Connally Tells Senate Reds Want No War

Senator Stresses Close Cooperation

Washington, March 12—Senator Tom Connally, whose name has been associated with the United Nations Organization since its inception, told the senate foreign relations committee that he was convinced that Russia does not want another war. Admitting the present tension in our relations with the Soviet Union, Connally said of Russia: "Those who want peace must not commit acts that tend to provoke war." Russia, he says, is entitled to any form of government she wants but these rights, Connally adds, "do not extend beyond her boundaries."

To improve our relations with Russia, which Connally says is the only cornerstone for future peace, the Senator from Texas suggests periodic Big Three or Big Five meetings to smooth away the friction before it reaches explosive stages.

House Gives China Surplus Naval Ships

Washington, March 12—The House has approved a bill to transfer 271 surplus Naval ships to China. House Naval Affairs Chairman Carl Vinson of Georgia says all the ships are destroyer escorts or smaller.

Landon Criticizes British Oil Pact

Wichita, Kansas, March 12—Alfred Landon has criticized the Anglo-American oil agreement. The 1936 Republican candidate for president told the Kansas oil men's association today that the agreement could lead to an international commission fixing the price of every gallon of gas used by Americans.

UNO Security Council Postpones Meeting

New York, March 12—Benjamin Cohen of Chile, assistant attorney general of The United Nations Organization in charge of public information, announced today that the meeting of the Security Council has been postponed from March 21st to March 25th.

Hoover to Survey European Famines

Washington, March 13.—The Honorary Chairman of the Famine Emergency Committee—former president Herbert Hoover—will leave New York next Sunday on a food-survey tour of Europe. He says he may extend his five-week travel program to include a visit to India but does not know yet whether he will go to China.

Spaatz Emphasizes Need of Alert AAF

Washington, March 12—The new Army Air Force Commander General Carl Spaatz, says an alert peacetime air arm will be the nation's best insurance against a surprise attack. Spaatz also says the air forces should enjoy equal status with the Army and Navy if it is to be fully effective.

Greater UNC Charges Vets Highest Fees

Trustees Authorize Out-of-State Rates

All three branches of the Greater University were authorized by the executive committee Board of Trustees Monday to charge all veterans attending school under the G. I. Bill of Rights the same tuition fees as those for out-of-state students.

Fees for out-of-state students, although higher than those for North Carolinians, do not amount to the $500 maximum tuition the government will furnish for each veteran's schooling per year. The higher rates, however, will apply to both native and out-of-state veterans, a practice which committee members said had been authorized by the Veterans Administration.

Rates Given

Rates charged here are as follows: $200 for law, $300 for public health, $185 for pharmacy, $175 for library science, $216.52 for medicine and $6 a quarter hour for other studies.

The committee also authorized the borrowing of $175,000 from the escheats fund to pay for extending heating and sewage facilities to the five new dormitories.

Union Features Movies Denouncing Life of Negroes

Negro affairs will be the theme of three short movies to be shown in Graham Memorial lounge tonight at 7:30. Director Martha Rice stated that Blackie's Candlelight Club in the Grill will also be open for dancing and refreshments after the movies.

A ten-minute reel entitled "George Washington Carver" will briefly review the life of the renowned colored scientist who started life as a slave, and became one of the leading benefactors of southern farmers.

"Negro Colleges in Wartime" will show the activities of four negro institutions during the past few years, including scenes at Tuskegee Institute and Howard University.

A simple, dramatic, and deeply moving tale of a family of southern Negroes will be depicted in the 15-minute film "Let My People Live." The last movie, "Henry Browne, Farmer," relates the story of a negro farmer's part in winning the war.

Town Girls Elect Executive Council

Elections to the town executive council will be held on Thursday, March 14, in the TGA room. Emily Tufts, town president, announced today. The polls will be open from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Those who have been nominated to the executive council are Hope Finley, Evelyn Hamberger, Frances Poythress, Alice Lee Merritt and Felicia Camm.

Runoffs for the position of treasurer of the TGA will be held at the same time.

It is hoped that all coeds living in town who are eligible to vote this election will do so.

Elvira, the first wife of Charles, who comes back in spirit to haunt him and his second wife, is seen here—but definitely not as a spirit!

Elvira is played by Jean McKenzie (above) of West Palm Beach, Fla., and Charles (right) is portrayed by Leroy Love of Asheville, in the Carolina Playmakers' production of the Broadway hit, Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit" which will open a four-night run in the Playmakers Theatre tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

Interfraternity Council Elects Whit Osgood as New President

Sigma Nu to Fill Position Until June; New Initiation Regulation Is Approved

Whit Osgood, Sigma Nu, was elected president of Interfraternity Council since he is right to fill the place of Walt Brinkley who resigned.

Osgood will serve until June when a regular IFC election will put a new slate of officers in power. The IFC constitution has been interpreted to let the word "term" mean a school year. For this reason only Osgood was elected instead of a complete slate.

The council passed a regulation requiring each pledge to have 25 hours of academic credit, 10 of which must be C or above, before initiation. This rule will not affect present pledge classes but will be applied to all future pledge groups.

