

Briefs From UP Tidal Wave Effects Most Devastating

New Wave Off Alaska; Chileans in Panic

A Navy plane, flying over the icy Bering Sea, north of Alaska, reports that another wall of water is surging toward Bristol Bay in Alaska. Women and children are being evacuated by plane from a fishing village in the path of the new wave. Another tidal wave has struck Dutch Harbor, the naval base in the Aleutian Islands, causing only slight damage. Waves, five feet higher than normal, have been pounding the California coastline since early morning.

The effects of the tidal wave, caused by an earthquake in the Gulf of Alaska, have been felt 10,000 miles away on the coast of Chile.

Inhabitants of the Chilean coast fled inland in panic late today when the ocean suddenly receded hundreds of yards from the shore. But the expected tidal wave failed to materialize.

Effect in Hawaii

Hawaii has begun the heart-breaking task of trying to clean up after the worst disaster since the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Red Cross officials say the damage wrought by yesterday's massive tidal wave has turned out to be much worse than expected in some areas. Property damage is conservatively placed at $20,000,000. The death toll in Hawaii has reached 79, and at least 51 persons are known to be missing. A state of emergency has been declared in the Islands. A short while ago, a Navy seaplane—one of scores of search ships—sighted three men and one woman clinging to floating timber off the shores of Hawaii. The plane landed to pick them up but was swamped by the heavy seas. Finally, an Army tug boat arrived, and took everyone aboard.

Iran, Russia Draft Reply to UNO Notes

A dispatch from Tehran reports that Iran's Premier Ghamam and his cabinet are drafting their reply to the UNO Security Council inquiry. American, British and Russian diplomats have held repeated interviews with the premier during the day. The Russians are reported trying to persuade Iran to word its reply similar to the one being drafted in Moscow. This is the first hint that Moscow is preparing a reply, and it has not been confirmed from any other source.

Deadline for the Russian and Iranian replies is eleven a. m. tomorrow, when the Security Council re-convenes in New York. So far, there's been no message of any kind from either nation.

Russo Starts To Keep Promise To Leave Iran

Russia has started to keep its promise to evacuate Iran. Official dispatches from northern Iran report that the first Russian troops already have crossed the Iranian border into the Soviet Union. These official reports, from both Iranian and British sources, reveal that Red Army troops are embarking on transports at a Caspian seaport, and also are moving overland into Russia from the Russian garrison at Meshed, 500 miles east of Tehran. Iran says a considerable number of Red Army troops still remain in the country.

CAROLYN BOWMAN

CHARLES STEVENS

Bowman and Stevens to Play For Student Recital Tonight

Event Is Planned for Hill Hall at 8 P. M.;
Program Will Be First in 1946 Student Series

By Liz Barnes

Carolyn Bowman and Charles Stevens will present a joint piano recital tonight at 8:30 p. m. in Hill Music Hall. Both students are juniors, majoring in piano under Professor Jan P. Schinhan, and their program is the first of the student series for the year. Miss Bowman will present two sonatas by Scarlatti and several selections by Chopin. Mr. Stevens will give "Sonata in D Major" by Mozart, "Prelude in C" by Prokofieff, and "La Plus que Lente" by Claude Debussy. Included in the program will also be solo works from the pens of Daquin, Graun, Albeniz, and other composers of the last 300 years. Miss Bowman and Mr. Stevens will conclude their program with a two-piano performance of "Variations on a Theme by Haydn" as written by Johannes Brahms.

Miss Bowman, from Shelby, N. C., has made several previous appearances in recitals on the campus and is a teacher of junior piano. She is accompanist for several vocal and instrumental students of the music department. Previously, Miss Bowman studied with Edwin Hughes of New York City and Walter Spry of Converse College.

Senior Class Okehs Senior Week Details

Executives Appointed;
Committee Formed

The Senior class voted approval yesterday afternoon of plans for Senior Week activities slated for May 20-25, elected Fred Bauder and Nookie McGee to fill vacancies on the executive committee and voted a $3.25 class fee for all June graduates.

Senior Week Chairman Dot Carmack outlined the program as follows: Monday, May 20—introductory meeting with talk on tradition and movie on a previous graduation; Tuesday—possibly "barefoot day" and election of alumni officers and superlatives; Wednesday—student-faculty softball game, swimming party in outdoor pool; Thursday—senior banquet in Lenoir Hall; Friday—senior picnic; Saturday—dance.

President Jim Booth announced that persons other than seniors may attend the activities provided they are escorted by seniors. He said there will definitely be a Junior-Senior this year and that it may come off at the end of Senior Week.

Booth also stated that graduation invitations may be secured in the Y until noon Friday. Senior rings should be ordered from Cal Warren at the Delta Sigma Pi house at once, since it will take at least six weeks for them to get here, he said. Booth also urged seniors to make sure they pay all fees due the University and clear any incompletes soon.

The $3.25 fee voted on themselves by the seniors includes See SENIOR WEEK, page 4

Pittman Will Be Installed Tonight As Di President

Tonight at 9 o'clock David Pittman will be inaugurated as president of the Dialectic Senate, at which time he will outline his policies for the present term in his inaugural address.

Pittman has called for an executive session tonight at 8 o'clock. Every member must, according to the constitution, be present at an executive session. The executive session will be over before 9 o'clock, and visitors are welcome at the regular meeting in the Di Hall on the third floor of New West.

