Frank O'Hare Back In Grid Limelight

Somewhere in the rush of things this year Frank O'Hare, senior fullback, has failed to receive the credit he deserves for the football playing he has done, but his performance Saturday night in Richmond showed that he is still one of the most able players on the team.

Frank, a tailback for two years and substitute for George Stirnweiss and Jim Lalanne, couldn't fit into the Tar Heel team this year at tailback and Wolf moved the New York City man to fullback, an entirely new position for the 172-pound player. And a position that was a little tough for him to play, since he was not quite heavy enough for the line busting activities of a fullback.

But even though he has run second and third team fullback most of the season, or at least since after the South Carolina game, he has appeared in every game except the State game, playing 154 minutes.

Against Richmond he was in the game for 38 minutes, scored one touchdown on a pass from Johnny Pecora and played a fine defensive game until he was carried from the field in the third quarter. His injury, however, wasn't serious and yesterday he was

Town Girls Win Over McIver In Coed Hockey

The Town Girls eked out a 1-0 victory over McIver yesterday in coed hockey to place them in a tie with Spencer and Alderman-Smith.

Coordinated for the first time this year, the dormitory lassies played a good hard-fought game. Had it not been for Town's quick rush down the field in the 1st half and Sara Unstead's short, fast drive into the goal, the game would have ended in a tie.

The Town girls led by the fleet attack combination of Brawley and Unstead were superior the 1st half, but McIver, coming back strong in the second period kept the ball in their opponent's territory most of the last period.

Outstanding on offensive for the dormitory girls were Mary Jane McCuskill, center half, who was in on almost every play, and Mary Lib Nash, sparkplug, who coordinated the line. Phil Yates stopped the ball nicely when it came deep in her defensive territory, while Hilda Weaver was notable in backing up the Town line.

Town Defeats Med School In Murals

Town 32, Med School No. 2, 0.
SAE 6, Beta Theta Pi 0.
Chi Phi 7, Kappa Alpha 0. (Overtime)
Phi Kappa Sig 25, Pi Kappa Alpha 0.

Town finished its season undefeated and earned a place in the dormitory finals against Graham by routing a strong Med School No. 2 team 32-0. The games yesterday finished the regular mural football season except for the frat and dorm playoffs which are scheduled for Wednesday.

Town early in the game showed its superiority over Med School when Mengel scored the first touchdown. A few minutes later the winners had counted again when Mengel took a pass from Marks and scored. Phillips, Harris and Winston added touchdowns to complete the rout.

In a closely contested game SAE defeated Beta Theta Pi 6-0. The winners tallied the only score late in the game when Al Myrick went over for the touchdown. Bob Glenn, Clayton Moore, and Myrick were the outstanding players for SAE. For the Betas, Bill Thomas and Heazel were best.

Chi Phi tallied a touchdown in the overtime period and defeated Kappa Alpha 7-0. Both clubs battled to a deadlock during the regular game, but Chi Phi tallied on a pass from Donovan to Penny in the overtime period. Donovan and Penny starred for the winners and Sebrell and Van Kirk topped Kappa Alpha.

Phi Kappa Sigma led by Charles Lee Johnston ran over Pi Kappa Alpha to win 25-0. Johnston tallied three touchdowns to pace the winners. Garrison scored the other six-pointer for the Phi Kappa Sigs.

Tar Babies Prepare For Duke

The big drum down on Emerson field is beating in harmony to the varsity tune of "beat Duke!" these days as Carolina's resurgent freshman football team goes about preparing for the Duke frosh to be met here on Friday afternoon.

There seems to be a new spirit in Tar Baby ranks these days since Coach Tatum's yearlings have tucked a couple of well earned victories under their belts. A feeling of confidence that wasn't there before has come to the team and has been reflected during the last two weeks in coordination and team play.

In walloping Virginia 26-0 on Friday, the yearlings showed the kind of drive that might have been instrumental in taking the N. C. State and Wake Forest frosh earlier in the season. As Tatum put it yesterday: "The club had life and spirit all the way and as a result played its best ball of the season."

Duke coming up at the end of the week offers a formidable obstacle for the Babies to overcome. The Blue Imps always field a powerful unit and customarily rule as favorites over the locals. Usually the game is built up as a "little Duke-Carolina classic" and played in one of the state's larger cities.

Yesterday the frosh ran Duke plays against the varsity on Fetzer field in a practice session that lasted far into twilight. All of the starting regulars were on hand with the exception of Ed Gregory, starting wingback, who was put out of the Virginia game with a charley horse on the second play from scrimmage. Gregory found it impossible to run with the ball yesterday and may be lost to the frosh for the balance of the season.

Harriers Seek Sixth Consecutive Conference Title

With the state championship safely tucked away once more, the Carolina harriers are now preparing to go after bigger game—the Southern conference championship.

Although the conference crown is nothing new to the Tar Heels—they have won it for the last five years in succession—none of the luster of a conference victory has dulled and this year's crew of hill and dale runners will be striving to put a perfect finishing touch to their season when they run in the championship meet at College Park, Maryland, next Monday.

Scouts Report Duke Powerful But Tar Heels Not Overawed

Lach, Siegfried, Davis, Storer Top Blue Devils

By Harry Hollingsworth

Even though the scouting reports of Coaches Jim Tatum and Chuck Erickson have shown clearly that the Blue Devils of Duke University have one of the strongest teams in the nation, the Tar Heel football team isn't overawed—as the majority of the Carolina students appear to be—and have really set to work to give the Blue Devils as hard a game as they have been in all year.

Despite a long injury list—the longest that Trainer Chuck Quinlan has faced all year—the team has a feeling that Duke will not roll over it as many of the sports experts in the state and nation have intimated.

Tatum and Erickson went overboard yesterday in praising Duke's team. "They are strong in every department—running, passing and kicking—from top to bottom," the scouts reported.

They were duly impressed by the splurge at Davidson, and said it was easily the finest offense Coach Wallace Wade has yet developed.

And there must be something to that statement for the Devils rate near the top among the teams of the nation in scoring points. In going through the season so far undefeated the Dukes have amassed 236 points. They are one point behind the University of Texas' team, regarded as a powerhouse in the nation.

Duke's biggest scores have come at the expense of Maryland, 50-0, and Davidson, 56-0. Carolina defeated Davidson 20-0. Wake Forest, victors over the Tar Heels, got 14 points, Colgate 14, and Pittsburg, conquerors of Fordham last weekend, seven points for its first touchdown of the year.

Questioned about individual players, Erickson declared Lach the "best all-around," Storer "one of the fastest" and Davis, "one of the hardest running" tailbacks he had seen all season. "Leo Long and Winston Siegfried make a fine fullback pair as Tommy Prothro and George Bokinsky do at blocking back. The whole line is good, and Bob Barnett, Mike Karmazin and Pete Goddard are more—they're great. "You can quote me on that, too," the usually reticent Erickson declared. "Use all the superlatives about Duke you want and it still isn't enough."

Both scouts feel about the same way about Duke. Tatum, freshman football coach, Erickson, varsity backfield coach, have followed the Devils pretty closely this year. And both played against Duke teams when they were undergraduates at Carolina.

So it goes without saying that these two gentlemen are qualified to speak about this year's Duke team from a scout's viewpoint.
