

White Phantom Cagers Prepare For Opening Game Against Davidson

Lange Has Aggressive, Speedy Five

Anticipating the hard work needed by his team before the season's collegiate opener with Davidson on December 13, Coach Bill Lange put his White Phantoms through a long, stiff conditioning scrimmage yesterday afternoon.

The first team, working together as a unit throughout most of the practice session, was comprised of Julian Smith and George Paine at forwards, Reid Suggs and Bobby Gersten at guards, and Captain Bob Rose at center—the same outfit that started against the Lynn's White Flash five in the season's unofficial opener last week.

At this early date, this quintet appears to be the best combination that Lange can put on the floor, although a number of men show varsity potentiality. The club, in contrast to last year's slow, deliberate high scoring machine, will be fast, aggressive and may not be able to pile points through the hoop with such ease as did Glamack & Co. on occasions last season. It will be forced to play a "pressure" game all the way—expecting to concede height superiority to the opposition most of the time. A single let-up under either the defensive or offensive backboards is likely to prove disastrous and the current crop of Phantoms will either hustle or fall by the wayside.

Yesterday in the scrimmage the club looked spotty. The varsity handled the ball well as in the past. However, the shots simply weren't dropping in and the two contesting quints raced up and down the floor for long intervals of time without a score being made.

Track Squad Has Crack Pole Vaulters

By Bill Woestendiek

With pole-vaulting the subject of current interest these days because of the excellent vaulting demonstrations by Dick Ganslen, former collegiate champion, down at Fetzter field, it seems that this is the time for us to speak of Carolina's prospects in the pole-vault this year. Coach Ranson stated yesterday that if all the men are available this season and work regularly, the Tar Heels should be stronger in this event than they have been in many seasons.

Carolina has never had but one pole-vaulter at any one time previously, but it appears that the Tar Heels will have two better-than-average men this season in the persons of Norman McLeod and Jim Lloyd, with Truett Bennett not far behind.

McLeod, the Star
McLeod is the joint holder of the University record in the pole-vault, doing 13 feet in the Southern conference outdoor meet to win it as a sophomore. Norman, who hails from Sanford, N. C., did not compete last season, but is expected to return to his form of two years ago this winter.

Jim Lloyd is a native of Plainfield, N. J., home of last year's track captain, Dave Morrison, Jim did 12 feet 9 inches last year in the conference meet and promises to do better this season. It is hoped that he will be able to hit 13 feet.

Truett Bennett is the number three man among the cross-bar campaigners. He is a local boy and a junior. He has done over 12 feet in the past and should improve this year.

Larry Holzman
Lawrence Holzman, junior from Brooklyn, is another vaulter, but he may be relieved of his vaulting duties this season to concentrate on the sprints.

Paul Thompson, leading freshman star of last year's team, is not back in school this year. He did 11 feet 9 inches as a first-year man and great things were expected of him. However, his loss may not be felt too severely with McLeod, Lloyd and Bennet taking up the slack.

center, held Lange's first team even throughout most of the workout. Bill Look and Toad McCachren saw service along with the balance of the squad. A number of those men playing down on the second, third and fourth combinations show definite signs of promise and may develop into game-savers for Lange later on.

Varsity Swim Team Faces Tough Ten Meet Schedule

Florida, Navy, Duke, and Rider, Strong Clubs

Carolina's varsity swimming team will meet 10 foes this winter with the spotlight being centered on an inter-sectional contest with Navy and an Inter-Conference headliner with Florida.

Florida and Navy perennially rank with the best teams in their sections of the country and are the only teams which have managed to beat the Tar Heels during the last two years. Florida, Southeastern Conference champion for five years running, beat Carolina 51 to 24 in 1940, and Navy won a close 42-33 scrap from Carolina for the Tar Heels' lone setback last winter.

Rider College of New Jersey will make its first appearance on the Blue Dolphin's schedule. Rider met Duke last season and won a thrilling 39-36 battle.

