Railroad Strike Stalls Nation's Carrier Lines

Negotiations Fail As Country Crippled

Washington, May 23—At two minutes past four this afternoon the first nation-wide railroad strike in 20 years took effect. From coast to coast came the word—"All services have been cancelled, the strike is on."

An eight-hour White House conference on the crisis broke up tonight with leaders of the two striking unions still defying President Truman's settlement proposal. But presidential aide John R. Steelman said he "hoped" the nation-wide train strike could be ended tomorrow.

Steelman's faintly-optimistic statement was the only glimmer of hope in what otherwise was the blackest day of Mr. Truman's year-old presidential career.

No Program

Union and management representatives who sat in on the bitter White House meeting agreed on just one thing—they had made no progress.

Another meeting was scheduled for tomorrow morning when Steelman will try again to get the heads of the trainmen's and engineers' unions to agree to Mr. Truman's compromise plan, which has been accepted by the 18 other railway brotherhoods and the railroad management negotiators.

Plan Rejected

When the conference broke up shortly before 8 p. m. (EST) it was confirmed officially by all concerned that the two unions had rejected Mr. Truman's plan unequivocally.

The effect of the rail strike on other industries is already becoming apparent. A spokesman for the coal industry tonight says if the trains remain at a standstill another 24 hours, the nation's coal mines will be forced to shutdown.

University Veterans Required to Report To Vet Administration

All veterans now enrolled in the University, both those under Public Law 346 (GI Bill) and P. L. 16, are required by the Veterans Administration, according to instructions just received by the University from the VA, to report to the Veterans Administration Education Offices during Friday, Saturday, and Monday, May 24, 25, and 27.

Place: NROTC Armory.

Hours: 8:00 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. including Saturday, May 25.

Each veteran must know his C-number. Unless a veteran reports so that his training status may be determined, subsistence checks may be suspended until his status has been re-established.

Frosh; Sophs Get Refunds from Yack

Freshmen and sophomores who paid $1.50 to the Yackety Yack for class picture space will have their money refunded upon receipt Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Yack office.

Students subject to the refund are requested to bring their receipts with them in order to prevent duplication in refunding. In case all refunds are not made Friday afternoon, another opportunity will be given next week. The exact time to be announced in the Daily Tar Heel.

Ray McKinley Signed To Play For German Finals

Finals to Last Only One Day, Says Tomlinson

Concert Scheduled To Precede Dance

Ray McKinley, ace hideman famous for his Dixie beat, will bring his eight-to-the-bar drumming and vocal classics to Carolina on June 5 when his orchestra furnishes the tempo for dancers at German Club Finals.

The local appearance will be the third for McKinley, but his first as a leader. He was here in 1941, with Jimmie Dorsey and returned the following year with Will Bradley.

One Day Finals

Carroll Tomlinson, newly elected president of the German Club, announced yesterday that German Club Finals this year will last for only one day. McKinley will play for a public concert Wednesday afternoon from 4:30 to 6 o'clock, and Wednesday evening for a formal dance in Woollen gym. The dance, from 9 until 1, is open only to members of the German Club.

Career Familiar

McKinley's career is familiar to all who have followed the bogie antics of Will Bradley's orchestra and trio. He appeared with Freddie Slack in such Bradley hits as "Down the Road A Piece," "Scrub Me Mamma," and "Beat Me Daddy Eight to the Bar." Since he became a leader, his "Hard Hearted Hanna" has made musical history.

Raikes Slinkard, Murfreesboro, Tenn., as Valere and Betty Butler, Savannah, Ga., as Isabelle, the leading roles in the Carolina Playmakers production of "The School For Husbands."

"The School for Husbands" At Forest Theatre Tonight

Moliere's Comedy To Have Three Day Run Production Given By Carolina Playmakers

Colorful costumes, an orchestra, songs, dances and plenty of laughs are featured in the Carolina Playmakers production of "The School for Husbands," directed by Samuel Selden and Foster Fitz-Simons, which opens in the Forest Theatre tonight at 8:30 for a three-day run.

Leading roles are taken by Sam Hirsch as Sganarelle, Betty Butler as Isabelle, Raikes Slinkard as Valere, Lynn Leonard as Lisette, David Hooks as Ergaste, Hazel Harris as Leonor and James Geiger as Ariste.

Featured dancers in the ballet interlude, "The Dream of Sganarelle," are Foster Fitz-Simons and Betty Butler.

Tom Reynolds Holds Concert Here Saturday

When Tommy Reynolds brings his orchestra to Carolina for the Junior-Senior dance and public concert Saturday, students will hear one of the most versatile leaders of a nationally known band.

An accomplished artist on the clarinet and alto sax, Reynolds also handles the violin with outstanding skill. Although he began his musical career with a violin, Reynolds stays with his clarinet and sax at public performances, saving his stringed instrument for personal enjoyment.

Reynolds will make two appearances in Chapel Hill. He will play in a concert tomorrow afternoon from 4 to 5:30 at Memorial Hall, and tomorrow night for a semi-formal dance for juniors and seniors in Woollen gym.

Tickets to the Reynolds concert may be obtained at the YMCA or at Memorial Hall preceding the program. Juniors may obtain their bids at the YMCA today by paying the $2 assessment if this has not already been paid. The Senior class has also made arrangements for distribution of bids.

This will be Reynolds' second visit to Chapel Hill, he having played for the Junior-Senior set in 1944.

Reynolds' orchestra includes seven brass, five saxes, and four rhythm. Helen Lynn is vocalist with the band.

Student Party Polls Second Highest Vote

Run-off Scheduled To Be Held Monday

By Jo Pugh

Tabulation results of the major ballot of Tuesday's elections show that 11 University Party men, eight Student Party men, and four independents received the highest number of votes.

Students will vote Monday in the run-off between Bill Crisp

Graduate Nominations

Nominations for the graduate representative to the Men's Council must be turned in to Jean Huske, at the Yack office or at Archer House, by 3 o'clock this afternoon.

and Dewey Dorsett for president of the student body; between Bill Woestendiek and Robert Morrison for editor of the Daily Tar Heel; between Tookie Hodgson and Eddie Allen for member-at-large to the Publications Board; and between Joan Miller and Sandy Sanders for fifth place as women dormitory representative to legislature.

UP Men Lead

University Party candidates came out on top in the race for editor of the Carolina Magazine and the Yackety Yack, candidates Fred Jacobson and Gene Johnstone winning over Betty Anne Green and co-nominees.

Registration Is Open Only Two More Days

Registration for the first term of summer school has been very slack during the first four days. Out of an expected 2500 only 1400 have registered so far.

Students have until noon Saturday to register, but already many of the basic courses are nearly closed out.

All students are urged to register as soon as possible because there will be no other chance until June 13th. General college students who wait until then will have to pay a late registration fee.

Senior Class Picnic Scheduled for Today At Hogan's Lake Site

Seniors attending this afternoon's class picnic to be held at Hogan's Lake will meet at 4 or 5 p. m. in front of the Y. Two trucks will leave at each of these hours. Two will also leave the lake to return to Chapel Hill at 11 and 12 p. m.

Les Hinnant, chairman of the arrangements, says that hot dogs with all the trimmings will be served. Seniors attending must present their class cards. Non-senior guests will be admitted free.

Senior President Jim Booth announced yesterday that seniors will be admitted to the prom Saturday night on presentation of their class cards.
