NEWS BRIEFS

UMW Strikers May Be Fined For Violations

Government Okays Operators Request

Washington, Nov. 30 — (UP) — Miners in a number of districts learned tonight that they are being fined one to two dollars a day for striking in alleged violation of their contract.

The Federal Coal Administration has approved the applications of some coal operators to deduct such penalties from the miners' pay. The agency won't say just how many of the requests have been made or approved.

Contract Now in Force?

However, the government maintains that its contract with John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers is still in force. Therefore, there would be no limit on fining the individual miners in all districts where penalties for illegal strikes are provided in the wage agreement.

Most district agreements have such clauses. Some don't. Proceeds of the fines go to the miners' welfare fund.

Rankin Wants to Stop Speech Probing by UN

Washington, Nov. 30 — (UP) — Representative Rankin of Mississippi says the Moscow speech made by Elliott Roosevelt is no concern of the House Un-American Activities committee. Rankin suggests that the army and State Department investigate the case.

U.S., Britain Team Up To Oppose Disarmament

Lake Success, N. Y., Nov. 30 — (UP) — The United States and Britain teamed up today in emphatically opposing any United Nations disarmament program which Russia or any other nation could veto. For the first time, the American delegation disclosed it would insist on its "no veto" demand in connection with control of atomic and other major weapons.

Canada Making Sweep Of Wartime Controls

Ottawa, Nov. 30 — (UP) — Canada is making a sweeping return to free economy. A cabinet source reveals that all remaining wartime controls, with the exception of rent ceilings, will be scrapped before Parliament meets in January. It already has been announced that wage and salary controls will be junked at midnight tonight.

Carolina Thunders Over Virginia 49-14

Pupa, Justice Spark Defense

Highsmith Suffers Broken Backbone

By Bob Goldwater

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 30 — Showing more power than ever before this season, Carolina's grid machine roared to a 49-14 triumph over Virginia in its final game of the campaign here this afternoon and clinched an invitation to the Sugar Bowl classic on New Year's Day.

Hard pressed until late in the second quarter the Tar Heels broke loose in One sour note marred the otherwise joyful afternoon for Carolina fans. Midway during the first period Co-Captain Cham Highsmith was carried from the field and rushed away in an ambulance. It was learned after the game that the star center had suffered a broken back. Highsmith's injury occurred on the kickoff following Carolina's first touchdown back on their own 38 yard line. The Tar Heels took two plays to register a touchdown with the offensive stars for the afternoon Charlie Justice and Walt Pupa doing the carrying. Pupa made eight yards through center.

the second half to register four touchdowns and run up their highest margin of the year. Close to 22,000 fans witnessed the clash the 51st in the long series, which Carolina now

Delegates Elected To State Assembly

Sara Tillet and Bill Miller were recently elected to the executive committee of the State Student assembly to be held in Raleigh in the state Capitol, December 6 and 7.

An important meeting of those selected to attend the conference will be held today in Graham Memorial at 5:30 o'clock. The three bills to be introduced will be drawn up at this time.

The following representatives to the student legislature have been selected: Di assembly, Al Lowenstein and Mary Lela Sparks; Phi assembly, Eddie Black, Charlie Britt; Debate council, Maurice Brasswell. The CPU and IRC will also send representatives which will be announced at a later date.

Members at large include, Bob Morrison, (Parliamentarian), Don Shropshire, Sara Tillet, Roy Moose, Gay Morenus, Tom Eller, Oran Hyman, Lucy Jordan, and Harding Menzies.

The remainder of the quota will be completed probably from the members at large.

Although these students have been selected to represent the University, all students are welcome to attend as spectators.

Chan Highsmith, Carolina's terrific defensive spark was injured in the Virginia game. Walt Pupa ripped and snorted through the Virginia line like a bulldozer the entire afternoon.

Bowl Classic To Match Justice Against Trippi

Coach Snavelly Will Miss Stellar Play Of Hard Hitting Co-Captain Highsmith

(Special to the Daily Tar Heel)

New Orleans, La., Nov. 30 — The University of North Carolina football team accepted an invitation to play in its first post-season bowl contest today and will oppose the University of Georgia in the 13th annual Sugar Bowl classic January 1.

The announcement was made after the Tar Heels had downed Virginia, 49-14, in their final game of the season. Rumored on the Carolina campus all week, the decision hinged on a Carolina victory today, and the Blue and White gridders crashed through to earn the bid to Carolina's first major bowl invitation.

Single Wing

The New Year's Day clash pits the powerful single-wing tactics employed by Coach Carl Snavelly against an equally powerful single-wing eleven tutored by Coach Wally Butts. It will feature an individual duel between two of the nation's greatest backs—Carolina's Charlie Justice and Georgia's Charlie Trippi. Both men scored three touchdowns yesterday. The Tar Heels, in their most successful grid campaign since 1939 when they finished with the same 8-1-1 record, went through a schedule that included Tennessee, Navy, William and Mary, Wake Forest and Duke and compiled a total of 261 points as compared to 109 for their opponents. Only loss during the campaign was to a strong Tennessee eleven, who tied Georgia for the Southeastern conference crown and the host team in the Orange Bowl battle January 1.

