NEWS BRIEFS

Coal Strike Is Postponed

Lewis, Krug Agree To Discuss Wages

Washington, Oct. 28—(UP)—The government has agreed to discuss a new wage contract with President John L. Lewis of the AF of L United Mine Workers. Lewis promptly announced that the current contract will remain effective and unchanged during the period of negotiation.

The president made his comment shortly after John L. Lewis, head of the AF of L United Mine Workers, held a separate news conference and announced that the government had agreed to meet with UMW delegates on November 1st. Lewis last week demanded the meeting, and earlier it had been indicated that his demand would not be granted. However, today's sudden reversal changed the picture entirely.

Removes Threat

The action apparently has removed the threat of a new coal strike on November 1st. Officials believe that a walkout by miners now is improbable before November 20th at the earliest.

Lewis announced the agreement to negotiate by making public a telegram from Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug. The telegram asked Lewis to meet with N. H. Colquhoun, coal mines administrator, on November 1st or on any other date agreeable to Lewis.

The White House, Oct. 28—(UP)—President Truman has announced that TVA Chairman David E. Lilienthal has been named to head the new Atomic Energy Commission. They are: a New York banker, Lewis L. Strauss, a Cornell University physicist, R. F. Bacher, a former member of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Sumner T. Pike, and the editor of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, W. W. Waymack.

Ports Begin to Buzz After Long Silence

New York, Oct. 28—(UP)—The nation's East and Gulf Coast ports which have been strike-bound for almost a month, tonight are beginning to buzz with activity. The A. F. of L. Masters, Mates and Pilots union has voted overwhelmingly to ratify terms of the agreement ending the maritime dispute. Picket lines have been withdrawn from the port areas, and both A. F. of L. and CIO workers are back on the job.

Dodge-Chrysler Plant To Manufacture Houses

Washington, Oct. 28—(UP)—The giant surplus Dodge-Chrysler plant at Chicago is going to be used to turn out prefabricated homes. Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt has directed the War Assets Administration to allocate the big plant to Luston Corporation to build prefabricated housing.

Supreme Court Refuses To Hear Georgia Cases

Washington, Oct. 28—(UP)—The Supreme Court—by a six to three vote—has refused to hear two cases challenging Georgia's unit system of voting. One of the units was designed to keep Eugene Talmadge from taking office as governor of the state next January. Talmadge lost the popular ballot in the primaries—but won the unit vote.

Police Jail Ten Men In Esslingen Bombing

Frankfurt, Oct. 28—(UP)—German police have jailed ten persons for questioning in the bombing of the denazification court building at Esslingen. The suspects include a former lieutenant of the Nazi Storm Troopers.

Think It Over

Who should give character to the student body of the University of North Carolina? The many or the few? The overwhelming majority of students who live by the spirit of the Honor Code and the Campus Code and always conduct themselves in a manner reflecting great credit to themselves and the University, or a handful of irresponsibles? The answer is obvious.

Yet, at the football game Saturday a mere handful of students, in a disgusting exhibition of drunkenness, slandered and degraded the good name and reputation of Carolina and made all of us look like a third rate group supporting a first rate team.

Those of us who represent you in student government do not believe that you intend to condone or tolerate such a situation or that you will allow yourselves to be put on the spot in such a manner as this. Accordingly, we are redoubling our efforts to see to it that the few students who are guilty of such disgraceful conduct, whether it be at a football game, in the classroom, in town, or out of town, are severely reprimanded and dismissed from the University.

Signed:

- Dewey Dorsett, president of student body.
- Charles Warren, speaker of the legislature.
- Johnny Jones, secretary-treasurer of the student body.
- Ray Jeffries, student council chairman.
- Pete Pulley, men's council chairman.
- Fran Golden, chairman of woman's council.

By Jo Pugh

Alec Templeton, blind master pianist and composer, appears here in a concert tonight in Memorial hall at 8:30 o'clock, initiating the series of entertainment programs planned annually by the Student Entertainment Committee under the leadership of Dr. J. P. Harland.

Templeton, famed because of his unique musicianship and unusual pianistic art, recently returned from a two-month overseas tour for the USO. He has been on several broadcasts, making his first appearance in the United States in the early thirties, by way of radio.

In "Cabbages and Kings"

He has appeared in motion pictures in Britain and in America, including MGM's "Cabbages and Kings," only recently released. He toured many European nations, among which are France, Holland, and Germany.

Subscriptions to the series of entertainment programs may still be bought in the Y lobby this morning from 9 to 1 o'clock and this afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock. The tickets will entitle the owner to attend six entertainment programs.

If subscriptions are not a complete sell-out, students may buy single performance tickets for $1.50 at the door of Memorial hall tonight. However, it is expected that the subscriptions sold may fill the auditorium; therefore, individual tickets will not be sold until 8:15 p.m.

Born in Cardiff, South Wales, Templeton has been playing music ever since he can remember. He began his formal musical education when he was four. His earliest teacher was Miss Margaret Humphrey, who is accompanying Templeton on his tour. At four, Templeton began composing and made his public debut a year later at a children's concert in Cardiff. By fifteen, he was well-known musically, having performed the Beethoven "Emperor" Concerto at a concert.

Won London Newspaper Prize While studying under Harold Craxton, accompanist for Dame Nellie Melba and other singers, he won the Royal College scholarship for piano and composition and carried off first prize in a piano contest conducted by the London Daily Express for some 8,000 aspirants throughout the United Kingdom.

By the time he was twenty, his musical position was assured. He was in demand as a recitalist and orchestral soloist. After appearing in a British motion picture with Jack Hylton, he came to the United States with him to launch a series of broadcasts. Since then he has toured many towns in the United States, as well as making tours overseas.

Charles Moscowitz Is Killed In Motorcycle Crash Sunday

One UNC student was fatally injured and another hurt Sunday afternoon when the motorcycle they were riding crashed into the rear of a car turning on U. S. No. 1 south of Wake Forest. Charles E. A. B. Smith Takes First Place In Student Union Grid Contest

Claude Ramsay, President Dewey Dorsett Are Runners-Up in Upset-Starred Guessing

Missing only three games out of twenty, in a week-end dotted with major gridiron upsets, A. B. Smith, first-year law student from Norge, Virginia, copped the past week's Graham Memorial football contest by a very narrow margin.

Runners-up were Claude Ramsay, 5 Battle dormitory, second, and student body president Dewey Dorsett, third. Leading a field of nearly fifteen hundred entries, Ramsay and Dorsett muffed four and five selections, respectively. Ramsay's closely predicted score of 41-13 for the Tar Heel fray placed him a hair-breadth second to Smith, who missed the Carolina score by a wider mark. However, Smith predicted the VPI upset of State, and several other pre-game toss-ups.

Spotted 21-Point Lead

No other contestant surpassed Ramsay's prognostication, however, DTH sports writer Bob Goldwater, Monogram Club president Mike Morrow, DTH Editor Bill Woestendiek, former contest winner Chuck Heath, and outstanding entrant A. Kilroy, all correctly spotted Carolina for a 21-point lead.

Closely following the winners and runners-up in order were, Phi Assembly speaker Robert Morrison, Arnold Schulman, former winner Harry Winecuff, Bob Goldwater, Mike Morrow, and Bill Woestendiek. Seventeen hundred blanks will be distributed to the YMCA office and Graham Memorial main hall this noon. Entry deadline again this week is 6 o'clock Friday evening. Contest officials explained that the Ursinus-Penn Military tilt has been included on this week's sheet to "help even the chances of winning for the non-expert entrants."
