

EDITORIAL:

- Trailer Court Troubles
- Students Support OPA
- "Our Town" Review

The Daily Tar Heel

THE ONLY COLLEGE DAILY IN THE SOUTHEAST

VOLUME LV

United Press

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SATURDAY, JULY 13, 1946

Editor: F-3146 — Business: 8641

NUMBER 9

NEWS:

- Trailers and Houses
- Vet's Eviction
- Livingston, Mason Concert

Trailer Camp Area Will Be Enlarged

Plans Provide 50 Additions Engineers Repeat Former Procedure

The University's trailer park on the Pittsboro highway is having to be extended because of the many applications for space. In the last few weeks, more and more married veterans have resorted to trailers for living quarters because of the housing crisis.

50 Additional Trailers

The University's present plan is to provide space for 50 trailers in addition to the 42 now in the park. Most of the extension will be southward toward West University Drive, with a few trailers being placed near the west edge of the lot and near the north edge toward the fraternity houses.

The extension will necessitate the construction of a second utility house containing lavatories and clothes-washing facilities. This will probably be placed between the present house and West University Drive.

Repeating Procedure

University engineers are repeating their procedure of last spring when they laid out the present park. They are making a survey for the purpose of locating electric light lines, water pipes, sewer outlets, and drainage ditches.

An architect is drawing plans for the new house, following the design of the first house.

Lyons Chosen English Head

Succeeds Coffman In Department

Clifford Pierson Lyons has been chosen head of the University English department to succeed George Coffman. He will come to his new post in September from the University of Florida, where he was chairman of the division of language and literature.

The department has been administered by a committee of professors since Mr. Coffman resigned last winter.

Ph.D. at Johns Hopkins

Lyons took his Ph.D. at Johns Hopkins in 1932. From 1930 to 1936 he was an instructor there and was also in charge of public speaking and debating. He is an associate editor of "E. L. H., a Journal of English Literary History," published at Johns Hopkins. For a year he was president of the South Atlantic Modern Language Association.

He went to the University of Florida in 1936. He left there on leave of absence in 1942 to enter the operational and fleet air navigation division of the Navy, and in the course of his service became a pilot. He was recently discharged with the rank of lieutenant commander.

Carolina's streamlined, sun-tanned bathing beauty, Barbara Lynn of High Point, is shown above after she had been chosen "Miss Dixie" in an all-Southern beauty contest held at Daytona Beach, Fla. A rising senior who will return to the University this fall, Barbara will also compete for the title of "Miss America" at the annual Atlantic City beauty pageant.

Tillett, Page Get Y Posts

Sara Tillett, chairman of the YWCA Social Problems committee, and Earle Page, chairman of the YMCA Social Problems committee, have been appointed Co-Chairmen of the Institute of Human Relations for the coming year by the YMCA, succeeding Edith Owen and Douglass Hunt.

The purpose of the Institute, established in 1926 by the YMCA cabinets, is to bring to the campus for a week a series of public meetings and forums, led by people who have won distinction for vision, scholarship, and statesmanship.

"It was felt that such a program would produce an impact upon the social consciousness sufficient to awaken lasting thought on the major social problems of modern society," stated Bill Poteat, YMCA Secretary.

Institute Next April

Annually outstanding guest speakers are obtained to address mass meetings for the purpose of discussing the major social problems of the day. The sponsoring committee is composed of

See TILLETT, page 4

Is An Education Worth All This.

Durham Court Order Forces Eviction of UNC Veteran

George F. Taylor, veteran paratrooper of several Pacific campaigns, was assured yesterday of the complete support of the University Veterans' Association in his fight to retain a garage-apartment in Durham from which the Durham Recorder's court is seeking to evict him. The Daily Tar Heel is in complete accord with the UVA and Taylor, and desires to acquaint its readers with the situation by printing the facts editorially as follows:

This is the still unfinished story of a war hero who has returned to college.

George Francis Taylor, from Richlands, entered the service on February 6, 1943. He received his discharge on November 25, 1945. A member of the 511 Parachute Regiment, 11th Airborne Division, Taylor saw action in New Guinea, Philippines, Leyte, Okinawa, and Japan. He received the purple heart three times, was awarded the silver star for bravery in combat during the Leyte campaign.

