

Nothing Known Here About Aid for Athletes

Not to Mince Matters

By Harry Hollingsworth

Nope, we haven't seen visions during the holidays of Bill Dudley raising hell on Kenan stadium like many of the Carolina students have who stayed over for the game Thursday, and we are glad we haven't. We saw enough Thursday.

But for the sake of the record, let it be stated that Carolina was beaten by Bill Dudley and other Virginia players. Dudley, the Bluefield Bullet, personally accounted for 22 of the 28 points racked up by the Virginia team by scoring three touchdowns and kicking four extra points. And he passed for the fourth Virginia marker.

Dudley was by far the best offensive back seen on Kenan this year or in many years for that matter. He ran, passed, and kicked his way through the Carolina eleven. When he left the game late in the fourth quarter, his teammates rushed on the field, shouldered him and carried him from the field as thousands of people stood up and cheered with open-mouth amazement, as if to say: "Can this be true, or have we been seeing things?"

Coach Wolf said after the game that Dudley "deserves anybody's All-American team."

But to tear ourselves away from football for a while, let it be said that the tennis team started all over again

Phys Ed Boxing Tourney Starts Thursday in Gym

The annual boxing tournament for freshman and sophomore physical education classes will get underway Thursday in the boxing room at 4:30.

Some 200 students are taking part in the physical education boxing classes and at least 150 of these will participate in the tournament, which is the climax of the classes and serves to provide material for the freshman team and also to uncover new varsity material.

All freshman interested in coming out for managerial positions on the boxing team report to the manager at the boxing room at 3:30 today and Thursday.

The weights for this tournament will be the same as in intercollegiate boxing, beginning with 120-pound weight and continuing to the heavyweight division.

During the past years the fights have produced several fine varsity boxers including Andy Gennett, last year's co-captain, "Red" Sanders, Johnnie Johnston, this year's captain, Bob Farris, Ed Dickerson and Joe Murnick.

All candidates for the freshman team will take part in the tournament and those who show any prospects will be asked to come out for the team.

A new system for scoring an intercollegiate fight has been developed by Coach Ronman and will be turned over to the National Intercollegiate Boxing Board in hopes that in the future it will be universally used among college teams. The new system provides a definite score chart for each blow and gives the spectator a chance to know what the score is after each round and puts boxing in the same realm as other team sports as far as scoring is concerned.

All varsity and freshman boxers are asked to report to the boxing room for workouts every Thursday between 4 and 6 o'clock.

I'M COMING VIRGINIA—With a lot more on the ball besides his hand, so to speak, Virginia's potential All-American Bill Dudley is shown breaking loose in the third quarter for his 79-yard dash for a touchdown. No. 15 for Virginia is Bryant. On the ground is Barksdale, and other Carolina players are Stallings, (No. 89); Dunkle, (No. 20); and Nowell, (No. 61). —Photo by Morton.

Last Year's Frosh Swimmers Receive National Rankings

Hammond, Shumate Honored by Swim Guide Book

Demmond Hammond and Ed Shumate, members of last year's crack freshman swimming team, were honored with national rankings among the freshman in the official 1942 swimming guide of the National Collegiate Athletic association which has just come off the press. The medley relay team and the freestyle relay team of the frosh also received national rankings.

Hammond was ranked the second best backstroke in the country. Dilley of Purdue was ranked first. Last summer in a national meet Dilley placed third in competition with top-notch swimmers in the country. Hammond as a freshman was nothing short of a sensation. He was undefeated and could have easily defeated any varsity backstroke in the conference.

Ed Shumate in the individual medley was ranked No. 5 nationally. As a freshman Shumate was an all-around performer, swimming in the freestyle, breaststroke, and backstroke. He

Tar Heel Fencing Team Has Great Record Since Revival of Sport in 1938 by Students

Squad First Formed in 1931, But Died in 1934

By Morty Cantor

Back in 1929, Hinky Hendlin and a group of interested fencers got together for a little swordplay, and this informal gathering resulted in the formation of North Carolina's first fencing team.

Following a highly successful beginner's tournament, an official team was recognized which entered into intercollegiate competition in the spring of 1931 and won the conference title. In 1932, the Tar Heel fencers ranked second to VMI and in 1933, paced by the Wardlaw Brothers and Hendlin, a northern tour was made on which only one bout was lost out of 16.

In 1934 the last flicker of the dying embers of fencing at Carolina and epidemics, lack of interest, and other factors downed its attempted revival until the spring of 1936, when John Elmen-dorf and Ed Coffin, both experienced fencers, began a class for freshmen

There Exists Much Confusion About Score

There was great confusion yesterday at the close of the football manager's football game between the sophomore managers and the junior and senior managers on the staff.

One side—the sophomores—claimed that the final score was 19-18 in favor of them, but the junior-senior team thought differently about the matter. It claimed that the final score was 18-11.

It all came about like this. The junior-senior team was leading, 18-12, with night approaching and the game far from being completed.

Feeling happy about the way things were happening, they offered to give the ball to the sophomores for two downs and then they would take it for two downs and the team which advanced the furthest would be the winner.

But the sophomores scored a touchdown which made the score 18-18 if the junior-senior score given the Tar Heel sports staff is correct. The sophs claim that they scored an extra point—how was not explained—and the final score was 19-18.

