impressive show of Adolf Hitler's military might in the streets of Bucharest.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—German submarines and bombing planes, possibly assisted by a raiding cruiser converged on British shipping in the Atlantic Ocean today in one of the war's heaviest attacks on Britain's vital sea supply line, releasing bombs and torpedoes on at least 10 vessels in the course of a few hours.

SOPHIA, Bulgaria, Dec. 2—Greek artillery north of the captured Italian base of Pogradec has cut the main highway to the Albanian capital of Tirano, only route of retreat for Italian forces in that sector, the Greek radio claimed tonight.

ATHENS, Dec. 2—Greek troops advancing in hand-to-hand bayonet charges all along the 150-mile Albanian front were reported tonight to have outflanked and captured many Italian units in snow-covered mountain sectors.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—Major-General Johnson Hagood, who retired from the army in 1938 after he severely criticized New Deal "pump-priming" tonight expressed doubt that the nation's important harbors could be closed to a hostile force even with six-months notice and invasion imminent.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—Chairman Martin Dies, of the House committee on un-American activities, charged in a radio speech tonight that one of the nation's most valuable experimental airplanes was recently destroyed by five separate crimes of sabotage.

BELGRADE, Dec. 2—Greek forces in a lightning 18-mile advance beyond the captured Italian base of Pogradec today swept to within about 30 miles of the Albanian capital of Tirano, according to the Greek radio.

Departure of President Roosevelt from Washington Monday for an inspection of United States defenses in the Caribbean brought into sharp focus a series of recent diplomatic military land moves involving that particularly explosive arm of the Atlantic.

By United Press

Sweeping east from the northern Rockies a mass of snow-laden air plunged temperatures to the lowest point of the winter in the midwest Monday and was expected to reach the Atlantic seaboard within the next 24 hours. In northern Minnesota and North Dakota the mercury dropped to 18 below zero.

LONDON, Dec. 3—(Tuesday)—Aerial marauders prowled over southern England and Wales last night and early today battering three towns in miniature blitz-raids and making hit-run attacks at other widely-scattered objectives.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—The National Defense Priorities board announced tonight that it has issued "temporary preference delivery instructions" whereby aircraft and aircraft engine producers will voluntarily expedite deliveries to the army and navy.

Faculty Will Meet Friday Afternoon

The faculty is asked to meet as a committee of the whole Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Bingham Hall to consider a report on retiring annuities from the committee appointed under the chairmanship of J. M. Lear.

Dean D. D. Carroll, chairman of the committee on faculty living conditions, will preside.

Two Rehearsals Today Scheduled for Band

Earl A. Slocum, director of the University band, has called two rehearsals for today. Upperclass members of the band are meeting at 5 o'clock in the auditorium of Hill Music hall. Freshmen and transfer members rehearse at 7 o'clock.

Slocum requests that all march folios be turned in at these rehearsals.

Editor Byrd Merrill announced that all junior and senior proofs for the Yackety-Yack must be turned into Wooten-Moulton before tomorrow. "If this is not done, we will have to do the selecting ourselves," he said.

Charlotte Students Meet Tonight to Organize Club

All boys from Charlotte are asked to meet this evening at 10 o'clock in Gerrard hall to organize the Charlotte-Carolina club. Charlotte students attending the University automatically are members of the club.

The first function of the club will be to make plans for the annual Charlotte-Carolina club dance.

Today Is Deadline For Magazine Copy

Today is the absolute deadline for any Carolina Mag material. There is still room for some good fiction and short poetry. All contributors who have not yet checked in their material are asked to do so this afternoon. Cartoonists are also requested to report.

which he gave a brilliant running exhibition in addition to firing a touchdown pass to Hussy. LeBlanc, by all rights, should be Lalanne's successor. He's from Crowley, Louisiana, and came to the University through Lalanne's influence. Wake Forest saw him at his best, sparking a first-quarter aerial display that netted two scores and was threatening as the contest ended. LeBlanc is also a capable punter, and did the kicking before Sadlik was discovered.

The line was the main weakness of the frosh eleven, and although there are several individuals who may be able to offer help to Coach Wolf, at present Tom Byrum is the only polish-

DTH Business Staff Will Meet Tonight

There will be an important meeting of the business staff of the DAILY TAR HEEL tonight at 7:15 in the business office at Graham Memorial.