Married, Taylor has a two-year-old daughter. He tried to enter the University of North Carolina in January, '46, but couldn't find a place to live with his wife and daughter and was not admitted.

Following an extensive search, Taylor found one room with kitchen privileges at $12 per week in Durham. The 21-year-old veteran moved in with his family and started attending the University here in March of this year.

Taylor's landlady asked him to move so that a relative might come to visit her. The ex-GI moved out, the relative arrived, stayed one week. The landlady rented the room to a single man.

During this time the Taylors became acquainted with Rex B. Jarrell, manager of the Diamond Feed Store in Durham, who lives at 1307 Maryland Avenue. Jarrell had built a new garage with an apartment above it in place of an old garage which had collapsed. The new construction had been approved by the building inspector.

The apartment is located in Zone A in Durham. A city ordinance forbids apartments in Zone A except those for domestic servants. Jarrell made an arrangement with the Pacific veteran that let Taylor have the apartment if he would help maintain the grounds and if Mrs. Jarrell would help Mrs. Jarrell with the housework and her (Mrs. Jarrell's) four children.

Such an agreement was readily acceptable to Taylor, whose main desire was to have a place for his wife and child to live while he attended the University.

The ex-paratrooper, who commutes daily to classes here while living in the garage-apartment, was summoned to the Durham Recorder's court Wednesday as a witness in a case charging Jarrell with a violation of the city building code.

The charge against Jarrell was that of having violated a section of the Durham Zoning Ordinance which states: No building to be used as a dwelling or tenement house shall be constructed or altered in the rear of or moved to the rear of a building situated on the same lot.

BUT, a clause in the same section of the ordinance reads: "These provisions shall not be construed, however, as preventing the erection, alteration, and maintenance of dwelling quarters in connection with an

See VETERAN, page 4

Livingston, Mason To Appear In Piano Recital On Monday

Atom, Price Control Bills Approved by VC; To Write Congressmen

The McMahon bill for civilian control of atomic energy, and a workable price control bill were approved this week by members of the Chapel Hill chapter of the American Veterans Committee. Members of the national committee of the AVC were instructed to write Senators Hoey and Bailey and Congressman Durham to ask their support of both measures.

Chairman Winston Broadfoot was also instructed to appoint a committee to work with other interested campus organizations to develop concerted action in expressing local sentiment for the extension of effective price controls. Reports were given on the widespread distribution of handbills during the week in support of OPA.

See AVC, page 4

Duo Will Present Hill Hall Concert

Herbert Livingston and Wilton Mason, graduate students and instructors in piano, will present a recital of modern compositions for two pianos Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock in Hill hall.

Compositions to be presented, all of which have been written since the turn of the century, include the following: "Prelude" to "Suite for Two Pianos," by Beryl Rubenstein; "Sonata," by Paul Hindemith; "En Blanc et Noir," by Claude Debussy; "Sonata," by Igor Stravinsky; "Les Songes," by Darius Milhaud; and "Tarantelle," by Sergei Rachmaninoff.

Livingston and Mason are appearing in Chapel Hill for the first time since their return to the University after discharge from the armed forces. Both served overseas, Livingston as a lieutenant in the Navy, and Mason as an Army captain.

Non-Returning Vets To Notify CRO

Veterans who are planning not to register for the next term of the summer quarter must notify the Central Records Office (302 South) and the Veterans Administration of their intention to interrupt their training.

Form letters for this purpose may be obtained at the Veterans' Advisor's office in 208 South building.

Upon their return to the University in September or later veterans must notify the Central Records office on VA form 572, giving the address to which they desire that their checks be mailed.

Form 572 can be secured at the Veterans' Advisor's office or 119 Peabody.

The carrying out of this procedure is imperative if veterans wish no delay in the resumption of their subsistence checks upon their return.

University May Get 167 Single Houses

Four-Room Structures for Vets Would Be Built on Mason Road

By Jane Hutson

Information from reliable sources reported that the Atlanta office of the Federal Housing Administration contacted University authorities yesterday to take 167 single houses in place of the 22 apartment buildings that are to be constructed on the Mason Farm Road sometime this fall. The University will not be able to get both groups.

The proposed apartments are to be of the army barrack type and together the buildings will contain 178 individual units, each composed of four rooms. On the other hand, the single houses measure 23 feet by 20 feet and also have four rooms.

