

Broughton, Graham To Head Awards Program

Woman's Association Hears Report Of Reorganization Committee Today

Crete Invasion Seen As Start Of Suez Attack

Mediterranean Fleet Suffers Stuka Bombing

BERLIN, May 21—(UP)—A blasting dive bombing attack on Britain's Mediterranean fleet and seizure of key positions on the island of Crete today opened the way for a possible Axis offensive against Egypt and the Suez canal, Nazi quarters claimed.

Squadrons of Nazi Stukas, it was announced by radio, today bombed and damaged seven and possibly eight British warships including a battleship in a strong attack just west of invaded Crete.

Nazi spokesmen said the warships "presumably were maneuvering in an effort to effect a possible imminent British evacuation of Crete to Egypt."

Five British cruisers were set on fire with direct bomb hits and a battleship suffered a direct hit while another bomb exploded so close to its stern that "the mighty ship was forced sideways," the official DNB news agency said.

LONDON, May 21—(UP)—A struggle to death raged tonight on the strategic Mediterranean island of Crete between Greek-British defenders and a Nazi air army swelled to about 10,000 invaders by waves of reinforcements landed by parachute, gliders and perhaps warships.

Prime Minister Churchill, revealing smashing Nazi attacks on four key points on the Greek island base, warned the House of Commons that "we must expect that the fighting must continue and increase in severity."

The air borne invasion, reinforced See NEWS BRIEFS, page 4.

Coed Writers Rejuvenate Chi Delta Phi

A group of women students will be initiated into Chi Delta Phi, honorary literary sorority, within a week, reviving the University's Tau chapter which became inactive in 1925.

Those to be initiated are Constance Mason of Forest Hills, N. Y.; Elsie Lyon, Grand Beach, Mich.; Mary Caldwell, Tallahassee, Fla.; Gertrude Darden, Annapolis, Md.; Shirley Hobbs, Newport News, Va.; Josephine Austin, Hatteras; Virginia Forbes, Atlanta, Ga.; Jane Knight, Chapel Hill; June Epstein, Savannah, Ga.; and Vivian Gillespie, Seattle, Wash.

Officers of the reorganized sorority elected at the last meeting are Constance Mason, president, Jane Knight, vice president, and Gertrude Darden, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Mason was active in literary activity at Woman's College, and since transferring here she has served as a member of the TAR HEEL feature board.

A transfer from Randolph Macon, Miss Knight plans to graduate in the fall with a major in journalism after only four quarters of work.

Miss Darden has been a reporter for papers at Woman's College, Annapolis and the University.

According to present plans, the sorority will be active as well as honorary. The chapter is starting its private library collection which probably will be housed in Graham Memorial, and members are corresponding with the chapter at Duke in an effort to promote active cooperation.

Caldwell Announces Final Vote on Plan To Be Held Monday

By Elsie Lyon

The special committee on coed reorganization will present its recommendations for discussion at a compulsory meeting of the Woman's association this afternoon at 5 o'clock in Gerrard hall, Mary Caldwell, president of the association, said yesterday.

Final voting on the proposal will be held Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Gerrard, she said.

Explanation

The reorganization plans, as drawn up in the last committee session yesterday afternoon, will be explained to the coeds at the meeting this afternoon and final suggestions and criticisms will be sought.

Mimeographed copies of the completed plan will be given out to all coeds, and suggestions may be given to members of the reorganization committee which will make last revisions this weekend before presenting it for a vote Monday.

The plan as drawn up by the re-

See WOMEN, page 4

Coffey Lauds Police School

FBI Man Discusses Criminal Science

"There is no other school in the entire country as well developed or as advanced as this one," E. P. Coffey, head of the scientific crime division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said yesterday in an address before the Institute of Government's seventh Training School for Law Enforcing officers being held here this week.

Coffey, who is a "laboratory administrator—the man who interprets the results of the laboratory in the terms of the investigator," speaking on the subject of scientific crime detection, compared foreign crime detecting organizations with those in this country and described the work of his division of the FBI.

Certificates

Sessions of the school, which is being attended by more than 50 officers from North and South Carolina, got under way Sunday and will continue through Saturday evening when certificates for those completing the required courses will be awarded by Governor J. Melville Broughton.