"It is imperative that everyone be there," business manager Bill Bruner said yesterday. "The meeting will be very short . . . maybe."

ed lineman of the bunch. An 190-pound tackle, Byrum paced the line play all season, getting little praise, but more than his share of tackles. He's from Edenton, and prepped at Porter military.

And there are others who, although they didn't set the freshman league on fire, may end up on a starting Carolina varsity team some day. In the backfield, Fullbacks Ray Jordan and Mike Buss are big and powerful and with more seasoning will be hard to stop.

Emil Serlich, a tough little man, won All-State honors at wingback at Norfolk, but made Tatum's team at blocking back. Wingbacks Clay Croom and Jack Emack will have to be reckoned with, as will Phil Edmonds at tailback. Jack Begley is big at guard with over 200 pounds, but divided time with Bob Cozart, Charlie Gordon and John Hackney. Frank Clement ran with Byrum at tackle, and as a reserve was Harold Alderson, converted blocking back.

Here's the season record:

Carolina 7 State	18
Carolina 0 Navy Plebes	43
Carolina 13 Wake Forest	19
Carolina 14 Duke	27

terms and still maintain our American standard of living." Pepper stated that the United States is the one "remaining citadel in the world and must not wait to be trampled under the contaminating foot of the totalitarian powers."

He stressed the fact that the United States could no longer claim disinterest of detachment from European conflicts because of our geographical locations, our trust in the balance of power, or our faith in the British Fleet. "We know that bombers can fly 3,000 miles and deliver their missiles of death; we know that there is no balance of power in Europe, no Europe in fact, just Hitler and his Nazis who receive their inspiration from the pagans; and no British fleet to protect us as in the days of the Monroe Doctrine, when we were aided and assisted with the assurance that we and the British Government were one."

Pepper concluded his address by stating that the United States "must know the right, believe in democracy, freedom, and must strive towards our destiny. We'll run risks, be slandered and libeled and blasphemed but future generations will look back and say that we dared to live through to our destiny."

Following the Senator's speech an open forum was held in which the Senator answered questions directed at him from the audience. He was asked how far the United States should go in deporting German officials suspected of espionage. Senator Pepper replied that the question of diplomatic

In spite of the tremendous exodus this past weekend so that hungry students could eat their turkeys in the home atmosphere, there were many people left in Chapel Hill.

Thursday night, Graham Memorial with Richard Worley as host, entertained at a square dance in the ballroom of the student union. The Graham Memorial Mountaineers string quartet furnished music for the affair. A community sing was held after the dance and cider and doughnuts were served.

Friday afternoon, a "Gay Nineties" program of recorded music was offered and Friday night an old time movie with Charlie Chaplin was presented. Saturday night a round dance was held in the firelighted ballroom. Those events given by Graham Memorial brought almost 300 people out.

Last Tuesday night Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Strowd of Cameron avenue entertained the football squad and several members of the coaching staff at a Thanksgiving dinner party. A great turkey with all the fixings was served. Honored guests were Coach Raymond Wolf, John Vaught, Chuck Erickson, P. H. Quinlan, O. K. Cornwell, Dick Jamerson, George Shepard and Robert W. Madry.

ADPi's gave their second annual Thanksgiving dinner party at Whitehall last Tuesday evening. After the dinner Mrs. George Basco poured coffee. All the pledges were invited to come for after dinner coffee. Arrangements were made by Georgianna Pentlarge of Montclair, N. J.

Chi Omega entertained at coffee last Sunday evening as is their usual weekly custom. Hostesses were Marjorie and Blanche Burrows, Norris Snow and Kathleen Lineback.

The Pi Phi's had their buffet supper and Thanksgiving party at their house Tuesday night. Mrs. Sedalia Gold was social chairman for the entertainment. Mrs. Gold poured after dinner coffee Sunday night and was assisted by Mary Lee Wilson and Roberta Winton.

Mrs. Guy B. Johnson poured tea Tuesday afternoon at a special Bull's Head Bookshop tea, which was in honor of Whitman Bennett of New York. Bennett is a book collector and author.

immunity has always been a difficult one and that he has "no doubt at all that the German consular service has been active in espionage recently—they were active during the World War also—I think it should be curbed, and possibly criminally prosecuted. Something should be done about it."

Vassar college scientists believe the Indiana in the Hudson river valley centuries ago had a merchandising and industrial system not unlike today's.
