

Tar Baby Nine Rallies In Last Four Innings To Down Durham, 5-2

Bob Shaw Hits Homer in Close Pitching Duel

By Bill Woestendiek
A hard-playing Durham high school nine almost threw a monkey wrench into the proceedings on Emerson field yesterday afternoon, but the Carolina freshman team rallied in the late innings to overcome the Bulldogs by a 5-2 count.

Durham pitcher George Whitted's wildness and inaccuracy gave the Tar Babies the ball game, but the real hero of the afternoon was Bob Shaw, second string first sacker for the freshman nine, who pinch-hit a home run into the left field corner in the fifth inning with a man on base to tie the score at two-all. His blow put the frosh back in the ball game and they went on to win with another score in the sixth and two more tallies in the eighth.

Webb is Winning Pitcher
Bart Lewis, George Webb and Joe Green divided the pitching assignment among them for the home club, with Webb getting credit for the victory—his second of the year. All three men turned in stellar mound performances, keeping what few hits they allowed well scattered. George Whitted, a right-handed twirler, did the hurling for the Bulldogs and did a good job of it. He pitched all the way, struck out three, walked three and limited the usually potent frosh hitters to six bingles. However, his poor play afield coupled with a wild pitch cost him the game.

The deciding tally was scored in the sixth inning. It was a cheap run, but it was all that was needed to put the home team in front to stay. Ernie Horter was safe when third-baseman J. C. Saunders made a nice stop of his grounder but threw wide to first. Whitted attempted to pick Horter off first and threw past the bag, allow-

Netters Play Semi-Finals At Pinehurst

With all singles contestants idle for a day, most of the activity in the annual North and South amateur tennis tournament at Pinehurst was furnished by the doubles teams.

Yesterday on the Tar Heels' home courts the combination of Hunt Hobbs and Harold Maass turned back Jack Markham and Tom Wadden in a hard-fought engagement, 6-1, 6-3. Today at Pinehurst the winners will clash with Carolina's top ranking doubles combination, Co-captains Harris Everett and Ham Anthony in the feature match of the tandem competition.

Everett Meets Maass
In semi-final singles matches slated for the Pinehurst courts this afternoon, Everett will cross rackets with Maass, third ranking netman, and Vic Seixas, freshman standout and No. 2 junior in the country, battles the Blue Devil ace, Ray Nasher in what should be a thriller. Nasher trounced varsity netman Tom Wadden Wednesday and will offer plenty of competition for the yearling racket wielder.

Seixas and Spurrier Win
In the only other doubles match played yesterday, freshmen Vic Seixas and Bob Spurrier of Carolina scored a 6-1, 6-1 straight set triumph over Campbell Gillespie of Miami and Moyer Hendrix of UNC. The Tar Heel yearlings were never in difficulty and ran away with the match.

Seixas and Spurrier clash with the Duke duo of Heller and Nasher today at 2:30 at Duke. This will be the only match of the day played away from Pinehurst.

Linksmen Meet Virginia Today

Carolina's golf team returns to intercollegiate dual competition today in Charlottesville, Va., where it takes on the linksmen of the University of Virginia.

Coach Chuck Ericson has one of the best golf teams to represent Carolina on the greens in several years and it has lost only one meet, to Duke, this year. The Tar Heels have defeated Pennsylvania, Georgetown, and the Citadel.

The Tar Heel linksmen gave an excellent account of themselves in the Southern intercollegiate tourney in Athens, Ga., last week. Captain Shookie Neese won the consolation title in the championship flight. Dick Doescher pressed the ultimate winner, Duke's Grover Poole, before he was defeated 2-1 in the semi-finals. Poole also defeated Graydon Liles 2-1 in an earlier round.

Carolinas' AAU Meet Here Tomorrow Features Fourth Carolina-Duke Duel

Smith Coeds Monopolize Sports Field

Copping both the basketball and volleyball plaques Smith dormitory takes a strong lead in coed athletics, in their monopoly of Winter quarter sports.

In its first year of sport activities Smith has succeeded in making an enviable name for itself on the coed front. Among the girls who've led the various teams to impressive victories are Betsy Ross Howe, Jinny Hood, Connie Grigsby, and Lillian Burgin.

