

UP Cleans Elections In Landslide Vote; Bennett, Peck, Gambill Snare Top Posts; Runoff Scheduled For T & F Editorship

SAM GAMBILL, successful campaigner for secretary-treasurer of the student body, teaches rising sophomore Denman Hammond, who lost the student council representative from his class to Dotson Palmer, and Dick Hartley, yesterday chosen vice-president of the sophs.

To your right, "Matches" Brown goes into the cigar routine with presidential candidates Hobart McKeever and Bert Bennett. The latter (UP) tromped home in front at the polls yesterday.

Carr Elected To Junior Top Office

With the University party dominating the rising junior class political scene, electing five candidates to eight of the major offices, the Student party swept Mike Carr to the coveted president's position, defeating Hanson Hall by a count of 263 to 189 votes.

Nosing out a bare 234 to 221 vote victory in the narrowest count of the junior slate, Dotson Palmer, Student party, was elected representative to the student council over Denny Hammond who had maintained a lead until the final minutes of tabulation.

Higdon Victorious

UP's Lyman Higdon was victorious in a second photofinish race amassing a total of 237 votes to win the vice-presidency over Earl Pardue with 208 votes. Carrying all five precincts by a narrow margin, Higdon retained a lead gained early in the tabulations to win with a 29 vote majority.

A heavy majority in the first and second precincts gave Ike Manly (UP) the position of secretary over Bud Evans. Manly won with a count of 234 and Hammond 221.

DOTSON PALMER, UP, eased by Denny Hammon, SP, for junior class representative to the honor council by 13 votes. Palmer polled 234 and Hammond 221.

Bob Spence Conquers Senior Class Executive Position

Student Party nominee Bob Spence took the presidency of the Senior class from Jack Markham by a 293-237 vote, final returns last night revealed.

The vice-president's chair went to the UP's Craig Phillips (270), leaving Jack Jarvis trailing with 247 ballots while the race for secretary between Dell Bush and Jinette Hood was cornered by the UP's Hood with a narrow margin of 32 votes. Final count was 278-246.

Frosty Long (UP) outran Mike Mangum for treasurer of the class with a vote of 290 to 224.

The three highest men in the race for the student Legislature were Larry Berluti, (UP) with 392 votes, Lem Gibbons, (SP) with 294 votes, and Pat Johnson, (UP) with 283 votes.

BOB SPENCE outlasted Jack Markham for president of the senior class in one of the most interesting races of the day.

Postponed Recital Scheduled Sunday

The piano recital by William Gant which was scheduled for last night and postponed because of the opening of the Playmakers' production and the speech of Leon Henderson, will be given Sunday evening, May 10, 8:30 PM, at Hill music hall.

Gleicher, McKinnon Slated To Withstand Runoff Ballot; Meyer Gets Magazine Chair

Dawn tabulations told the story of the University Party's sweeping retaliation to last spring's defeat and anti-climaxed three months of the quietest political season in recent Carolina history.

The UP's premiere candidate, Bert Bennett, copped the party laurels and the presidency of the student body with a staggering 1000 vote lead over Hobart McKeever. The party took a clean sweep of the student body offices and a majority of the class posts as 2,150 students—far below last year's 2,499-vote record—strolled apathetically to the polls.

Student Council tabulators released the final counts at 4:30 this morning following nine hours of the closest checked ballot counting.

Former dark horse Ben McKinnon and Stud Gleicher stand up again under campus opinion next week for the only runoff of the spring elections. McKinnon polled 754 votes for the Tar an' Feathers editorship, closely followed on the heels by Gleicher with a total of 680. Charlie Colby, SP candidate and third member of the contending trio, was dropped out of the runoff with 522 votes.

The vice-presidency of the student body went to UP's Steve Peck with an amazing 1,379 to 622 margin over Dick Railey. The secretary-treasurer as Sam Gambill was elected over Don Nicholson by the count of 1,089 to 867.

In the race for editorship of the problematical Carolina Mag, Sylvan Meyer easily defeated SP candidate Harley Moore by a 138-vote edge.

Next to Bennett's phenomenal balloting, UP's Billy Webb defeated Jim Loeb by the amazing difference of 1,288 to 441 for the membership-at-large seat on the Publications Union board.

In direct contrast, the Ernie Frankel-Paul Komisaruk battle ended in a slim 16-vote lead for Frankel, (UP) for junior representative to the PU board. Ben Snyder defeated Hayden Carruth in a rare SP triumph for the senior representative to the board.

A record number of double-endorsements eliminated voting on nine campus posts as Bucky Harward, DTH editor, W. J. Smith, speaker of the legislature, Hugh Morton, Yackety-Yack editor, Frank Alspaugh, head cheerleader, Dave Barksdale, president of the Athletic association, Sim Nathan, vice-president of the AA, and Steve Karres, senior representative to the student council went into their offices unopposed and bearing the nod from both campus political parties.