"Foreign police organizations are inferior to those in this country—at least before the war—insofar as scientific methods of crime detection and ingenuity are concerned," he said.

Foreign Police

"The crime problem in Europe up to the present time was smaller than it is here and the police could afford to devote more man power and more thought to individual crimes," he said. "In that respect their efficiency in solving crimes compared favorably with ours." Shortly before the present war, Coffey made a study of

See COFFEY, page 2

Kyser, Trotter Write New Carolina Song

Two of Carolina's alumni who are well-known figures in the entertainment world, Kay Kyser and John Scott Trotter, have written a new song for Carolina—a rumba or conga, as yet untitled—which they will introduce

The TAR HEEL received the following telegram last night:

John Scott Trotter and I have composed a conga fight song for the University to be presented Kraft Music hall tomorrow night. Advise students when the irrepressible Kay appears on Bing Crosby's program tonight at 9 o'clock.

Kay Kyser.

Trotter leads the band on Crosby's program and Kay is famous for his College of Musical Knowledge. Both men were students at the University in 1925 when they had student bands

Rising Sophs Approve Y-Y Picture Fee

Hobbs Scores Class For Violations Of Honor System

The rising sophomore class, barely getting the necessary quorum, passed by a 361 to 26 vote, a bill to assess each member of the class two dollars for individual Yackety Yack pictures next year.

After hearing a talk by Student body president Truman Hobbs on their responsibility for the future of student government at Carolina, the rising sophomore honor council, in their first official act, counted the ballots cast in today's vote on the Yackety Yack picture issue.

Frosh Cheating

Hobbs spoke to the group before they started the count and told them that "the future of student government here at Carolina lies in your hands." He said that most of the cases which have come before the Student council this year have been violations by freshmen, "including a violation by a member of the freshman Honor council."

He said that there has been some question in administrative quarters as to the efficiency of student government because of the unusual number of violations this year—and particularly since violations have been mainly by freshmen. Hobbs indicated severely those whose responsibility it was to put across the importance and understanding of the honor system to the class during freshman week.

Recalling Hobbs' statement that most of the violations had to be reported by faculty members, and that

See SOPHS, page 2

Scouting Frat Gives Service Award Tonight

Hugh Quimby, president of Alpha Phi Omega announced yesterday that the fraternity will present the Alpha Phi Omega Service Cup on awards night to the organization which has been of most service to the University during the past year.

The award was last presented in 1937 to the Carolina Political union. Since then the cup has not been presented because the scouting fraternity has been inactive during the past three years.

Bill Stanback, treasurer of the fraternity, will present the recently-created Scout award to the Hound patrol of troop 39 next Thursday when the Chapel Hill Court of Honor will be held. This cup goes to the patrol that arranges the best window display during Boy Scout week.

Besides the officers mentioned above, Hays Johnson has been elect-

See SCOUTING, page 2

President Graham

Governor Broughton

University Club To Give Players Gold Baseballs

Peck Answers Hollingsworth

"The University club voted Monday night to give gold baseballs to Carolina's championship team, but withheld the announcement of the plan until the committee could see Coach Bunn Hearn about the cost," Steve Peck, president of the club stated yesterday in answer to Sports Editor Harry Hollingsworth's letter in yesterday's DAILY TAR HEEL.

In his letter, Hollingsworth berated Peck and the University club for not taking action to obtain gold baseballs for the team, because it had performed that incredible and unexpected feat of capturing both the Southern conference and the Big Five titles this season.

"We're just as proud of the team as anyone," he continued, "and I think we've treated them fairly." Peck explained that the club had completed all its preparations but waited to start collections in the dormitories, fraternities, and sororities until the committee had received information from Coach Hearn as to the cost.

"As soon as Coach Hearn gets back in town," said Peck, and as soon as the committee sees him, we will start the collections. We think that the winning of the championship for the first time since 1933," he said, "deserves recognition and we mean to get gold baseballs for the members of the team."

