The Dekes handed the Phi Kappa Sigmas their first defeat of the season by scoring a 6-4 victory over the league-leading softballers. The Phi Deltas No. 2 team trounced the ATO's 8-3. The SAE second team registered a 7-3 decision over St. Anthony Hall. The Zeta Psi's stayed in the running for the loop crown by putting on an eight-run splurge in the second inning to defeat the SAE No. 1 team 9-8. The PiKA's grabbed a close 8-6 verdict from the Sigma Nu's.

In the one tennis match of the afternoon, the Betas outplayed the Phi Kappa Sigs.

Bones McKinney Leaves 'Hill' To Accept Post In Winston

It was only a month ago that the campus received the news that Coach Ben Carnevale had accepted a coaching post at Annapolis and now Horace "Bones" McKinney is the latest addition to the faces that will not appear on Carolina's hardwood next fall.

A story released through Winston-Salem yesterday said that McKinney has accepted a position in the personnel department of Hanes Hosiery Mills and is scheduled to report in June.

McKinney, the six foot giant that lead the White Phantoms to the N.C.A.A. cage championship, who has another year of eligibility, will end his long college career and will join the company's squad as a player.

McKinney, a Durham High product, said he was forced to leave Carolina because of financial reasons. He was quoted as saying, "I have a wife and son depending on me, and I've found it almost impossible to meet my obligations and continue in school."

The aging king of the court has already dropped out of school it was learned.

McKinney came to Carolina just after basketball season started last year after having played at State College before the war.

Trackmen Prep For IC4A Meet At Annapolis

Nine Carolina Men Enter in Carnival

Carolina's cindermen are priming for the I.C.4A. carnival at Annapolis Saturday, with nine Tar Heel trackmen carrying hopes for individual honors in the Eastern Intercollegiate event.

Carolina will place entries in the mile, two-mile, javelin, dashes, hurdles, high jump, pole vault, broad jump, and 440 events. The Tar Heels will have their strongest entries in the hurdles and longer distances, where the trackmen have been picking up consistent first places all season.

In the mile run, Carolina will enter Mark Burnham, from Shelburne, Mass. Burnham has taken four events in meets this season, with an individual score of 27 1-7.

Walter Francis, from Hopedale, Mass., will run in the longer two-mile run for the Tar Heels. Francis has 10 1-4 points for the season, for several second and third places.

Henry Gifford, from Globe, Ariz., will be the Carolina entry in the javelin throw. Gifford picked up three first places, until declared ineligible in Southern Conference competition.

Ted Haigler, from Sanford, will carry Carolina hopes in the dashes. Haigler has one first, three seconds, and 2 thirds, for a season total of 16 1-2.

In the pole vault, Carolina will enter Hank Hickman, and Norman McLeod, both of Sanford. McLeod has picked up 18 points this season, with four firsts, while Hickman has garnered 14 1-3 points with two firsts, two seconds, and one third.

Two hurdlers will carry the Tar Heel colors in the I.C.4A. classic, Chuck Simmons, of Charlotte, and Dick Taylor, of Raleigh. Simmons is the high individual scorer for the trackmen, with 76 points, while Taylor has 19 points, with five seconds, two thirds, and one fourth.

Laddie Terrell, from Raleigh, will be a Carolina entry in the dash and broad jump events. Terrell has copped a season total of 20 1-4 points, with two firsts, two seconds, three thirds, and a fourth in the Southern Conference meet.

The Carolina trackmen will end their season on June 1, with the running of the annual Invitational A.A.U. Track and Field meet. This meet will be open to athletes throughout the state by invitation.

DiLorenzo Fans 13 Men In Hurling Seven-Hitter

Outfield Flies Drive Home Two Runs As Locals Whip Fort Bragg Visitors

By Bill Woestendiek

A two-run rally in the last half of the eighth inning gave Carolina a 3-1 win over a First Army nine from Fort Bragg on Emerson field yesterday afternoon behind the seven-hit hurling of Vin DiLorenzo, who struck out 13 visitors in a tight pitching duel.

The soldiers had scored a single run in the top of the eighth to tie up the game and the freshman lefthander started the winning rally for the home club promptly in the latter half of the frame when he opened it by drilling a single to right center.

Hackney Hit by Pitch
Bo Hackney was hit by a pitched ball thrown by Duke Duperron, advancing DiLorenzo to second. Rip Ryan then laid down a pretty bunt which he beat out to load the sacks.

Bill Webster came up to hit for Charlie Cole and blasted a long fly to right, scoring the Tar Heel slinger. Hackney raced to third on the same play, and came in to tally the final run when Harry Beason hit a long fly to deep centerfield.

Both pitchers hurled excellent ball for the first five innings, neither side making the semblance of a threat, and a few scattered infield hits were the only blows off either pitcher.

Single in Sixth

Hackney opened the sixth by lining a single to left. Ryan sacrificed, and the Carolina leftfielder held second while Cole was being thrown out, third to first. Beason followed with a hard grounder to short, and when Smith let the ball get through him, Hackney came in to score the first run of the game.

The way the New Jersey southpaw was tossing, it seemed as if that single score would be the margin of victory until the soldiers evened matters in the eighth.

With two out, Gaines singled to center. He then stole second base and came home on a drive to left by Tassie.

DiLorenzo kept the visitors at bay with the exception of the eighth and hurled a steady ball game. Duperron also hurled good ball for the losing nine.

Ryan was the only Carolina man to hit safely more than once, singling in the fourth and eighth frames. The game was played in a hurry, taking only 95 minutes.
