

House Meets Today For Swift Action; Deadline Saturday

Navy Answers Japanese Action With Three Sinkings in Solomons

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—(UP)—Backed up by a go signal from President Roosevelt and the Secretary of War, Henry L. Stimson, Congress tonight cleared the way for swift action on legislation to draft 18 and 19 year old youths, with prospects of the House voting on the issue before the weekend.

Plans to push a bill through the lower chamber "no later than Saturday night" were announced by Speaker Sam Rayburn only a few minutes after Stimson told the Legislature that "never before in its history" has the nation so needed the exceptional fighting qualities found only in teenage soldiers.

"Our own survival is in the balance," he said in a letter transmitted to the House and Senate military affairs committee exactly 13 hours after Mr. Roosevelt had stated in his "fireside chat" that the draft of 18-19 year olds was "inevitable."

Rayburn told a special press conference that the House will meet at 9 o'clock today and is expected to report a bill no later than Thursday. The bill will be put on the floor Friday and the chamber will be asked to pass and forward it to the Senate Saturday night.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—(UP)—American fleet units, returning to the battle of the Solomons, sank a Japanese heavy cruiser, four destroyers and a transport during a fierce 30-minute battle Sunday night and not one blow fell to the fleet, the Navy said tonight.

Navy and Marine torpedo planes and dive bombers pursuing the retreating Japanese force then knocked another cruiser out of action and probably sank another destroyer. Only one unnamed American destroyer was lost in the action.

Announcement of the smashing victory came scarcely 24 hours after belated explosions that three American cruisers had been sunk by enemy action.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—(UP)—The House today overrode determined Southern opposition and approved a bill outlawing poll taxes as a prerequisite to voting in Federal elections.

The vote climaxed an uproarious session in which tempers snapped as northerners joined southerners in announcing the measure as invading State rights and therefore unconstitutional.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—(UP)—United States Army airmen again have rained demolition and incendiary bombs on Japanese held Kiska in continuing the one-a-day raids on the drive to chase the enemy out of his last remaining foothold in the Aleutians, the Navy announced tonight.

Fees Bill Explained At Meeting Tomorrow

The Student Fees bill will be explained to all campus organizations directly affected by it at a special meeting called by Roy Strowd, chairman of the finance committee, at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in the Grail room.

The purpose of the meeting, as outlined by Strowd, calls for the bill to be thoroughly discussed by student body president Bert Bennett and the visiting committee members.

It is expected that Bennett will make suggestions regarding the support of newly formed campus organizations and also to discuss the possibility of cutting the total amount of student fees now paid and distributing them more evenly.

Members of the Student Entertainment committee, Student Government, Student Union, Debate Council and the Publications Union Board have been invited to attend the special meeting.

Also on the discussion program will be a general outline of student fees over the past 30 years showing the trends in expenditures and revenue, prepared by Harry Colby.

Passed last year and approved by Dean R. B. House, the bill has been battled around the campus for the past two years. The current crisis and unexpected changes in the school program have necessitated changes in the bill and student leaders will determine general opinion of the various campus groups at tomorrow night's meeting.

An interpretation of the Fees bill will be presented by the finance committee so that the members may have a concise outlook on the entire setup. W. J. Smith, speaker of the legislature, will be present to feel campus opinion in preparation for bringing it up for legislature discussion.

Intertown Council Convenes Tonight

Members of the Intertown council will convene tonight at Dean R. B. Parker's office to discuss the council's pending agreement on coed rulings. The session will begin at 7:30, Johnny Snell announced.

Weaver Calls Mass Meeting Of Town Girls

The only mass meeting of the quarter for town coeds will be held in the banquet hall of Graham Memorial tomorrow at 7:30, announced Hilda Weaver, president. Old and new members are requested to attend.

The purpose of the meeting will be to organize town girls and town intramural teams, and to start a civilian defense program for the coeds.

Martha Johnson, secretary of the YWCA, will be the principal speaker on the program. She will point out to members their part on YWCA, and will explain the purpose of the bulletin board on second floor of the "Y." This board is for town girls and they should take particular notice of it every day.

Miss Weaver also said that arrangements are being made to have a photographer take a picture of the group at the meeting.

Spanish Offered In Night Course

In response to many requests on the part of Chapel Hill residents and officers of the Navy Pre-Flight School, the UNC extension division will offer a night course in beginner's Spanish, starting tomorrow at 7:30 P.M.

G. R. Hernandez, native of Cuba and member of the University faculty, will instruct the class which is to meet once or twice a week, depending on the wishes of those taking the course.

It is believed that no credit will be given, and students desiring the course may do so with the permission of their deans.

