Lewis, Union Receive Fines Sentence Revealed In Heated Session

Washington, Dec. 4—(UP)—The United Mine Workers Union has been fined three and a half million dollars and Union Chief John L. Lewis personally, 10 thousand dollars for contempt of court. Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough pronounced sentence on Lewis and the UMW for failing to obey a court order against the contract cancellation notice which touched off the walkout.

Quarter Million Dollars

The fine against the union amounts to a quarter million dollars for each day of the strike thus far, now in its 14th day. Judge Goldsborough followed government recommendations in fixing the fines and in not imposing a jail sentence against Lewis "at this time."

The judge announced the sentence after nearly an hour of angry argument during which a union lawyer said he felt like challenging physically the government attorneys. Lewis himself joined the loud exchanges and was threatened with new contempt charges when he shouted at the judge.

UNC Legislature Delegates To Present Three Measures

The Carolina delegation to the annual State Student Legislature, which meets tomorrow and Saturday in Raleigh, will present three bills to the body, concerning the abolition of the Umstead Act, establishment of a state safety council, and a University appropriations bill, Bill Miller, executive committee member said.

Miller explained that the Umstead bill as it now stands prohibits the University from selling anything except necessary items pertaining to students' education. The proposed Safety Council will handle all state traffic problems, including compulsory automobile inspection. The appropriations bill covers a list of the University's needs as submitted at an earlier date by President Frank Graham, concerning new buildings, teachers' pay, and general improvements.

Miller went on to say that the purposes of the Raleigh conference are also threefold. They are: To encourage forensic activity in the state, to give students an opportunity to learn the machinery of state government, and to stimulate discussion of state and national problems.

The delegates will meet this evening at 6:45 o'clock in Graham Memorial. All students are invited to attend tonight's meeting as well as the Legislature itself in Raleigh.

Miller said that Negroes would definitely be admitted to the Legislature. He also wished to stress that opinions expressed by Carolina's delegates would be their own and not necessarily those of the University as a whole.

AVC Disowns Principles Of Fascist, Red Parties

Local Chapter Votes Not to Accept Men Who Are Members of Communist Movements

In a lengthy special session Tuesday night, 65 members of the local AVC chapter reconsidered and passed the AVC National Planning Committee's resolutions disowning the principles of, and membership in fascist organizations, and the Communist Party.

The main objection to the resolution condemning Communism as sent down from New York as given by several AVC members was that it contained too much superfluous and contradictory material. They added that they agreed with the principle of the resolution, but would rather approve of one drawn up in a "more logical manner." After much debate and two defeated tabling motions, the resolution was finally passed by a close vote.

Text of Resolution

The resolution said in part "as veterans who believe firmly in the democratic ideals which we have endorsed, we reject the notion that the Communist Party possesses the key to the magic formula whereby the betterment of human welfare can be achieved. We spurn the insincere cooperation of a minority group unquestioningly obeying leaders whose objectives, including a totalitarian dictatorship of the extreme left, are irreconcilable with our own."

Following the adoption of the national resolution, a bill was brought up stating simply that as the aims of AVC and the Communist Party are irreconcilable, all members of the Communist Party will not be accepted as AVC members and any in would have to resign. This resolution was approved by a large majority.

Taking up the first part of the meeting, the resolution on fascism was approved. See AVC, page 4.

Legislature to Name Conference Delegates In Assembly Tonight

With the last two meetings having been dissolved due to lack of a quorum, the Student Legislature will convene in special session this evening at 7:30 in Gerrard hall in order to choose delegates to the American Conference of College Students to be held in Chicago December 28-30.

Speaker Charlie Warren indicated earlier this week that the deadline for naming representatives had been extended until today. Warren communicated with Chicago officials to get the extension.

Other business will include the taking of legislators' pictures for the Yackety Yack. The law making body will have two pages in this year's annual.

Warren explained that there was a possibility that the re-creation of a campus humor magazine would be a subject for discussion tonight.

Porthole Workers Extinguish Fire

The employees of the Chapel Hill's Porthole Restaurant, self-styling themselves the Porthole Fire department, went into action at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon to extinguish a blaze of undetermined origin in the rear of Fowler's Food store.

