Armed Forces Plan to Unite

Army, Navy Merger Approved in Future

Washington, Jan. 16—(UP)—The White House announced tonight that the Army and Navy have reached "full and complete agreement" on a plan for unification.

White House press secretary Charles Ross said the plan was fully endorsed by President Truman who called it an "admirable compromise which offers a thoroughly practical and workable plan of unification."

Details Tomorrow

Top Army and Navy officials will make public details of the plan at a press conference at the White House at 10:00 a. m., EST, tomorrow. The President will not be present.

Heretofore the Navy has bitterly opposed "marriage" of the armed forces. The Army has supported the plan.

The compromise calls for legislation to create a council of national defense, a national security resources board, and a central intelligence agency, which already exists.

The armed forces would be organized under a secretary of national defense so as to place Army, Navy, and the Air Force, each with a military chief, under the departments of the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force respectively.

Arnall Misses 'Bomb' By Mere Five Minutes

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 16—(UP)—Five minutes after Governor Ellis Arnall left his portable rotunda office in the State Capitol this afternoon, a loud explosion echoed through the rotunda. The blast occurred at 4:30 p. m. (EST).

To most of the crowd of 100 persons who heard the blast, it sounded like a giant firecracker rather than a bomb or shell. And though the blast reverberated through the rotunda with the roar of an artillery round, it probably was a big firecracker—the work of pranksters.

Pranksters also are blamed about the release of a tear gas bomb earlier in the day. Several score spectators milling in the outer executive offices were forced from the area, but then too, no harm was done—except to already tense nerves.

New President Serves As Leader of France

Paris, Jan. 16—(UP)—France has a new president. The National Assembly has elected Socialist Leader Vincent Auriol to serve as president, and to select a premier for the fourth French Republic.

Threat of Explosion Received by British

Jerusalem, Jan. 16—(UP)—Police reinforcements have been thrown around a British government building in Jaffa, Palestine, after a telephoned warning that the underground plans to blow it up.

GOP Introduces Bill To Extend Excise Tax

Washington, Jan. 16—(UP)—Indiana Representative Robert Grant has introduced Republican-backed legislation to extend wartime excise taxes indefinitely. Under present law levies on furs, jewelry, liquor and some 20 other items would expire June 30th.

U. N. Representative Suffers Heart Attack

New York, Jan. 16—(UP)—The chief Brazilian delegate to the United Nations, Doctor Leao Velloso, died in his New York hotel today. It is believed he suffered a heart attack.

WEATHER TODAY
Cooler, with light rain.

Your contributions of dollars and dimes last year made it possible for this young lady to recover from an attack of the dread infantile paralysis. She and her doll (at left) were admitted to the state orthopedic hospital at Gastonia several months ago.

She is Mimi Eve Elliott, daughter of John W. Elliott, R.F.D. No. 2, Shelby.

You can help many other such youngsters regain their health by contributing to the annual March of Dimes campaign.

WNC to Sponsor Charity Ball For 'March of Dimes' Benefit

Dance to Raise Funds for Polio Campaign Will Be Presented in Woollen January 24

By Sam Whitehall

The campus infantile paralysis drive will reach its climax next Friday night, January 24, in Woollen gymnasium from 9-1 o'clock at a gala charity ball to be sponsored by the Western North Carolina club. In announcing the dance, Norman Pless, WNC club president, urged all students to make every possible effort to attend the dance, which will feature the music of Ned Reap and his GM Dream Serenaders, popular campus band. The dance will be semi-formal.

Tickets will go on sale Monday in the YMCA lobby and in Lenoir hall. Cost of the tickets will be $1.50 per couple. Members of the WNC club will also sell tickets throughout the week.

The dance will come as a fitting climax to a week-long all-out campus "March of Dollars" campaign aimed at reaching a $5,000 quota. Student solicitors started work yesterday canvassing the campus in an effort to obtain a one dollar contribution from each member of the student body.

Half of the funds collected during the week plus those taken in as a result of the charity ball will be sent to the National foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The other half will be used to purchase an iron lung for this county.

"By your dancing, you'll be giving someone who can't walk now an even chance of dancing some day," Pless said. His club will work in conjunction with the Daily Tar Heel, sponsors of the campus campaign, in making the drive a success.

Government Property Stolen by Students

A group of students living in the Quonset hut area jimmied a window of a University storage warehouse early this week and appropriated for use in the huts about twenty bureaus which were federal property, stored for later use in Veterans' village houses.

The utilities office has requested the return of the bureaus but contemplates no other action in the matter.

Correction!

Contrary to a radio announcement last night, Herschel Johnson will not speak at the University this morning. Mr. Johnson will address the convocation of all students as originally planned in Memorial hall next Friday morning.

