

EDITORIALS: IRC Should Quit Co-Chairmen Silence Is Golden

The Daily Tar Heel

WEATHER: Fair; slightly warmer

THE ONLY COLLEGE DAILY IN THE SOUTHEAST

VOLUME XLIX

Business: 9887; Circulation: 9886

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1940

Editorial: 4356; News: 4351; Night: 6906

NUMBER 63

Grainger, Clinard Named Student-Faculty Day Co-Chairmen

Faculty Sanctions Change In Honor Trials

Britt Named Student Party Chairman

Wall Chosen As Chairman Pro Tempore

Delegates Elect Britt Unanimously For Sixth Term

Sweeping aside the objections of their chairman, delegates to the Student Party convention last night unanimously re-elected Mitchell Britt for his sixth term as party leader and, for the first time in its history, named a chairman pro-tem.

Electing all of its officers by acclamation, the convention chose Bill Wall as chairman pro-tem; Phil Carden, publicity chairman; Grace Rutledge, secretary; and George Hayes, Hal Pope, Bob Foister, Charlie Nelson, Dick Bailey, and Wink Norman, members-at-large.

Britt, one of the original founders of the Student Party, said "I appreciate the fact that the party has elected me and I hope that dormitory and town students, as well as other campus groups will give us their support for we'll need it as never before. All of our meetings during the coming year will be entirely open. There will be no undercover nominations or secret conventions."

Delegates From Dorm Delegates at last night's meeting, the first of the year, came from all sections. See STUDENT PARTY, page 4.

Students Urged To Follow Plan Of Registration

J. C. Griffin, director of the Central Records office, announced yesterday that all students who have not secured their permits to register on the days specified will have to wait until tomorrow.

He advised those whose last names begin with P through Z to report today on schedule and avoid the rush tomorrow.

The permits will be given out today in the lobby of Memorial hall from 9 until 5 o'clock, but will be distributed tomorrow from the stage.

All sophomores and freshmen who have not yet secured their registration appointments should do so immediately at 310 South building. They will be unable to register without these appointments.

Duke French Club Gives Plays Here

Carolina-Duke cooperation will be illustrated tonight at 8:30 in the Playmaker's Theater when the French club sponsors a program of plays enacted by Duke students for the benefit of British War Relief.

A short comedy program by local students will be on the same program. There will be no admission, but a collection will be taken.

The Duke French fraternity will present two one-act plays in French: Maurice Maeterlinck's symbolic drama, L'Intruse (The United Guest) and a comedy. Carolina students will offer a comic skit, Seul (all alone) in which Monsier George Levy, a native French man, will have the leading role supported by Molly Holmes and Hulda Warren.

Pratt To Address Geology Fraternity

Colonel Joseph Hyde Pratt of Chapel Hill, former state geologist, will address a meeting of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, geological fraternity, tonight at 7:30 in New East building.

Colonel Pratt will speak on geological work in North Carolina, past and future. This will be the final lecture of the fall series sponsored by the fraternity.

OVER OBJECTIONS on his part, Mitchell Britt, above, was last night elected chairman of the Student Party for the sixth time.

Mag Appears Tomorrow

Issue Features Life on Campus

For the first time in its long history, the Carolina Mag, oldest college literary magazine in the country, will appear tomorrow featuring youth and devoted entirely to the position of students on this campus.

Highlighted by Hugh Morton's silhouette of one of Carolina's student pilots, the magazine turns to articles concerning some aspects of University life and Adrian Spies, editor of the Mag, demonstrates his ability to make the publication a vital organ on the campus.

"The CAA and Five Credit Hours" is the story of Carroll McGaughey and other student fliers. Phil Carden, one of the five DAILY TAR HEEL writers who have articles in the magazine, traces the course of training and discusses the significance of the program.

"A Preface to Disillusionment," by Louis Harris is a discussion of the relaxing of morals in present day youth. Spies, speaking in defense of the article, said "It might be termed an at- See MAG, page 4.

Jordan Honors Town Students

Mel Jordan, secretary of the Town Boys' association, will entertain all town students tonight from 7:30 to 10 o'clock at an informal gathering at his home, 401 Pittsboro street.

Movies of various Carolina athletic events will be shown by the Athletic department. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Jordan, and there will be dancing afterwards.

