Carolina Varsity, Frosh Track Teams Win AAU Titles in Meet

Milne, Morrison, Van Wagoner Star in Twin Cinder Victory

By Leonard Lobred

Carolina varsity and freshman track teams piled up tremendous leads yesterday in the Carolinas AAU track and field championships...

Rich Van Wagoner won the most desirable victory of all—a first place over Hank Profenius of Duke in the splendid time of 4:23.2 in the mile.

Dave Morrison repeated his stand-out performances of past weeks by winning the 880 in 1:56.9, and later returned to action with a fast anchor leg on the mile relay.

State Freshman Shines

This pair shared honors with several other performers, however, who made creditable showings on the track and on the field.

Unattached entries split up the team scoring considerably. Standout among these was Milan Zori, former State athlete who still holds the Southern conference mark...

Frosh Net Team To Play 'Cubs

Carolina's frosh racquetmen will meet State's Wolfcubs in a return match tomorrow at 3 o'clock on the local courts.

This will be the Tar Babies' last match before they conclude the season's schedule with Duke Wednesday.

Atlanta Team Wins Doubles In Net Tourney

Carl Maddox and Tom Fowler of Boys high of Atlanta won the doubles crown over Bobby Sourrier and Dan Hatch of Charlotte, 8-6, 6-2, in the University's fifth interscholastic tennis tourney yesterday.

Both teams met in the finals of the tournament last year, but the Spurrier-Hatch combination was successful in annexing the crown then.

Darkness halted the singles play in the semi-final round. Unseeded Stickle of Scarborough Prep eliminated Turner, Dreher (Columbia, S. C.) in a quarter-finals match, 6-0, 7-9, 8-6, and Small of Scarborough, 3-6, 6-2, 8-6, in the semi-finals to enter the finals today against the winner of the Spurrier-Warren match.

When the semi-finals singles match was halted, Warren of Scarborough had a one-set advantage, 7-5, over Spurrier. The match will be completed this morning, and the finals will follow almost immediately.

Seeded No. 3 in the tournament, the Maddox-Fowler team advanced to the finals yesterday by defeating McLaughlin-Keesler of Charlotte, 6-4, 6-4, in the quarter-finals and the No. 2 seeded team of Small-McCluskey of Scarborough, 6-3, 6-2, in the semi-finals.

The Sports Page always has been and always will be the most read feature of the DAILY TAR HEEL. This is the belief of everyone who ever contributed to it.

The Sports Page this year intended to present news of Carolina teams, and to disregard other schools except when their teams had athletic engagements with our teams. It has been the purpose of the Sports Page to give due credit to Carolina athletes, and to maintain interest in all athletic activities regardless of their scope.

With this issue Leonard Lobred leaves. Beginning Tuesday, Harry Hollingsworth, lower quadrangle rising senior, will take over the reins.

Frosh Game With Deacs Rained Out

Brightening skies and warm winds Saturday morning failed to dry Gore field in Wake Forest sufficiently for the freshman teams of Carolina and Wake Forest to play baseball yesterday afternoon, and Wake Forest officials called off the game at 11:30, 15 minutes before the freshmen were to leave.

The tilt was the second in two days which had been cancelled because of rain, and left the freshmen with just tomorrow to prepare for the Cadets of Edwards Military academy Tuesday afternoon.

Three Games

The Babies face three other games besides the one with EMI. Wednesday and Thursday Jim Tatum and Ham Strayhorn's charges engage Chapel Hill and Hillsboro high schools and Saturday travel to Raleigh for a game with the State frosh.

The cancellation of yesterday's game left the Deaclets and the Babies tied for second place in the frosh standings in the state. The game will not be scheduled again and the Babies' games with State and Duke will decide their rank.

Four Errors Help Middies To Victory

ANNAPOLIS, April 26.—(Special)—The Naval academy baseball team was limited to six hits today, but three of them came in the pinches and the Midshipmen defeated the University of North Carolina, 7-to-4.

Jackie Stowe, tar second baseman, was the star of the game, knocking in four runs with two solid singles. Both came with the bases loaded. Ernest Smith, batted in the first two Navy tallies, however, when he singled in the first inning. The bases were also loaded when Smith hit.

Captain Norman Smith hurled the full route for the Navy. Les Tomlinson, bespectacled right hander, went six innings for the Tar Heels. He was in continual trouble because of wildness and wobbly support. Lefty John Cheshire, who succeeded him, fanned five Midshipmen the final three innings.

Smith hurled a steady brand of ball for Navy until the ninth when he was nicked for three hits and as many runs. An error by Wes Gebert to open the frame started Carolina on its rally. Then Johnny Hearn tripled, Chubby Myers singled and Cheshire walked. With two out Al Mathes singled to score the final run. Ben Browning ended the rally by grounding out to Stowe.

After Navy had gotten its early lead, North Carolina reduced the score to 2-to-1 with one unearned run in the fourth. In this frame singles by Ben Browning and Charles Rich were followed by a passed ball.

Navy came back in the same inning and scored three times on one hit. Walks to Wes Gebert and Lavrakas, an error and Stowe's hit accounted for the runs. Navy's scoring ended in the fifth as Stowe again produced a hit. This time Gebert and Lavrakas had singled and Smith had walked ahead of his blow.