Five Home Meets
The ten-meet card, which has just been released by Assistant Athletic Director George E. "Bo" Shepard, consists of five home meets and four contests in visiting pools. The site of the annual Carolina-Duke meet is still undecided.

Southern Conference champions for the last two years, the Tar Heels have home meets with VMI, Rider, Virginia Tech, Washington and Lee and Florida.

Phys Ed Mitt Semi-Finals Run Off

Ten semi-final bouts in the Physical Education boxing tournament were run off yesterday to make way for the finals on Friday afternoon.

Feature bout of the afternoon was the match between McCaskill and Pritchett. Pritchett had a large reach advantage on McCaskill, but McCaskill packed a more powerful punch and piled up points on his close fighting. McCaskill came back after a shaky first round, driving home numerous rights and lefts. He showed prospects of developing into good varsity material.

Gunnels Wins
In an encore of their fight the day before, Gunnels and Tillett, again fought for honors in the 145-pound division. Both men fought cautiously all the way hoping for a point advantage. Gunnels won the match by one point.

In the 165-pound class Shearin punched out a close decision over Robertson. Shearin proved a better ring general and was a better puncher, being especially effective in close quarters.

Thompson put on the greatest exhibition of gameness of the afternoon taking all the blows offered by Davis, his opponent, and countering several good blows himself. Davis took the decision in a close one.

Sands, the Victor
Sands took a very close decision over Joyner in a match between 127 pounders. Joyner had an excellent defense and Sands encountered serious difficulty in breaking through his defense, but Sands finally won on his aggressiveness and general ability.

Woodward and Cathey fought the closest match of the bouts with both men waiting out his opponent. Woodward won his one point advantage during the third round while both men matched blow for blow during the first two rounds.

In the other fights, Savage decisioned Hedrick, Otterbourg decisioned Pence, and Russ Davis decisioned Membrino.

Three bouts will be held today clearing up the semi-finals. All entrants must be in the boxing room at 4 o'clock or a forfeit will be given.

Today's Schedule
155—Ettinger vs. Callahan.
165—Otterbourg vs. Schmidt,
Hvy.—Wiley Johnson vs. Little.

Sieck On Second Mythical Club

Dick Sieck, right tackle on the Carolina football team this fall, was selected on the Associated Press All-Conference second team announced yesterday.

Not a single Carolina player was on the first team and Sieck was the only man on the second club. Mike Karmazin, Bob Gantt, Steve Lach, and Bob Barnett, all of Duke, were named on the first team.

Harry Dunkle and Carl Suntheimer, co-captains of the Tar Heels, were placed on the third team.

Dormitory Competitors Receive First Action In Wrestling Tourney

Penick, Kemp, Perrin Win Feature Bouts

The first fights in the dormitory division of the mural wrestling tourney were fought yesterday. After a day of first-rate competition Tuesday, the wrestling suffered a letdown yesterday with few outstanding matches and virtually no upsets.

One of the best bouts of the afternoon was between Penick, Zeta Psi, and Rathbone, Chi Phi. Penick, the more experienced of the two, was the most aggressive and stayed on the offensive throughout. Rathbone displayed some fine defensive tactics and remained in the battle for 3:04 when Penick forced his opponent's shoulders to the mat.

Strickland Loses
Kemp, DKE, and Strickland, SAE, fought the full time limit on very even terms with Kemp finally taking the decision. Kemp forced the fight and was the more aggressive after once getting under way.

In the fraternity 128-pound class, Jim Perrin, Phi Kappa Sig, pulled the fastest pin of the year to down John Daniel, Zeta Psi. Perrin disposed of his opponent in the excellent time of 18 seconds setting something of a record for competition thus far.

Alsbaugh Wins
Dormitory competition got under way yesterday with Alsbaugh, Mangum, posting the best time for activity in that division by his 52-second pin of Zinam, Everett. Alsbaugh held the advantage from the first and won the bout with ease.

The Zetas continued to amass points capturing seven out of ten matches in the light-weight classes yesterday. The Phi Gams were close behind with a six-three won-lost record for the day.