It was well established that Whid Powell, captain of the sophs, and Bo Kennedy and Johnnie Walker scored the touchdowns for the soph team. For the junior-senior squad Graham Carlton tallied twice and Dan Thomason once.

Cy Hogue and North Hinkle were co-captains of the junior-senior team.

Sleight-of-hand trickery is known as legerdemain.

Mural Mat Meet Begins Tomorrow

Intramural wrestling gets under way tomorrow with the weighing-in ceremonies being held in the afternoon. Actual competition will start Thursday, when first round matches will be run off, and will continue for about 10 days. Last year there were approximately 300 entries in the dorm and fraternity tournaments and well over this number are expected to participate in the sport this year.

In last year's competition Zeta Psi captured its third consecutive team championship by amassing a total of 52 points. The Phi Gams captured the runner up honors with 43 points, nine less than the winners. In the dormitory class, Town placed champions in two weights to take the team title with nine points. Alexander, runner-up in this division, with 7 points, took the crowns in three weights, the 128, the 175, and the heavyweight classes.

Kimball Wins

The heavyweight division furnished the features of last year's tournaments. In the dormitory tourney George Spransy of Alexander won his second title by downing Lewis' representative in the finals. Gates Kimball of the Dekes, co-captain of last year's football team, defeated teammate Dick White of the Betas for the heavyweight crown of that division.

In the popular 145 pound class, Larry Fowler, Town, and Bob Perrin, Phi

Sophomores Make Prospects Good For Coming Season

Seton Hall and CCNY.

Although some of the best fencers graduated this June, this year's team looks especially good and the new crop of sophomores particularly promising. With Coach Lawson and Co-Captains Larry Hutton and Tom Deering, the team is sure to add many laurels to its record.

However, in spite of the fact that the Carolina fencing team has 26 victories out of 36 meets it still does not have the full support of the Athletic Council.

Athletic Managers Meet Tonight

There will be an important meeting of all intramural managers tonight at 7:15 in 304 Woollen. Plans for conducting mural wrestling will be discussed at that time.

Coaches Express Amazement At Reported Alumni Plan

By Harry Hollingsworth

Carolina athletic officials expressed surprise yesterday at a story appearing in Sunday's Charlotte Observer that a group of interested Eastern North Carolina alumni were starting a movement to provide worthy athletes with scholarships to attend the University.

The story, written under a Raleigh dateline, stirred many comments in the athletic department, but no one in Woollen gymnasium was able to explain who was behind the movement.

The article said that "as many as 50 scholarships" would be established. Alumni Secretary Maryon Saunders said the movement was news to him, but "he had an idea who might be behind it."

12 Lettermen Form Track Team Nucleus

Although there are 12 returning lettermen, Carolina track prospects are worse this year than they have been in several seasons. The team has suffered in a fashion similar to that of the cross country squad in that many men have been lost by graduation and the army.

Ranson issued an urgent call for all track candidates to report to Fetzer field today. With the exception of the hurdles, all events are wide open this year with many a spot for a good man. He announced that fall track practice will continue outdoors for the remainder of the week unless the weather suddenly turns colder.

Lettermen returning this year besides Co-Captains Roy Cathey and Dick White are Warren Mengel, top-notch hurdler and jumper and one of the few outstanding performers on the squad; Mike Mangum, another front-rank hurdler; Ike Taylor, hurdler par excellence in past years who will probably be one of the leading sprint men this year; Mike Wise, cross country captain and speedy half-miler on the track team; Rich Van Wagoner, another star harrier who specializes in the half and the mile on the cinders; Wimpy Lewis, two-miler; Jim Lloyd, pole-vaulter; Bill Olive, discus man; Stu Richardson, javelin; and Percy Ashby, sprinter and broad jumper.

Dunkle Receives Honorable Mention

Harry Dunkle, Carolina's Co-Captain, was honored over the weekend by being named to the honorable mention list of the NEA All-American football team.

Steve Lach was named on the first team and Bill Dudley on the second team.

Coach Ray Wolf of the Carolina football team issued the following statement yesterday:

"I want to thank again the students for their fine spirit and loyalty to the team and the coaching staff during the football season. It really meant a lot to me, the staff and the team to know that the student body was behind us win or lose."

Dr. Graham in the near future concerning the proposal, but Dr. Graham could not be reached for comment last night.

"At present alumni contribute to a fund, a part of which is used to assist athletes, but the men proposing the new plan believe the present system lacks the proper organization and is not aggressive enough," the story read.

"Discouraged by the poor showing of the Carolina football team during the past two seasons, this group has made considerable investigation and found various factors which they attribute to the disappointing play of the team," the article further stated.

The article said that persistent reports had been made that the Carolina team was lax in its training this fall and that there had been several instances of players breaking training rules. Blame for this was not laid entirely to the coaches, but "it is believed to be the result of certain alleged defects in the athletic situation at Chapel Hill," the article stated.

Coach Ray Wolf yesterday denied emphatically that any Carolina player broke training rules during the season. "As far as I know, I saw no one break rules and I had no report that any of the players were breaking training rules," he said.

"If anyone had broken rules, they
