Hawaii, Coast Suffer Damage Of Tidal Wave

More Storms Awaited; Ocean 'Quake' Is Cause

San Francisco, April 1—Nature apparently hasn't given full vent to her fury and today's series of tidal waves may be followed by a bigger and more destructive one tonight. The first waves, caused by an underwater earthquake south of Alaska, swept over a four-thousand mile arc from Hawaii, through Alaska and the Aleutians, to the western coast of the United States. The Coastguard in Hawaii, where the storm was the fiercest, has warned all residents to take to higher ground. They predicted that the second waves would hit around seven o'clock E-S-T tonight, but there have been no further reports as yet. The latest unofficial casualty figures put the toll from the disaster at 38 dead and three missing.

One Year Draft Stay Asked by Patterson

Washington, April 1—Also on Capitol Hill, Secretary of War Patterson has carried his fight for draft extension to the people. Patterson appealed tonight in a nationwide broadcast (M-B-S) for support of a one-year extension of the Selective Service Act. He says that would make it possible to discharge all fathers from the Army, and to limit service of selectees to 18 months. Earlier today, Patterson appeared before a House Committee to urge a 20-percent pay boost for military and naval personnel, which, he says is necessary to attract enough of the right kind of volunteers.

UNO Security Council Finishes Routine Work

New York, April 1—In New York, the U-N-O Security Council Committee of experts has completed its work on routine rules of procedure. The report will be presented to the council when it reconvenes Wednesday. The delegates discussed, but abandoned, the idea of holding a special meeting tomorrow to consider the rules. Russia is taking part in drawing up the rules.

Iran Premier Supports Persian UNO Delegate

New York, April 1—Iranian Premier Ghavam has thrown his full support behind the case presented to the U-N-O against Russia by Iranian ambassador Hussein Ala. The Premier has sent a message to the Security Council saying that Ala has been, and continues to be fully accredited and qualified to represent the matter before the Council.

America Will Appoint Argentine Ambassador

Washington, April 1—A State department spokesman says the United States will again send an ambassador to Argentina.

Announcement of the appointment will be made later in the week.

U. S. War Bases in Cuba To Be Returned Soon

Washington, April 1—Secretary of State James Byrnes in a formal note to Cuban Ambassador Belt, tonight announced that the United States is returning all the U. S. bases built in Cuba during the war.

Valkyries Announce Annual Sing Contest

Regulations Given for Competition; Entrants Asked to See Marge Pullen

All organizations on the campus have been invited to participate in the annual Valkyrie Sing, which is to be held at 8 p. m., Sunday, May 19, in Memorial Hall. This year's version of the yearly event sponsored by the girls' honorary society is expected to be more elaborate than any produced in the past, according to Margie Pullen, chairman of the Valkyrie Sing for 1946.

Lighting technicians will be available to help the organizations plan their stagings and a rehearsal time of 30 minutes can be arranged with the use of lights. In order to eliminate duplications, the groups are asked to submit their ideas to Margie Pullen at the Pi Phi house as soon as possible.

Judges to Be Named

The three judges for the affair will be announced later. Entrants will be judged on the point system for harmony, stage presence, and originality in staging. Loving cups will be presented to the winners of the mens and women's groups.

The following rules must be observed:

1. There shall be a minimum of eight persons in a group. Each member must sing and not be merely a part of a pantomime. Each participant must be an active member of the organization he represents. No alumnae or outside help will be allowed.
2. Pantomime is allowed, but no dances or dialogue.
3. Accompaniment is permissible.
4. Performances shall be limited to 6 minutes.
5. A maximum of $5.00 may

Seniors To Meet Today in Gerrerd To Discuss Plans

President of the senior class, Jim Booth, has announced that the class executive committee has called a special meeting to be held today in Gerrard Hall at 5 p. m. Plans call for a discussion of all senior activities at this meeting. Senior Week, the Senior dance, and the class finances are all to be discussed. Class rings may also be ordered during the meeting.

Booth has suggested that as many of the class members as possible attend the meeting. "The only way we can get anything done is to have a good turnout," Booth stated.

