EDITORIAL:

- · More Room for Men
- · A Chance for Yovicsin • Faces Seen as Shadows

The Daily Tar Beel

THE ONLY COLLEGE DAILY IN THE SOUTHEAST

· Airport Interest Lacking

NEWS:

· "Mrs. Candlelight" · Caravan Revival Seen

NUMBER 20

VOLUME LV

United Press

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SATURDAY, AUGUST 24, 1946

Football Caravans May Be Reinstated For Future Games

Plans Underway To Charter Trains ForNavy, Tennessee Off-Campus Tilts

By Barron Mills

The long-remembered football caravans of '41 and '42 will in all probability be revived this fall if the almost completed plans for mass-production student trips to the Navy and Tennessee classics materialize. Organized under the supervision of Coach Bob Fetzer and the Carolina Athletic Association, plans are well underway to charter complete trains, & carrying around 13 passenger cars. It is estimated that these cars will seat around a thousand students, however, it will be arranged to take as many students as possible.

May Provide Eating Facilities Sufficient dining cars and eating facilities may be included in the caravan trains to take care of all of the passengers. The Athletic association will arrange obtain tickets to the games for each member of the cara-

In addition to enthusiastic Tar Heel students, each of the trains will carry the cheerleaders and probably members of the band. The football squad will have to leave on an earlier train in order to rest-up for the tilt.

Tentative Plans Set

Tentative plans for the trip to Baltimore for the Navy-Carolina game have already been made. The train will leave from Raleigh Friday night, October 18 and arrive in Baltimore early Saturday morning. Although hotel accomodations for Saturday night are still indefinite it is hoped that the train can be held over until Sunday. The round-trip tickets to Baltimore is estimated to cost around $15.02.

Skeleton arrangements have already been made with the Southern Railway System for the Tennessee game in Knoxville, November 2. The train will leave from Durham around 1 o'clock Friday afternoon and arrive in Knoxville around 8 o'clock Saturday morning. The round-trip will cost around $17.50. No hotel accommodations will be necessary since the caravan will have to leave sometime Saturday night.

Oldsters May Recall

Old-timers on the campus who made former caravan trips no doubt recall with pleasure the mammoth pep rally hely in Times Square and the Penn trip in '42 when the Carolina "underdogs" pulled the season's upset.

have stated that if enough students show interest in the two planned cara- in the armed forces which can be subcan trips it is quite possible that other trains or busses will be chartered for Naval Science courses. the William and Mary game in Richmond, November 9, and the Virginia game in Charlottesville on November and cost of textbooks, uniforms at gov-

ROTC Adopts New Program

Loomis Announces Student Eligibility All physically qualified male students who meet age requirements are now eligible to enroll in NROTC under the new program, after admission to the University, announced Captain D. W. Loomis, USN, Professor of Naval

Two types of students will be trained in the current plan-contract students who make no commitments regarding active duty in the Naval Service, and regular students who are appointed Midshipmen in the Naval Reserve and who agree to accept a minimum of 24 months duty on graduation and commissioning. Uniforms will be furnished both contract and regular students in NROTC, he said.

May Choose Branch

Students may choose to be commissioned in the Navy, Naval Reserve, Marine Corps, or Marine Corps Reserve, according to their respective made during the junior year.

Qualifications for entrance to NR-OTC are that students be unmarried citizens of the United States, and agree to remain unmarried until commissioned or disenrolled; be over 17 years old by September 1, but not 21 years old before July 1; have had less than two semesters or the equivalent of college work; and be morally qualified by character and personality to be an officer in the Naval service.

May Get Advanced Standing

Students, however, may be admitted with advanced standing provided they will not be more than 25 years old on Members of the caravan committee July 1 of the year respective graduation, and have had previous training stantiated by examination in certain

> Benefits of regular students include payment of University tuition, fees See ROTC Page 4

AVC Reveals Tax Paying On Instructors' Salaries

University Collecting Tuition Fees From Government for Graduate Teachers

At the last meeting of the AVC, it to discuss the matter and the Univerwas disclosed by a member of the chap- sity has made efforths to solve the ter that graduate student instructors problem, but nothing can be done unare paying taxes upon that part of til the State Budget Commission their salary constituting the remit- changes the present method of teachertance of tuition, and at the same time payment, it was revealed. the University is collecting that tuition from the government.

graduate students, who are veterans, structors in solving the problem and are paying taxes on something the in any just demands or requests they government has declared to be non- might make. taxable, while the University reimburses itself for the tuition it collects | the at the expense of the government." sion garnered over $26 for the local Some departments have held meetings

