TAR HEELING: The last two athletic men to leave Woolen gym last night were Coaches Ben Carnevale and Pete Mullis. They had sent the White Phantoms through their last workout before the payoff—namely the game tonight with Maryland at 7:30 o'clock.

For Carnevale and Mullis, and of course the Phants themselves, this game tonight is the climax of two seasons' work, work that so far has netted them 48 wins and nine losses and one Southern conference championship.

Tonight, the Tar Heels will be defending, while last year at this time they were the underdogs. This means a lot, for teams win a lot easier as underdogs than as favorites. The pressure will be on the Carolina five—rather 10 men—when they walk out to face the Old Liners.

Maryland gave the Phants a close call up there a few weeks ago, but as Smith Barrier said in the Greensboro Daily News yesterday, Maryland won't be allowed to bring their court along, a court which is somewhat smaller than regulation. With this in mind, we consider it going out on no limb to pick Carolina in the opener tonight. It may be close, but we'll stick with the Phantoms.

STATISTICALLY SPEAKING of the Tar Heels: At the end of the regular playing season Carolina has set two new records, one in scoring and another in the number of total wins. Last season's 1,340 was a record to that date, and this year the Phants piled up 1,647—a new mark 533 points better than the best count before last year.

This was only the fifth time in the history of the school that Carolina had won more than 20 games in a regular season, and the most ever won—26. Only the 23-0 record in 1924 beats the one for 1946, and the next closest one came in 1935 when the Phantoms won 23 and lost only two.

SOMETHING TO WATCH: Carolina's Monogram club is slated for increased activity, according to reports from president Jack Zimmerman and the meeting held Tuesday night.

Some big doings are in store for this weekend, and added social functions are expected to be forthcoming. Keep your eyes on the boys with the monograms. They've got big plans!

FOOTBALL IN FEBRUARY? Nothing less was the case as the men of Carl Snavelly held a full game scrimmage session with Doc Newton's boys from Guilford college over Greensboro way.

Charlie Justice, the boy to watch in the Carolina backfield, was sent in and on his first play he scampered off tackle 66 yards for a touchdown. He was taken out then, his workout complete! (Explanation: The former Bainbridge back was on the semi-ailing list.)

JUST BITS OF NOTHING: Dick (Lt.) Jamerson, swimming coach before entering the Navy, was through Chapel Hill this week. He is reportedly on his way to Texas now but is expected to be back at Carolina by the beginning of next quarter. . . . Jule Medwin, who coached the boxers to the SC crown, leaves this week for destinations north.

Carolina Wins Grid Contest From Guilford

Tar Heels Score Three Touchdowns

By Carroll Poplin

Coach Carl Snavelly's gridders used a powerful ground attack to romp over Guilford College by the score of 20-0 in a scrimmage game yesterday afternoon in Kenan Stadium.

A 66 yard run by Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice, Asheville's prize gift to the Tar Heels, netted Carolina's first score and highlighted the 60-minute scrap. Justice, running in the T formation, went off tackle and weaved his way through the Quaker secondary and raced down the sidelines for the six pointer. Mike Rubish added the extra point.

Coach Doc Newton's Quakers opened strong and pushed deep into Carolina territory as the results of a passing exhibition put on by Art Faircloth, former State tailback. Guilford reached the Tar Heels' seven yard line before the Snavelymen took over on downs.

Billy Britt, another Asheville product set up the second Carolina score when he swept right end for 15 yards down to the eight yard line. Walt Pupa, who played for the Tar Heels back in 1942, hit center for a first down on the six inch line. Guilford's husky line held for two plays until Pupa ploughed through center for the tally. Bob Cox converted the extra point.

Oscar Webster, freshman griddler from Elizabeth City, registered the Tar Heels' final marker in the closing minutes of the game.

The starting line-up for the Tar Heels was as follows: Rubish and Powell, ends; Hazelwood and Marczyk, at tackles; Golding and Varney, guards; Young, center; Warren, Camp, Hartig and Kennedy, composed the backfield.

Carolina stayed to the ground in yesterday's informal game and ran from both the T formation and the single wing. Not a single pass play was tried all afternoon.

Plans Being Made To Resume Meets

The Southern conference is pushing plans, it was learned here today, for the early resumption of championship meets in track, tennis, and other sports suspended during the war.

"We are definitely to go back to the Southern Conference Indoor Games next winter," said R. A. Fetzer, Director of the Open Invitation meet held here Saturday, "and there is a chance that we may have a Conference outdoor meet this spring."

The Conference track committee, of which Col. H. M. Read of V. M. I. is Chairman and Mr. Fetzer is a member, will take a mail vote of the members soon, and the final decision will be made in late March or early April.

Mr. Fetzer said he understood that the Conference is also planning a similar vote on the question of a tennis tournament this spring. He did not think there was much chance of reviving the golf tournament yet, although "we hope several members will be able to have teams again."

Campus Visitor

Evan Farber, for six years a student here, is spending this week on the campus. Farber is working on a doctor's degree at Princeton University.

Dekes Record Scoring Mark

70-Point Margin Is Season High

DKE's cage squad trounced ZBT, 80-10, in intramural competition yesterday and by doing so established a season record high for a victory margin.

Mural records showed that the 70point lead was five points better than the previous high set by Marines No. 2. No records were available on games of previous years.

Leading the Dekes, Fred Deans became the day's high scorer with 29 markers. The win also cinched a second-place tie for frat division laurels.

ROTC 4th company remained undefeated in the dorm league by trouncing Aycock, 48-18. Schultz swept scoring honors with 15 points. The ROTC quint remains tied with Marines No. 2 for the dorm championship.

-- BRIEFS --

Rain Hampers Spring Training in Florida

New York, Feb. 27.—(UP)—"Called because of rain" seems to be the theme song tonight of major league ball clubs training in Florida.

An all-day downfall washed out Cincinnati's opening practice game at Tampa, cancelled a doubleheader for the Cards at St. Petersburg and prevented intra-squad play for the Cleveland Indians at Clearwater.

Pro Golfers Arrive In St. Petersburg

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 27.—(UP)—The nation's top golf professionals arrived in St. Petersburg today in preparation for tomorrow's opening round in the $13,000 open.

Included in the arrivals were Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson, Ray Mangrum and defending champion Sammy Snead.

Late arrivals felt that the housing situation, made doubly acute by the presence of the St. Louis Card training squad, probably will prove much tougher than the St. Petersburg golf course.

Penn State Grid Card Announced

State College, Penn., Feb. 27.—(UP)—Officials at Pennsylvania State have announced a nine-game football schedule for this fall. State opens October 5th against Bucknell and closes November 29th against the University of Miami. Other schools listed on the schedule are Syracuse, Michigan State, Colgate, Fordham, Temple, Navy and Pittsburgh.

Baseball Squad Will Report Today

Coach Bunn Hearn will call a practice for the entire baseball squad this afternoon at 2:30 on Emerson Field. The veteran baseball coach is expecting a turnout of over 100 diamond prospects.

The pitchers and catchers have a two-day jump on the rest of the squad since they started drilling last Tuesday.

Coaches Hearn and Myers put the hurlers and catchers through a long workout period yesterday and seemed well pleased with the prospects.