Ligislature Committee Heads Seclected At Opening Meeting

Warren Delivers Opening Address To Legislature

Strongly emphasizing the need for "permanence" in student government, Charlie Warren, speaker of the student legislature, ambled through his "State of the Campus" report to the lawmaking body at last night's meeting.

Warren specifically cited the need for offices for all student leaders, and said, "President Dorsett and I believe that is an obligation of Graham Memorial to provide a permanent home for student government. We shall present this problem at the first meeting of the Board of Directors."

The tall vice-president pointed out advantages of the plan which will give officials a central place to keep important records. Said Warren, "Succeeding student leaders will thus be able to quickly obtain a working basis by which to carry out their jobs."

Touches Many Phases

He continued through the long speech touching many phases of student activity. With regard to the controversial election laws, he stated, "We need more impartial polling places . . . provided the change is a facility rather than a political preeptive of the majority party."

Warren also reported concerning the fact-finding board which was set up last quarter to look into what the speaker called, "income saving devices" for students. He declared that "Financial gain has been reaped in and around the University . . . and there are indications that we live in the presence of shady matters which merit investigation."

Student body vice-president Charlie Warren, addressing the legislature last evening on the "State of the Campus," called for more "permanency" in student government.

Pianist to Play In Floor Show

Big Evening Planned By Candlelight Room

The second big night of the winter quarter is set for Graham Memorial's Candlelight room this evening. Dance music by the Stardusters will go on from 8 until 12 o'clock, the floor show being presented in the middle of the evening.

A new featured performer is on tonight's bill, Jimmy Weathers from Shelby, who will entertain the audience with piano solos. Weathers has been seen with several name bands of this vicinity.

Other Performers

Also on the program will be vocalists Phyllis Isenhour and Tommy Thomas; tapdancer Buddy Robinson, with a new routine; Rusty Collins, and the Gordon Twins.

"Students are again reminded," said manager Johnny Jones, "that

Jan. 28 Is Named As Run-Off Date For Council Post

By Bookie Jabine

After hearing the opening address of Speaker Charlie Warren, the Student Legislature, with cooperative swiftness skyrocketed through the first meeting of the winter quarter last night in Gerrard hall, by unanimously setting January 28 as the date for the run-off election between Bobby Broughton (UP) and Ed York (SP) for representative-at-large to the Honor council.

In the regular balloting last fall, Broughton received 577 votes to York's 465, but did not receive a majority since Al Lowenstien, an independent, polled 411 votes.

Having set the date, the lawmakers turned to the business of electing officers and committee chairman.

Tom Eller, speaker pro-tem during the session ending in December was re-elected, defeating Bobby Stockton by a 21-17 vote. Eller recently attended the Chicago conference and will deliver a report at next week's meeting along with the other delegates to that convention.

Another Chicago representative, Jimmy Wallace, was named parliamentarian by acclamation and Larry Berry was acclaimed clerk.

Committee chairman chosen were: Ways and Means, Bill Miller; Rules, Bob Collins; Finance, Bill Mackie; Elections, Johnny Clampitt.

Previous to the choosing of officers, Tag Montague, who will be the Legislature's representative to the Graham Memorial Board of Directors, read the report of Jabie Heyward, Elections Board head, concerning the voting last there is no cover charge or minimum in the Candlelight room, but that coats and ties are required, and only couples are admitted during evening hours."

Co-op Grocery Club to Hold Food Buying Spree Tonight

By Ken Rothwell

Members of the Chapel Hill buying club and other persons interested in paring down household expenses will meet tonight at 7:45 o'clock in 103 Bingham hall for the co-op's first buying meeting of the year. Grocery orders

Club officials explained that this action was necessary because of the impossibility of sorting orders for individual customers without proper warehouse facilities.

Ask Consolidation

"We are asking co-op patrons to consult with their neighbors as to their needs and then present consolidated orders for two or three families at tonight's meeting," explained chairman Tom McDade.

McDade further stated that those persons who wish to place an order will have an opportunity to become active co-op members by purchasing at least one share of stock at one dollar per share from co-op stock sales manager John Campbell.

"Not only does this stock entitle a person to make purchases at wholesale prices through the club but also it pays dividends up to 5 per cent per year. We urge those who are able, however, to purchase 10 shares, five each for husband and wife," explained Thompson.

Following consolidation of orders taken at the buying meeting purchases will be made at wholesale prices and it is expected that delivery will be made through neighborhood chairmen on Saturday, January 25.

The shadowy forms above are Jooss ballet artists, portraying the satirical ballet, "The Green Table," which will be presented here in the repertoire Monday night at 8:30 o'clock in Memorial hall. The ballet dramatically satirizes the League of Nations, showing the "gentlemen in black" sitting around the table arguing after the War.

The discussion leads to another war, after which they return to the table to repeat the process. The production won first prize at the International Congress of the Dance at Paris in 1932. It was the first time the medium of the dance had been used to convey such a message, described as a powerful political editorial.
