Medical Aid Plan Slated For War Vets

Doctors Authorized To Give Treatment

RALEIGH, Feb. 4.—A precedent breaking plan for medical aid to North Carolina's discharged veterans of World War Two has just been announced.

According to word received tonight from president, Doctor Oren Moore, all 2,400 members of the state's medical society have been authorized to treat veterans for any service-connected disability—the cost to be paid by the veterans administration.

And Doctor Moore says the term, "service-connected disability" is being interpreted quite broadly.

The plan is to go into effect immediately, he adds, with final details to be worked out Wednesday during the society's meeting in Raleigh.

Doctor Moore contrasts the novel arrangement with that made after the last war, whereby a small panel of physicians were appointed to care for veterans.

The Hospital Savings Association at Chapel Hill is to take care of the case records and other paper work concerned.

Meanwhile, it's revealed that Michigan, New York, and New Jersey have filed applications with the veterans administration for similar state aid provisions.

Tugboat Strike Ties Up New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—New York City officials have begun conferences with tugboat union and management representatives in an attempt to settle the tugboat strike which has halted ship traffic in the world's greatest port. The walkout of 35-hundred tugboat operators also threatens food and fuel supplies to the metropolitan area.

British War Brides Arrive In New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Some 456 British war brides and 170 war babies are on the last lap of their long voyage to their new American homes this evening. The British brides arrived in New York this morning aboard the nursery ship Argentina.

Consolidated Strike Halts Plane Output

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Feb. 4.—A. F. of L. Machinists have walked out at the Consolidated Aircraft Corporation in San Diego, stopping production of all Army, Navy and civilian planes. The strike is expected to spread to the company's Nashville, Tennessee, and Fort Worth, Texas plants.

Russian Delegates Employ Veto Power

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Russia has tried to invoke the big power veto in the UNO Security Council to climax a stormy dispute with Britain. The veto attempt—first in UNO history—came after Russia offered to withdraw its charges against Britain, provided the Security Council would record Britain's promise to withdraw its troops from Greece as soon as possible. The Russian offer was turned down by a vote of nine nations to two. The Security Council then voted on an Egyptian proposal—which would exonerate Britain of the charge of endangering the peace—and the Russian delegate threw the meeting into a turmoil by claiming for Russia the power to veto this proposed resolution.

March Seniors Meet Today

Plans To Be Set For Commencement

Walt Brinkley, chairman of the elections committee, yesterday urged all seniors graduating in March to attend a special meeting of the class in Gerrard Hall at 5 p. m. today to discuss the question of a formal commencement on March 24.

Although no definite plans have been formulated as yet, it was pointed out that today's meeting will lay tentative plans for the March ceremonies. Further and more definite arrangements will be made with Administrative heads in South Building by members of the class executive committee.

Chief drawback to the plan for a formal graduation is the announcement from the printers that diplomas will not be ready by March 24. Failure of the printer to meet the deadline due to lack of materials and labor together with winter examinations in the same week pose serious problems to be thrashed out in today's meeting.

Brinkley also announced members of the class executive committee as follows: Twig Branch, Allon Cook, Helen Bergstrom, Nina Guard, Walt Brinkley, Ted Heigler, Joe Nanny, Marguerite Emmert, Betty Edwards, and Nick Theofilou.

A correction is made to the Daily Tar Heel's reporting of the class secretary. Dorathea Janssen and not Dot Gustafson holds this office.

Mid-Term Conferences Scheduled This Week

All freshmen and sophomores are requested to see their advisers for conferences on mid-term reports beginning on Wednesday, February 6.

In order to avoid crowding and waiting, students are asked to observe the following alphabetical schedule:

A-D, Wednesday; E-H, Thursday; I-L, Friday; M-P, Saturday; Q-T, Monday; and U-Z, Tuesday.

The advisers especially wish to see their students regarding mid-term standing before reports are sent to parents.

New Talent Needed By Sound And Fury

Sound and Fury tryouts for their spring review, "State of the Campus," are being held this week on the second floor of Graham Memorial in the Sound and Fury office every afternoon from 2 to 5:30 o'clock. "The State of the Campus," will employ only original songs and talents and there are openings for all those interested.