Roads Built

Already two roads have been constructed for the convenience of the married veterans and their wives who would live in the apartments. Water and sewerage lines have been finished and locations for the 22 buildings have been cleared.

The difficulty of providing adequate facilities seriously hampers acceptance of the offer of the single houses. Also there is not one-half enough adequate space for their construction, authorities pointed out.

No information as to whether the Atlanta office's proposal will be refused or accepted is available at present.

Work Progressing

University authorities report that although they would probably be able to get more residences for married veterans and provide adequate trailer facilities, they are unable to find convenient locations within walking distance of the University where construction would be possible.

Work on the pre-fabricated apartments now being constructed on the Mason Farm Road shows excellent progress. The apartments are expected to be ready for occupancy in September.

Sears-Roebuck Agent Will See Applicants

A representative of Sears Roebuck will be in Greensboro on July 15, 16, 17 to interview men interested in work as buyers.

Qualifications set up for buyers should include men of two or more years of college work, men under 30 years of age, willing to undergo short training period with salary of approximately $175 a month, and men located in southern territory.

Those interested should contact Mr. Berini, U.S.E.S. office, Town Hall, Chapel Hill prior to 12:00 noon, Saturday, July 13.

Succession Bill Passed By Student Legislature

Notebooks Authorized for All Members; Bill for Summer Adjournment Defeated

By Hill Wolfe

Meeting Thursday night in Gerrard hall, the student legislature unanimously passed a bill fixing the order of succession to the presidency of the student body in the event that both the president and vice-president should ever drop out of school or be incapacitated. The bill provides that if this should ever occur the chairman of the student council would serve as interim president ways and means committee. Another of his proposals was referred to the elections committee. He urged that in future elections, party affiliations of the candidates be printed on all ballots.

Charlie Fulton and Pete Pully spoke against the student council appropriations bill and urged that it be tabled until a later date because of the uncertainty of student council activity during the next year. The bill was defeated by a close vote.

Legislators' Notebooks

A bill was passed authorizing the purchase of 50 notebooks for use by members of the legislature. The legislature also passed a bill in which it recommends to the University that men students be allowed to wear their own swim trunks in the outdoor pool.

A proposal by Al Lowenstein in which he asked that the men's dormitories be equipped with a telephone on every floor was referred to the

Adjournment Defeated
Declaring that the legislature did not have enough business to warrant weekly meetings throughout the remainder of the summer, Charlie Fulton introduced a measure recommending that it adjourn until the opening of the fall quarter in September.

The bill was defeated after Jim Taylor, in a lengthy talk, said, "I cannot see student government voluntarily folding up for six weeks at such a critical period in its fight for recognition."

Education Centers for Vets Increased

State Registration Begins on July 22

By Sally Woodhull

Educational opportunities for veterans and non-veterans alike will be increased this fall in North Carolina by a unique program establishing college centers throughout the state, according to Russell Grumman, head of the Extension division of the University and secretary of the steering committee of the Governor's committee on veterans' education.

Sponsored by the North Carolina College conference and the North Carolina Negro College conference, the program is an attempt to alleviate the over-burdening of colleges in the state by offering courses of first year college level in late afternoon and evening classes.

Statewide preliminary registration for courses in English, mathematics, social science, languages, and natural sciences will be held July 22 and 23 at offices of city and county superintendents of schools. The final number of centers to be established will depend upon results of this registration, but at present it is planned to have "on-campus" centers at nine white colleges and eight Negro colleges, and "off-campus" centers in 17 cities throughout the state.

The Greater University of North Carolina will conduct "off-campus" centers for white students, and several Negro colleges will operate those for Negro students. These centers will, in most cases, be conducted in local high school buildings, with faculty drawn from high school teachers holding masters degrees and other qualified persons in the community. Instructors will be hired on a part-time basis, and their teaching time will be limited, Mr. Grumman said, in order to secure the best quality of instruction possible.

Campus Programs Begin This Fall

"On-campus" centers, which will be conducted by the institutions where they are located, will start with the opening of the fall term at these institutions. "Off-campus" centers will start the week of September 23, 1946. Credits from all centers will be transferable to the institution of the student's choice.

"This is a great opportunity for the literally thousands of veterans who cannot be accommodated by colleges of the state to obtain their first year of college work," Mr. Grumman said. "If the program is successful, it will probably be expanded to provide more advanced courses."