Interested persons are asked to attend the first class meeting Thursday, or if desiring additional information, to call R. H. Grumman, director of the extension division, at phone 3216.

UNC Quarterbacks Go into Huddles Over Grid Contests

The second week of the Graham Memorial football contest begins tomorrow morning when the blanks are placed in the hall of Graham Memorial.

This week's prize will be another $5 meal-ticket book for the Graham Memorial Grill. Students will predict the score of the Carolina game if an opponent is ever secured. If not they must predict the score of the North Carolina Navy-Boston College game.

In addition all participants must pick the winners of the Duke-Colgate, Davidson-Georgia Tech, Wake Forest-N. C. State, Newberry-Citadel, Furman-George Washington, Maryland-V. M. I., Tulane-Georgia, Dartmouth-Harvard, West Virginia-Fordham, Yale-Navy, Princeton-Penn., Santa Clara-Oregon State, Catawba-Appalachian, Auburn-Georgetown, Notre Dame-Iowa Navy, Montana-Washington, Texas-Arkansas, Texas A & M-T. C. U., Penn State-Cornell, and the Mississippi-L. S. U. game.

Entries must be submitted by Friday at six o'clock to be eligible for this week's contest.

FFC to Sponsor Outing Sunday

Freshmen are invited to attend a wiener roast sponsored by the Freshman Friendship Council Sunday afternoon at 5:30. Blind dates with coeds will be arranged for the party, which is being given for the promotion of friendship and entertainment for the freshmen.

Students wishing to go are requested to register at the Information Desk in the YMCA before 12 noon tomorrow and pay a small fee to cover expenses.

The wiener roast party will meet in the court in front of the three girls' dormitories at 5:30 Sunday afternoon, and will go in a group to Battle park where the roast will take place.

Grill to Check Hats, Coats Free

Beginning today, the Graham Memorial Grill will check all coats, hats, and books free of charge. This courtesy will be extended as long as the students cooperate and use the system, it was further announced.

Klein Picked By 'Review' To Head Poll

Monthly Survey To Be Nationwide

Executives of the Saturday Review of Literature have selected the University to direct a new monthly nationwide survey of trends in intercollegiate reading.

Harrison Smith, president of the nationally noted magazine, announced that Walter Klein, DAILY TAR HEEL news editor, has been picked to head a student board managing the survey.

First results will be published in the Saturday Review of Literature in December. The Carolina-directed survey will become a regular monthly feature of the periodical.

Mechanism of the questionnaire, now being set up, will provide for the tapping of reading trends in the country's 50 leading universities. Results will also be printed in newspapers and magazines of the 50 institutions and will be released to approximately 50 other newspapers.

Names of the students to serve on the survey board will be announced shortly. Applications from Students wishing to work on the survey may be made at the DAILY TAR HEEL offices in Graham Memorial.

Smith, J. R. Cominsky, vice-president of the magazine, and Amy Loveman, secretary, discussed full plans for the survey with Klein in New York Saturday.

William Gaskill, executive of the American Institute of Public Opinion which directs the famed Gallup poll, will aid the Carolina students in managing the questionnaire.

Students and faculty members of the 50 universities will be polled separately to determine names and types of books they are reading each month. The survey will cover faculties, students and librarians personally.

Approximately five percent of the student body in each university will be tapped. Non-fiction will be broken down into poetry and belles lettres, history and biography, and war books. The fiction poll will cover romantic novels, mystery and adventure, historical novels, and fantasy and light literature. Textbooks and required reading will be eliminated from the survey.

Students will prepare special results for the magazine's Christmas issue, determining what books students and professors would like for Christmas presents.

Players to Present 'Arsenic-Old Lace' As Initial Showing

The Carolina Playmakers are celebrating the beginning of their 25th year with the production of the hilarious comedy, "Arsenic and Old Lace".

The play is well on its way toward production with steady rehearsals, scenery constructions, and publicity stills taking place.

Professor Samuel Seldon, who is directing the show, indicates the public will get their money's worth when they see this hair raising thriller. Foster FitzSimons is constructing some excellent stage scenery, and Irene Smart is rigging up some characteristic costumes for the cast.

Tickets for "Arsenic and Old Lace" are on sale for 85 cents or for all five major productions of the year for only $2.00 plus tax. The tickets may be bought at 113 Murphy, 209 Phillips, at Ledbetter-Pickards, or at the Playmakers Theatre. With season tickets, a reserved seat may be had any of the three nights of production.

Former Graduate Receives Commission

Gordon S. Stevens, former graduate of the University was among the recent commissioned officers in the Army Air Forces at Turner Field, Albany, Georgia. Stevens is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon G. Stevens of Smithfield, North Carolina.

