Phi Delt Wins Over SAE For Mural Tennis Title

Williford Wins To Break 2-2 Deadlock

With the meet tied at 2-all, Ray Williford defeated Bill Crawford, 10-12, 12-10, 6-4, in the final singles match to give Phi Delta Theta a 3-2 victory over SAE and the fraternity tennis championship.

Crawford took the first set of his match with Williford, 12-10, but the Phi Delt rallied in the second set to win, 12-10. A one stage in the second set, Crawford was only one point away from winning but his opponent rallied and went on to win the set. In the final set with the championship hanging on the outcome, Crawford built up a 3-1 lead, but Williford took the next two games to tie the set up at 3-all. Crawford won the next game, but then Williford outplayed his rival to take the next three games and the set at 6-4.

Clark-Winstead Win

The Phi Delt opened the meet by taking the first doubles match when the combination of Walter Clark-Fletcher Winstead defeated the SAE team of Hundley Gover-Buck Osborne, 6-2, 6-4. The SAE tandem of Bill Richardson-Vaughan Winborne took the second doubles match. After losing the first set, 4-6, they rallied to take the next, 7-5, 7-5, in a hard-fought match.

Emmett Barnes put the SAE team into the lead temporarily by defeating Bill Feuchtenberger in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, in the first singles engagement. Barnes' excellent game proved too much for the Phi Delt in the second set, after he had put up a close fight in the first set.

John Feuchtenberger fared much better than his brother for he defeated Bill Croom in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2, to put the match into a 2-2 deadlock. Croom was never able to cop with Feuchtenberger's strong game, and the Phi Delt won easily.

Netters Have Fine Record In Individual Match Play

Netmen Win 146, Lose 13 Matches In Season's Play

Individual losses on the University of North Carolina's crack, undefeated tennis team, were few and far between this spring.

Winners of 17 consecutive dual contests, the Tar Heels, individually speaking, had a phenomenal winning percentage of .918. The season record showed 146 individual triumphs against only 13 losses. In singles competition Coach John Kenfield's proteges won 104 matches and dropped only seven. In doubles play they were victorious 42 times and beaten on only six occasions.

Everett And Anthony Unbeaten

Two of the Carolina regulars, No. 1 ranking Harris Everett and No. 3 Ham Anthony, went through the season without a loss in dual meets in singles. Each turned in 17 straight triumphs. Captain Zan Carver, No. 2 man in the lineup and Southern conference singles champion, won 15 singles matches and was defeated only once. The defeat was administered by Navy's Joe Hunt, who ranks No.

Henry House Made Rocky Mount Mentor

Henry House, great fullback for Carolina back in 1928-30, has recently been appointed head baseball and football mentor at Rocky Mount high school. Henry has been instructing physical education classes here in tag football and softball.

He is the nephew of Dean R. B. House, and graduated here in 1930. House is one of the very few athletes to play two collegiate sports while only 17 years of age. He played football and baseball. House formerly coached at Edenton high and Fishburne Military Academy, Waynesville, Va.

In 1911 Ray Harroun raced his Marmon Wasp over the bricks in the first Indianapolis Memorial day race to clock the incredible time of 74.5 miles an hour. The average stock car of today will equal that speed.

Kappa Sigma Stages Rally To Win, 4-3

By Richard Morris

Combining the offerings of Doc Siewert for five hits in the last of the seventh, Kappa Sigma staged a four run uprising to down the Physical Educators, 4-3, in the final intramural game of the season.

Undefeated in the past two seasons, Kappa Sigma claimed its 20th consecutive victory by marking up the three-run defeat. Nick-Nack Austin opened the rally with a smashing single to left field. Sigler followed suit by lofting a bingle, and Lalanne came through with a base hit to load the bases. Bill Faircloth then scored Austin on an outfield fly, and Leo Leblanc doubled over second base to score Sigler and Lalanne. Wooten's single to right brought in Leblanc with the winning run.

Physical Education had everything its way for the first six and a half innings and appeared headed for a surprise victory. Both Siewert and Hambright pitched superb ball but it just wasn't in the cards for the "Doc" to win. The Educators got to Hambright for six hits, two by Andy Bershak, and one each for Walter Rabb, Doc Siewert, Marv Allen and Pete Mullis. With the exception of the first inning the losers played flawless ball, turning in several spectacular plays. Bo Shepard, Dick Jamerson, Marv Allen and George Radman were exceptionally good.

Shepard opened the third inning by walking, went to second on a sacrifice bunt by Mullis and scored the first run of the game when Rabb singled. In the fifth Physical Education produced its other two tallies on hits by Siewert, Allen, and Mullis and a fielder's choice. The coaches threatened again in the first half of the final frame. Bershak singled, went to second on a wild pitch, to third on a fly and attempted to score on an infield out, but Bob Rose threw to Austin who in turn tossed to Sigler at the plate for the putout.

Shortstop Cecil Wooten paced the winner's attack with a triple, double and a single in three attempts. The last hit drove in the winning run. For the first six innings Kappa Sigma got only four hits off Siewert, and Wooten and Edwards secured those.

