Solons Refuse Trip to Moscow

Senators Turn Down Truman Invitation

Washington, Feb. 4—(UP)—The Senate's two top spokesmen of foreign affairs have turned down President Truman's invitation to attend the Moscow conference—but with reservations.

Both Senators Arthur Vandenberg and Tom Connally state that they are too busy with their work in the senate to serve as full-time delegates, but they will join the meeting later, when they may be needed to demonstrate the senate's bi-partisan support of our foreign policy.

Both Vandenberg and Connally were the main welders of that bi-partisan policy. Both served as advisers to former Secretary of State Byrnes in meetings of the UN and the foreign ministers. Connally had indicated he planned to accompany Secretary Marshall to Moscow and remain throughout the conference, but the Texas Democrat apparently followed Vandenberg's lead in turning down the invitation.

In refusing, Vandenberg made it clear that his action has nothing to do with our foreign policy.

Said he "It should be distinctly stated that this implies no breach in our unpartisan pursuit of United American foreign policy. I expect it to continue. I shall be in constant touch with the Secretary and I shall join him when required."

Red Delegate Prevents Disarmament Solution

Lake Success, Feb. 4—(UP)—Russia has rejected this country's latest effort to break the United Nations deadlock over disarmament. U. S. delegate Warren Austin proposed that the Security Council first take up atomic control and then work out a plan to control other weapons. Soviet Delegate Gromyko objected, saying this would lead to unnecessary delays.

House Proposes Limit To Presidential Term

Washington, Feb. 4—(UP)—The House Judiciary Committee has approved a proposed constitutional amendment limiting any president to two terms. The vote was 20 to six. Republican leaders say they will try to get the measure to the House floor by Friday.

New York, Feb. 4—(UP)—Federal agents have arrested Gerhard Eisler—the alleged leader of the Communist party in this country—as an undesirable alien. Eisler—said to use the name Hans Berger—was taken to Ellis Island, for probable deportation.

Wild-Cat Strike Ends In Pennsylvania Plant

Aliquippa, Penn., Feb. 4—(UP)—The wild-cat strike of 18 railroad workers at the Jones and Laughlin Steel plant has been settled. The walkout had made 3500 workers idle, and had disrupted contract negotiations between the CIO United Steelworkers and the company.

Boston Mayor's Appeal Denied by High Court

Boston, Feb. 4—(UP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals has denied the appeal of Mayor James Curley of Boston from his conviction for mail fraud. Curley now is expected to take his appeal on to the Supreme Court.

Baruch Assures Canada No Insult Is Intended

Washington, Feb. 4—(UP)—Statesman Bernard Baruch has sent a telegram to Canada explaining that nothing in his statement before the Senate Committee on Atomic Energy was intended to reflect on Canada on present operations there.

World Government Advocate to Speak

Colgate Prentice Will Plead Cause For Lasting Peace in Hill Tonight

By Joy Blumenthal

"World Government—A Challenge," is the topic of the talk to be given tonight in Hill hall at 8:30 by Colgate Prentice, president of Student Federalists, Inc. Prentice has been touring the country since October in an effort to arouse interest in this student movement which is campaigning for federal world government.

Traveling more than 5,000 miles he has carried the arguments for world federation across the nation to California and back and is speaking here on his return trip. His message, to the more than 24,000 students to whom he has spoken, is: "Because youth alone will furnish the vision and leadership to bring about changes necessary for a permanent peace, students must accept their responsibility in the world government movement."

Prentice, who as central fire control operator on a B-29, was awarded the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters, organized the Swarthmore Chapter of Student Federalists. He was elected president of Student Federalists at the organization's national convention in Chicago, where he introduced into the Student Federalists Charter the statement of individual responsibility in creating "a world government dedicated to human rights and justice under law."

Student Federalists is a non-partisan student movement organized and directed entirely by students. It is not affiliated with any group, party, or organization. Its 4,000 members, ranging in age from 15 to 25, have just one aim: campaigning for federal world government in our time.

Di Will Discuss Communism

With "Is Communism a menace to the independence of the United States," as the question for debate, the Di senate will meet this evening at 9 o'clock in Di hall.

