NEWS BRIEFS

Price Control Ordered Ended By President Controls to Remain On Sugar, Rice, Rents

Washington, Nov. 9—(UP)—Almost all government controls went out the window tonight. The only exceptions are rents, sugar and rice.

President Truman issued the order which virtually kills the OPA at eight o'clock tonight, and it goes into effect immediately. With the end of price controls, the presidential order also announces the end to government control over wages.

President Truman explains that wage controls have been operating as an adjunct to price controls—and it follows that the removal of one would lead to the removal of the other.

Free Economy Returns
Thus, only four days after the overwhelming Republican victory at the polls, the nation returns to a virtually free economy for the first time since Pearl Harbor.

In his statement authorizing the relinquishing of controls, President Truman points out that they are no longer needed. Says the president: "The general control over prices and wages is justifiable only so long as it is an effective instrument against inflation." Then he goes on to say, "I am convinced that the time has come when these controls can serve no useful purpose."

Wherry Outlines GOP Program in Congress

Washington, Nov. 9—(UP)—Senator Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska—Republican Senate whip in the 79th Congress—says that three top jobs face the GOP majority in the 80th Congress: To balance the budget, to investigate surplus property sales, and to correct what he calls "abuses" in the Wagner Act.

Typo Union Forces Rochester Shutdown

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 9—(UP)—The city of Rochester, New York is entirely without newspaper service this evening. Its two newspapers have been shut down by a strike stemming from a wage dispute between the Gannett Publishing Company and the AF of L International Typographical Union.

Chicago Police Asked To Guard Housing Unit

Chicago, Nov. 9—(UP)—The Chicago Housing Authority has asked police to guard a second veterans' housing project against a possible "squatters" movement. The squatters took over one Windy City GI project yesterday afternoon.

New Transport Plane Completes Test Flight

Muroc, Calif., Nov. 9—(UP)—The world's largest transport plane—Lockheed's Constitution—landed at Muroc shortly before noon today on its first test flight. The giant of the air weighs 92 tons and can carry 400 troops.

UN Assembly Votes To Consider US Site

Flushing, N. Y., Nov. 9—(UP)—The UN General Assembly has voted to consider any area in the United States as a possible site for permanent headquarters. This means Philadelphia, Boston and other American cities can make new bids to become the home of the world government.

Lord Mayor of London Installed Amid Pomp

London, Nov. 9—(UP)—The new Lord Mayor of London—Sir Bracewell Smith—was inaugurated today with all the pomp and ceremony of Tudor days. He rode in a gilt coach through cheering crowds who lined the 10-mile route.

Weather Today

Predicted today for central North Carolina: Fair and mild.

Famed 101st Commander Speaks Here Tomorrow

McAuliffe Will Deliver Armistice Address; 11 o'Clock Classes Will Not Meet Tomorrow

By Ed Joyner

Classes will dismiss from 10:40 until 12 o'clock tomorrow while Major General Anthony C. McAuliffe, famous for his reply of "Nuts" to German surrender demands at Bastogne, delivers the Armistice day address in Memorial hall.

GENERAL MCAULIFFE

The exercises will start promptly at 10:30 o'clock with an invocation by Rev. J. L. Joyce, pastor of the Carrboro Methodist church and for four years an army chaplain overseas.

Following the invocation James Chesnut, president of the University Veterans association will welcome General McAuliffe.

Will Observe Silence

A bugler will sound Taps at 11 o'clock followed by a minute of silence observed throughout the United States in commemoration of the time at which the armistice went into effect November 11, 1918 ending the fighting in World War I.

Chancellor Robert B. House will then make a few welcoming remarks and General McAuliffe will deliver his address.

Upon the death of General Pratt on "D" day General McAuliffe was appointed Deputy Commander of the 101st Airborne Division. It was while commanding this division in the absence of the Division Commander during the battle of the Bulge that he made his famous one syllable reply to the Germans.

