

UNC-Princeton Football Game Is Still Only A Pipe Dream

By Leonard Lobred

Coach Tad Wieman and Dean Christian Gauss of Princeton university, who spent part of last week in Chapel Hill with the Tiger track team, gave Carolina athletic officials some encouragement but not enough, it has been learned, about the possibilities of arranging a meeting in football between Carolina and Princeton.

This pair said, almost in unison, in effect: "We'd like to play North Carolina and maybe we can get together again before long." This statement is significant because the University has wanted for several years to arrange a game between the two schools and especially for two years hence, when Carolina plans a year-round celebration of its 150th anniversary.

Still a Dream

Although the two schools discontinued competition in football in 1916, it is known that Carolina has attempted to resume the old rivalry. The Carolina athletic council, probably at the suggestion of higher-ups in the administration, has reportedly attempted to add Princeton to the 1943 schedule, for on October 12 of that year the University will celebrate its 150th anniversary. A Carolina-Princeton game, it is believed, would be a special feature of the sesqui-centennial year.

Many Carolina and Princeton alumni feel that a football game between the Tar Heels and Tigers would be a natural. The founder of Carolina, if any one man may be called founder, was a Princeton graduate; Carolina's first two presidents were Princeton graduates, and there have been many other exchanges making for close bonds between the two institutions.

First Visit to Hill

Although Princeton track teams have spent their spring vacations here for the last five years, Wieman and Gauss visited Chapel Hill this year for the first time. With them was Vice-president George Brakeley. Dean Gauss, in addition to his duties as administrative head, is chairman of the Princeton athletic council.

Harry Mahnken, field event coach of the Princeton track team, is coach of 150-pound football in the fall. He has accompanied the track team here on all of its trips in the past five years.

Indians Meet Eastern Foes On First Tour

Leader of the Dixie league, the Carolina lacrosse team enters inter-sectional competition today and tomorrow on its first tour, with games scheduled at Baltimore and Annapolis. This afternoon the Indians meet the Grayhounds of Loyola college, and tomorrow the Midshipmen of Navy.

These two games should give some indication of the comparative strength of the Carolina team in national lacrosse circles, as Baltimore is recognized as the center of intercollegiate lacrosse. This region annually produces the top teams in the scholastic, collegiate, and open divisions. The annual game between Johns Hopkins and Maryland is usually played with the mythical national title at stake.

Loyola Is Tough

Loyola played its first game of the season against Hopkins last Saturday and produced the toughest opposition that Hopkins has had. Although the Grayhounds lost, 9-0, they came closer to breaking Hopkins' record of not being scored on this season than the other teams Hopkins has played.

Loyola has a strong experienced defense, and the attack is fast and contains many good stick-handlers. Led by many former outstanding high school stars, Loyola expects to repeat last year's victory.

Coeds Show Skill On Firing Range

Carolina coeds proved their prowess with rifles yesterday when two teams staged an exhibition shoot in the NROTC armory before women from 11 schools meeting here for a coed athletic conference.

Mary Nesbit, daughter of an Army officer, revealed her esprit de corps and won hands down with 141, firing five rounds at 50 feet, in four positions. But consistency paid team two and they emerged with team honors with a total of 470 to team one's 372.

Members of First Team

Shooting for team 2 were Jane Durning with 131, Magda Wearing with 133 (second high scorer of the day), Dot Jackson with 100, and Randy Mebane 106.

For team 1, Ella Keen Steele shot 105, Lou Alice Hamrick 51, Breezy Brazeale 75, in addition to winner Nesbit's 141.

Golfers Crush Weak Rams By 25-2 Score

DURHAM, April 17—Continuing its domination of northern teams, the Carolina golf squad disposed of Fordham here today on the Hillandale course by the one-sided score of 25-to-2.

Low man for the Tar Heels was Sophomore Graydon Liles who shattered par-71 for the course with a brilliant 68. Billy Peete, with a couple of birdies, captured the best ball honors.

Carolina Too Good

The Tar Heels, carding low scores all-around were heads above for their northern foes, and had little trouble in scoring their points.