Russell H. Johnson, prominent member of the Carolina Conservative club, is expected to take the affirmative of the question, and Senator John Brock has been appointed by the Senate Ways and Means committee to lead the negative forces. The many supporters of these two views are expected to be present for a debate which is likely to be one of the most lively of the term.

Prior to the evening's main discussion, initiation ceremonies will be conducted for Lincoln Kan, a former resident of Shanghai, China, who was accepted for Senate membership last week by the unanimous consent of the body. Kan is a political science major, and has been active in other discussion groups on the campus.

An executive session has also been called for 8:30, by President Don Shropshire, to act on confidential Senate business. The attendance of all members of the body to this meeting is compulsory.

Not About Georgia Governors...

College Campus Is Setting For Sound and Fury Comedy

By Sandy Minnix

After a long search and an infinite number of suggestions Sound and Fury has dubbed its new show "Dear Congress." Already Director Art Golby has been bombarded by questions concerning its meaning. Though he would not reveal the significance of the name at this time, he wanted it understood that it had no political significance. "It is not a play concerning Bilbo. It has nothing to do with Georgia's two governors. It is a comedy about a college campus," asserted Golby.

Juvenile Leads

The juvenile leads have been given to Fran Avera, Joyce Corbet and Ben Kistler. Don Draper, George Grizzard, John Scher, Norman Sper and Don Shields have important parts as faculty members. With over 50 members in the entire production the show will be produced on a grand scale. A

SCHW to Push Medical Bill

Stewart Submits Four-Fold Plan

At its last meeting, the Southern Conference for Human Welfare laid plans for the launching of a gigantic campaign in support of the Medical Care bill now pending before the State Legislature in Raleigh.

Perrell Payne Jr., chairman of the local chapter stated:

"The Chapter considers the Health Program to be one of the most vital pieces of legislation. . . we intend to go all-out in its support. There are numerous organizations which are already hard at work to secure passage for the program. We intend to work with them. . . and individual students on campus in a drive to gain a real Medical Care bill and not some watered-down version."

Four-Fold Plan

Blount Stewart, chairman of a special committee set up for the purpose of studying most effective means for setting this drive into motion, submitted a four-fold plan, which included the following:

(1) To enlist the aid of all interested campus organizations in a combined effort to gain active campus-wide support for the bill.

(2) To print and distribute an informative pamphlet which will include present health conditions and facilities in North Carolina, the provisions of the suggested Medical Care bill.

(3) To launch a letter-writing campaign, on a county basis, in an effort to impress the legislators in Raleigh with the mass support which the Medical Care bill enjoys.

(4) To organize a "caravan," at an expedient and propitious time, to go over to Raleigh while the bill is in debate, as a representative group of interested voters and citizens.

Committees are being formed to carry forward these plans and to get the program under way.

Veterans Book Law Will Be Enforced More Rigorously

As a result of recent discovery of flagrant abuse in other sections of the country it is expected that the regulations governing issuance of books and supplies to veterans will be more strictly enforced. This does not mean that there will be any change in the laws, but that more safeguard will be required to see that the intent of the laws is carried out.

At a recent conference at Winston-Salem with the Veterans administration officials, which was attended by Mr. J. A. Williams, Mr. H. R. Ritchie, and F. C. Shepard, it was pointed out that only a small percentage of the violations so far discovered were malicious. The great majority were due to a misunderstanding of the institutions as to their responsibilities in issuing the books.

Attention was called to the regulation which states the "books, equipment and/or supplies will be furnished outright to the veteran if and as needed and will consist of those items required, but in no instance greater in variety, quality, or amount than are required by the institution to be provided personally by other students pursuing the same or similar course.

Items classified as "desirable" but not required are not legitimate charges against the veterans' account and will not be paid by the Veterans administration. In case any supplies or books of an unusual nature are needed by the veteran "for the proper pursuit of his course," as occurs at the graduate level, it will be necessary to secure a specific ruling from the Veterans administration to insure that such items are legitimate charges against the veterans account.

It was further pointed out that the institution must certify that the account of each veteran is true and correct, and conforms with the existing regulations. It is, therefore, the responsibility of the institution to install and maintain proper safeguards to see that only authorized items are issued to veterans.

