Yugoslavia Surrenders 'Unconditionally' To Nazi Blitzkrieg

Capitulation Comes After 12-Day Assault

Allied Forces Hold Fast In Greek Battle

By United Press
BERLIN, April 18—(Friday)—Yugoslavia has surrendered "unconditionally" to Germany's Balkan blitzkrieg — effective at noon today after only 12 days of assault that shattered an army of more than one million men, the high command announced last night.

The German war machine, it was said, is now ready to turn its full fury on Greece where armored columns, "smashing deep into enemy lines," are reported to be swiftly closing a trap around the British army at Mount Olympus.

A special high command communique, jubilantly blared over the radio, announced that the entire Yugoslavian army, "to the extent not already disbanded," had laid down its arms at 9 p. m. Thursday.

"The capitulation is effective April 18 at noon," it was stated.

The last gorilla-like gasps of Yugoslavian resistance was said to be wiped-out in the Bosnian mountains around Sarajevo, "birthplace" of the last World War where the entire second Yugoslavian army had previously capitulated.

The surrender of five entire Yugoslav army corps and prisoners by tens of thousands were previously announced.

A series of "flank maneuvers" by German tanks and other armament occurring in the mountains around Sarajevo, was said to have forced the capitulation.

Adolf Hitler and his advisers already are redrawing the frontiers of Yugoslavia, born of the last great war

Jarratt To Give Classical Concert In Union Sunday

Howard Jarratt, noted American tenor and voice director at Ohio Wesleyan, will give a concert of classical music in the Student union Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, sponsored by Graham Memorial.

Jarratt is from the middle west, receiving his early training at St. Olaf College in Minnesota. He was tenor soloist of the choir for two years there under the baton of Melius Christiansen. Later, studying under Theodore Harrison, he obtained his master of music degree at the American Conservatory of Music at Chicago.

Jarratt is well known throughout the south and middle west for his oratorio and lieder singing. One of the main attractions of the Century of Progress in the Ford Bowl was his appearance with the Ford Symphony. He has been highly complimented for his work with the composer-conductors Walter Aschenbrenner and Van Denman Thompson. The Chicago Daily News says of him that he has "... a voice of exquisite beauty combined with a fine imaginative directness." He has given many repeat performances, one of the best indications of enthusiastic audiences.

Legal Fraternity Elects Officers

Phi Delta Phi, campus legal fraternity elected five men to serve as officers for next year at its meeting last night.

Those selected by the barristers were: Magistrate, Arthur Jones, Gastonia; clerk, Owen G. Rodman, Washington; exchequer, Jick Garland, Gastonia; and historian, Lamar Gudger, Asheville.

CO-HEAD Marjorie Johnston joins with Mrs. J. G. Beard in directing the Carolina coeds as hostesses for the conference of the Athletic Federation of College Women which is meeting here this weekend.

Myer Speaks On Recreation

Coed Conference Continues Today

"It is the function of government to provide wholesome leisure time recreation for the masses of the people," yesterday said Dr. H. D. Meyer, chairman of the department of sociology and national consultant in the office of education for the training of recreation leaders, at the opening luncheon meeting of the North Carolina State Conference of the Athletic Federation of College Women.

Emphasizing recreation in national defense, Dr. Meyer declared that "as conditions throughout the nation become more tense, the need for wholesome civilian morale becomes more urgent, and recreation is an essential factor in creating and keeping sound civilian morale."

Place of Women Addressed

The place of women in the field of recreation and building civilian morale was presented by Dr. Meyer. Leadership, training, research, organization and administration in the field of recreation were reviewed, as he presented a symposium of trends in the field of recreation.

Coeds from 11 state colleges, WCUNC, Duke, High Point, Meredith, Peace Junior College, St. Mary's, Guilford, Catawba, Salem Academy, ECTC, and Greensboro, convened here yesterday for the three-day conference, which will run through tomorrow. Carolina coeds, headed by Marjorie Johnston, president of the Woman's athletic association, and Mrs. J. G. Beard, director of women's sports, are hostesses for the affair.

Features of yesterday's afternoon program was a problem directed by Miss Marie Hartwig, national secretary-treasurer of the American Federation of College Women, and a rifle shooting exhibit by Carolina coeds.

Tommy Dorsey's Orchestra To Play For Concert May 3

Frolics Committee Announces Plans

Through the efforts of Larry Ferling and other members of the May Frolics dance committee, Tommy Dorsey, the famous "Sentimental Gentleman" and his orchestra will play for a concert on Saturday afternoon May 3 which will be opened to the whole campus.