The victory was the third of the season against two defeats for the Tar Heels.

Carolina golfers recently annexed honors in the student tournament held in Pinehurst. At various matches throughout the South the Tar Heels have been ahead of competition and they stand out as one of the top teams of the section. Speculation over their ability to capture inter-sectional honors gives the golfers a good chance to come through to gain the mythical championship.

Tar Baby Coaches Find 'Golden Boy' For First Base

No sooner had Coaches Jim Tatum and Ham Strayhorn of the freshman baseball team discovered a new infield combination, than a new first baseman showed up on the scene and threw everything into confusion.

Dub Johnson, who started the season with the Tar Babies but had to withdraw because of sickness, reported back to practice the early part of the week and yesterday established himself as the possible leading candidate for the job.

Position a Mystery

Where he will be played is what the coaches would like to know. He fields as well as Mack Morris, who shifted to the bag from second base, and is quite a hitter. In practice yesterday, he hit a triple just to demonstrate that he can swat the ball.

Hussey Out

It's possible that he will be used in right field in place of Jack Hussey, who injured his ankle several days ago. Hussey, with his ankle still weak, is unable to cover as much territory.

Cancellation of One Mile Relay Race Hurts Carolina Chances in Duke Meet

DUKE PRESENTS those three athletes as the head performers on its track team which opposes Carolina here tomorrow at Fetzer field. Henry Profenius is number one miler, John "Dippy" Nania is the discus leader, and Steve Lach is shot put champion. The Tar Heels edged out Duke by a narrow margin indoors, but the addition of field events such as discus and javelin will aid the Blue Devils.

Blue Devils Hold Slight Advantage In Competition

By Ben Snyder

The most significant news on the track front yesterday afternoon was that the Carolina coaching staff has agreed to the cancellation of the customary mile relay event in tomorrow's dual meet against Duke. "The race was first run at Duke's request in 1936," said Coach Dale Ranson, "and has been dropped for the same reason."

In a sense, the elimination of the relay is a blow to Carolina hopes, for it was by dint of a Tar Heel victory in the same event that the Devils were defeated in February's indoor games. However, it seems to indicate better performances for those men who would have been expected to save themselves for that all-important test.

Morrison Faces Test

Thus it is that Co-captain Dave Morrison, who undoubtedly would have been called upon to anchor the quartet, may eclipse a standing meet record in the mile. Morrison, who will be running against Duke's Wendell Lockwood and Henry Profenius as well as teammates Rich Van Wagener and Henry Branch, has a very good chance of wiping out the dual meet record of 4:21.4 set by Morse of Duke in 1936. The Tar Heel flyer hit 4:24 two weeks ago in outrunning Tom Fields in the Maryland meet and has come far along in the annual conditioning process since that date.

Dukes Hold Records

In regard to the records established in Duke-Carolina competition, it is interesting to note that the Dukes, losers in 14 of the last 15 meets, hold eight of the 15 blue ribbon marks. They possess all but one of the field event records, that sole exception being in the broad jump, and two of these exceptional performances were made by a pair of men that will be returning to the Hill tomorrow. Big Steve Lach of the Methodists got the discus off to an incredible 145 feet 9 inches last spring, while Bubber Willmot scaled the high jump mar at 6 feet 1 1/2 inches. Lach also won the shot last spring, and 1940 winners, Lewis in the javelin, and Brown in the quarter, will be on hand to try to repeat. For Carolina, only Co-captains Bill Groves and Dave Morrison remain as past winners. Morrison met little opposition in winning the half in 1:58.9 while Groves clipped

Glamack and Dill Gain Fame With No-Hitters In Softball

Mound Kings Now Rule Frat Throne In Intramurals

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Softball

Mangum 16, Grimes No. 2-4; Kappa Sigma No. 1-12, Phi Kappa Sigma 1; ATO 6, Kappa Alpha 3; Sigma Chi 15, Phi Alpha 3; Zeta Psi No. 2-17, Phi Delta Theta 0; DKE 8, Zeta Psi No. 1-0; Beta Theta Pi 10, Kappa Phi 0.