After first calling the local fire department, the Porthole volunteers dashed for their own fire-fighting equipment, which had previously been purchased to cope with just such an emergency.

With their equipment, which was receiving its "baptism under fire," the workers had extinguished the blaze completely by the time the Chapel Hill fire department arrived.

The Porthole Fire department consists of M. M. Timmons, Patrick H. Burns, Robert Flack, Theodore "Dad" Winstead, Nello Lindsay, and Jessie Farrington.

It Might Be Truman, or Even Surface Minnow...

Fiery Feud Forms over Unposed Photograph Of Journalism Professor 'Skipper' Coffin

By Jo Pugh

Whether "it" was a ground puppy, a surface minnow, Harry S. Truman, or "dat little colored man dat don't wear nuttin' but hippings" is the subject of a current debate in the University's journalism department. "It" was the result of a picture shot by one of Sechrist's news photography students. When Sechrist, a new assistant professor in the department, posed O. J. Coffin, department head, for the rookie photographers in his class who were attempting to make their final picture of the term, the results instigated a feud.

Unprepared for Shot

Skipper, as Professor Coffin is known to his many students, posed unwillingly for Sechrist and the would-be photographers. As Sechrist urged the professor to be patient, John Miller, one of the students, laboriously adjusted the camera and prepared for the big shot. But when the flash bulb finally exploded, Skipper was unprepared.

This is the result of a picture snapped by a news photography student that instigated a debate among students and professors in the department.

Nearly 1500 List Names For Sugar Bowl Tickets

Student Committee Meets This Afternoon To Devise Fair Method for Distribution

By Ed Joyner

Nearly 1500 students signed the ticket list in Gerrard hall yesterday to indicate their intentions of watching the Carolina Tar Heels battle the Georgia Bulldogs for the Sugar Bowl crown in New Orleans New Year's Day.

No method had yet been worked out last night for a fair division of the 1750 available tickets among the 1500 would-be purchasers, many of whom would like to buy more than one ticket.

However, the distribution committee—composed of Dewey Dorsett, Charles Warren, Johnny Jones, Ray Jeffries, Pete Pully, and Fran Golden—will meet today to devise a fair method of distribution. The committee will announce its decision in tomorrow's issue of the Daily Tar Heel.

May Get More Tickets

According to information received from Dorsett there is a chance that more tickets will be allotted to the University. In that event the additional assignment will be divided equally between students and alumni, as was the first allocation of 3500.

Assistant Director of Athletics, C. P. Erickson left for New Orleans last night to make arrangements there for the football squad. Armed with the 1500 name Gerrard lists to prove the heavy student demand for tickets here he will ask the Sugar Bowl commission for more tickets for the University.

Auto Lists

Lists are still posted in the YMCA information office today for registration of students who are driving cars to the game and have room for passengers. Those who want rides, rooms, or would like to go by special bus or train should also leave their names at the Y.

If enough interest is shown, special buses will be chartered for the New Orleans trip. A check with the Greensboro office of the Southern railroad got information that because of the coal strike no special trains can be scheduled, but special coaches may be made available if the coal strike ends.

Nash Will Speak On World Affairs In Church Sunday

"World Government—the Way to Peace" will be the subject of a public address by Dr. Vernon Nash, internationally known authority on world affairs, at the Methodist church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Dr. Nash, who first began advocating world government in the 1930's, ranks with Emery Reves and Robert Lee Humber as a pioneer and in the world government field. A Missourian, Quaker, and Rhodes scholar to Oxford University in 1916, he worked as a journalist in China from 1924-36, founding that country's first school of journalism at Yen-ching University. He has travelled in twenty countries, living for more than a year on each of four continents.

In his Chapel Hill address he will attack such basic questions as: Is the present United Nations Organization adequate to keep the peace? What is the fundamental difference between world government and the U. N. O.? Can world government actually prevent war? How can we overcome the barriers of racial and cultural difference? Would Russia join such a world government?

Dr. Nash's Chapel Hill appearance is being co-sponsored by the local Wesley Foundation student group and the Intercollegiate Council for Religion in Life of Duke University, North Carolina College for Negroes, and the University of North Carolina. The public is invited to hear Dr. Nash speak.