The concert, which will be held in Memorial hall, will last from 2 until 3:30. Admission will be 40 cents.

Ferling announced yesterday that any students who would like to attend the set of four dances—who are not members of the May Frolics group—should hand their name to one of the members of the May Frolics committee before April 20. Only a few extra

Legislature Approves Student Fees Amendment

Registration For Spring Set At 3571

By Sylvan Meyer
Tabulations completed yesterday by the Central Records Office showed a total of 3571 students registered for the spring quarter, approximately 70 less than last quarter, representing 45 states, many foreign countries.

Of this number 535 are women, 3036 are men. Mr. I. C. Griffin, Central Records director, has broken tabulations down into myriad classifications, omitting not one vital statistic.

This five-to-one male-female ratio indicates a drop in the number of coeds of about 85, most of which is in the graduate school enrollment.

First-year enrollment dropped to 704 in the General college, which incidentally, is the only place where there are any freshmen at all. Six hundred and seventy-seven sophomores are walking on the grass this quarter, in addition to 44 frosh, 33 sophs in med school and 36 frosh, 30 sophs in pharmacy school. Junior Class Enrollment

Including juniors running for campus offices Tuesday, the third-year class has accumulated 547 in Arts and Sciences, 209 in Commerce, 29 in Pharmacy—a total of 785 rising seniors.

Those people walking around with expectant faces, haggard with worry and comprehensives are seniors. There are 403 of them in Arts and Sciences, 191 in Commerce, 31 in Pharmacy—totaling 625.

Abrupt reduction in enrollment between junior and senior classes shows over 125 less in Arts and Sciences, 18 less in Commerce, and unaccountably 2 more in Pharmacy.

General college showed a total enrollment of 1388, Arts and Sciences of 984, Commerce of 404. Total of juniors and seniors in these two branches is exactly that of General College—1388. This is not due to the tenacity of lower classmen, but to the large number of transfer students who enter Carolina in their junior year. There are 2776 undergraduates in the University, including 45 special students.

Scores from other states are: Alabama 28, Arkansas 4, California 7, Colorado 2, Connecticut 44, Delaware 11, Florida 77, Georgia 76, Idaho 2, Illinois 21, Indiana 4, Iowa 1, Kansas 2, Kentucky 14, Louisiana 19, Maine 2, Maryland 26, Massachusetts 25, Michigan 9, Minnesota 1, Mississippi 12, Missouri 4, Montana 1, New Hampshire 4, New Mexico 1, Ohio 26, Oklahoma 2, Oregon 3, Pennsylvania 92, Rhode Island 2, South Carolina 91, Tennessee 27, Texas 9, Virginia 97, Washington 5, West Virginia 20, Wisconsin 4, Wyoming 1, District of Columbia 41, and foreign 10.

Important Plan Gets 30-3 Vote At Called Session

The bill to transfer the power of allocating student fees from the administration to the student legislature passed at a special session of the campus assembly last night by a landslide vote of 30 to 3.

Ultimate instigation of the plan now seems certain. Indications are that the student body will ratify the amendment at the polls next Tuesday. The University administration has already informally approved and will probably recommend the plan to the Board of Trustees, the final authority.

Intelligent Discussion
In an hour and a half session which heard the fullest and most intelligent discussion shown in the legislature all year, Chairman Terry Sanford of the ways and means committee answered question after question until the bill was fully explained.

Only opponents to the proposal were representatives Andy Gennett, Bill Ward and Roy Parker.

Gennett, Publications Union board member, opposed giving the legislature power over the board's investments and its annual appropriations.

Sanford expressed the opinion that the legislature and its appropriations committee would be intelligent enough to give the publications adequate funds and to settle wisely the matter of investments.

Ward and Parker did not believe that the legislature was capable of handling so large an order.

Sanford, asserting that it did, called the fees amendment the most significant.

Sale of Stag Bids Open to Men Today For WA Dance

The sale of stag bids for the annual presentation dance of the Woman's association is being thrown open today to the men students, Jo Andoe, chairman for the dance, announced yesterday.

Jimmy Slayton and his orchestra of Danville, Va., will play for the dance which will be held tomorrow night from 9 to 12 in Woollen.

Bids will not be sold at the door, but coeds may buy escort and stag bids from members of the honor council and interform council until tomorrow. Town girls may buy their bids in the "Y" at 10:30.

Bids on Sale for Men
Starting this morning at 10:30 in the "Y", men may buy stag bids.