Frosh Track Team Develops Good Runners for Next Year

Milne, Hollander Sadlik, Rue, Banks Display Promise

By Ben Snyder

It's an athletic tradition that the June graduation blues come just as regularly to a coaching staff as they do to the departing seniors themselves, and early in the spring it appeared that the epidemic was destined to make a premature appearance.

The very mention of the word diploma to any one of the track staff on Fetzer field would bring forth dour glances in the direction of Dave Morrison, Johnny French, Billy Groves, or any other members of the class of '41 who happened to be working out at the time. The current freshman class was not expected to hold track and field competition back at the University, but it seemed quite likely that the frosh would make no sizeable contribution to the Carolina varsity squads.

The yearlings' season didn't open auspiciously on April 18, but in their 66-60 victory over the Duke frosh some hope for the future could be seen. On that occasion Jack Milne, John Sadlik, Bob Banks, George Rue and several others made respectable showings and the prospects for 1942 began to brighten appreciably.

It was on April 26 that the potentialities of the club really came out of hiding. The Tar Babies on that date, annexed the Carolinas' Junior AAU title by grinding out 66 points over the Duke Blue Imps, who had 42 points for second place honors. Behind the two leaders came the N. C. State freshmen, Belmont Abbey, the Wake Forest frosh, Salisbury high, Greenville high and Easy, S. C., high. It was satisfying to note that the point totals of those six aggregations were in their entirety seven markers below the number amassed by the locals.

In the meet, Dick Hollander distinguished himself by winning the half-mile, Jack Milne walked off with the two-mile title, Jack Ott won the broad jump and John Sadlik beat out Bob Gant of Duke to win the discus with a fine throw of 127 feet 3 inches. Bill Reavis, Harris Davis, Jack Emack and Rue combined to take the 440-yard relay, tying the meet record of :44.7, while Jim Perrin, Frank Hardy, Tom Jewitt, Art Truxes, Paul Thompson, Marshall Parker, Bud Evans and Phil Edmonds added important points in the runner-up positions.

The climax meet for the freshmen, however, was not in intercollegiate or interscholastic competition. On May 2 and 3, in the annual interclass meet, they hit their peak. After getting off to a slow start on the opening day's events, the class of '44 suddenly pulled out from behind the sophomores and the juniors to make the class race a real thriller. Sadlik, Ott, Paul Thompson, Rue and Hardy were all in great form as the first year club took event after event from the favored juniors.

With one event emaining, the 220-yard dash, the score was tied at 55½ points apiece for the leading frosh and third year men. As luck would have it, no freshmen were entered in the event and consequently the juniors took the race and the inter-class championship by five points. The seniors were in last place with 44 counters. That cast a different light on the situation for next year, and from there on it was felt that the seniors' departure would be keenly felt, but that it would not be an irreparable loss.

The freshmen team went from there to the end of the season by coming through with two dual meet victories. Duke was thumped very convincingly at Durham, 75-51, and last Saturday the Babies kept their slate clean with a 59-41 victory over a team of carefully selected high school all-stars.

Hambright, Dill Chosen Pitchers On Mythical Club

By Earle Hellen

Kappa Sigma, fraternity champions for two years straight, dominated the annual all-fraternity team, selected by the intramural officials, this year by placing five men on the first team and three on the second outfit.

This year's team possesses power at the plate, excellent pitching, and a fine crew of defensive players afield. The team compares favorably with the all-star teams of previous years and can be ranked at the top of the list.

Hambright And Dill Pitchers

The selection of the pitchers was an easy job for the officials. Jimmy Hambright of Kappa Sig and Tommy Dill of DKE received the nod over the other hurlers almost by unanimous vote. These two have performed excellently the whole season and were, without a doubt, the two best in the fraternities. Hambright has not been defeated in two years and has pitched every game the Kappa Sigs have played during that time. This year he chalked up eight victories and ended his career by pitching the Kappa Sigs to victory over the strong Physical Education team yesterday.

Tommy Dill, Hambright's mound mate, was the sensation of the intramurals this year. He pitched two no-hit, no-run games and won six games while losing one. In seven games Dill gave up 15 hits. The highest made off him in any game was four hits. The only game he lost was to Chi Phi, who secured only two hits. Buddy Wills, the hustling little catcher for Chi Phi, was chosen as the battery mate for Hambright and Dill. He was the sparkplug of the Chi Phi team which just missed getting into the finals. He had a batting mark of .412.

Thorpe At First

In the infield John Thorpe was given the nod over Bob Rose at first base. Thorpe, Zeta Psi star, finished the season with a batting average of .481 and this power at the plate gave him the advantage over Rose, the Kappa Sig star. Mac Edwards of Kappa Sig was placed at second base, winning by a wide margin over all opponents. At shortstop Bill Conley of Pi Kappa Alpha and Cecil Wooten of Kappa Sig waged a close battle with Conley coming out the victor in the final tabulation of votes.