All house and dining room chairmen were requested to plan a meeting in the near future to discuss mutual problems and to plan more efficient operations. Pete Pully, IFC secretary, is in charge of this meeting.

Under the sponsorship of Chesterfield cigarettes, the answer will soon be known. Five cartons of cigarettes will be awarded to the five correct answers to the identity of Smo.

Students with answers to "Who Is Smo?" should follow these instructions for the contest:

1) Just write your answer to the question "Who Is Smo?" on a piece of paper giving your name, address, and phone number.

2) Enclose your answer in a sealed envelope addressed to "Smo" and leave it at the Daily Tar Heel Business office before 3 p. m., Friday, March 15.

3) Five cartons of Chesterfields will be the prizes in the contest. If no one guesses the true identity of Smo, a carton of Chesterfields will be awarded to each of the five people submitting the most original answers.

Winners of the contest, as well as the answer to the identity of mystery man Smo will be published in Saturday's Daily Tar Heel.

Playmakers Open 'Blithe Spirit' Run

Noel Coward Farce Commences Tonight In Playmaker Theatre at 8:30 O'clock

Noel Coward's fantastic farce, "Blithe Spirit," opens tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the Playmakers Theatre for a four-day run as the Carolina Playmakers' fourth major production of their 28th season, with LeRoy Love as Charles, the husband tormented by the blithe spirit of Jean MacKenzie as Elvira, in a cast of seven.

ROTC Ball Is Scheduled

March Graduates Honored by Dance

First classmen and their dates will step through a giant life preserver Saturday night at the ROTC graduation ball given by the second class for the graduating group.

Roy Cole and his orchestra will play for the semi-formal program dance which will feature the theme, "Farewell Carolina," in honor of approximately 35 ROTC members who will be commissioned as ensigns and report for active duty after graduation. Dancing will continue from 9 until 12 o'clock in the Armory.

Daily Tar Heel Stops Publication Saturday

Saturday morning will mark the final appearance of the Daily Tar Heel for the winter quarter and publication will be resumed on Tuesday morning, March 26. All articles, notices, and announcements about activities next week must be brought to the Tar Heel offices in Graham Memorial today or tomorrow in order to be published this week.

Alumni Office Supplies Data On Students Since 1795

A letter from "Lt. John Jones" comes to "Spike" Saunders in the Alumni Office from somewhere in Japan, telling of his war experiences, of frequent reunions with other Carolina boys "out there" and of his plans to come back to Carolina when he is discharged. After "Spike", alumni secretary and Alumni Review Editor, has answered the letter personally, it is given to the office force who find "John Jones" in the card files, list his class, hometown, the years he attended school here, and his degree, if he received one, in preparation for a news item about him in the Alumni Review.

Later the letter is filed in the "lieutenant's" personal folder which contains essential data (newspaper clippings, letters and other information) on "Jones". The Central Alumni Office, located in the Carolina Inn, is a supply station for information on all students who came to the University. And from the time Hinton James, the first University student, registered in 1795 records have

Other leading roles are taken by Lois Warnshuis as Ruth, Charles' present wife in flesh and blood; Marion Tatum Fitz-Simons as Mme. Arcati, a spiritual medium; Elinor Martin as Edith, the maid; James Geiger and Betty Butler as Dr. and Mrs. Bradman, friends of Charles.

Fitz-Simons Directs

"Blithe Spirit" is directed by Foster Fitz-Simons who also directed "Murder in the Cathedral" this year, which played to a packed house every night. Mr. Fitz-Simons joined the staff of the Carolina Playmakers in the fall of 1942 as designer. Since he has been at Carolina, he has directed "Iolanthe," "Twilight Zone" (an original play he wrote in collaboration with Tom Avera) and "The Gondoliers."

Mr. Fitz-Simons' work as designer has covered about 16 major productions, his latest setting being the one for "The Chimes of Normandy." He has also acted in Forest Theatre productions and played Kurt in the Playmakers' production of "Watch on the Rhine."

Mr. Fitz-Simons received his A.B. degree in dramatic art from the University of North Carolina in 1934. For four seasons after that he toured the United States, England, Canada and Cuba with Ted Shawn and his Fitz-Simons troupe.

States and South America with Miriam Winslow as a dance team. Costumes for "Blithe Spirit" are executed by Irene Smart. The scenery is designed by the Class in Staging Methods under the supervision of Robert Burrows, and the lighting is designed by W. T. Chichester. John Bridges is the stage manager.

IRC Elects Morris To Club Presidency In Sunday Meeting

In the final meeting of the winter term held Monday night in Graham Memorial, Joe Morris of Miami, Fla., was elected president of the International Relations Club for the coming term.

Gay Morenus of Atlanta, Ga., was named vice president and program chairman; Betty Anne Greene of Lake City, S. C., secretary; and Ed Davenport of Nashville, N. C., treasurer.

Morris is a former Army flier and completed a tour of bombing missions in the European theater. He appointed the following committee chairmen: Membership, Bob Jones; Publicity, Sophie Saunders; Social, Jane Slaughter; and Constitution, Russell Johnson.

The retiring president, Gloria Chapman, was cited by Morris for capably leading the IRC during the organization's adjustment to peacetime normalcy and
