FPHA Sets House Project Rents

Landlords Must Register Rates At OPA Office

Registration of rented houses, apartments, and rooms in Chapel Hill will begin Monday at the OPA rent control office, according to J. Frank McInnis, district rent control executive.

"Every person who collects rent from any living quarters in Chapel Hill must go to the rent control office and register his rental units on a simple one-sheet blank," the executive said.

Landlords failing to comply with the regulation may subject themselves to maximum penalties of a year in a Federal jail or a $5,000 fine.

Continue Until Sept. 1

Registration will continue until Sept. 1 and will be under the supervision of Forrest Pollard of the Durham OPA rent control office.

The office on the second floor of the Henninger building will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. from Monday through Friday.

McInnis said that personnel from other rent control offices will be in Chapel Hill to help in the registration so that those registering may get prompt service.

"It will take less than five minutes to fill out the registration form," McInnis declared. "Just have the information at hand, such as the price the rental unit was renting for on March 1, 1945 and all the services which were offered."

All Must Register

Every person who collects rent from any living quarters in Chapel Hill must register. In cases where the landlord cannot visit the office, let

Tentative Plans Completed For Freshman Orientation

Dewey Dorsett, president of the student body, announced last night that the tentative plans for the orientation exercises for the estimated 800 new freshmen entering Carolina this fall call for a full week of events beginning with their first meeting September 23 and ending with the annual Coed Ball on Saturday night, September 28.

Dorsett said that the real purpose of holding orientation week is "to get new students off on the right foot so that they will see Carolina in the right way." He also said that this will be the first full scale orientation program that Carolina has held since the beginning of the war.

Individual Counselors

"We are trying to put emphasis all through the program on individual counselors. There will be about 40 older students who will serve as counselors. These men will each have groups composed of about 18 men and will hold discussion groups as well as show the students over the campus and answer any questions that they care to ask," Dorsett explained.

The new students will meet for the first time Monday morning, September 23, at 9 o'clock in Memorial Hall and will be assigned faculty advisors. Then they will take their physical examinations and foreign language placement tests. Monday night a dutch dinner will be served in Lenoir Hall.

Graham Will Speak

Frank Graham, president of the University, will give an informal talk to the new freshmen Tuesday morning, discussing Carolina's many traditions and the honor code of the University. He will be introduced by Dewey Dorsett.

The coed and men's orientation program will combine Wednesday night, when the two groups will have a party in the main lounge of Graham Memorial.

Thursday, Dr. Harden Craig, University English professor, will give a general pep talk, emphasizing the academic side of college life from the freshman viewpoint.

Annual Coed Ball

A pep rally for the VPI game will be held Friday night for all students and following the VPI game Saturday will be the Annual Coed Ball, given in honor of the new coeds on campus.

Registration for students other than new freshmen will be held Wednesday and Thursday and classes in all departments will be held Friday morning.

UVATalent Entries Will Close Tuesday

Tuesday has been set as the closing date for entries in the talent contest sponsored by the University Veterans Association. Contest finals will be held Thursday night at the veterans clubhouse and the winner will be awarded an all-expense trip to Roanoke Island to see the Lost Colony production.

All applicants are urged to see Bob Dockham, 407 Grimes by Tuesday to insure their entrance into the contest.

Kenan dormitory has been selected as guest of honor for the contest finals to be conducted Thursday night. In addition to the contest, Scott Gardner's seven-piece combo will play for the dance at the open house.

The open house for Kenan will mark the final dance and open house to be conducted by the UVA for the summer term.

A capacity crowd filled the clubhouse for last Thursday's open house and thrilled to the piano-tickling of Doris Weaver and the singing of Stover Dunagan. Bob Dockman, combining humor with piano playing, acted as master of ceremonies for the occasion.

IRC Will Meet Monday

The International Relations Club will discuss The Zionist Movement during its meeting on Monday at 7:30 o'clock in the Roland Parker Lounge, Graham Memorial.

It is the policy of this club to discuss subjects of international interest to the whole student body, and members of the faculty.

Annual Incomes Determine Scale Of Rental Prices

Veterans will pay rents for the houses on Mason Farm Road according to their yearly incomes, it was revealed yesterday by South Building officials.

Rents will be divided into two groups. For example, couples with an annual income of $1250 and under will pay $18 per month. Those with an income of $1251 to $1400 will pay $21. Incomes of $1491 to $1550 will require $24; $1551 through $1700 a rate of $27. Incomes of $1701 to $1860 will be $30 and from $1861 to $2030, $33 will be paid.

Occupants with yearly incomes over this amount will be required to pay according to the number of bedrooms that are in their apartments. The combined apartment will cost $37 monthly. Three dollars extra will be paid for each bedroom.

Faculty Families

Approximately 15 of the apartments in these houses will be occupied by faculty members and their families. On the 28th and 30th of August, residents of Abernathy Hall will move into the completed apartments. Abernathy Hall will be turned over to house faculty members.

About 65 individual apartments in the houses on the Mason Farm Road will be finished by September 20. Shortage of wall board and other essential materials has slowed down progress on the project.

Pre-Fab Houses

Eight United Kingdom houses, individual pre-fabricated houses built under lend-lease for Great Britain, have arrived. Thirty-two more are expected to be ready for occupancy by the fall term.

These houses will be rented for less since residents will have to pay for oil heat and cooking.

Coal for heating, hot water, and cooking facilities are provided for in the other type houses.

Furniture Provided

The Federal Public Housing Authority provides furniture for the houses. One uniform rate will be charged for these provisions, unless the furniture is for more than one bedroom.

Rental rates, as well as furniture rates, were set by officials from the Atlanta office of the F.P.H.A. University officials have no jurisdiction to name the rents.

