Duke Blue Devils Open Grid Drills

Spring football practice got under way at Duke University yesterday, and around sixty candidates turned out for the sport.

It marked the beginning of Coach Wallace Wade's return to active coaching at Duke. Wade—who served as a Major in the Army during the war—doesn't yet know just what kind of team he has in the making for next fall.

Among the holdovers from 1945 who reported for workouts yesterday were Kelley Mote, all-southern end; Roland Hodges and Bettis Herlong, tailbacks; and Al McCaully and Fred Palladino, fullbacks.

Two 1945 lettermen—who are counted on for a lot of service next season—were absent from practice because of registration for their next summer's courses. These were Ed Austin, end; and Ed Perini, guard.

A number of the former Blue Devil players—who saw action in the war—were among yesterday's reporting group—including Big Clyde Redding, guard on the 1941 Rose Bowl team which lost to Oregon State.

A 24 game baseball schedule for Coach Bunn Hearn's 1946 diamond team was released yesterday afternoon by Chuck Erickson, assistant athletic director.

The slate opens with Michigan State here on March 25th and another game with the Michigan crew on the following day. Another newcomer on the schedule is Ohio University, who the Tar Heels meet on home grounds on April 2. The Navy contest will be staged on April 13 at Annapolis.

Instead of the Ration League, which has been functioning during the war, a Big Four league has been set up including Carolina, Duke, Wake Forest and State College. Play will start on April 17th for the Tar Heels and each team will play each other four times.

With less than three weeks remaining before the opening game of the season, Coach Bunn Hearn is wasting no time in preparing his diamond team for the initial tilt with Michigan State here on March 25th.

The vet baseball coach sent his large squad through a snappy two hour workout session yesterday afternoon. The group of diamond aspirants were again divided into two squads after which a lengthy batting practice was held.

Coach Bunn Hearn announced yesterday that Henry House has been added to the coaching staff and will handle the "B" team duties. Coach House has just completed a successful basketball season as mentor of the Jayvee team. Coach Hearn was still undecided whether a junior varsity team would be organized.

After the hitting session, Coach Bunn drilled his infield and was well satisfied with the progress of the team. Red Hughes and Jim Hayworth reported for workouts yesterday. Hughes is a regular shortstop back from last year, while Hayworth is a veteran of the 1942 team.

All Spanish students are invited to attend a meeting of the Asociada Espanola tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Roland Parker Lounge of Graham Memorial. Eduardo Bello will furnish the entertainment. Those interested in joining the Spanish society are requested to contact Sara Wood.

Varsity Cage Squad Taking Week's Rest

McKinney Still Nursing Cold

Varsity basketball was at a virtual standstill at Carolina yesterday, and it will remain so until sometime next week, according to Coach Ben Carnevale, who said that he is giving the Tar Heel cagers a good long rest before they get back to work preparing for the National collegiate tournament March 21 in New York.

Bones McKinney, star pivot man, still is ailing slightly with a cold, but the six, six veteran hardwood performer will be ready for practice by the time drills are resumed.

Carolina just Tuesday afternoon received and accepted the bid to the N.C.A.A. event, having already refused the bid to the National Invitational tourney over a week ago because it conflicted with the final examination period. The Tar Heels reportedly got the N.C.A.A. bid last week before the SC playoffs also and refused to accept until after the tourney.

Elsewhere in state basketball circles, Duke is still waiting in hopes of receiving one of the two remaining bids to the Invitational games, but as the Tar Heel went to press no further information was available.

The North Carolina state high school cage finals will be held here Friday night at 8 o'clock between Greensboro and Durham, finalists last year.

Tom Young Takes Position At WCTC As Football Coach

Tom Young, head football coach at Carolina 1943 and presently employed as an assistant coach, has accepted the position as head coach in football and baseball and instructor in physical education at the Western Carolina Teachers college, it was revealed yesterday.

Recently discharged from the navy, Young will report for his new assignment on Monday.

Young starred in football and baseball at Carolina from 1925 to 1928. Later he coached at Smithfield, Pembroke and Monroe and was at Lexington high from 1930 through 1941. While at Lexington his football teams won 92 games out of 100.

Young has been aiding the Carolina football team in their spring workouts which was concluded last week.