Carolina started the season in mediocre fashion, being held to a 14-14 deadlock by VPI. Beginning to roll in their next contest, the Tar Heels registered two successive shutouts, a 21-0 conquest over Miami, last year's Orange Bowl victors, and a 33-0 tri-

Warren Calls Legislature Into Session

Pushing the December first deadline for the selection of delegates for the American Conference of College Students to be held in Chicago December 28-30, Speaker Charlie Warren has notified all members of the Student Legislature that a special session will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Gerrard hall.

In calling the special session Warren stated that he relentlessly notified the legislators since there is so much discussion pro and con but the matter must be settled. If the University is to send a delegation to the Chicago assembly they must be registered today.

A quorum of 23 members of the Legislature must be present at tonight's session before any business can be discussed. The last scheduled meeting of the Legislature, held last Thursday night, had to be adjourned before the representatives could be selected since a quorum was not present. Several members of the Legislature stated last night that many of the members were out of town for the week-end and it is doubtful that the necessary quorum will be present.

Pre-Registration To Begin In Memorial Hall Tomorrow

The doors of Memorial hall will open tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock for winter quarter registration for students now enrolled. Included are students in the General college, College of Arts and Sciences, School of Commerce, Graduate School and the School of Pharmacy. Central Records Office Director Ed Lanier encouraged students to take advantage of the pre-registration period so that they may procure the courses they desire easier. The students registering will not be required to return after Christmas holidays until January 3, the opening day of classes.

Continue Until Saturday

Registration, beginning tomorrow, will continue until Saturday noon, December 14. Memorial hall will be open from 9 to 12:45 and from 2-4:45 o'clock. During this time 600 students a day must go through Memorial hall to complete registration in the allotted time.

In order to speed up the registration process, the student must report to his faculty adviser who will approve the list of courses that the student will take. Following this the student must take the green class form prepared by his adviser to Memorial hall where he will complete his registration and receive class tickets.

Return Card

The student will also receive a "Notice of Return Card" which he will be requested to deliver to the registration desk at the beginning of the quarter in order to receive his athletic passbook. If he is a veteran, it will serve as notice to continue his subsistence pay.

Copies of the class schedule for the winter quarter are now available at the information desk in South building.

BULL'S HEAD TEA WEDNESDAY

The Bull's Head Tea will be held Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Valentine will be in charge of an exhibit of children's books.

Funds for China To Be Solicited Through Purchases

University students may aid in the drive for United China Relief by purchasing greeting cards, stationery, pencils, and other materials that are now on sale in the Book Exchange, Ab's Bookshop, and the Bull's Head Bookshop, according to Mrs. J. C. Herrin, chairman of the Chapel Hill campaign.

"The situation in China is a matter of preventing actual death by starvation, while in many of the other countries it is building up the malnourished. Over 30,000,000 are at the point of starvation in China," Mrs. Herrin pointed out.

Another way to help China's starving is to send money gifts to purchase bulk foods. These cash grants should be sent directly to headquarters. Clothing, blankets, remnants, and other articles may be donated to collection stations. University textbooks are also needed for bombed university libraries.

Gifts may be sent directly to Upitied China Relief, 1790 Broadway, New York 19, N. Y., or by getting in touch with Mrs. J. C. Herrin at Abernethy hall.

Pre-Christmas Plays Planned by Methodists

The first of a series of pre-Christmas programs at Wesley Foundation will begin tonight with a playlet entitled, "The Man Who Owned the Stable." Gay Currie is directing the program.

Medieval Slapstick Comedy Will Be Presented Tonight

Full of old-fashioned slapstick!—That is Director Kai Jurgensen's description of "The Farce of Pierre Pathelin," being presented in two performances by the Carolina Playmakers Laboratory Theatre in the main lounge of Graham Memorial at 7 and 8:30 o'clock tonight. Unique to Carolina audiences, this salon type production, sponsored by the student union, will be the first public appearance of the laboratory theatre.

"Nobody knows who wrote the medieval play back in 1465," Jurgensen said, "but it is still famous as one of the funniest of French comedies. It has lost none of its bawdy humor through all these years."

Peter Bucknell will be seen as Pierre, the slick little town lawyer who decides to rely on his fast tongue to recuperate from a bad case of "end of resources."

Bucknell, soon to be seen in "Drama at Inish," is internationally famous as designer for the Old Vic Company of London, which recently made a history-making invasion of New York's drama world.

Kai Jurgensen, in charge of staging, wrote the prologue to be delivered by Mayo Sommer, young son of Dr. Clemens Sommer of the University art department. Authentic medieval flutes, called "recorders," will be played by Lynn and Lucille Gault. Eleanor Ringer will appear as Guillemette, wife of crafty Pierre. Sam Hirsch will play the part of the cheated Draper, Max Paul that of the baa-ing Shepard and W. P. Covington that of the Judge.