Dr. Verne S. Caviness (UNC 1919) of Raleigh has been elected President of the Raleigh Academy of Sciences for 1946-47.

'Y' Court Dance Will Feature Gardner Band

Last Summer Dance Will Be Informal

Scott Gardner's 17-piece orchestra will play for Graham Memorial's "Y" court dance tonight from 8:30 until 11:30 o'clock in the open air plaza between South building and Gerrard hall.

This will be the last Graham Memorial dance of the summer session, Martha Rice, Student Union director said. She also reminded that as usual this "evening of dancing under the blue" will be completely informal in keeping with the warmth of summer evenings.

Gardner has announced a number of new arrangements of the latest popular tunes in addition to a complete selection of the favorite old standbys. He has also prepared several specialties featuring individual members of the band, he said.

The most recent praise received by the Gardner group came from Kay Kyser, famous orchestra leader, when hearing Gardner's swing quartet in the Candlelight room Wednesday night. "It sounds mighty good, boys," Kyser said.

As has been the practice in preceding Saturday night "Y" court dances double breaking will be encouraged. Director Rice urges coeds to attend even if they have no date.

The dance will be held in the Candlelight room in the event of rain, Miss Rice said.

Last Laundry Pick-up Slated For Wednesday

No laundry will be picked up after Wednesday the 21st, according to a statement from L. B. Collins, University Laundry superintendent.

Refunds will be given at the laundry office next to the Pick theatre on August 28 and 29, Collins said.

Lawrence Urges Preparation Of Furlough Pay Applications

Veterans eligible for benefits under the new terminal leave pay law should prepare to make applications immediately, George Lawrence, service officer of the American Legion revealed yesterday.

The veteran should have a certificate or photostat copy of his discharge paper made. The original paper will be sent off. Photostat copies may be made for student at Central Records office, 302 South Building, or at Foister's or Wooten-Moulton.

If the original discharge papers have been misplaced, application for certificates of discharge should be made at once. Forms for these applications may be obtained from Mr. Lawrence in Alumni Building.

Plans of Committee

A committee consisting of representatives from the Red Cross, the American Legion, the University, and other groups will make further plans to help the filing of applications. These plans will be announced soon.

Regular application blanks for terminal leave pay are now being printed by the Government and are expected to be available at the post office about the middle of September.

Unused Furlough Time

The new law, providing compensation for veterans who had unused furlough time to their credit when they were discharged, states that settlement will be made in non-negotiable bonds maturing in five years and bearing 2 1/2 per cent interest.

For every day a claimant was AWOL or in confinement, a day must be subtracted from his unused furlough time. Claims must be made before September 1, 1947.

Admonition to Claimants

In a bulletin issued by the Retraining and Reemployment Administration, the following admonition to claimants is given:

"After mailing your claim to the proper paying office, you can speed up settlements by keeping inquiries down to a minimum. In event that you change your address during the waiting period, you should notify the paying officer immediately. We recommend that after you have filed your application, you just sit tight and watch for further detailed information."

Legislature Passes Financial Measures

Bills for Student Council Funds, Old Debts Approved in Final Meeting of Second Session

By Jack Abernathy

Two financial questions facing student government were settled Thursday night by the Student Legislature at a very brief meeting in Gerrard hall, marked by unanimity of opinion and the absence of oratorical displays.

Jim Taylor, pro tempore Speaker of the legislature, conducted the meeting, after some delay caused by the necessity of securing enough members for a quorum. Legislature leaders stated that the nature of the two financial bills demanded a quorum for this first and only meeting of the second session.

Council Appropriations

A Student Council appropriations bill for expenses of $119, which had previously been tabled when the council's operations were temporarily suspended by the administration's consideration of the new student constitution, was reconsidered and passed with only one dissenting vote.

Jack Lackey was extended the courtesy of the floor to present the Student Council request for reconsideration. Taylor Dodson, chairman of the finance committee, read the bill and called it a "reasonable and just amount" for the supplies and expenses

Conservative Club Elects Officers

At the first meeting of the newly formed Carolina Conservative Club a constitution was adopted by the unanimous consent of the organization. The preamble of the constitution set forward the following purpose of the organization: "to preserve the principles of reason, sound economy, basic human rights, and a just and equitable government based on the sound American doctrines of free enterprise in a capitalistic democracy."

Paul Mullinax of Gastonia, was elected President. The other officers are Mark Buchanan of Sylva, Vice President; Reginald Rawls of Rich Square, Secretary; Nelson Page of Asheville, Treasurer; and Dan McFarland of Louisburg, Publicity Manager.

Registration Begins Monday

Early registration for the fall quarter for students now enrolled will begin Monday and continue until Saturday noon, according to an announcement from Central Records Office. The registration will be only for students in the General College, Arts and Sciences, Commerce, Graduate School, and Library Science.

Memorial Hall will be open from 8:45 to 12:30 a.m. and from 2 to 4:15 p.m. Students now enrolled are the only ones eligible to register in the early registration. General registration begins Wednesday, September 25, in Woollen Gymnasium and continues through Thursday.

The student should first see his faculty advisor. The advisor will prepare the green form and direct the student to Memorial Hall where he will complete registration.

On Wednesday and Thursday, September 25 and 26, the same procedure will be followed for the general registration.

Late registration fees will be charged those students now enrolled who fail to register next week.

Classwork for the fall quarter begins Friday, September 27.

Here are three more individual photos for your pin-up collection from the galaxy of beauties entered in the Daily Tar Heel's "Miss Candlelight" contest. Seven BM OC's will judge the 12 entrants on their qualities of beauty and talent at the last Friday Night Frolics of the summer session August 23. Left to right we have: Liz Hazlett, Delta Psi's choice; Margie McKenzie, pride of Carr Dormitory; and Jane Peete, Tri Delt entry for the title.
