Truman Lists Three Needs For US Power

Secret Service Seize Three Men

Chicago, April 6.—President Truman issued a solemn warning today that war can happen again. And he made use of the backdrop of Army Day to plead once again for measures to make America militarily strong in order to defend the peace in the atomic age. Speaking at Chicago's Soldier's Field this afternoon, Mr. Truman told the huge crowd—"Next time, if there must be a next time, we are likely to be the first target." He then listed three so-called "essentials" for a powerful America. One—prompt unification of the armed forces, two—extension of the draft for another year; and three—adoption of universal training to prepare America for war.

In urging the necessity of universal training, Mr. Truman departed from his text to warn—"Now, even in an election year like this, no one should play politics with the national safety."

This apparently was a reference to congressional opposition to Mr. Truman's universal training plan.

Shortly after his speech the President held a press conference for 100 high school news reporters, during which time he told the boys and girls that he believes the vote should be given to 18-year olds.

Other Army Day speakers have echoed the President's words. In Chicago General Eisenhower and Secretary of War Patterson both have asked for a strong army for a strong peace. And tonight in New York General Omar Bradley urges Americans to shun what he calls "the primrose path" of military unpreparedness, and to recognize that for the time being at least national security rests with a strong system of national defense.

Truman Threatened

Secret Service agents and police assigned to guard the President seized three men as Mr. Truman moved about Chicago today. One man is identified as Curt Apel. Chicago police say he sent "bothering and threatening" letters to the President.

Shooting Star Flies In New Record Time

Los Angeles, April 6.—A silver-colored Shooting Star plane swooped down through the mist and drizzle late this afternoon to set a new Seattle to Los Angeles flight record. Two hours and 14 minutes was the elapsed time for the 960-mile flight. Piloted by Captain Mack Mitchell, veteran of more than 150 combat missions, the jet-propelled Army plane averaged more than 450 miles an hour as it and another P-80 roared through poor flying weather down the West coast. The new record clips 39 minutes from the previous best time set by a B-29 Superfort in 1945.

Hard-to-Get Goods Said To Flow Soon

St. Louis, April 6.—Reconversion Director John Snyder says that the nation is, to quote him, "On the threshold of a tremendous spurt in output of all the things we can't get now." Snyder, who has returned to his home town of St. Louis to address an Army Day dinner, says that shortages of consumer dur-

Seniors Set Week to Pay Class Fees

Senior Week Expense Money To Alleviate

Members of the executive committee of the senior class will begin this week to contact all seniors to collect the class fees voted on themselves by class members at a meeting last Tuesday.

Each senior is expected to pay $2.25 to alleviate expenses of Senior Week activities slated for April 20-25 and for other class needs for the remainder of the year.

An additional $1.00 payable to the Alumni Association as dues for the coming year will be collected at the same time, but the class voted this should be optional since many veterans are at present members of the association.

Canvass Plans

Plans for the canvass were made at a class executive meeting Friday, when collectors were named for every dormitory and sorority and fraternity house.

Town girls will be contacted through the Town Girls Association, it was decided. Men living in town will pay their fees at a Y booth to be set up at a later date.

Urged Cooperation

Class President Jim Booth urged members of the class to cooperate fully by paying their fees as soon as possible. Collection of money in the manner voted by the class will eliminate the necessity of charging individuals.

Classes To Be Held Next Friday As Usual

According to an announcement from the administration classes will be held as scheduled next Friday, contrary to a rumor prevailing over the campus this week.

Previously some programs related to Sesquicentennial activities have caused classes to be called off, but this will not be the case next Friday.

Basketball Team to Get Party Monday Night at Student Union

By Jo Farris

Champions all, the University of North Carolina's White Phantoms, will be the guests at a banquet Monday night given by Graham Memorial at 7 p. m. Physical education officials and team managers will also be present at this honor banquet.

No ordinary run-of-the-mill banquet fare would do for these outstanding boys, so barbecue will be imported from Pully's in Kinston, plus all the trimmings. Another import, Eddie Woodell from Raleigh, will provide entertainment in the form of pantomimes, humorous stories, imitations, and song and dance routines after the banquet. The Carolinians will entertain during the meal.

Martha Rice, GM director, will welcome the boys, then depart, for this banquet is to be a strictly stag affair, with the GM

KAPPA SIG PINUP—Marguerite Murray of High Point is the first attractive coed to be picked by the Kappa Sigma fraternity to act as the organization's pinup of the month. Miss Murray is a member of the Chi Omega sorority.

IFC Cautions Fraternities

Rushing Is Out Until September

Since a motion to withhold all rushing until next fall term was passed by the Interfraternity council, leaders of that organization warned against possible violations of rules during the term.

The motion was that the rules committee of the IFC shall formulate all rules with the plan of rushing again this fall when the September term begins.

A review of the rules was listed by president of the council, Pete Pully. They are: no eligible rushee can visit any fraternity house; no eligible rushee can be entertained at a meal either at a fraternity house or any other place; no eligible rushee can be entertained at a fraternity sponsored social; no discussion of fraternities shall take place between

Mayor Madry Makes Appeal For Housing

Urges Citizens To List Rooms

With a record University enrollment of 4430, the village is more crowded than ever, but University and town authorities are making special efforts to alleviate the housing situation.

