

Tar Heels May Start All-Senior Line Against Richmond's Spiders Saturday; Faircloth and Elliott Back in Shape

Dunkle, O'Hare Are Probable Senior Backs

Something new in the Tar Heels' lineup may be used in Richmond tomorrow night when Carolina goes up against the Richmond Spiders in a Southern conference clash in a game starting at 8 o'clock in the City stadium.

The Tar Heels will probably present an all-senior line for the first time this year. The entire line, from end to end, will be composed of seniors, and it'll be up to them to start the Tar Heels back on a victory trail.

Coach Ray Wolf has worked this line as a unit most of the week, and Co-Captain Carl Suntheimer heads the seniors from his pivot spot.

Up and Coming
Bill Faircloth and Pinky Elliot, who have seen very little service recently due to injuries, have been in the best of shape all week and have looked up and coming at their guard and end post. Gwynn Nowell will team with Faircloth at guard while Stu Richardson will flank the line at one end position.

Dick Sieck, who has started every Carolina game this fall, and Dick White, who fought his way into a starting berth against State last week, are the men of the hour at the tackle positions.

Probable Backs
The probable starting backfield isn't so full of seniors, but Frank O'Hare and Harry Dunkle are probable starters there. Ray Jordan, sophomore who has started several Carolina games this fall, may get the call over O'Hare at fullback, but Dunkle is a sure starter.

Hugh Cox and Dave Barksdale are the other probable first team men for the Tar Heels. Both men played against State, and Cox has been particularly outstanding on offense for the Tar Heels in the past two games.

A long line of injuries has prevented Wolf from starting his all-senior line this year, and the game at Richmond will mark the first time he has them on the firing line at the same time.

The Tar Heels spent some of their time yesterday in a brief polishing off drill of their own offense, but also looked at the Richmond offense as presented by Scout Johnny Morriss.

The team will leave this afternoon after practice and arrive in Richmond shortly before midnight.

Not to Mince Matters

By Harry Hollingsworth

If determination counts for anything tomorrow night when the Tar Heels go up against a Richmond Spider football team which would like nothing better than to defeat Carolina for the second consecutive year, the Tar Heels should have no trouble in annexing their first victory in five games and their third win of the season.

There probably has never been a more determined bunch of football players on a Carolina team than are preparing for an invasion of Richmond tomorrow.

Even though the Richmond game is uppermost in the minds of the Tar Heels, there is a slight remembrance that on the following Saturday they engage what has been termed "one of the best teams in the nation." That team is Duke.

Whether tomorrow's game will be another edition of last year's contest is difficult to forecast. Richmond, like Carolina, has had a very unsuccessful season, losing all except two games. They started the year by losing to State, 14-7, but licked Hampden-Sidney last week. See MINCE MATTERS, page 4

On To Richmond With A New Dobbs or Schoble Hat You Will Need A Top Coat or Suit Drop in and Make Your Selection JACK LIPMAN

BAUGH AND O'BRIEN SISSIES

KYLE GILLESPIE
OF TEXAS CHRISTIAN,
WHO MAY PUT THE NAMES OF SAMMY BAUGH AND DAVEY O'BRIEN IN THE SHADE WHEN IT COMES TO PICKING THE FOREMOST PASSER IN THE "HORNED FROGS" HISTORY!

GILLESPIE OUGHT TO SET UP SOME NEW MARKS NOW THAT HIS LESS BETTER AND HE DOESN'T HAVE TO WEAR A BRACE!

Harriers Hold Last Stiff Drills Before Duke Meet

Holding their last heavy workout prior to the Duke meet tomorrow at 4 o'clock, Carolina cross country runners raced over the three and one-half mile course yesterday. At the conclusion of the practice session, Coach Ranson named the eight men who will carry the Blue and White colors against the strong Duke team.

Kitty Wicker Leads Coed Archery Tourney

Kitty Wicker, shooting four bull-eyes out of six arrows in one set today, leads the coed archers in the first round with a 176.

Jean Hahn's 174 was second high and Mary Martha Cobb followed closely with a 173. Bea Withers and Breezy Brezeadle shooting 144 and 141 respectively were among the leaders.

The first round, consisting of 24 arrows in four sets at 20 yards, is to be played off by the end of the week. The coeds may shoot between 2 and 4 o'clock.

The second round of 24 arrows at 30 yards is scheduled through Wednesday of next week.

Haydon to Attend Music Meeting

Dr. Glen Haydon, head of the Music department at the University, will attend the meeting of the National Association of Schools of Music to be held in Minneapolis beginning December 29.

This association is the only accrediting agency for music schools in the United States and numbers among its members 127 institutions of higher learning. Through the medium of this agency standards are prescribed for all types of music teaching as well as for equipment and libraries.