It was also announced that the entries for the Sound and Fury club skit and song contest will be extended until Saturday. This is to enable potential winners a final chance to hand in material.

A queen will reign for the first time in several years at the Campus May Day festivities to be sponsored by the Carolina Independent Coed Association and the Panhellenic council. May Day at Carolina will come on the weekend of May Frolics, and the pageant is to be presented on that Saturday afternoon.

The queen and her attendants have been chosen by the coeds from lists of the senior women students which were passed around and voted on in the dormitories and sorority houses. Names of the queen, the two maids of honor, and the eleven attendants will not be divulged until May Day. Their pictures will appear in the Yack.

Committees have been appointed and plans are underway for all phases of the celebration. The Coed Senate has voted to give the committee $150. to finance the pageant. It is still undecided as to whether the program will be held in the arboretum or at Forest Theatre as in previous years. The Glee Club, Dance Club and Chi Delta Phi will also participate in the plans.

Co-chairman of the May Day committee are Evelyn Cheek Davis, president of CICA, and Betty Grimes, president of the Panhellenic council. Other committee chairmen are Barbara Boyd, See MAY DAY, page 4.

Heer To Address Meeting Of Union

Dr. Clarence Heer, professor of economics, will speak tonight at 7:30 o'clock to members of local 264 of the Textile Workers of America. His subject will be "Our Present Tax Structure."

Members of the local which represents strikers at the Erwin Mills will be in the audience to take part in the third of such forums conducted by the local chapter of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare. As is customary, a question and answer period will follow the speech.

James Street, Professor Louis Kattsoff, and the Rev. William Poteat are scheduled to speak on these programs in the near future.

Sports Staff Meets

There will be a meeting of all members of the Tar Heel sports staff this afternoon at 3:30 in Horace Williams lounge of Graham Memorial.

Committee to Pick Fashion Models Today

Fifteen models for the Valentine show to be sponsored here February 14 by the Carolina Independent Coed Association will be selected this afternoon from 3 until 5:30 o'clock in the Roland Parker lounge of Graham Memorial.

Judging Today

Approximately 45 coeds selected by dormitories and sorority houses will be judged, and from these will come the 15 models to be used in the show. Out of the three girls entered by each house, one will be chosen. Three girls

Figures Show Total Amount Given In Drive

Campus Tops Quota For March Of Dimes

Final figures on the University March of Dimes drive which ended Thursday night, January 31, show $1,326.10 has been contributed, topping Carolina's $1,000-quota by $326.10, it has been announced by Trudy Walton, chairman.

The Delta Psi's who turned in double the amount contributed by any other organization, will be entertained by the Alpha Delta Pi's, winning sorority, at a supper Sunday night, February 10, at 5:30 p. m. Lewis Dormitory, highest contributing boy's dorm, has been invited to an informal dance Saturday, February 16, by Carr Dormitory, winning girl's dormitory.

The most spectacular story behind the drive is the winning of Lewis Dormitory with their contribution of $165. When Lewis residents read last Tuesday's Tar Heel and saw their zero status, they decided to do something about it. Bill Brown, Norman Pless and others got to work and, before the next 24 hours had elapsed, had over $150.

Everett deserves more than honorable mention for contributing more than $100. Jim Tatum served as chairman, and by personally contacting every person in the dormitory collected the $105.68 which gave them second place in the campaign.

The first classroom contribution on record was made during the past drive when W. A. Olsen's English 44 class voted unanimously to make a contribution to the drive. Although everyone had given at least one other time, a total of $3.31 was collected from the 20 members of the class.

A large hunk of the quota was sliced off the day before the drive closed when coeds were stationed at the cash registers in Lenoir Hall to relieve those in line of any small change they might have. The noon to 2 p. m. shift collected $93.70 while the evening group brought in $30 from those who hadn't contributed before. Collection girls were Betty Cheatham, Jean Heafner, Elva Warner, Evelyn Shields, Janet Jolly, Jean Thompson and Camilla Ray.