For this past quarter Howe won major awards for placement on mythical first string basketball and volleyball teams while Hood, and Grigsby likewise received Carolina bracelets with symbols for volleyball. Burgin gained a first-string basketball place and earned honorable mention in basketball.

Volleyball received unexpected enthusiasm and success in its first season here. Others honored on the mythical octets are: Edna Mae Winkler, Sarah Taylor, Watson Prince, Rachel Reding and Aida Epps. Minor awards—bracelets with Carolina seals—went to Lillian Burgin, Jessie Stephenson, Jerry O'Neal, and Martha Urquhart.

Besides Betsy Ross Howe, Mary McCormic was the only other coed to win two major awards last quarter, hers being in fencing and basketball. In the latter Lillian Burgin, Ditzi Buice and McCormic formed the guard trio, while Foster Warren, Mary Jane Lloyd and Howe were the point getters.

Presented with minor awards for the mythical second string were Nita Sinclair, Aggie Martin, and Helen Hall at forwards and on the defense Mary Pierce Bruns, Lucy Lee Kennedy and Jane Hart.

Barbara Epps, freshman sensation, won the fencing plaque. She placed on varsity along with co-captains Mary McCormic, and Alliene Brawley. Honorable mention went to Sara Anderson and Catherine Henley.

The following members of Carolina's first swimming team were rewarded with Carolina bracelets, Captain Ellen Wimberly, Mary Jane Lloyd, Polly Durham, Marty Rouse, Mary Martha Cobb, Deb Lewis, Mary Lib Nash, and Frances Ravenel.

At the close of winter quarter those eligible for sweaters were Howe, Hood, McCormic, Bruns, Brawley, Martin, Winkler and Hall.

Duke Sends Four Stars to Compete At Penn Relays

With a pair of power-laden contingents now departed for the Penn relays in Philadelphia, the Carolina and Duke coaching staffs yesterday began to get a line on just how the new status quo will affect the outcome of tomorrow's Carolinas' AAU meet.

On the face of things it looks as though the Tar Heels should have the edge in the fourth meeting of the two teams. Duke has sent the larger of the two expeditionary forces to Franklin field and the men that remain to compete for the Methodists will be hard pressed to fill in all the way down the line for the men who have left. Familiar faces from Durham that won't be in Chapel Hill this week-end include Werner Brown, sprint and 440 star, Moffat Storer, sprint ace, Hank Profenius, middle and long distance runner, and Steve Lach, conference shot put champion. This quartet scored 26 points in last Saturday's dual meet as compared to the 22 markers counted by Mike Mangum and Warren Mengel, Carolina entrants in the Penn carnival.

Gant Leads Devils
However, a potent nucleus of Devil point producers will be on hand. Bob Gant, who captured runner-up honors in dual meet individual scoring, is slated to compete in the three weight events, while Himmelright in the high jump, Palumbo in the javelin, and Lockwood in the distance divisions will figure prominently in the Duke scoring.

The latest renewal of the Lockwood-Van Wagoner rivalry tomorrow should develop into a real battle. Perennial opponents, the two met for the first time this season last week with Lockwood racing home well in front in a 4:28 mile. Van Wagoner took Lockwood in camp to win the Weil mile in the indoor games in February, winning in 4:22 so that the third meeting should produce real fireworks.

Appeal to Squads
At a meeting yesterday, Coach Dale Ranson issued an appeal to both the freshman and the varsity teams to "put track ahead of all else until the conference meet has been run in May." Ranson went on to add that "hard work, good training, of both the mental and physical variety, and a new spirit culminating in a general, all-around improvement" were needed if the Tar Heels can expect to be successful against Navy and against the conference field.

ADPi's Edge Out Alderman-Kenan In 5-4 Thriller

The ADPi's eked out a 5 to 4 victory over the combined teams of Alderman-Kenan yesterday afternoon in the closest game of the coed softball competition thus far.

The winning team took a 2-0 lead in the first inning, when Bisset walked, Futrelle pounded out a single and Hicks was safe on an error with Bisset and Futrelle crossing the plate.

In the second frame, Alderman surged ahead with three runs. Harris was safe on an error by the left fielder, scoring Deans and Puckett, and came home herself.