CICA Spring Hop Scheduled For April 13

The annual spring dance of the Carolina Independent Coed Association will be held Saturday night of next week, April 13, from 9 until midnight in the Woman's Gym, Evelyn Davis, CICA president, announced yesterday.

Playing for the event will be Bill Minter and his orchestra from Durham. Minter heads the aggregation formerly under the baton of Jimmy Fuller, orchestra leader popular on the campus until he left the outfit last fall.

Bids To Be Given

Bids for the dance will be distributed to dormitory CICA membership chairmen at the organization's meeting tonight. They may be secured by independents from the chairmen. President Davis stated that any independent wishing to join CICA and attend its dance may do so by contacting their membership chairman. A list of these will be published in the Daily Tar Heel this week.

Dance chairman for the semi-formal affair is Mary Hill Gaston, who will send an open invitation to the Veterans Association to attend. Theme of the decorations will be "April Showers."

Tombstones, Flying Baseballs Don't Bother Residents of Model Trailer Camp Near Gym

By Darley Lochner

In spite of tombstones on one side and flying baseballs on the other residents of the trailer community between Alexander Hall, Woollen Gym, the baseball practice field and the Negro cemetery are smugly content with their life, especially as compared with quarters in dormitories and town.

Lack of running water was first on each list of complaints. Solution to this problem will be reached when the permanent trailer camp is set up on Pittsboro Road. Until that time trailerites will use plumbing and bathing facilities in nearby

Alexander Hall. They are forced to carry their cooking and drinking water.

Housekeepers were unanimous in praising the ease in which a trailer is kept clean and were eager to demonstrate the tricky gadgets and sliding panels in their homes.

Underneath various pieces of furniture and built into the walls are ingenious drawer and storage areas. Wayne and Helen Boyles use the space under their bed for a collapsible baby crib which is pulled out each night, trundle style, for their infant son. Judy, wife of George Gooch, army veteran and ac-

Convocation Hears Dr. Craig Today

Noted English Professor Talks at 10;
North Carolina Renaissance Is Subject

Dr. Hardin Craig, who believes that a renaissance will occur in North Carolina by the diligent application of sincere, intelligent work, will speak at the first convocation of the spring quarter this morning at 10 a. m. in Memorial Hall. He will be introduced by Chancellor House.

Dr. Hardin Craig who will deliver the convocation address in Memorial Hall this morning at 10 a. m.

All 10 o'clock classes will be cancelled so that all students and faculty may attend.

Despairing of the BMOC, social lion, and politician type of college student, Dr. Craig guarantees success to any college man who will work intelligently because the world is ready to pay for efficiency.

Dr. Craig came here in 1942 from Stanford University and is the visiting professor of English. He has taught at Princeton, Minnesota, and Iowa. The thought for Dr. Craig's address came from a new article that reported the veterans in school are making much better grades than civilian students of either sex. Dr. Craig believes it may be possible that the men who fought to save their country may be willing to work to save its morals and intellect.

Constitution Is Considered

Solons Grind Out
Changes in Plan

The Student legislature met last night in Gerrard Hall in the second of a series of meetings to discuss the proposed constitution for student government. Another meeting is scheduled for tonight at 7:30 p. m.

An amendment was introduced and passed which limits the power of the legislature to collect fees to a maximum of $20 for a full four quarter year unless a majority of students voting, with at least 50% participation, elect to increase the amount.

Miss Mann introduced a motion to abolish the women's inter-dorm council, but the motion failed.

A motion by Charlie Vance to require a two-thirds vote of the legislature instead of three-fifths to override a presidential veto was carried, thus providing for a more effective executive.

Men's Interdorm Council, in the proposed constitution, is now composed of only the president of each dorm with the appointed counselor of each dorm acting See CONSTITUTION, page 4

Dorsett Resigns Position as Head Of Veterans Group

Blount Stewart has taken over the duties as president of the Veterans' Association upon the resignation of Dewey Dorsett. Dorsett made his resignation known at a meeting of the executive committee Monday night in Graham Memorial.

Stewart will head the organization until elections in May. Dorsett, president since December, resigned because of academic difficulties, it is reported.

Stewart has been secretary for two terms, treasurer for one term, and vice president during this term. He was appointed delegate to state student legislature by the veterans, a member of the board of governors, and has been active in all phases of the organization.

New Vet Enrollment Breakdown Released

Seven hundred and forty-three new veterans, with a few more still to be counted, have enrolled for the spring quarter, according to figures released by Mr. Shepard, veterans advisor.

Thirteen of the veterans are women and 44 of the 178 married veterans have children. In previous quarters the air force veterans have been in the majority but now the ground force has taken the lead with 294 vets. Air force veterans now number 234. The navy follows with 215.

Student Union Undergoes Repairs

Due to extensive repair work and redecorating Graham Memorial will not sponsor any major social functions for the remainder of the week, announced director Martha Rice.

However, the Candlelight Room will be open for refreshments and dancing every night and Frolics will be held in the Room this Friday night from 9-12 o'clock.

Dogs Too

Dorothy and Chapman Wooten sport a special magazine rack attached to the wall. Peggy, the toy terrier belonging to Mary and Bill Elam has her own special built-in bed in the Elam trailer. Mary laughingly explained, "It's a good thing Peggy isn't a Great Dane." See TOMBSTONES, page 4
