commitment to aid the coaches in keeping the men in training.

Gersten's 10-point program is completed with the plans of holding a coaches' night, the desire to make the club the best on the campus, the planning of a formal initiation for members of the club and the complete outfitting of the Monogram club room in the Fetzer field house.

Officers of the club besides Gersten are Jim Barclay, vice-president; Mike Wise, treasurer; George Paine, secretary; and Bo Reynolds, Athletic council member.

Members of the executive committee and the officers of the club are Julian Smith, George Coxhead, Johnny Johnston, Dave Barksdale, George Zink, Bob Heymann, Fred Marshall and Stu Richardson.

Eight Harriers Lost to Team As Diplomas, Draft Take Toll

By Ben Snyder

Carolina's prospects for a successful cross country season are not promising for the first time in a number of years. The Tar Heels of hill and dale, long perennial favorites in conference competition, will do little conquering this season according to Coach Dale Ranson.

Gone are headliners Dave Morrison, Wimpy Lewis, Holt Allen and Jim Toy via the graduation route last June and gone for military reasons and otherwise are Jack Milne, Jim Vawter, Henry Branch and Jim Nathan. The loss of these men does all but cripple what looked to be potentially one of the greatest cross country teams in the nation.

Thanks . . .

Thanks to the work of Horace Carter, Ben Snyder and Bill Woestendiek, it has been possible for me to put out this eight-page sports edition of the Tar Heel.

Leading the list of three returning lettermen is Captain Mike Wise. "Little Hot" did well on cinder and turf all last year for Carolina and figures again this season to bring home valuable points for the Blue and White. Perhaps the best of the returning cross country men is Rich Van Wagoner, junior, and the only remaining distance star of last year's golden crew. Van Wagoner, who as a freshman beat just about all comers in first year competition, did even better in 1940 and climaxed his cross country career last November at the conference meet in College Park, Maryland, by finishing third behind Maryland's Tommy Fields and teammate Dave Morrison. With hard work and a fair break Van Wagoner could very easily lead the field home in that same meet this coming fall.

Lamar Wood, the remaining letterman, was a reserve throughout last season, but came along so well at the close of the track campaign last spring that he may be counted in on the varsity set-up this year. Charlie Howe, Bob Hutchinson and Ray Cathey who also figured in reserve meets in 1940, should step up into starting assignments in the season's opening meet with State on October 17th.

Returning to school is a promising group of sophomores who may press the upperclassmen for the five coveted varsity posts. Last year's frosh were undefeated both in dual and open meet competition and all except Jack Milne have returned to school. Frank Hardy leads the second-year men while Francis King, Jim Perrin, Dick Hollander

Carolina Athletes Have Good Luck in Getting Coaching Jobs in High Schools after Leaving

There are a host of Carolina athletes now holding coaching jobs at high schools and army camps in North Carolina, a Tar Heel checkup has revealed. Many have been left out, undoubtedly, but this review covers the positions now held by 23 athletes.

George Stirnweiss, remembered for his football and baseball, is now coaching the Norfolk Shamrocks of the Dixie professional league. He has a non-playing contract with the Shamrocks, because a clause in his baseball contract with the New York Yankees prohibits him from active participation. Stirnweiss coached the team to a Dixie league crown last year.

In the same town with Stirnweiss is Jimmy Howard, basketball and baseball letter winner, who is in charge of the Madison community center's recreational program. He doesn't expect to remain there past January 1, for his draft number will probably come up.

Mathes at Rocky Mount

Al Mathes, baseball and basketball player, will direct Rocky Mount high school's basketball team this winter. Henry House, fullback for Carolina in the early 1930's, is coaching football at Rocky Mount.

Paul Severin, two-year All-American end and letter winner in golf, is coaching football and heading the athletic setup at New Hanover high in Wilmington. Recently he was offered the coaching job at the University of Mexico for the second time and for the second time he refused it.

Co-captain of last year's football team along with Paul Severin, Gates Kimball has returned to his home in Winston-Salem as coach of the R. J. Reynolds high school football team. Gates earned five Carolina letters—three in football and two in boxing.

In Fayetteville Mike Bobbitt is assisting with the coaching task. Mike earned letters in football, baseball and boxing. Bob Adams, center on the grid team in 1938, was head coach at Fayetteville last year and is now a physical education instructor at the Norfolk navy yard.

George Radman, one of the finest blocking backs ever to come from Carolina, is assisting Jim Tatum with the freshman football team. Andy Bershak, All-American end, is also working with the Tar Babies.

Bartos at Wake Forest

Hank Bartos, who assisted with the Carolina football teams last year, is head line coach at Wake Forest. Peahead Walker offered him the job during the summer and Bartos accepted immediately. It was the only coaching change in the state during the summer.

Crowell Little, football, boxing and baseball graduate, who coached the Davidson freshmen last year, is now serving his time in the army at Camp Jackson, S. C., and is coaching the baseball nine.

Gene Bricklemeyer, who played end with Andy Bershak in 1937, is head mentor at Harding high in Charlotte. Art Ditt, fullback in 1937, is a physical education instructor with the army. He coached at Marion high until he was called into the service. Jack Krayick, another member of the 1937 team, is an assistant coach at Belmont Abbey.

One of Carolina's all-time athletes, Buck McCarn, is head coach at Kannapolis high school. Tony Cernugel, who had his football career cut short by a knee injury, is at High Point high school. Jim McCachren assumed the duties as coach at High Point college this year, and his brother—Bill—is close by at Oak Ridge military academy.

Tom Burnette, another Carolina football great, is back at Martinsville, Va., high school. Burnette played the outfield for Martinsville in the Bi-State league this summer and was one of the league's leading hitters.

At Dover high school, near Kinston, is Tommy Bass, 135-pound boxer of 1938, who is principal and general handy man of the coaching department. Ed Bullard, baseball and basketball letterman, is at Belmont high school.

Jim Lalanne, picked up by the Chicago Bears in the football draft last fall, has been sold by the Bears to the Brooklyn Dodgers where he will understudy Ace Parker.

George Glamack, Carolina's only All-American basketball player, is with the Firestone Rubber Company in Akron, Ohio, where he will play semi-pro basketball this winter.—H. C.
