

Graham To Carry Budget For Greater University Before Joint Committee

President To Seek Budget Requests In Raleigh Hearing

The still plastic 1941-43 budget for the Consolidated University may take on more nearly final form when President Frank Graham appears at a hearing before the joint appropriations committee of the state legislature next Wednesday in Raleigh.

The $9,962,123 for the Greater University requested by the president at the November hearing before the state advisory budget commission was sliced over a million dollars in the commission's recommendation to the legislature on January 14.

At that time the budget for the entire state was turned over to the assembly, and the joint appropriations committee is still holding hearings for all state agencies seeking a greater state appropriation than recommended by the commission.

At Present $222,752 Cut

If the appropriation committee and legislature adhere to the commission's report, Carolina will suffer in the coming year a $222,752 cut from the total requirements of $2,182,298 asked by Graham. The advisory body has recommended only $1,959,546 for 1941-42 and $1,968,694 for 1942-43.

Receipts for each of the coming years were estimated at $1,283,733 in the University's request, and this figure remains the same in the commission's recommendation.

This means that all changes in the requested budget will be reflected in the state's appropriations.

Of the requested appropriations increase of $257,546 for each year in the approaching biennium, only $34,794 has been recommended for 1941-42 and $43,942 for 1942-43. These additions

Playmakers Hold Tryouts Tomorrow For 'Marauder'

Tryouts for "The Marauder," the Carolina Playmakers' fourth production of the year, will be held in the Playmakers theater tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock and tomorrow night at 7:30. Earl Wynn, director of the play, announced yesterday.

"The Marauder," a new play by Noel Houston, is being considered for Broadway production by the Theater Guild, and the Playmakers have secured permission from Houston's agents to produce it for the first time on any stage. Houston is a former Playmaker.

The play, a story of wealthy landowners in Oklahoma, is set against a modern background of western life, and tells the story of the Greentrees; Joseph, a willful land-owner and his daughter, Mardella, Eleanor, and Susan. It revolves around the love affairs of the daughters, the hard, grasping Mardella, and the kind, human Eleanor. Full of comic interest, the grandfather, a full-blooded Indian, hovers in the background.

The cast is large and varied, and offers opportunities for all who wish to read at the tryouts tomorrow. Scripts are on reserve in the library for anyone interested to read before the tryouts.

Penn, Carolina Teams Debate Federal Power

Lyon, Carlton Take Affirmative On Proposition

Carolina and University of Pennsylvania teams will debate the issue of concentration of power in the federal government tonight at 7:30 in Gerrard hall.

Speaking for Carolina, Elsie Lyon and Graham Carlton, with Mac McLendon as alternate, will take the affirmative of the proposition "Resolved, that the present trend toward concentration of power in the federal government is for the best interests of the nation."

The question hinges on the fact that under the Roosevelt administration functions of government such as relief, farm and resources control, public works, and social security, functions formerly performed by state and local agencies, are now being assumed by the federal government. Opponents of the New Deal maintain that this centralization of authority is inadvisable and inimical to the best interests of the nation.

Public Invited to Participate

Sponsored by the Debate council, this is the first intercollegiate contest of this quarter. And the public is invited to attend the program which will include a general "bull session" following the non-decision debate.

Miss Lyon, University junior, will be the first coed to take part in intercollegiate debating here in at least four years, Ed Maner, secretary of the Debate council, announced. A native of Michigan, she is a transfer from Northwestern university where she was also on the debate squad. Carlton is a sophomore and McLendon a junior.

The Pennsylvania team will arrive this afternoon and will be entertained at the Carolina Inn by the Debate council.

Morrison Will Appoint Group For Advising Administration On University Curriculum

Valkyries Offer New Award To Outstanding Senior Coed

Swinging into action after only four days of official existence, The Valkyries, new women's honorary organization, has planned two new campus projects—the annual awarding of a silver cup to the "senior girl who has contributed most to the coeds and the University," and a "Campus Sing" to be held in the spring of each year with representative groups from the dormitories and fraternity houses competing for prizes.

The Valkyries has taken the place of the local chapter of Alpha Kappa Gamma.

In order to select the outstanding senior girl for 1941, an election committee of five members will be set up. The members will consist of one non-sorority girl chosen by the Woman's Interdormitory council, one sorority girl chosen by Panhellenic, one boy selected by the Order of the Grail, the Adviser to Women, and the Dean of Students. The selection of the girl and awarding of the cup will be held in the spring.

Purposed to bring the various groups on the campus closer together, the Campus Sing will consist of "lovely singing some gorgeous spring night out in the Forest theater," according to Mary Alan Clinard, president of The Valkyries.

Groups representing the men's and women's dormitories and fraternity houses will be invited to sing two songs each. Two silver cups will be awarded—one to the best boys' group, the other to the best girls' group. Since the competitive sing is to be an annual affair, any one dormitory or house sponsoring winning groups three years in succession will be allowed permanent possession of the cup.

These projects are being sponsored by The Valkyries in addition to the May Day performance, traditional project of Alpha Kappa Gamma which has been taken over by the new organization.

