

FDR May Seek To Stop East Coast Gasoline Rationing Soon

Japs Weakening In Australia; Paris Uneasy

WASHINGTON, May 25—(UP)—Congressmen disagreed vigorously today over the need for nation-wide gasoline rationing amid signs that President Roosevelt soon will issue a statement on the feasibility of relieving the east coast shortage by new pipelines and fuel barges. Card rationing schedules for Oregon and Washington states for June 1 were cancelled today by the Office of Price Administration.

UNDATED—(UP)—Japanese appeared to be maintaining their vicious offensive against Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's troops in Chekiang province on the east China coast today (Tuesday) but on the Australian front, where they have been inactive for nearly a week, the Japanese seemed to have let the initiative slip from their hands.

LONDON, May 25—(UP)—A gun battle broke out in the streets of Paris today when a member of the Petain Youth organization was attacked by "doubtful elements" when walking through the Latin quarter, the Paris radio reported.

HONESDALE, Pa. May 25—(UP)—Authorities counted 32 known dead and expected the toll to rise as flood waters receded today from low-lying areas. Falling rivers exposed bodies of additional victims carried far from their homes by the raging current.

BERLIN — Enemy Broadcasts — (UP)—The bulk of three Russian armies, including strong armored units, are encircled in a German pocket of annihilation south of Kharkov. Vichy radio reports that this force is 400,000 men.

MOSCOW, May 25—(UP)—Crucial tank and infantry battles are rocking the Kharkov front, Soviet officials said today, failing for the first time to certify the course of the two-week battle, in which Germans were reported dropping air-borne tanks.

enthusiasm, inspiration, and hope." As to the war effort, Professor Green said "In spending our strength we shall not settle the main problem. Force of arms and killings however necessary and logical are no final answer to the deep desires and needs of men. Only creation and building up can give us any lasting answer." He stated that man's very nature shows he is a creator, a builder, and a pioneer, not a destroyer. Man is set toward the sun and the business of democracy is with life and the creative fruitful ways of peace and not with death and the unseasonable re-payings of the war. "The purpose of a democracy is with the growing of men and not with the killing of them," Professor Green said.

In conclusion, Professor Green stated that we for the first time have the cultural and spiritual leadership in our care and the teacher has the main burden. The teacher must spread the enthusiasm for art, literature, music, drama, true science, philosophy and all the other creations of man's genius in order to prevent barbarism from overcoming the world. These things must be protected and persons fired with a new and lasting enthusiasm and devotion in the cause that we as individuals cherish, Professor Green reiterated. He continued that the teacher's purpose is to bind together and make manifest in eager hearts the whole of the fruits of the poets, scientists, philosophers, composers, and others keeping the world of democracy alive. Professor Green ended with the statement that here is everybody's credo—the artists, teachers, and students—to save these things and to hold this line against whatever happens so that a new day of justice, peace, and brotherhood will save itself.

refused their petition to intervene in the relatives' suit for the money. This second set-back was predicted several weeks ago by Carolina's famous attorneys.

Ackland died in 1940, willing his estate to Duke University for the establishment of an art school and memorial. Duke then refused the money as a threat against its own endowment, and lawyers jumped on Ackland's first, superseded will, which put Carolina and Rollins as second and third choice to get the money.

Descendants of Ackland, who changed his name from Acklen to avoid association with a black-sheep brother, promptly sued for the money. These descendants, all related directly to the hated brother, will legally get the $1,395,400 until Carolina or Rollins can successfully appeal the decision.

FACTS ABOUT NAVY V-1 at CAROLINA

The Navy's V-1 Plan under which Freshmen and Sophomores from 17 through 19 years of age can continue their courses and prepare to become officers in the Naval Reserve has been accepted by our school. Hundreds of colleges and universities are backing the Navy's V-1 program, and thousands of students in other schools have already enlisted under this plan.

Only 80,000 men will be accepted annually for this training, but the Navy wants these men to be fully acquainted with all V-1 details before enlistment. Many questions have been asked. In this column we will answer those most frequently asked and in addition carry informative articles covering all phases of V-1 activities. Some questions asked are:

- Q. I am a sophomore and will be 20 years old next month. Can I enlist in V-1?
- A. Yes. If you have not yet reached 20 and you are otherwise qualified, you're eligible.
- Q. When the war ends, do I stay in the Service?
- A. Under V-1, you enlist in the Naval Reserve. As an enlisted man or as an officer, you may be released from active duty as soon as possible after the war is over.
- Q. Will the Navy pay my tuition and other expenses while I am still in college under the V-1 plan?
- A. No. Navy pay does not start until you are assigned to active duty.
- Q. What is the citizenship requirement for acceptance for V-1?
- A. Applicants for V-1 must have been citizens for at least 10 years before the date of application.