Bill Cobb was doubly-endorsed for the debate council and Cecil Hill was unopposed as SP candidate for the dual office.

Snell Top Man in Town Race for Legislature

Town boys and girls stepped forward yesterday with a heavy vote to place six representatives on the student legislature out of a possible nine with John Snell polling 332 votes to lead the group.

Closely following Snell was Billy Britt with 323 ballots and Frank Catey, third member to hit the 300 class, with a total of 306 votes.

Completing the legislature was Allene Brawley with 286, Sim Nathan with 281, and Charles Briley with 268.

GWSH Third Showing Hits Public Tonight

With two more performances scheduled, "George Washington Slept Here," hilarious comedy now playing at the Playmaker theatre, opens its third run tonight at 8:30.

Past audiences have been receptive and have laughed with vigor at the plights of the bewildered characters. Rating favorable reviews from state and campus newspapers, "George Washington Slept Here" is the result of deft direction by Earl Wynn and polished characterizations by the actors.

Coeds Lead Services

The regular services at Hill hall tonight at 7:30 will be conducted by University coeds.

MARY FOSTER WARREN (center) was elected secretary of the WAA but on her election day she took time off to gab sociably with Anne Lewis (left) and companion.

UP Victory Sweeps Sophomores

The University party swept the Sophomore class as the returns trickled in from the counting rooms last night, and candidate, Charles Davis defeated his student party opponent Mac Earle by a 103 vote margin. Davis polled a total of 275; Earle a balance of 168.

Student party nominee Don Henson conquered the race for Student council with 232 votes, defeating Lane Stokes, the UP man who received a total ballot of 192. This proved one of the closest contests of the election.

The University party captured both the vice-presidency and the secretaryship, Dick Hartley and Vic Seixas taking the positions respectively. Hartley received 282 votes over his opponent Buddy Crone's 158. Seixas got a 255 total over Buck Buchanan's 166.

The treasurer post went to Student party candidate Reid Thompson with a 278 vote total. He beat Ed Oles, University party nominee who polled 155 votes.

Two UP men, Ralph Strayhorn, E. O. Brogden and one SP man, Larry Johnson, defeated Charles Weil, Grimley Hobbs, and Oscar Lubow for Sophomore representatives to the Student legislature. Voting ran: Strayhorn, 318; Brogden, 231; Johnson, 252; Weil, 106; Hobbs, 181; Lubow, 139.

Amendments Fail To Draw Votes

Amendments to the Legislature constitution presented on the ballot yesterday did not draw sufficient votes to pass. Whether they die for lack of quorum is not yet known because the Daily Tar Heel did not want to wake up Ferebee Taylor at 4:30 in the morning to find out.

Osborne Tops Council Vote

The races for the honor council positions of the various classes were close and well contested with Bucky Osborne of the senior class leading the individual balloting. Honor council candidates are not affiliated with either party and all candidates are named by the student council. Seven men were elected from each group.

Senior Honor Council

Bucky Osborne, with his total of 362 votes, led the race for the senior class council over a field of 14 candidates. Moyer Hendrix polled 319 votes for the second-highest total, and Dan Marks got 312 votes filling the third position. Lem Gibbons with 297, Dan Martin with 290, Rich Van Wagener with 254 and Floyd Cahoon with 245 votes round out the seven-man council.

Junior Honor Council

In the junior race Jim Pritchett compiled a total of 266 votes to lead the balloting. Wade Weatherford marked up the second highest total with 241 votes, Billy Britt polled 230, Stirling Gilliam 216, Ralph Hodges and Francis King tied for fifth place with 199 votes, and Paul Dulin and John Robinson tied for the seventh place with 197 votes each.

The council will make the decision in the Dulin-Robinson race and decide on the man to fill the seventh position.

Sophomore Honor Council

Mac Lane walked off with the votes in the race for the sophomore honor council, Lane polled 297 votes. John Simms got 233 votes, Douglas Hunt 223.

See OSBORNE, page 4

Independent Campaign

McKinnon, Gleicher to Stage Runoff for T&F Editorship

Polling 754 votes, Ben McKinnon, ley Moore.

For the first time in several years the editorships of the Daily Tar Heel and Yackety-Yack were unopposed. Bucky Harward, DTH, and Hugh Morton, Y-Y, were automatically named.

The new Publications Board is composed of Ben Snyder, senior member and president-elect who received 954 votes to Hayden Carruth's 851; Ernie Frankel, junior member, who got 877 votes to Paul Komisaruk's 861; and Billy Webb, member-at-large, who swamped Jim Loeb, 1288 to 441.