Committee Will Voice Opinions Of Student Body

By Ernest Frankel

A student advisory committee on curriculum, designed to stamp out age-old complaints on some University courses and promote necessary changes, was approved yesterday by Student Body President Dave Morrison, culminating a long campaign by the Student Government committee and the DAILY TAR HEEL.

Since legislative action is not needed to put the plan into effect, Morrison said that he is "heartily in favor of the committee and I will appoint the group as soon as adequate student reaction to the proposal is evident." Already endorsed by University President Frank Graham, the program, calling for student representatives in each school, will probably be functioning by the end of the quarter.

The purpose of the advisory group is to establish a student committee which will voice student opinion, objections, corrections, and innovations in the curriculum offered by the University, and the manner in which it is taught. The Student Government committee, original promoters of the plan, offered it to Morrison to eliminate "dissatisfaction over numerous courses and the lack of official pathways for registering complaints and offering suggestions."

Work With Dean of Administration

When appointed, the group, following a suggestion by President Graham, will work through the office of the Dean of Administration. The membership will consist of two students from the school of commerce, one from the scientific department, three from the General College, three

RAF Blasts Italian Africa; British Dig In for Invasion

Vichy-German Concord Expected

By United Press

The British, who expect an attempted invasion of their own island in the spring, intensified their offensives against one of the Axis powers in Africa today as the Royal Air Force carried out bombing raids which they claimed smashed Italian ships, planes, and materials.

The RAF dropped tons of bombs on the harbor of Tripoli, western Libyan capital, and hammered at the Barce airbase, midway between captured Derna and Benghazi, where Italy's eastern Libyan forces are expected to make a stand.

British war planes also attacked the Italians in Eritrea and Albania, the RAF said, as ground fighting continued west of Derna and in the Agordat and Barentu areas of Eritrea.

Italian counter-claims, however, disclosed that heavy tanks had been shipped across the Mediterranean to reinforce Marshal Graziani's beleaguered forces. These armored units, it was said, repulsed British forces at

Freshmen To Vote In Regular Assembly

A freshman class quorum will be assured for the election of the class honor council Monday by the announcement yesterday of Fred Weaver, assistant dean of students, that a regular compulsory assembly will be held with attendance checked.

All chapel sessions have been postponed since January 17, but the flu wave has sufficiently subsided, Weaver said, to remove danger of contagion.

At a meeting Friday only 180 freshmen showed up and the ballots were thrown out by the Student council which is in charge of elections.

The nominees, who were introduced Friday, are Jack Emaek, Bahnson Gray, Bob Shuford, Jack Milne, Jim Harrell, Wade Weatherford, Sonny Boney, John Tillet, Howard Starnes, Bob Stockton, Hall Patrick, Arthur Williams, Lucian Davis, Peter Beaudry, Mac Sherman, Stuart Campbell, "Junie" Peel, "Chuck" Clark, Jim Pritchett, and George Kenyon.

Fleming To Address AED Chapter Tonight

Dr. Schinhan Gives Organ Recital Today

Dr. Jan Philip Schinhan, head of the piano and organ instruction in the department of music, will appear in an organ recital this afternoon at 5 o'clock in Hill music hall.

The concert, sponsored by the Graham Memorial student union, is one in a series of Sunday afternoon recitals by prominent North Carolina musicians to which public is invited.

Dr. Schinhan has planned the program especially to show the South American visitors a representative collection of works by American composers.

Improvisation Featured

As a special feature, Dr. Schinhan will improvise on a theme given to him by someone in the audience. He requests that the themes be short, written out, and signed and handed to the ushers.

Mrs. Camilla J. Schinhan will be the assisting artist and will sing a group of compositions by her husband and Wilton Mason, assistant in the music department. Mrs. Schinhan is well known in Chapel Hill, having frequently appeared in recital and as soloist with the symphony orchestra.

The program this afternoon will include "Cantilene," Frysinger; "Song Of Sorrow," Nevin; "Water-Sprites," Nash; "Souvenir Poetique," Diggle; "Toccata From Sonata No. 1," Becker; "Basket Weaver," Russell; "Pastorale," Sorverby; "Twilight At Fiesole," Bingham; "Chorale Prelude,"

Jones Is Star Of Stage Show At Sing Tonight

The recitation, "Lady Macbeth's Sleep Walking Scene," from Macbeth will be rendered in true oratorical style by J. Franklin Jones tonight at 8:30 in Memorial hall during the weekly community sing.

The sing, sponsored by Graham Memorial, will also include in its stage show tonight a personal appearance of the ADPI sorority girls and "On The Road To Mandalay," also rendered by J. Franklin Jones.

Besides the singing and several novelty songs, led by Leon Adams, Chapter 3 of that saga of the old-west, "The Indians Are Coming," will be shown. Chapter 2, shown last week, left the hero, Tim McCoy, in jail, but tonight's chapter should certainly free him in true serial style.

The other movies to be shown tonight include Douglas Fairbanks in "The Wilderness Man," "Broncho Buster," Aesop's Fables, and Andy Clyde in "Giddap."

J. Gibson Jackson, as usual, will preside at the organ to give the proper sound effects during the movies and to accompany the singing.