The senior class consists of those expecting to graduate this June. Booth was elected president last quarter at a mass meeting of the seniors. Active members of the executive committee are, besides Booth, Mag Burke, Corney Alexander, Fran Bleight, Ida Prince, Lib Schofield, Marge Pullen, and Meadie Montgomery.

Companies to Send Representatives Here

Miss Annabelle Cook, women's vocational advisor, has just returned from a trip to New York where she conferred with personnel representatives on job opportunities for graduates. Many of the companies contacted have agreed to send representatives here in late spring to interview graduates.

J. Wadsworth Gets Position

Will Be in Charge Of Housing Needs

J. E. Wadsworth, class of 1934, has been added to the staff of the admissions office and will be directly in charge of the housing for the University, Chancellor House announced yesterday.

All housing will be handled through the admissions office by Wadsworth in an effort to bring under one man the entire housing situation. The housing service previously rendered by the YMCA will be taken over, and also, dormitory rooms will be assigned by the admissions office. Information on housing facilities in town will be available through this office.

Wadsworth is a veteran of the Pacific theatre where he served in the navy as a recreation and education officer. Before going into the service he was teaching in the Durham high school and also coaching football and boxing. He boxed in the heavyweight class when he was an undergraduate.

Today Marks Deadline For Grad Invitations

Today will be the final day on which orders for senior graduation invitations will be taken. Orders may be placed at the Y today from 9 until 12 o'clock and from 3 until 5 p. m. and no cash deposits will be taken at this time.

Girls in Smith To Entertain Vets Tonight

Open House in Return For UVA Hospitality

All University Veterans are invited to be the guests of the coeds of Smith dormitory tonight at an open house program to be held in the Candlelight Room of Graham Memorial at 8:30 p. m., Marie Holman, Smith hall social chairman has disclosed.

The affair is a return engagement to the open house sponsored by the University Veterans Association in honor of Smith dormitory last Wednesday night. The Candlelight room will be completely turned over to Smith for the affair, and student proprietor of the establishment, Eddie Black, stated that any other organization, not having entertainment facilities, may book the room for week nights.

Highlights of the affair will be a chorus line, vocalists, specialty numbers, and "two extra-special surprise artists", stated Miss Holman.

Chorus Line Slated

Starring in the chorus line will be Jo Ann Miller, junior from Cleburne, Texas, Page Hogg, third year student from Beckley, West Virginia, and Marie Holman, of Jackson, Mississippi.

Sweet and "blues" numbers will be sung by Barbara Lynn of High Point, and Teenie Thomas, Tampa, Florida, and another added feature will be the boogie piano playing of Vic Crittenden.

Honor Code Faces Drastic Revisions By Legislature Act

A heated session was held last night at the first meeting of the student legislature acting as a Constitutional Convention last night. Most of the evening's discussion was held on a motion made by Wally Murchison that the provision in the proposed constitution which calls for the establish-

Zone Committee Rejects Vets' Building Program

Navy Veteran Sought Pritchard Avenue Location for Apartment House Building

By Dick Koral

The zoning committee of the Chapel Hill board of aldermen has turned down the request of J. A. Crawford, native of Chapel Hill, and Navy veteran, to permit building of an apartment house on Pritchard Avenue near Carr Street, which is in an "A" building zone "island," where apartments are forbidden. Action of the Committee last Friday followed refusal of the residents in the zone to permit the reversion of their zone to "B" status.

Convocation Hears Craig Tomorrow

Dr. Hardin Craig, visiting professor of English since 1942, will address a convocation Wednesday morning at 10 a. m. in Memorial Hall on the subject "A North Carolina Renaissance."

Dr. Craig began teaching at Princeton University in 1903, and taught at the U. of Minnesota, U. of Iowa, and Stanford University before coming here.

At the present time he has two books in preparation: "A History of 16th Century English Literature" and a "Bibliography of Renaissance Studies."

In 1897, at Center College, Dr. Craig received his A.B. degree. He took his A.M. and Ph.D. work at Princeton and in 1922 received an honorary doctorate from the U. of Padua in Italy.