Send the DAILY TAR HEEL home

Wise and Hardy Lead
Captain Mike Wise, Rich Van Wagoner, Doug Moody, Frank Hardy and Arthur Truxes will lead the Tar Heels against the Blue Devils, while Tom Jewett, Dick Hollander and Chuck Howe will assist the "Big Five" in Carolina's effort to maintain its unblemished record.

The top five men have consistently paced the Tar Heels to victory after victory all season long, with Van Wagoner being the number one man in a majority of the races. Tom Jewett has always finished right behind the leaders and has never been too far off the pace. Hollander was selected on the basis of his excellent performance against Guilford last Friday, while Howe received the nod because of his steady running all season.

Captain Wise and Frank Hardy led the runners around the course in today's trial run, being followed by Moody and Van Wagoner. It was Rich's first heavy workout since returning to active duty although he was troubled somewhat by his breathing, his lack of work was the only reason for not being up to his usual par.

The reserve meet with the Tar Heel A. C. has been moved up to Wednesday. Bob Walker and Doctor Cooper of the A. C. club will work out this afternoon with the Carolina harriers who are not running against Duke tomorrow.

A large number of freshmen also covered the three and one-half mile course yesterday in the first-year men's last vigorous workout before their meet with the Duke freshmen Saturday. Coach Ranson stated that he would select the starting freshman team from the following men: Marvin Fairchild, Daryl Webb, Arnold Pest-

Pecora, O'Hare, CAA Aviators, Hope to Fly Across Goal Lines at Richmond Tomorrow

Frank O'Hare

Backfielders Have Made Solo Flights

Johnny Pecora and Frank O'Hare fly aeroplanes for the CAA and Uncle Sam during the week, but come Saturday night and the two backfield leaders will be taking off for the Carolina gridders, by ground and by air, at Richmond against the Spiders.

O'Hare and Pecora are well known to Virginia fans. Frank ran and passed Carolina to both touchdowns at Richmond last year. Johnny sparked the Tar Heels' 10-7 triumph over the University of Virginia and scored the only touchdown.

The Tar Heel backfielders, who took See PECORA, page 4

Sigma Nu, Betas Lose In Murals

Sigma Chi 6, Beta Theta Pi 0. ZBT won over Sigma Nu in overtime period.
TEP 2, Phi Gamma Delta 0.
DKE 31, Lambda Chi Alpha 0.
Phi Delta Theta No. 2, 7; Phi Alpha 0.

Upsets in the fraternity league yesterday toppled two previously unbeaten teams from their perches. Sigma Chi played the role of the giant killer as it downed the Betas by a close 6-0 count and ZBT ruined Sigma Nu's chances for a perfect season by a win in an overtime period. The contest was tied 13-13 at the end of the regular playing time but ZBT took the decision on yardage.

Parker and Antolini were the big guns in the Sigma Chi's victory over the Betas. This combination accounted for most of the gains by the Sigma Chis with Holland having the honor of carrying the ball over the goal for the deciding six-pointer. Thomas, Felts, and Stockton were the standouts for the Betas with Thomas' passing particularly effective.

Big Upset
Sigma Nu grabbed a 13-6 lead in the first half and seemed on the way to an easy win over ZBT but the score was knotted in the second half and ZBT bested the Sigma Nus on the essential yardage in the extra period to take the game. Freedman and Blumberg tallied one touchdown each for the winners and Stein's passing also was outstanding. Coxhead, Loeck, and Cohoon paced the Sigma Nus with Adams and Conger doing the scoring.

TEP scored a safety on the Phi Gams in the first part of the game and held on to this slim margin to win by 2-0. Schwartz, Goodman, and Fuchs were the mainstays for the TEP's while Simmons, Nicholson, and Snyder led the Phi Gams.

Divided Scoring
Five men divided the scoring for the Dukes as luckless Lambda Chi Alpha was handed another defeat, this time by the score of 31-0. Hunt Hobbs, Truman Hobbs, Kendrick, Rodman, and Gibbons each tallied once for the winning Dukes with the last two probably the most outstanding. Conrad and Minges led the Lambda Chis.

Phi Delta Theta No. 2 edged out Phi Alpha in the last of the five frat-lop games played yesterday. The final score was 7-0 in favor of the Phi Deltas with Palmer and Beyer collaborating to do the scoring for the winners. Williford also played well for the Phi Deltas while Levine was the Phi Alpha standout.

Casey Announces Interclass Meet At Pool Today

There will be an interclass swimming meet at the pool this afternoon at 4:15, Coach Hugh Casey announced yesterday.