March of Dimes Contributions

| | Total | Average |
|-----------|----------|---------|
| Delta Psi | $ 45.00 | $3.21 |
| ZBT | 22.00 | 1.69 |
| ADPi | 15.20 | 1.01 |

Graham Talks To Students

President Speaks About Atom Bomb

Dr. Frank Porter Graham, president of the Greater University of North Carolina, will speak at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning in Memorial Hall, and all classes at that hour will be dismissed so that students and faculty members may attend.

Title of Dr. Graham's address will be "Universities and Scientific Mechanisms in the Great Transitions of History, From the Compass to the Atomic Bomb."

Tomorrow's program will mark a revival of Carolina's pre-war quarterly student-faculty convocations featuring an address by the president of the University. Plans are to hold one such meeting each quarter.

Chancellor R. B. House will be in charge of the convocation and will make a short introductory talk before presenting Dr. Graham. The entire program will last approximately one hour, in time for students and faculty to make their 12 o'clock classes, Chancellor House said yesterday.

All students are urged to attend the convocation tomorrow. Dr. Graham's address, which has been prepared in great detail, should be of special interest to students and faculty members alike.

Phi Will Discuss Anti-Strike Bill

Moving into a field of national interest the Philanthropic Assembly will discuss a bill favoring the passage of the Case Anti-Strike Bill, which is currently being discussed in the House of Representatives, at its regular meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Outgoing speaker Jack Lackey will inaugurate A. B. Smith as new speaker of the assembly.

The bill to be discussed tonight was introduced into the national Congress by Representative Case, a Republican from South Dakota, and will probably be supported by most Republicans and a large bloc of southern Democrats. It authorizes the establishment of a federal mediation board to help settle disputes and ban strikes and lockouts during a cooling off period of 30 days.

Montgomery, Burke Named To Positions

Executive Council Members Selected

Jim Booth was elected president of the June graduating class by a majority vote on the first ballot at yesterday's senior class meeting. Lib Schofield and Bill Crisp were the other candidates. Booth took charge of the meeting after the announcement of the election results, relieving Walt Brinkley, chairman of the elections committee of the student legislature, who had been conducting the class meetings up to that time.

For vice-presidency, Mag Burke was elected in a close runoff with Fran Bleight; the former receiving 53 votes to the latter's 48.

Meadie Montgomery was elected secretary of the class, defeating Gerry Smith in the runoff 68 votes to 40. Cornelia Alexander defeated Marge Pullen 51 to 41 for treasurer.

Elected to the class executive council were Lib Henderson, Lib Schofield, Marge Pullen, Bill Walston, Ed Emack, Fran Bleight, Mary Hill Gaston, Gerry Smith, Viola Hoyle, and Ida Prince.

Booth is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity and Delta Sigma Pi, commerce fraternity, as well as exchequer of the Grail, a member of the honor council, and a former president of the University Veteran's Association.

Playmakers Present 'Chimes Of Normandy' Friday And Saturday

Thirty Carolina students are cast in "The Chimes of Normandy," a comic opera to be produced jointly by the Carolina Playmakers and the University Music Department in Memorial Hall Friday and Saturday nights, at 8:30 o'clock.

Co-directors are Douglas Hume, assistant professor of dramatic art, and Paul Young, assistant professor of music.

A 25-piece orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Young and composed of students and faculty, will furnish music for the production of Robert Planquette's opera.

The role of Serpolette, the mischief-maker, will be sung by Phyllis Sullivan, New Bedford, Mass., and understudied by Lynn Williard, High Point. Alice Summers, Rogersville, Tenn., is cast as Germaine, the lost Marchioness, understudied by Betty Butler, Savannah, Ga.

John Bridges, Asheville, sings the role of Henry, Marquis de Corneville; and Ed Easter, Lexington, is Jean Grenicheux, a fisherman. Gaspard, a miser, is played by Andrew Griffith, Mount Airy.

Town Girls' Picture

The Town Girls' Association will have their picture taken tonight in Roland Parker Lounge at 7:30 p. m.
