lester Callan, Fred Cazal, and Gene Williams.

Following the initiation ceremony, Dr. George Coffin Taylor, of the University English department, delivered the principal address of the meeting on Renaissance ideas in the modern world.

Emphasizing the confusion of the present-day world, Dr. Taylor said "we must go back and correct our ideas and institutions by the ideas and examples of the past. We must lose our modern superiority complex and recognize our mistakes."

Ideals of Fraternity

"The all-around man, who strives to reach the goals of Phi Beta Kappa, must continue to grow in intellect. He must retain a critical attitude towards all ideas, and must not allow himself to become a disciple of any man or book," Dr. Taylor declared.

League Presents Fashion Show

With 16 Carolina coeds as models, the Junior Service league of Chapel Hill will hold its second annual fashion show next Wednesday night at 8:30 in the Carolina Inn. All proceeds from the performance, to which the general public is invited, will be donated to the Chapel Hill and Carrboro Baby Clinic.

Girls selected to participate in the style exhibit are Virginia Broome, Martha Clappitt, Olivia Rhodes, Trudy Darden, Huldah Warren, Ellen Wimberly, Peggy Lou Futrelle, Frances Dyckman, Bobbie Winton, Kaye Walsh, Mary Sue Robertson, Mary Caldwell, Ruth Applewhite, Marjorie Johnston, Elsie Lyons and Dolly Erickson.

Merchants Cooperate

The models will exhibit evening dresses, sport suits, afternoon dresses, and hostess gowns. All clothes for the show are being furnished by merchants in nearby towns. These include the Little Shop in Chapel Hill, Taylor's in Raleigh, Montaldo's in Greensboro, and Baldwin's, Belk-Leggett's, Ellis Stone's, and the Fashion in Durham. Each store will exhibit four outfits. Coiffures for the models will be styled by the Village, University, and Carolina beauty shops.

In addition to the style show, which will be announced by Miss Elizabeth Branson, a short comic feature will be offered with Professor W. A. Olsen as master of ceremonies. Light refreshments will be sold after the performance.

Chairman of the committee in charge of the fashion show is Mrs. John Foushee, who is being assisted by Mrs. John Laidlaw, Jr.