"Several good races are in store, especially in the 50-yard sprints where some of the leading swimmers have been matched," Coach Casey said.

Those participating in the races are George Coxhead, John Derr, Leroy Little, Bob Ousley, George Whitmer, Jack Eshelman, Whit Lees, Ed Shumate, Wanner Marrison, Bill Stallings, Andy Wise, Don Nicholson, Johnny Feuchtenberger, George Hammond, and Lew Scheinman among others.

"The meet is open to the public and everyone is invited," Casey stated.

ronk, Bob Williams, Bud Grinstead, George Lewis, George Belli, Hampton Hubbard, Jack Breakston, Ned Newborn and Wade Edwards. Breakstone and Edwards are suffering from leg injuries and probably will not see action in the meet with the Blue Imps.

Frosh Play Baby Cavaliers Today

Tatum's Yearlings Are Pointing For Their Second Straight Win

A-S Hands Spencer 1-0 Defeat

Handing Spencer its first defeat, Alderman-Smith blazed a come-back trail in stampeding down the field to a 1-0 victory yesterday.

Sparked by the brilliant defensive work of Betsy Ross Howe, who came in fast and broke up Spencer's passes, Alderman-Smith played one of the fastest games on the field today, seen here all season. The combined team rushed their opponents' forward line so well that the Spencerettes had no time to organize their attack.

Alderman-Smith's forward line, speeding into Spencer's secondary, rushed the goal continually, but the long, hard drives upfield of Grace Hicks and Mary Pierce Bruns, Spencer fullbacks, cut short these thrusts. Grace, playing her best game here yet, was the outstanding player on the field.

Mary Alice Puckett, sub for Bisset, tallied in the second period on a short drive just inside the box. Schulken led their offensive.

Marsha Hood led the attacks of the losers who were in scoring territory several times but couldn't get together in rushing the ball.

The lineups:
Pos. Spencer Alderman-Smith
RW Hall Ray
RI Munroe Bisset
CF Strass Brawley
LI Goold J. Hood
LW M. Hood Schulken
RH Klages Howe
CH Beeks Kipp
LH Nash R. Smith
RF Bruns Neer
LF Hicks Weaver
G McCormick Rose
Substitutions: Spencer—Appel; A-S.—Puckett.

Patronize Tar Heel Advertisers

Hoping to give Carolina football its first collegiate win in over a month against a sectional opponent, Coach Jim Tatum throws his resurgent freshman football team against the University of Virginia yearlings at Charlottesville this afternoon at three o'clock.

Hopes are high for a Tar Baby victory this afternoon, for although nothing is known of the strength of the Cavalier eleven, the locals have shown amazing scoring power of late and are expected to strike hard and often through the air and on the ground.

The squad of 43 men making the trip are in excellent physical shape and should be ready to throw an all out offensive against the home club. The 'big three' in frosh backfield ranks, Billy Myers, Sam Arbes, and Ed Gregory have made remarkable strides since the Wake Forest defeat two weeks ago and can be expected to do some consistent ground gaining today.

Myers Leads
Myers, running from a tailback position, is leading the team in total yards gained from scrimmage having carried the pigskin 227 yards in three games for an average of 3.8 per try. Arbes, plunging fullback from Westfield, New Jersey, and only "Yank" on the starting eleven has piled through the opposition for 213 yards and the team's best average of 6.1 for each attempt. He also leads in net yards gained having lost but five yards rushing in 34 attempts as compared to Myer's loss of 42. Gregory, running from a wing-back position on effective reverse plays, has carried the ball 14 times for a gain of 56 yards and a four yard average per rush.

Out to Pass
The Babies will also be out to pass Virginia to death if need be. Up to date, Tatum's crew have thrown 56 aeriels, completing 26 for a net gain of 469 yards. Joe Wright and Roger Singer, pass catching yearling ends, will be on hand to boost the local passing average of .481 against the Charlottesville team.

Starting for the Carolina freshmen will probably be Andy Smith and Gus Holeman at ends, Meredith Jones and

See TAR BABIES, page 4

Sloppiness Preferred

Here is Jo Ann Sayers, the charming young star of My Sister Eileen, wearing SLOPPY JANE, the sweater that's just what girls from fifteen leading campuses told us they want. They answered our sweater questionnaire with a concerted shout for very long and very loose sweaters. SLOPPY JANE is the long, loose sweater for Fall. 100% butter-soft, virgin wool in every smart color you could possibly want for Fall... Beechnut Brown, Nugget Gold, Aqua, Maize, Powder Blue, Dusky Pink, Cherry, Shadow Green or White. Sizes 32 to 40... about $3.50 at leading stores everywhere.

$3.95

College Shop Second Floor

Ellis Stone & Co