Commanded 103rd

General McAuliffe commanded the 103rd infantry division in the attack from Alsace in March 1945 when the division broke through the Siegfried line, and later raced through Germany and Austria to capture Innsbruck and the Brenner Pass and made the historic link up with American Fifth Army troops from Italy.

At the completion of General McAuliffe's address Jim Chesnut will introduce Major General William C. Lee, USA retired, the originator of airborne divisions. An alumnus of the University General Lee retired from active duty in 1941 because of heart trouble.

Art, Craft Class Open to Students

An arts and crafts class has been started by Person hall art gallery for those students and townspeople who may want to make their own Christmas presents this year. The class, under the direction of Mrs. John Foushee, will present methods of working in a number of materials—plastics, leather, metals, textiles. Such objects will be made by the class as billfolds, purses, jewelry, weaving, blocking of textiles, textile painting, etc.

The class is meeting on Monday and Wednesday evenings in Caldwell hall studio, second floor, from 7-10 o'clock. Further information may be received by calling Person hall 8801, 1st Mrs. John Foushee, F.2901.

Final Rushing Slated Today

Men May Indicate Fraternity Choice

The two final fall rushing periods are scheduled for this afternoon and evening at 3:00-6:00 and 7:30-10:30 o'clock, and at this time rushees may unofficially indicate their fraternity choice by "shaking-up" with the fraternity they wish to join.

From the end of tonight's party, at 10:30 o'clock, until Wednesday afternoon there will be a complete silence on all new men. This silence period is for consideration by new men of their fraternity choice and it allows them an opportunity to make their final decision without outside influence.

Will Pledge Wednesday

On Wednesday afternoon, new men wishing to pledge a fraternity will go to Memorial hall to receive their formal bids. At this time, they will indicate their final choice of a fraternity and if that fraternity has formally bid for their pledge the newly-pledged men will be directed to that fraternity for formal acceptance. Old men, who have previously been through a rushing period on this campus and are pledging in this rushing period, shall also go to Memorial hall to make their choice.

Fred Weaver, Dean of Men and members of the Interfraternity Council will be present at Memorial hall to assist in the formal pledging procedure.

Lively Carolina Political Union Discussions Find Solutions to Problems from Roundtable

By Ken Rothwell

"Management has a stranglehold on labor through the use of newspapers as propaganda," declares a student sitting at a large round table in a smoke-filled room.

"You're dead wrong," the man next to him bellows and then proceeds to tell him why.

This is not a meeting between management and labor at a large industrial plant but a Sunday evening round table discussion of the Carolina Political Union.

The Carolina Political Union will discuss the implications of the congressional and gubernatorial elections tonight at 8 o'clock in the Grail Room of Graham Memorial.

Political Union. It is one of the many public programs that the Union, a non-partisan political organization, has carried on as a service to the

Carolina Nicks Indians' Bid For Conference Crown, 21-7

Hard-charging Sid Varney, pictured above, was a big factor in Carolina's 21-7 triumph over William and Mary's Indians in yesterday's game in Virginia. Cut part of the early season because of an injury, the rugged sophomore star returned last week to the starting lineup and hit his expected stride in the Tennessee game. Last season he was mentioned among all-conference linemen.

Second Period Splurge Gives Tar Heels Win

By Jim Pharr

Richmond, Va., Nov. 9—Displaying a well rounded attack, the Carolina Tar Heels had the punch when it counted to roll up a 21-7 victory here today over the William and Mary Indians before a sellout crowd of 16,000 fans.

The Tar Heels came to life in the second period after a lusterless first quarter to pile up two touchdowns that proved to be the margin of victory. Coach Snavely's legions added another tally in the third period for good measure. The Indians got their lone marker in the third quarter.

For the Tar Heels it was a teamwork affair from start to finish with three men contributing to the final score. Art Weiner, Billy Myers, and Jim Camp were the headliners in the offensive parade.

Weiner Scores

Art Weiner provided the biggest thrill in the second period on a 32 yard gallop on an end-around play. The big left end zoomed through a horde of Indian tacklers to reach pay dirt.