To Support Instructors The chapter approved a motion

In effect, he said, "the teaching supporting the graduate student in

At the Grail Dance two weeks ago AVC-run refreshment conces-See AVC Page 4

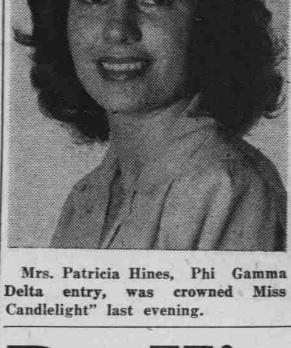

THURSDAY, AUG. 29

Examination Schedule

WED	NESDAY, AUG. 28
Class	Exam Hour
12:00	8-10 A.M.
8:00	11- 1 P.M.
9:00	3- 5 P.M.
	Actomorphic and others not n

Exam Hour 8-10 A.M. 10:00 11- 1 P.M. 11:00

provided for above: 3-5 P.M. EDWIN S. LANIER, Director, Central Records Office.

Candlelight" last evening.

Runner-up in the contest was Marty McClenaghan, Sigma Chi entry from Shreveport, La.

Pride of Phi Delta Theta, Betsy Moore, of Chapel Hill, was awarded third prize last night.

Frank Sinatra," won a free trip to

eant "The Lost Colony" at Manteo

Approximately 50 couples danced to

Bob Dockham was master of cere-featured Doris Weaver, better known as "Candlelight Carylon," at the piano,

of Jimmie Oliver and Catherine Bail-

ham also played magician with a dis-

UVA, declared "The floor show was house policy was unanimously approved for a bigger and better program

Conservative Club

To Have Programs

Of Prominent Men

At a meeting of the Carolina Conservative Club held here Tuesday night

Paul E. Mullinax defined the word

"conservative" as applied to this newly formed organization to mean, "A reasoned philosophy, associated with the English writer Edmund Burke, directed toward the forces of change in such a way as to conserve the best ele-

It was announced that the club planned an extensive program of speakers to come not only from the faculty of the University, but also men prominent in state and national affairs.

Mullinax, President of the organiza-

Jr., Canton, Ga.; F. D. Dawson, Kin-

way, N. C.; as members of a commit-

Save your copies of the Daily Tar

Heel and let us have them bound for

in an ever-evolving society."

appearing trick.

Another of the many candidates for the beauty crown was Georgina Davis, representing Smith.

Pat Hines Named Beauty Queen In 'Miss Candlelight' Contest

UNC Press Broadens Scope With Varied Fall Book List

Williams Says No Interest In Air Program

Aeronautics Program May Not Materialize

Student response to the questioncategories and such choice will be aires which were prepared in order to survey student interest in the proposed flight training courses have out of stock during the war, as are been very disappointing according to officials in South Building.

"If there is not enough interest in the program to warrant the courses, the University will not be in a position to go forward with any plans to institute the flight training courses," stated J. A. Williams, assistant to the business manager.

No Definite Plans

Williams further pointed out that no definite plans have as yet been formulated to institute the courses this fall, and the object in releasing the information concerning the preliminary plans last week in which the flight courses were outlined was to survey interest among the student body.

The courses outlined have not been approved either by the University Administration or by the Veterans Administration. Unless enough students request the courses by filling out the questionnaires, it is doubtful if the training will materialize.

In order to give the students ample opportunity to signify their interest, the questionnaires will continue to be available at the YMCA information desk and the information desk in the lobby of South building today and Monday.

Further efforts of the University to organize courses in flight training will be based on information given by students who are themselves interested in taking the courses," declared Wil-

Wednesday To Mark Last Issue of DTH; Resumes Daily in Fall

The last issue of the Daily Tar Laborers Needed Heel this summer will be next Wednesday, August 28. (Staff members please note.) Beginning Friday, September 28, the Daily Tar Heel will go on a six-days per week publication schedule, Monday being the blank day.

The latest state, national and international news will be printed daily, through the use of the complete leased wire service of United Press. In addition, several other syndicated features such as national sports items, Li'l Abner, cartoons by Bill Mauldin, and a daily crossword puzzle will be run.

By Burke Shipley

The University of North Carolina Press, now in its twenty-third year of publication, commences its fall book list on September 7th with "Ducktown," by R. E. Barclay, and will broaden its scope of former years by including on its list fiction, artistic criticism, history, agriculture, education and several other phases of knowledge.

numerically than previously, the Press this time is placing its emphasis on getting back into print certain enlarged and revised editions of books all commercial publishing houses, for which there has been a continual demand and need, such as "Practical Farming for the South," by B. F.