YMCA Begins Work on Plans For February 5 Celebration

News Briefs

Hitler Boasts Of Nazi Power

British Sweep To Mediterranean

By United Press

BERLIN—The war will end "in a reasonably short time" with a great knockout offensive against Britain, Germany boasted tonight, after Adolf Hitler asserted in a speech loaded with attacks on the United States that "I can beat any other power in the world."

Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels receiving foreign newspaper correspondents from Nazi-held Paris a few hours after Hitler's 90-minute speech, said a final "great fighting offensive against Britain" is imminent and will surpass with fury any blow thus far struck.

"The fact is," Goebbels said, "we already feel that we have won the war and therefore are concentrating on the future new order in Europe and economic and cultural relations with the rest of the world, especially with the Americas."

Hitler, in his speech describing the war as a world-wide showdown between the Nazi and democratic way of life, had told 12,000 workers of a big Berlin arms plant that he is leading the German people in a death struggle against the capitalist slavery of the United States and Great Britain.

LONDON—Britain's blitzkrieg offensive in western Egypt, aimed at driving the Italian invaders into the sea, has swept 75 miles across the desert "in a single bound" to the Mediterranean coast, deep behind the Fascist base of Sidi Barrani, Prime Minister Churchill said today.

WITH THE GREEK ARMY ON THE EPIRUS FRONT—Italian troops tonight were reported evacuating their Albanian stronghold at Tepelini in the face of a smashing Greek advance from Argyrocastron.

WASHINGTON—The Administration is considering proposals to send food and medical supplies into France and Spain, but will withhold definite action until all aspects of the problem have been examined, reliable quarters reported tonight.

BUENOS AIRES—The newspaper Noticias Graficas said today that, according to an unconfirmed report in diplomatic circles, Great Britain may cede the Falkland Islands to the See NEWS BRIEFS, page 2.

Leaders Propose Change in Emphasis

Preliminary plans for the seventh annual Student-Faculty day were released yesterday by Syd Alexander, president of the YMCA, as he announced that Ike Grainger and Sis Clinard had been appointed co-chairmen in charge of the day's events.

This year's celebration will be held on February 5, and the co-chairmen are already at work organizing their committees. Declared Alexander, "A bigger, better and far more extensive program is being planned this year."

Student-Faculty day was instituted originally to allow students and faculty members to become better acquainted with each other. "It has usually been nothing more than a social function, but this year plans are far more extensive," Alexander said.

A special feature of this year's celebration will be a constructive program exhibiting the work of the University, or "A Century of Progress." It is expected to allow the University's South American visitors attending the school here to observe the University and its functions.

Alexander explained that although the emphasis of the day will be changed from social to constructive the afternoon program will continue to be of a social nature. "Perhaps," he added, "we can end the day with a gala Student-Faculty North American dance, though, of course the plans are still in the development stage."

The idea of having exhibits as a feature of the morning program is a return to the original idea of Student-Faculty day, that featured the first of the programs seven years ago.

The day is sponsored by the YMWCA but "the success of the day depends on complete cooperation and participation between students and faculty."

Alexander remarked that previous See STUDENT-FACULTY, page 4.

Classrooms Open For Cramming

Nineteen campus classrooms will be open for nightly cram sessions until December 20, Assistant Dean of Students Fred Weaver announced yesterday.

Arrangements have already been made with the building department for lights and janitor service.

The available rooms and the buildings in which they are located are as follows:

Phillips, 304; Alumni, 203, 207, 208; Peabody, 201, 208; Bynum, 305; Murphey, 103; Saunders, 109, 110, 111; Venable, 201, 206 (7 to 10 o'clock); Bingham, 102, 105, 106, 202 (7:30 to 11 o'clock); New West, 101, 102.

Paul Green

Green To Head Theater Group

Theater Conference Elects Dramatist

Paul Green, Pulitzer prize playwright and member of the teaching staff of the University's department of dramatic art, was recently elected president of the National Theater conference at sessions held in New York City, it was announced.

Green succeeds Gilmore Brown, director of the Pasadena Playhouse.

The conference is composed of representatives of leading college and community little theater groups and membership is limited to 100. The University is the only institution having two representatives, Dr. Frederick H. Koch and Green both being members.

One of the conference's main objectives this year is to establish recreational facilities in army camps, and Green is national chairman of a committee in charge of that phase of the program.