Dormitory Rooms Asked For Dramatic Festival

Over 200 high school and college students are expected to attend the annual Dramatic Festival April 4-6. Housing accommodations are urgently needed for these visitors. University students living in dormitories who expect to be away Thursday, Friday, or Saturday, and who are willing to rent their beds to the visitors are asked to notify Mrs. Verna McDermott (phone 3216 or 4251) today.

Pin-ups

Dick Adams, Pi Kappa Alpha, has pinned Doris Nunn, ADPi.

A group of veterans had canvassed the area requesting home owners there to permit the building in view of the critical housing shortage and the fact that the apartment would be built on the last remaining lot in the area suitable for apartment construction. The canvassers met with almost complete opposition.

Reasons Given

The committee, at last Friday's hearings, then turned down a request by Mr. Crawford, representatives of the American Veterans Association and members of the newly formed American Veterans Committee chapter to grant special permission to build. Reasons given were (1) that the majority of the people in the area opposed it, (2) that the addition of one apartment house won't solve the housing problem, (3) that the veteran problem is temporary but that the residents would have to live in the area all of their lives, (4) that the apartment house would lower real estate values, and (5) there are other places in "B" zones in which to build.

Private Building

The veterans had asked that the committee take the initiative in encouraging private capital to build in Chapel Hill, and that the problem of zoning be applied taking into cognizance the expansion of Chapel Hill with the expansion of the University, which in the long run will result in rising real-estate values, a phenomenon that is very marked already.

Debaters to Begin Tryouts Thursday For Army Tourney

Tryouts for the second West Point debate tournament will be held in the Grail Room, Graham Memorial, Thursday, at 7:30 p. m. The debates which are conducted April 13 and 14 at West Point are on the query: Resolved: That the United States should adopt universal military training as a permanent peacetime policy. Schools which will attend besides Carolina are Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Ohio State, Iowa, Navy, Pennsylvania, Penn State, Temple, and West Point.

The Carolina team will be composed of two male undergraduates who must be able to debate both sides of the query. Students participating in tryouts must give a five minute speech on either side of the query.

All expenses will be paid by the Debate Council and excuses will be given from classes missed. Further information concerning the tryouts and the debates may be obtained from Dr. Woodhouse, who will accompany the team, or Dave Pittman.

Collection Containing World War I Material Presented by Bowman Gray Is Now on Exhibit

By Agatha Adams

An extensive exhibition drawn from the distinguished Bowman Gray Collection of World War I materials has just been set up in the lobby and halls of the Library. This collection was presented to the University in 1942 by Bowman Gray, Jr., of Winston-Salem.

The display will continue through April 19, and will therefore be open during the sesquicentennial Celebration. It is especially timely just now because Dr. Carl Pegg of the History Department and some of his graduate students are engaged in investigations of the propaganda techniques used during World War I, a study made possible by the possession of this collection.

The exhibition consists of some of the more colorful and interesting materials drawn from this really impressive collection, the research resources of which are a constant surprise and delight to those who have become familiar with it.

Beautiful Posters

There are many large and beautiful posters in the languages of the Allies as well as the enemy; among these the French ones are especially notable for their artistic design and coloring.

There are bronze medals struck in honor of such events as the Battle of the Marne in September 1914, and the landing of the United States troops on April 25, 1917; a large collection of United States Divisions insignia; and, strangely mocking in their irony, hundreds of mint-new German and Austrian victory ribbons, pictures of armed men and rejoicing crowds printed on strips of pale and gaily colored silk.

Albums filled with photographs, grouped according to such subjects as prisoners of war, camp life, the campaign along the Oise, supplement the important pictorial record of the War contained in the important three volume "Grosser Bilder-Atlas des Welt-Krieges," and French works of a similar nature. Cartoons of the War are represented not only by many fugitive examples, but also by the fine Century Edition de Luxe of Louis Raemakers' "War Cartoons".

Interesting Stamps

There are many albums of stamps issued during the war, both by the Allies, and by Germany and Austria. Included in the exhibit also are specimens of books issued especially for the troops offering an illuminating record of the interests of the period.

All of these materials on display have the color and special interest requisite to draw attention, but they as a matter of fact offer only a very meager sampling of the richness of the Bowman Gray Collection.