Big George Glamack yesterday demonstrated that he can pitch softball as well as ring goals on the basketball court for he reached the intramurals hall of fame by pitching a no-hit, no-run game as Beta Theta Pi defeated Kappa Phi 10 to 0. But Glamack was not alone in reaching the famed portals of the hall of fame, because DKE's Tommy Dill also hurled a no-hit, no-run game as his teammates downed Zeta Psi No. 1, 8 to 0. It was Dill's second no-hit, no-run game in his brief two year stay here. Last year while pitching for Everett dorm, he pitched his first perfect game.

Glamack Effective

In the Beta-Kappa Phi tilt, Glamack was in trouble in only one inning, in the fourth frame two errors and a walk filled the bases with two away, but Glamack retired the side by whiffing the third batter. Big George was a trifle wild walking six men, but he was just wild enough to be effective.

He struck out seven men.

The Betas had one big inning, the third, when they tallied seven runs. Four hits, four errors, and a walk were put together for the tallies. Felts, Little, and Garland were the top batters for the tallies.

In pitching his second no-hit game, Tommy Dill was in perfect form as he set the Zetes down in the early part of the game. His control was nearly perfect as he walked only one man. He sent 10 stragglers back to the bench victims by the strike out route. Only four opponents reached first base, one by a walk, and three by errors.

Dekes Push Three Across

In the fourth inning the Dekes pushed three runs across the plate after opening the scoring with a singleton in the third. A walk, singles by Kimball and Maas, and a triple by Hogue produced the three tallies.

Zeta Psi No. 2 routed Phi Delta Theta 17 to 0 in a loosely played game. Sam Mordecai, the ace pitcher of the Zetes, gave up only one hit in the six innings he worked. He whiffed nine batters, while walking seven.

Winners Open Scoring

The winners opened the scoring in the third. After that they scored at will. Sam Mordecai in addition to carrying the pitching burden proved that he was also somewhat of a batter.

The hard hitting Kappa Sigma No. 1 team clubbed a 12 to 1 triumph over the hapless Phi Kappa Sigma club.

Skipper Hearn Praises 'Green' Tar Heels For Victory Over Highly-Touted Deacons

Outfielder Miller Now Being Groomed For Pitching Staff

Although upsets are frequent in the field of sport, it is a very small group that looks to the Carolina baseball team for victories over more highly regarded aggregations. Still, this group, however small, had something about which to be proud when the Tar Heels defeated Wake Forest Tuesday.

Coach Bunn Hearn is still full of praise for his men. He continues to say, "They're still a little green yet. But it's just like in any business—all it takes is a little time and hard work." Work, of course, is what the Tar Heels are getting plenty of.

Feimster To Pitch

For their return game with Davidson tomorrow, the ball club spent a full afternoon yesterday at Emerson stadium, handicapped greatly by the hardness of the infield surface. Hank Feimster, who is slated to go to the mound in an attempt to repeat Carolina's earlier 10-0 shutout over the Wildcats, and the others on all departments went through their daily work.

Despite light flurries of wildness, which Coaches Hearn and Bob Fetzer assert are not streaks of wildness but streaks of a very temporary nature, Lefty Cheshire was able to win his third game of the season and raise his two-season win total to 12. "Big Steam" Hearn is proud of Lefty and the others on the club, too, for Wake Forest is considered "the team to beat."

Miller Leaves Outfield

Chief announcement yesterday was that Bob Miller, sophomore candidate for the outfield, is being groomed for pitching duty. A hurler in high school in Charlotte, Bob was an outfielder last year with the freshmen because of his hitting ability, and when brought to the mound recently for batting practice, the coaches found that he had pitching abilities. He is to continue batting practice, and will receive more instruction on the mound.

Most heartening feature of the Tar Heels' comeback against the Demon Deacons was that they played grade-A ball one day after a miserable performance, in which they threw away a game to Michigan, strong Western conference club. Whereas Carolina committed six errors against the Wolverines, the game against Wake Forest produced only one error—that being on a difficult play at first base.