The Veterans Administration will not and cannot attempt to police the See VETERANS, page 4.

DTH Heads Upheld By Phi Assembly

Popular Vote Favors Hodgson, 52-35; Fund Misappropriations Are Charged

By Jimmy Wallace

The Phi Hall, packed to the rafters, was the scene last night of what had promised to be the biggest knock down, drag out fight in this year's turbulent series of extra-curricular eruptions.

The subject: A debate between Tookie Hodgson, Publications Board Member, and Foo Giduz, Managing Editor of the Daily Tar Heel.

The question: resolved the DTH was unfair, unethical, and untrue in its condemnation of the Publications Board, and that Giduz was same for his participation therein. Also Woestendiek and Giduz were sloppy and unbusinesslike in their management of some items of finance. The latter were: 1. unauthorized debt of $8.05 incurred by Giduz (for office items), and purchase of syndicated features (Mauldin's cartoons and Pearson's column) by Giduz and Woestendiek without PB authorization.

Phi Vote

Hodgson won. The score was 52 to 34, with everyone voting. The Phi vote: three for; six against.

There was tremendous and sustained applause after Hodgson spoke (there were approximately 35 members of his fraternity in the audience) (Phi Gams).

It developed that: Woestendiek: The Daily Tar Heel is not run in accordance with any political party's platform, but is the expression of the student body. The syndicated features were contracted for personally, and would have been paid for out of the pockets of the Editor and the Managing Editor had the PB not ratified the purchases. The PB did ratify them, it developed.

Editor of Mag

Jacobson (editor of Mag): The PB has one of its members sign every check. It is impossible for expenditures to be made without the knowledge of the Board.

It also developed that the PB has open meetings, but reserves the right to close them when it wishes to do so. Giduz: Asked how many Phi Gams were in the audience. About half the audience stood.

Hodgson: Asked if anyone present could prove any MISAPPROPRIATION. No one could.

Giduz: Said that he had said that there was OPPORTUNITY to have ignorant and unfair faculty members on the PB. He said that he had not said that there were such at the present time.

Hodgson: Any further unauthorized purchases will not be paid for by PB.

Gene Aenchbacher

Gene Aenchbacher (candidate for Editor of DTH in last election): questioned Morrison, the president of the PB, as to the possibility of the PB's affecting editorial policy by withholding funds. Answer: Yes, it could, but doesn't.

Aenchbacher: If editors were allowed to regularly attend PB meetings, all the facts could be argued and there would be no ground for attack on either side.

Al Lowenstein: (after stating that he was not a member of any of the fraternities present and not a candidate for editor) said that editors should have more voice in the distribution of funds; that mere charges on both sides rendered the situation a mockery. The mere changing of funds from one legitimate purpose to another legitimate purpose should be O.K. Yielded to.

Hodgson: When editors want more monies, they should come to the PB. Irwin Smallwood

Irwin Smallwood: When the decision was made to purchase the syndicated features, the editors were in New York, and the PB was unavailable. That there was the intention to reduce the engraving expenses by an amount equal to the amount expended for the features. Editors should have a general fund in the budget.

Hodgson: Editors must adhere to the budget, once it is prepared.

Giduz: alleged that PB had entertained a motion by Hodgson to fire Giduz.

Hodgson: denied it. Morrison: denied it.

It apparently stood denied.

Tom Eller: Said that argument that editors misused money was not valid, since PB later ratified the use of the money. Said that this was an ex post facto accusation. Promiscuously used the word "promiscuously." Stated that Stacy dorm had not received the DTH today, and many other days. Said that circulation manager was a Phi Gam, a fraternity brother of Hodgson's. He stated that there was no valid evidence to substantiate allegations. Introduced substitute motion to effect that Editors should be commended for action in obtaining new features. This was defeated, by something to 30.

Martin Carmichael: Pleaded for more maturity in Student Government if it expects to command the respect of the campus.

Hodgson: stated that Eller wants anarchy, and that the present circulation manager was elected without his brothers' participation.

Bill Lane: (former member of the student legislature) Hodgson's charges are unfair, and his motives questionable.