The Tar Heels scored their second tally on a 55 yard sustained drive. Rodgers, Rubish, and Myers led the offensive operations that resulted in the tally, with Myers plunging over from the one.

Jim Camp put the game on ice midway in the third period when he took the ball on a reverse from Justice and went over from the one for the tally. Justice and Rodgers sparked the drive that led to the third Tar Heel touchdown.

The Indians scored their only tally in the third quarter, when Mackiewicz plunged over right tackle for the five. The scoring play was set up on an aerial from Mackiewicz to Mikula.

Tar Heel Passes

The Tar Heel passing attack sputtered and caught fire several times for nice gains before the Indian defense stiffened to halt the Blue and White gridmen.

Midway in the fourth quarter the Tar Heels had their final chance to tally when Fitch was stopped for a three yard loss on the Indian two with William and Mary taking over the ball on downs.

Carolina got off to its first scoring jaunt midway the second period. After Longacre of William and Mary had punted to Clements on Carolina's 38, the Tar Heels began to roll. Britt bounced off tackle to the 40. On the next play Britt was stopped for no.

Government Owned Buildings Given to University by FWA

Administration Officials Have No Idea As to Type, Location of Housing Units

By Roy C. Moose

According to a release from Washington, D. C., the Federal Works Agency has granted the University surplus government-owned buildings that will enable the University to accommodate a normal enrollment of 6500 students of whom 4500 are expected to be veterans. The buildings will be converted to provide classrooms, laboratories, offices and storage space.

The announcement came as a complete surprise to South Building officials who stated that they had no idea of the type buildings the government had granted Carolina, or where the buildings would be placed. However, the administration explained that they had applied for surplus buildings but that at the last conference with government officials the application had not been acted upon.

A total of 93,000 square feet of surplus housing had been approved for the University by Roy W. Bixter, Chief Education Officer for the U. S. Commissioner of Education, who must justify the need for the housing before it goes to the Federal Works Agency. Eleven buildings containing 170 rooms for classrooms, offices, and storage space were recommended for Carolina to the Federal Works Agency. Whether the buildings granted include these eleven buildings is not at present known as the government has not as yet notified the University exactly what type buildings were assigned to be brought here.

The government divisional engineer, O. T. Ray, has been put in charge of procuring the houses, moving them and putting them up on the Carolina campus. Until the type buildings are known, no definite location can be decided upon.

In addition to the housing, the administration announced that the University had applied for surplus equipment for the dining halls and the University laundry. Other items asked for include 100,000 linear feet of shelving for use in the library and offices, desks, chairs, bookcases, ash trays, and stools. The equipment will be used to stock the classrooms now in use as well as the new ones just approved. No official approval has been granted to the application for this equipment as yet but action is expected to be forthcoming soon in view of the approval of the surplus housing.

The approval for housing for 6500 students was based upon Carolina's expected enrollment at the beginning of the fall term. Actually since then the enrollment has exceeded that figure, and the approval of the surplus housing comes at a time when facilities on the campus are filled to absolute capacity.

CRIL to Sponsor Dr. Hopper In Hill Hall Sermon Tonight

Dr. Stanley Romaine Hopper, noted theologian, will speak at 8 o'clock this evening in Hill hall in conjunction with the Council for Religion in Life's regularly scheduled Sunday evening sermons. His topic will be, "What Is Man?"

Besides being the author of the well-known book, "The Crisis of Faith," Dr. Hopper is a professor of Christian Ethics at the Drew Theological Seminary. He is an academic globe-trotter of some distinction, having received degrees from the University of Southern California, Harvard, Boston University School of Theology, University of Zurich, in Switzerland, and Mansfield college, in England.

Dr. Hopper is not a newcomer to Chapel Hill having been here only last spring. At that time he delivered an address to the graduating class of 1946. He is known in his writings for his brilliance and wit, and has received world-wide recognition as a teacher of great dynamism.
