Mangum Leads Carolina Track Squad To Victory Over Blue Devil Team, 73-53

Co-Captain Scores Fifteen for UNC

By Art Shain

Led by Co-captain Mike Mangum, who scored 15 points, Carolina's southern conference track champions defeated the mighty Duke cinder team, 73-53, on Fetzer Field yesterday afternoon.

Mangum captured top places in the high and low hurdles and in the broad jump. In winning the high and low hurdles in 15.6 and 25.5 seconds, respectively, Mike had little trouble. Leaping 21 feet, 3 1-2 inches, won him the broad jump. The Tar Heel co-captain shared the meet's individual scoring honors with the Blue Devils' Bob Gantt.

Gantt was easily the outstanding man on the Duke squad, scoring first in the shot putt, discus and javelin throw. Big Bob came within three feet of his own dual meet record in winning the shot-putt with a heave of 46 feet, 3-4 inch. A 174-foot 2-inch hurl won the javelin event for the Duke ace, a 142-foot, 11 5-8 inch the shot.

Tar Heel Rich Van Wagoner came through in fine style in taking the half-mile and coming in first with teammate Julian McKenzie in the mile. Van Wagoner broke the tape in the 880 in 1:58.3. His co-win in the one-

Fresh Ace

Carolina freshman ace, Ted Shultz, added eight points to the team total with a win in the 100 and a second place in the 220-yard dash. Shultz out-sprinted Duke's McClelland in the 100-with a time of 10.3 seconds.

By winning the 440-yard dash in 50.9 seconds, Blue Devil Seeman turned in the best time of the season on Fetzer Field in the quarter mile. Tar Heel freshman Don Nelson almost caught the Duke star and probably forced him to the limit.

McKenzie

tance man, Julian McKenzie, showed stuff that earned him the state high school mile championship last year. Besides coming in with teammate Van Wagoner in the mile, McKenzie finished second in the two-mile run, making a sum of seven points. McKenzie seemed just a little too tired from the mile to beat out Duke's Palmer in the double mile.

In taking the 220-yard dash in 23 seconds flat, Tar Heel Henry Stevens proved the sprint act of which he is capable. Stevens placed third in the 100-yard dash, bringing his total for the afternoon to six points.

Corpening

Joe Corpening repeated his win of last week in the high jump, reaching a height of 5 feet, 10 1-4 inches. Lanky, good-natured Joe won a third in the low hurdles to earn himself six points for the afternoon.

Carolina's Jim Lloyd and Duke's McCormick put up a close battle in the pole vaulting. However, neither was able to surpass vaults of 12 feet, necessitating a tie.

Palmer

A time of 15:5.1 won the two-mile run for Blue Devil distance man Palmer. Palmer seemed in good form in taking the event.

Cloudbusters Miss Shutout When Locals Stage Last-Minute Rally in Ninth Frame

By Bob Goldwater

Averting a shutout on the final play of the game, the Tar Heels dropped their first decision of the season here yesterday afternoon by a 3-1 count as the Ration league's second-place occupants, the Pre-flight nine, pulled up to within one game of the loop leaders.

In another Ration league contest, Duke defeated State, 9-5, to retain third place in the standings.

Rally

Going into the last half of the ninth down three runs, the Tar Heels suddenly came to life and loaded the bases with one out. A fly to the outfield brought in one tally but the rally was snuffed as the center-fielder turned the one out into a double play.

Frank Wideman led off in the last frame with a sharp liner down the left field line. Johnny Pecora furthered the hopes of the Carolina fans by dumping another hit into center. Rivers Johnson flied to center and a pass to Mack Morris filled the bases. Shot Cox kept center-fielder Marchand busy again, with the second out being recorded as Wideman tagged up and came across with his team's first marker. On the same play, Pecora tried to reach third but was cut down on a pretty throw from Marchand to third-base-man Conlan.

Right Start

Coach Bunn Hearn's boys got off in the first inning by putting men on first and third on hits by Whitey Black and Dub Johnson but an attempted double steal resulted in Whitey being put out at the plate. The varsity again placed two runners on the base paths in the third on singles by hurler Bob Shuford and Dub Johnson. But Navy moundsman Joe Gonzales, former Boston Red Sox pitcher, got out of trouble by making Wideman fly to left. From this frame until the ninth, Carolina's stay at the plate was brief every time, with no more than four batters facing Gonzales' slants in any one stanza. Shuford

Meanwhile Shuford was encountering difficulties. After setting the Cloudbusters down one, two, three in the first, he escaped unscathed in the second. See VARSITY, page 4

Pete Mullis Has Always Been All-Around Southern Athlete

Phys Ed Instructor Began Career Early

At 10 years of age Pete Mullis held the National record for standing broad jump. At 18 he was playing on the championship Charlotte High basketball squad that traveled to the Tournament of Champions in Washington. At 20 he was playing guard on the famous 1935 Tar Heel quintet in Madison Square Garden.

Pete has lived an eventful athletic life, chock full of records and prizes. He has participated in everything from swimming to potato races, and has won recognition for all his efforts.

Born Clyde Edward Mullis in Charlotte, some 27 years ago, Pete entered Charlotte High, already boasting the YMCA Hexathlon Championship, in the 80 pound class.

High School

During his high school days he won his letter in basketball and swimming, held the presidency of the State Student Council Association, and won the Hiss Memorial Scholarship, a gift of $1600 to the leading senior boy or girl of Charlotte's High Schools.

Entering Carolina, along with his Charlotte teammates: Earl Ruth and the McCachren brothers, Pete made a place for himself on the Tar Heel freshman quintet, along with Andy Bershak and Ramsey Potts.

Top Squad

This great outfit won 17 out of 18 games in its frosh year, knocked off the Southern Conference Championships in its next two seasons, and satisfied itself with the State Crown the last year.

All during this basketball headlining, Mullis found time to act as president of his freshman class, sit on the student council, win the Grail Scholarship Trophy and graduate in 1938 with an AB in Political Science.

Graduation

Upon graduation, the scholar spent a year in law school, only to have Doc Cornwell convince him later that physical education was his league. Whereupon jolly Pete received a Masters in Education, and an instructor's position at the University.

At present Clyde Edward is the Director of Freshman Hygiene, and an instructor in the Physical Education department. He helped coach the State Champion basketball teams of 1940-41-42, and has recently completed a thesis on way to a PHD.

Three Softball Contests Take Mural Spotlight

By Lloyd Koppel

Three mural games will take the spotlight this week as campus teams swing into another heavily-scheduled session of softball.

An undefeated BVP outfit faces the NROTC strong team, No. 2 on Tuesday. The game, already won by the sailors, was protested and a rescheduling was necessitated. The BVP team, which boasts the cream of Carolina's huskies, will present a heavy-hitting squad eager to match run for run with all opponents.

The No. 2 team is Chief Rackley's best. Led by Highsmith's pitching and hitting, it has been the Dorm-Town League's "black-horse" candidate for fame.

Duke Racquetmen To Seek To Break 'Kenfield Jinx'

An improved outfit of the Duke racquet wielders, victims of two decisive defeats at the hands of Carolina last season, will seek to break the "Kenfield jinx" here tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 when the ancient rivals tie up in their first meeting of the season.

Even the most ardent Tar Heel followers and the elephant-minded tennis fans of this section will have to dig way down to remember the last Carolina defeat in a conference match, and Coach John Kenfield's racketmen will rule as favorite's in tomorrow's encounter. In case of argument the last loop setback was against Georgia Tech way back in 1928, the first year of Coach Kenfield's regime. The Engineers were then a member of the old Southern conference, which included schools of the southeast area.