The new officers of the Woman's association and the new house presidents will be presented at the dance, while both the old and new officers will take part in the figure.

Davie Mural Dedication

SAR To Unveil Work Tonight

The William R. Davie mural in the Chapel Hill post office will be dedicated tonight at 8 o'clock in the post office, J. Hampton Rich, state chairman of organization, announced yesterday.

Special permission to perform the ceremony was obtained from the post office department by the Society Sons of the American Revolution at Chapel Hill and Duke.

Boy Scout Escort

Members of the SAR and guests will assemble at 7:45 in Graham Memorial, marching to the unveiling under a Boy Scout escort of flags.

Dedication ceremony, of which Dr. Archibald Henderson, head of the mathematics department, is chairman, will consist of the unveiling of the mural by the Children of the Revolution and Davie county school girls, and presentation of a portrait of General William R. Davie, founder of the University, and a poplar tree from Davie hall to Dr. W. C. Coker for the William R. Davie school.

Immediately following the dedication, there will be a meeting of the local chapter of SAR in Graham Memorial.

Senior Invitations

Sale of senior invitations will be continued in the lobby of the YMCA between the hours of 9 and 11 a. m. and 2 and 5 until April 25, it was announced yesterday.

DTH Editorship Candidates Release Platforms, Managers

Moll, Simpson Support Harris

Louis Harris, staff nominee and University party candidate for editor of the TAR HEEL, yesterday released his platform and at the same time announced Henry Moll, doubly endorsed candidate for Carolina Mag editor, and George Simpson, member of the TAR HEEL editorial board, as his campaign managers.

His platform is as follows:
"The DAILY TAR HEEL, unlike most other college and professional newspapers, is entirely free from outside control. We put up with no pressure from advertisers, no iron hand of the administration, but are solely responsible to the members of the student body.

"Realizing the large responsibility entailed in editing a paper as the DAILY TAR HEEL and with the support the staff has put behind me, I do pledge myself, if elected, to:
"1. Bring to the campus a lively edi-

85 Candidates To Be Entered On Ballot

Polling Procedure To Again Simulate National Set-up

The business of nominating 85 announced candidates for campus offices will be done officially this morning — and, in spite of propaganda to the contrary, none of those pictures now decorating political literature will end up with their names on ballots unless they are formally put up today.

Party choices for student body offices and town legislature representatives will become official nominees during chapel period in Memorial hall, with Student Body President Dave Morrison presiding. Rising seniors will enter their candidates in Gerrard hall, with Louis Gaylord presiding; rising juniors in 101 New West with Gates Kimball presiding; and rising sophomores in 112 New East with Bill Dees presiding.

Chairmen Busy

UP Chairman Jick Garland and SP Chairman Jack Towell will be busy this morning delegating party lieutenants to see that all candidates get their names on the ballots. Campaign managers for the two independents so far announced will have only one man to worry about.

Last year 112 candidates for the 45 offices were nominated by three parties. There were no independents since the Carolina party seemed to have absorbed all the "left-outs" of the other two parties.

Again this year Carolina's polling procedure will imitate the national set-up with four distinct precincts for territorial division.

According to the elections bill passed last year which set up the polling places, there will be four precincts as follows: precinct No. 1, ballot boxes in lobby of H dormitory, where residents of H, K, Everett, Graham, Lewis,

Playmakers Hold Tryouts Today

Tryouts for parts in the fourth bill of experimental productions of original one-act plays will be held this afternoon in the Playmakers theater at 4 o'clock.

Scheduled for production on April 29, the plays were selected from those written in Dr. Koch's playwrighting class. They are "The Wider Fields," a play of New England, by Miriam Maschin; "Parole," a story of man's love for freedom, by Robert Bowers; and "Union Forever," an historical play about the signing of the truce between the Confederate and Union armies in Durham, by Mrs. A. R. Wilson.

Campbell Selects Glamack, Rutledge

George Glamack, the All-American basketball center who has so often said in radio interviews that his ambition is to be a politician, and Grace Rutledge, member of the DAILY TAR HEEL news and business staffs, were announced yesterday as campaign managers for Orville Campbell, Student party nominee for editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL.

At the same time Campbell released a ten-point platform which follows:
1. An editorial policy that shall represent student opinion and be concerned with campus events, touching national and international questions only when they are directly connected with the campus.

2. A TAR HEEL staff which will work as a friendly, harmonious unit devoted to the interests of the entire student body and the University.

3. Readable editorials which take a definite stand, but which represent opinions derived from a thorough in-