Y-Y Business Staff Holds Meeting Today

The Yackety Yack Business Staff will meet this afternoon at 3:30 in Room 204 Graham Memorial. All persons who plan to work on the Y-Y this year must be at this meeting.

OSCD Signs Coeds Today

Defense Interests To Be Tabulated

The two day general registration of all coeds—campus and town—by the OSCD will continue through today with dormitory and sorority girls registering from 2 until 6 o'clock and from 7 until 11 o'clock, and town girls registering from 9 till 1 o'clock and from 2 until 6 o'clock.

Facilities for registration have been set up in all of the dormitories and sorority houses; registration headquarters for town students are in the YMCA. At each registration desk girls will be furnished cards to be checked and filled according to the individual's interest and preference in the different divisions of the student defense organization. Behind the desks and in charge of the distribution of master sheets on which are printed details of the different phases of defense work, are student advisers, members of the OSCD personnel.

Every coed is urged to register even if she does not intend to do any work with the OSCD. Registering will in no way obligate a girl to help. It will merely furnish the defense office with an accurate record of the number of coeds interested and in what fields their interests and talents lay.

The four branches of the OSCD which students may work are Civilian Morale, headed by Billy Britt; Department of Post-War Planning, headed by John Kendrick; Consumer's Research, headed by Kathleen Lard; and Civilian Protection, headed by Joe Leslie. Hall Patrick is coordinator for the OSCD.

Infirmiry Sick List

A survey of the Infirmiry yesterday revealed the fact that 46 "human derelicts" now populate that building. Both the college and the Navy pre-flight school have supplied the present large number of occupants.

Representing the college are: Thomas Bennett, David M. Calloway, Thaddeus Charmichael, Alex Cockman, Fitzhugh Collins, Anne Coogan, Ruth C. Dubrow, William Alexander Fryar, John R. Hammer, Hurst B. Hatch, George William Henderson, Edward Hobbs, Charles L. Johnston, Richard M. Kiser, Betty Ann McHoney, Julian A. McKenzie, George A. McLemore, Radford M. Moore, Friede Mowshowitz, Margery O'Kelley, George D. Penick, Stephen J. Piller, Letha R. Slager, Ruth H. Slobodkin, William Smith, Thomas A. Wadden, Huldah H. Warren, Marie Waters, Katherine Whitney, and Ford Worthy.

Not to be outdone, the Navy has provided: James Begley, J. Bowman, William Council, Alex Domonkos, Melvin Lewis, P. J. McKenna, W. McLellan, Joseph Morgan, Thomas Poole, Charles Richards, Maurice Spiegel, Lloyd Unser, Richard Wadleigh, K. Wiggins, William Wolff, and a person unidentified except for the name "Wilson".

tee, headed by treasurer Pat Henritzy, the budget proposal will include a cut in several items of expenditure. In keeping with the general economic aims, the group plans to make appropriation for only absolute essentials, speaker Ditz Buice said.

Alliene Brawley and Betsy Ross Howe having failed to return this year, positions of vice-president and secretary of the Woman's Athletic Association remain vacant. The Woman's Athletic council will present a slate for the offices, and further nominations may come from the floor. Eligibility for the offices will require service for at least one quarter on the WAA council. Nominations will also be open for a second representative to the student legislature. These positions and that of graduate women's representative to the Woman's Honor council will be filled by ballot Thursday.

Of much concern on the campus is the proposal to change the coed curfew on Friday night from two to one o'clock. All women students are urged to be present at the meeting in order that all facts may be aired thoroughly before a decision is reached. Spectators, though not possessed with voting power, are freely given the floor to express views in connection with any discussion at the senate meetings.

Grail Dance Saturday

Orchestra Hinges On Football Game

The Order of the Grail will present its second dance of the year in Woolen gym Saturday night from 8:30 until midnight, "football game or not," according to a statement released yesterday by Sam Gambill, exchequer of the Grail.

Plans for the dance, admission to which is $1.10, are not complete. The band for the occasion has not been selected as yet, and the decision hinges on a game in Kenan stadium Saturday afternoon.

This will be first Grail dance of the year which will be open to the entire campus. Freshmen were excluded from the dance on the weekend of the Carolina-Wake Forest game due to the fraternity period of silence.

The Order of the Grail is the only campus organization which is allowed by the University dance committee to give script dances. They give three dances each quarter. During the Fall quarter, dances are usually held on home football weekends while in the winter and spring, the Grail generally cooperates with organizations such as the Freshman and Sophomore classes and the Interdormitory council by scheduling a big weekend set of dances.

Blind Winifred Moore, 23, and Rex, her shepherd dog, received sheepskins together from Mississippi Southern college.