"All citizens who can possibly spare a room for rent for students are urged to do so," Mayor R. W. Madry said in an appeal today.

He praised the project being conducted by the Community Council which is making a survey to determine how many additional rooms in Chapel Hill may be made available to students.

The council is composed of representatives of the Ministerial Council, the American Legion and Auxiliary, the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs, and the Lions Club of Carrboro, Veterans Association, Merchants Association, Kings Daughters, D. A. R., and the Women's Business and Professional Club.

Clarence Oakley, president of the Kiwanis Club, is chairman of the group. Plans for the survey were made at two meetings held recently.

Students Go Home

"Some students, who didn't have quite enough perseverance, have returned to their homes because they could not find a room, and many others will be turned away in the months to come unless more rooms in town can be made available," Mayor Madry said.

"The trailer camp being set up now, the prefabricated government houses expected soon, and the five dormitories that are to be constructed as soon as materials and labor are available will alleviate the situation but they will not come anywhere near solving the housing problem unless in the meantime many more homes are open to students," he said.

The Mayor said that citizens who can get spare rooms for rent, without inconveniencing themselves too much, will be making a valuable civic and patriotic contribution.

He also stressed the view that rental prices, regardless of the demand, should be kept within reasonable limits. "There have

Constitution Study Continues Monday In Gerrard Hall

Legislature members will reconvene Monday night at 7:30 in Gerrard Hall to continue examination of the proposed campus constitution.

Articles I and II were passed at meetings last week after a great deal of dissension and a few changes.

Charlie Fulton, holdover member of the legislature, has been presiding officer of the meetings. Monday's meeting will be fifth in a series destined to study the document.

All students interested in the proposed constitution are urged to be present at the meetings next week in Gerrard Hall.

University To Award Largest Number Of Honorary Degrees on Saturday

The concluding and climactic event of Carolina's eight-year-long Sesquicentennial celebration will take place Friday and Saturday when more than 250 delegates from colleges and universities and 150 from learned societies from all sections of the country come to Chapel Hill to join in the University's program.

JOHN WALKER

Forty-two honorary degrees, the largest number ever presented by the University on any one occasion, will be awarded Saturday morning in Memorial hall following addresses by President Edmund E. Day of Cornell University and President Frank P. Graham of the University of North Carolina. Other widely-known speakers to address the delegates include Governor R. Gregg Cherry and John Walker, chief curator of the National Gallery of Art in Washington.

Governor Speaks

The two day program will get under way with a dinner in Lenoir Hall at 6 o'clock Friday night, at which Governor Cherry will be the speaker. Attending this event will be the delegates, University Trustees, recipients of honorary degrees and members of the Legislative, Alumni and University Sesquicentennial committees.

The dinner will be followed at 8 o'clock by a concert by the University Symphony Orchestra and Mr. Walker's address, both to be held in Hill Hall. Concluding event of the Friday program will be a special exhibition of American painting and a reception in Person Hall. Mr. Walker will talk on American painting.

Saturday's program will begin with a colorful academic procession at 10 o'clock, leading to Memorial Hall. There President Day will speak on "The Mobilization of Education in a Free Society" and President Graham on "A Look Ahead." Dr. William M. Dey, the University's chief marshal, will present each of the delegates. The concluding event will be a luncheon at Lenoir Hall at one o'clock.

Conclusion

This weekend's celebration will be the concluding event of a number of ceremonies held since 1939 in commemoration of the founding of the University. The historic incidents around which the ceremonies have largely centered were the granting of the charter of the University by the General Assembly at Fayetteville on December 11, 1789; the laying of the cornerstone of Old East on October 12, 1793; the

Unique Concert Planned Tonight In GM Lounge

"The Song Shoppe" with Ed Easter as proprietor will be presented tonight at 9 p. m. in the main lounge of Graham Memorial. The program, sponsored by the student union, will feature music from various popular masters and also some semi-classical numbers.

The theme "old music for new" will be used. Gwen Hughes, Rex Coston, and Alice Tip Summers will act as musical salesmen, rendering selections from Jerome Kern, Cole Porter, George Gershwin, and other popular composers. Several numbers taken from Rudolf Friml's operettas and from Broadway shows will be presented.

Sasser to Play

Bill Sasser of Sound and Fury will be special guest artist on the mock radio broadcast. Sasser will present a new composition in addition to some of his older ones.

Martha Rice, union director, cordially invites all students to attend tonight's variety musical show.

Deke Returnees

Eight members of DKE fraternity have returned to school after being in the armed services. They are: Tommy Dill, Bob Wiley, Bill Christenson, Soupy Campbell, Booky Jabine, James Brawley, Muir Lyon, and Reid Thompson.

Campus' Best Looking Man to Be Revealed

The name of Carolina's most handsome man will be announced in the Daily Tar Heel next week.

Every girl's organization has completed voting for its choice among the twenty-three candidates and the lucky man will be revealed next week.

The winner will be featured in the pinup section of the May Mag and will receive free gifts from local merchants. Included in the gifts will be tennis balls from the Carolina Sport Shop, two meals from the Porthole, three 8 by 10 portraits from Wooten-Moulton and two tickets to the Carolina Theatre.