Retaliating, Hicks rounded the bases on her teammates' hits their next time at bat. The score remained tied up until the last inning in which Harris, scrappy little third baseman for the losers, pinch hitting for Barnes got on first by a fielder's choice, and then stole her way around the bases and into home. Shaut, next at bat, struck out retiring the side.

A determined ADPi team fought its way to victory when Winkler hit to center field and on an error followed Hicks home with the winning tally of the game.

Harris for Alderman and Hicks for ADPi lead their teammates in hitting and scoring. Bass and Umpstead, pitchers, also turned in fine performances.

The teams of Alderman-Kenan meet Melver-Archer next Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

WARREN MENGEL will compete in the 440-yard hurdle race in the Penn Relays today against some of the nation's crack hurdle stars. The Carolina hurdle king, shown in action above, has been the hottest thing in Dixie track competition this spring and bids fair to make his presence felt in Philadelphia today. Mike Mangum is the other Tar Heel entrant in the meet.

Pi Lambda Phi almost knocked a favored Zeta Psi No. 2 squad from the undefeated ranks when the Zetes were forced to score three runs in the last half of the seventh to eke out an 11-10 win in yesterday's outstanding intramural softball contest.

Pi Lambda Phi took a wide early lead off Zete hurler Sam Mordecai, who had tossed two previous shutouts, and led 6-1 going into the last of the fifth. Scoring seven runs, the Zetes rallied to take the lead for the first time, 8-6. In the Pi Lambda half of the last frame, Bill Rocher walked and Oscar Lubow and Frank Levy singled to load the bases; then Dick Kerner, clean-up man, came to bat and got his second hit of the day, a home run that cleared the bases and tied the game. The Zetes came back, however, with three runs to take the contest, L. G. Shook homering with one on for two of the runs.

In a ten-inning contest, Sigma Nu No. 1 took a 3-1 win over Lambda Chi Alpha with J. B. Kittrell pitching two-hit ball for the winners. Lambda Chi scored in the fourth and Sigma Nu retaliated with a run in the fifth and took the game with two in the tenth.

Kappa Sigma No. 2 lost a close contest to ZBT when the tying run died on base. ZBT pulled ahead with six runs in the sixth, while a three-run Kappa Sig rally in the seventh fell short.

Scoring all six runs in the second inning, Graham shaded Lewis No. 2, 6-4 in a closely-fought contest.

Phi Gamma Delta No. 1 was forced to rely on an early lead to give them a 9-5 win over Kappa Alpha. The Phi Gams held an early 6-0 lead, the KA's coming back for five runs in the fourth and fifth. Gregory, KA catcher, led the hitting with a single and a triple.

Old West downed Lewis No. 1, 10-4, getting most of their runs in the second, when they pushed across eight tallies.

Scoring runs in every inning but the sixth Manly Co-op ran over the NROTC 14-6. Robinson had three hits for the winners.

Moore Hurls Five-Hitter For Winners

By Harry Hollingsworth
CHARLOTTEVILLE, April 23.—Carolina hit everything in sight here this afternoon except three trains and an army airplane which passed by during the game to collect 22 hits and 18 runs for an 18 to 1 victory over the University of Virginia.

Charlie Moore, curve-ball right-hander, had a shut out until Charlie Merritt, Virginia's hard-hitting shortstop, slapped out a four-base blow in the ninth inning.

Gersten, Reynolds Pace Tar Heels
Bobby Gersten and Co-captain Bo Reynolds paced the Tar Heels in their biggest score of the season by getting four hits for six trips to the plate.

Virginia was unable to solve the slants of Moore, who notched his third triumph of the season. He hurled five-hit ball and retired the Cavaliers in order in five of the nine innings.

After a slow start in which Virginia put five men on base in the first two innings, Moore settled down and pitched four-hit ball for the last seven innings.

Sixth is Big Inning
Carolina's big inning was the sixth in which 13 men went to bat, getting six hits and eight runs. Two base runners were left stranded. Bobby Gersten fled out to the shortstop for the third out.

Myers, Moore, Hearn and Gersten went to bat twice in the inning. Myers, who collected three hits for six trips, singled and doubled in the. See VARSITY BASEBALL, page 4