Quarles Replies To Statements In DTH Editorial

In reply to a DAILY TAR HEEL editorial of yesterday morning which stated that the Di senate, along with several other campus organizations, was "tottering on weak knees," Perrin Quarles, retiring president of the senate, declared in an address last night that the Di was "fulfilling its purpose at the University."

Pointing out that the Di was formed originally to give students an opportunity to participate in debating and to learn parliamentary procedure, Quarles went on to sum up the circumstances that have forced the organization to lose much of the great campus influence that it once had.

Quarles made these remarks in a farewell speech before the senate as he was retiring from the office of president to make room for his successor, William B. Woodson of Salisbury. See DI SENATE, page 4.

Plan To Be Given Trial For One Year

Student Council To Have Authority Over All Cases

The goal of complete student government was nearer today after yesterday's meeting of the faculty when it was announced that a plan placing the Student council in complete responsibility for all honor code violations will continue on trial for this year. If the plan works efficiently, it will probably be permanently adopted, climaxing years of steady growth in student government.

During the coming year, the last outstanding vestige of faculty government will be tentatively renounced by referring primary action in all honor cases to the Student council. Heretofore a faculty committee has initiated hearings on certain types of cases.

Under the new plan, the faculty executive committee will serve only in an advisory capacity and the council has the privilege of either using or declining the aid of the faculty. Only exceptional cases will be referred directly to the faculty committee.

Faculty to Report Violations Faculty members will report honor code violators to the assistant Dean of Students for the remainder of this year. All evidence will then be turned over to the Student council for trial.

If the council finds that it needs the assistance of the faculty executive committee, it may ask for it with the request that, after the faculty rules on the case, it return its verdict to the council. The council may then either accept or disregard the decision of the committee. All sentences, however, must be passed and recorded by the Student council.

Before the new plan of action was announced, faculty members would report all violations of the honor system to the faculty executive committee which made the final decision on whether the student accused was guilty or not and prescribed the punishment for the violation.

The revolutionary plan will eliminate the divergencies and overlapping which have interfered with the work of the executive committee of the faculty and the Student council in the past. Some cases have fallen between See FACULTY, page 2.

Snapshot Contest Deadline Today

Today is the deadline for all contributions to the Yackety Yack snapshot contest. The $10 prize offered for the best snapshot has attracted only nine photographers and Billy Peete, Yackety Yack divisional editor, is counting on last minute entries.

"The Yackety Yack staff fears it will be necessary to move to larger quarters if this tremendous wave of nine photographs continue to pour in at their office in Graham Memorial," Peete said. "We can't understand why more students aren't taking advantage of this offer to have their friends and organizations represented in their yearbook."

The $10 prize is still being offered, however, and if other entries do not come in, the winner will be selected from the nine applicants who have sent in pictures for the contest.

Student Union Gives Fireside Concert

The weekly fireside concert will be held tonight at 7:30 in the main lounge of Graham Memorial.

The program has been selected by Gene Devant, the newly appointed chairman of the music programs for Graham Memorial. Gene is a member of the junior class, a wrestler, and a native of Charlotte.

The program will include the "Danse Macabre," Saint-Saens; "Clouds," Debussy; "Ride of Walkure," Wagner; and "Death And Transfiguration," Richard Strauss.

HERE ARE the charter members of Chi Beta Phi, newly-formed national honorary scientific fraternity which has just been chartered here. The fraternity was organized at Chapel Hill to bind together students in the field of science for study and discussion of scientific subjects and accomplishments. Students in chemistry, physics, botany, zoology, psychology, geology, and mathematics who make a high scholastic average are eligible for membership. Dr. Sherman Smith of the chemistry department is faculty adviser. Formal installation of the chapter is scheduled for Saturday, December 14, when A. C. Blackwell, grand president of the national organization, will present the charter to the club.

Pictured above, front row, left to right: Fletcher Bailey, Elizabeth City; Warren Harrelson, Mullins, S. C., president; James Allran, Cherryville; William Stone, Raleigh, treasurer; James Ritchie, High Point; Bennett Creech, Raleigh, corresponding secretary.

Back row: Littleton Selden, Jackson; John Church, Salisbury; David Seifert, Weldon, recording secretary; Dr. Sherman Smith, faculty adviser, and Sherrill Gregory, Hays, vice-president.

New pledges are: Hobart McKeever, Greensboro; Dan Hamilton, Chapel Hill.