Peck said that he thought the University club had done more for the baseball team this year than had ever been done before, and he cited the first

See UNIVERSITY CLUB, page 2

New 'Thrift Shop' Will Aid Britain

Chapel Hill's newest business establishment is "The Thrift Shop" recently opened next door to the Presbyterian church by the local British War Relief committee.

The "Shop," one of the many units throughout the country actively participating in the British war relief program, announced that any article in fair condition that is salable such as old clothes, china, coat hangers, and discarded gifts, "is appreciated greatly." Working with the "Thrift Shop," the Interdorm and Interfraternity will collect goods. Bill Allen is in charge of student subscriptions.

Anyone having a contribution to make may call Mrs. Moody Durham, phone 5461, or bring the articles by the "Shop," open every day from 10 until 1 o'clock and from 2 until 5 o'clock. The "Shop" will close June 1st.

Negro Glee Club To Present Concert

The Men's Glee club and the Woman's sextet of the North Carolina College for Negroes will present a concert, sponsored by the YMCA, at Hill hall Sunday at 5 o'clock.

A group of American folk songs will be included in the program which is under the direction of Isador B. Oglesby, a native of North Carolina and a graduate of Hampton institute.

Annual Event Gets New Color Tonight

Kyser, Trotter Will Dedicate New Song to UNC

A rebirth of Carolina's awards night—enhanced by exhibits, military drills, spotlights, and celebrities—is set for tonight at 7:15 in Emerson field when Governor J. M. Broughton and President Frank P. Graham join administrative and student leaders to open the once-traditional ceremonies.

The Governor, leaving his Raleigh desk for the program, will speak to the crowd—expected to reach "a new mark for the event"—and review the platoons of the NROTC. Back from

The awards night celebration will be stopped briefly at 8 o'clock to hear the coast-to-coast premiere of a new Kay Kyser-John Scott Trotter song—to be dedicated tonight to Carolina. A specially-prepared public address system will bring the program to the field.

pressing mediation work in Washington, President Graham will deliver an address on "college students and national defense."

18 Major Awards

With the band playing for the program and Fish Worley's athletic exhibit spotlighted on the field, 18 major campus awards will be presented and eight organizations will be recognized, as coveted honors in virtually every field of extracurricular and departmental work go to their annual winners.

Dean R. B. House, acting as master of ceremonies, will introduce those who will present the awards to individual and organization winners. Names of the recipients of the Mangum medal in oratory, Alexander Greek prize, Bingham prize, Bryan prize, Buchan prize, Patterson medal, Chi Omega prize, Sullivan award, DKE trophy, Grail awards, Interfraternity council awards, Delta Sigma Pi scholarship key, Alpha Chi Sigma award, Roland Holt cup, Wolfe Memorial award, Dan-

See AWARDS, page 4

Frosh Begin New Registration System Today

Attempting to do away with the "registration bugaboo," frosh advisers will hold a freshman meeting in Memorial hall this morning at 10:35 to get numbered registration blanks for the fall quarter.

Each student's number determines his priority in registration and the system is planned to eliminate future waiting in line. After obtaining the blanks, students will prepare their schedules for the fall, and leave the form with their advisers.

Completed registration forms will be ready for rising-sophomores in September, and will be distributed at Memorial hall. Any changes in the schedule may be corrected during the summer by writing to the General college office in South building.

Brotherly Love

Dorseys Disagree on Tempo, Take Separate Ways to Fame

Tempo timing and the hot-headed action of T. Dorsey caused Jimmy Dorsey to break with his younger brother and begin to lead a band of his own; a band that has in four short years climbed the musical ladder to fame and been placed among the best bands of the land.

J. Dorsey will play for the three dances and the concert of the German club finals set, June 6-7.

How It Happened

It was on a summer night of 1935 at the famous Glen Island Casino when Tommy, up front leading the Dorsey Brothers' band, beat off a tempo which to Jimmy seemed much too fast. It was a slow ballad.

Back in the reed section, Jimmy leaned over and yelled at his brother: See DORSEY, page 4

Jimmy Dorsey

Kay Kyser

playing for campus functions. After the song is introduced, it will become the property of the student body, Kyser said.

: - 11 - :
More Days Until
Final Exams