Scheduled for November, is a special gift-box edition of the two volumes of "The Wilson Era," by Josephus Daniels, which will tie together all that he has to say about the years immediately preceding and following the first World War and which will give continuity to his treatment of

A unique book for any university Press is "One Damned Island after Another: The Saga of the Seventh," written by Clive Howard and Joe Whitley and listed for November publication. It gives the complete history of the Seventh Air Force from its inception from the old Hawaiian Air Department all the way to Tokyo, and presents it from the viewpoint of the individual men who comprised the outfits in the Seventh. Also coming out in November is a short novel dealing with a negro family, "Send Me An Angel," by Alice Nisbet.

Among the books of special interest to research workers and teachers are: "The People Look at Radio," by P. F. Lazarsfeld; "The Revival of Realism," by J. K. Feibleman and "Lowell Mason: The Father of Singing Among the Children," by A. L. Rich.

The remainder of the Press's fall books, which will be published in October or November are: "James Monroe," W. P. Cresson; "Into the Main Stream," C. S. Johnson, M. C. McCulloch and others; "Meaning and Truth in the Arts," John Hospers; and "Getman Labor Courts," Frieda Wunder-

During Vacation

Students who would like to work at the University after the close of this session are asked to contact members of the Building Department, located behind Phillip's Hall, before the end of this week. All laborers will receive 60 cents an hour.

These students may stay in Ruffin Dormitory, which will be open during the vacation if they notify Mr. W L. Smith, Manager of Men's Dormitories, in the basement of South Building. A flat rental fee of $6 will be charged.

Judges Select Betsy Moore, Marty McClenaghan Second

Winner Crowned, Many Prizes Given Out At Coronation Ball Ceremonies Last Night

By Arnold Schulman

"Miss Candlelight of 1946" became "Mrs. Candlelight" Thursday night when Mrs. Patricia Hines from Charlotte, sponsored by Phi Gamma Delta, was selected summer beauty queen over a group of 13 contestants appearing on the stage of the Playmaker theatre. Marty McClnegahan from Shreveport, La., the Sigma Chi entry, took second place and Betsy Though the fall series is not larger Dunagan Wins Trip tered by Phi Delta Theta, carried off Moore, from Huntington, W. Va., enthird place honors.

As UVA Entertains The winners were crowned in ceremonies last night at the Coronation At Dance Thursday Ball in the Candlelight room, when Bill Woestendiek, Daily Tar Heel edi-Stover Dunagan, "Carolina's own tor, presented the prizes.

The largest crowd in the history of the production of Paul Green's pag- the Candlelight room danced to the music of Scott Gardner's swing combo when he placed first in a talent show last evening and yelled the traditional Thursday evening at the UVA's open wolf-calls when the coronation cerehouse hop for coeds of Kenan Dorm. | mony began.

247 Out of 280

the music of Scott Gardner's six-At the contest Thursday night the seven student officials acting as judges were faced with the serious promonies for the talent show, which blem of selecting the winner on the basis of points. But of a possible 280 points Pat Hines received 247 with and the smooth ballroom dance team her nearest rival, Martha McClenaghan, totaling 219. Betsy Moore, the ey. Dunagan won first prize for his third place selection, received 214. rendition of sentimental lyrics. Dock-

After each of the candidates for the Candlelight crown had appeared Jim Chessnut, president of the on stage once, the judges still were unable to reach a satisfactory decithe best yet, judging by the audience's sion, and recalled seven girls for anreaction. Continuation of the open other look before selecting the top

Excluding the winning three, those in the final parade were Jo Benton, Danville, Va., Mangum; Nancy Cutchin, Whitakers, N. C. B-V-P; Jane Peete, Warrenton, Tri Delt; and Joanne Webber, Winston-Salem, Old

Queen Pat Hines is married to ex-Ensign Bob Hines, a Phi Gam. She is 22 years old, weighs 118 pounds, has brown hair and eyes. Her bust measures 36 inches, waist 24, hips 36, and she is five feet four and a half inches tall. In addition to all this, her husband claims she can also cook.

Jack Abernathy, master of ceremonies for the contest read brief bioments of the past by blending them in- graphical sketches of each contestant to an organic unity with new elements | as she walked before the judges. Music for the occasion was furnished by recordings with Bob Colepaugh acting as chief technician.

Judges

Judges were Dewey Dorsett, student body president; Mike Morrow, Monogram Club president; Bill Callation, appointed William H. Hudson, han, Interdormitory council president; Whit Osgood, Interfraternity council ston, N. C.; and Russell Johnson, Con- president; Jim Chesnutt, UVA president; Bill Woestendiek, Daily Tar tee to carry out the program plans. Heel editor; and Roland Giduz, Daily Tar Heel managing editor.

> The Daily Tar Heel delivery complaint box is in the YMCA office.