Party Leaders Split on Issue Of Nomination

Opinions Differ On Atomic Energy Head

Washington, Feb. 21—(UP)—The Republican party is splitting right down the middle over the nomination of David Lilienthal as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Ohio's Senator Taft came out this evening with a blistering attack on Lilienthal as an alleged bureaucrat who is too soft with communists and with Russia. That put Taft in direct opposition to Senate President Vandenberg of Michigan, who went on record earlier today as a Lilienthal supporter.

Stassen Supports

Now the only avowed Republican candidate for president in '48, Harold Stassen of Minnesota, has given his backing to the former TVA head. Stassen told a news conference that on the basis of evidence so far taken by the Senate Atomic committee, he would support the Lilienthal nomination. Furthermore, he predicts that the nomination would be confirmed despite the powerful opposition of such men as Taft, Republican party whip Wherry of Nebraska, and Republican Senate Leader White of Maine.

Russians Complete Demobilization Plan

Berlin, Feb. 21—(UP)—The Russians have told General Joseph McNarney they have completed their partial demobilization program inside Germany. Reliable observers estimate there now are less than 200,000 Soviet troops in the Russian occupation zone, about as many troops as the United States has policing its area.

Senator Says Russia To Receive Machinery

Washington, Feb. 21—(UP)—Republican Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire says we're about to send machinery for refining aviation gasoline to Russia. Bridges claims the machinery is part of a 25 million dollar lend-lease shipment to the Soviet Union.

U. S. Sugar Ration Gets Increase for New Year

New York, Feb. 21—(UP)—The United States has been allotted some 6,800,000 tons of the 1947 world sugar supply—enough to increase the per capita consumption of sugar in this country from 73 to 95 pounds. The decision of the International Emergency Food Council is expected to increase the housewife's ration for the year to 35 pounds.

English Snowdrifts Stop Coal Shipments

London, Feb. 21—(UP)—Snowdrifts 20 feet deep are piling up in fuel-starved England tonight, forcing a disastrous new halt in coal shipments. The worst blizzard of the storm-bound winter has isolated a number of towns, suspended air service and stopped shipping. The weatherman predicts no let-up in the blizzard.

Superintendent Names Mental Hospital Head

Durham, Feb. 21—(UP)—The general superintendent of state hospitals, Dr. David A. Young, has announced in Durham that a director has been named for the Camp Butner hospital, which the state will take over soon as a mental hospital. Dr. Young says the director, at least temporarily, will be Dr. Allen Burke of the Mary State hospital at Sykesville, Md. He adds that somebody from the present State Hospital system may be named permanent director.

WEATHER TODAY

Fair and Slightly Warmer

Stanley H. Martin, director of religious activities at Boston university, will act as dean of Religion week and coordinator of speaker's activities in sessions beginning tomorrow.

Martin to Talk Religion Week

Seminar Discussions Will Begin Tomorrow

Carolina students will have an opportunity to discuss some of the age's perennial problems with men and women whose lives have been devoted to a search for adequate answers, during seminar periods every afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock next week. The seminars are an important part of Religion in Life week which begins tomorrow.

There will be five different subjects. Personal Religious Living will be led by Stanley H. Martin, director of religious activities at Boston university. Martin will also act as dean of the week and coordinator of speaker's activities of the other fourteen speakers. He will lead a final meeting of the Protestant Council, one of the conference planning groups, tonight at 6 o'clock at the Methodist church.

Ramsay on "Social Justice"

John G. Ramsay, community relations representative of the CIO and a vice-chairman of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, is in charge of the group discussing Social Justice, A Christian Goal. Science and Religion will be the topic of the seminar led by Dr. Raymond Seeger, famed physicist who was present at the Bikini atom bomb test. Mrs. Sherwood Eddy will direct the seminar studying Christian marriage.

Representatives of the three major faiths, Father Edmond Denard, Rabbi Abraham Feinstein, and Dr. Clyde Milner, will be in charge of the students registered for the discussion of the kinship between Judaism and Christianity.

Duz Does It Again...

Rameses Will Plug for Duz This Evening All Because of Bath for Duke-UNC Game

By Sigsbee Miller

Rameses, Carolina's horned hero of the gridiron, will butt in on the radio air waves from coast to coast this evening, all because of an autumn bath and a box of soap powders.

It all started last fall when the Daily Tar Heel editors, taking note of the depressing gray hue of Rameses' shaggy coat, demanded that the Tar Heel mascot be given a bath. The boys over in the athletic department agreed that the job had been left undone too long and they approached Rameses on the matter.

Rameses, accustomed to being the goat of worse jokes than this one, submitted to the operation with only mild protests. So Rameses got his bath and came out all sparkling white for the Duke-Carolina brawl game. And that, everybody thought, ended that. What they had failed to note was that the suds for Rameses' now-memorable bath had been generated by a big box of Duz, the wonder soap that writes under water or something like that.

Hogan 'Duz' Everything

An enterprising Carolina student, Glenn Hogan, did the rest. To "Truth or Consequences," the half-hour radio show put on by Duz every Saturday evening at 8:30, Hogan sent the clip-

University Laundry Increases Rates As Legislature Approves Wage Hike

Solons Finish Busiest Week Of Legislature

Raleigh, Feb. 21—(UP)—Most of North Carolina's General Assemblymen are on their way home this afternoon after the busiest week so far of the 1947 session. Both houses will hold local bill sessions tomorrow morning, but the major business is finished for the week.

Next week the lawmakers will face several other controversial issues, chief among them the bill to outlaw the closed shop. This measure is on the House calendar for Monday night, but no debate is expected until Tuesday.

New Art History Museum

The state Senate today passed a bill authorizing the state to accept a bequest from the late Mrs. Minnie Stowe Puett to build a state museum of art and history in Raleigh. The museum would be supervised by the North Carolina Art society, and would be paid for by the income from a trust fund left by Mrs. Puett.

The House passed a bill to set up a nine-member State Board of Correction to supervise correctional institutions for children. The proposed new board would take over many duties now distributed among separate boards.

Another bill passed by the House would give the state Attorney General another full assistant, to make

There also was considerable action on local bills today.

The House passed one to outlaw the use of profane language on the public roads and highways in Orange county. The bill now becomes law because the Senate had already approved it.

A total of five. Two of these would be assigned to the state revenue department.

Margery Alexander of Charlotte, speaking for the South Piedmont teacher pay schedule, says the steering committee of teachers which has fought the teacher pay issue across the state will meet next week to determine their future actions.

LABORATORY THEATER MEETS

The Laboratory theater will meet tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in room 111 Murphey hall, to read "Six Characters in Search of an Author," a play by Luigi Pirandello. The reading is open to the public.

Sonny Dunham and his orchestra, with Paula Kelly and the Modernaires will be presented by the German club in a concert this afternoon at 2 o'clock and in a formal dance tonight from 8 to 12. Concert ticket holders are requested to come early to assure themselves of good seats.

Graham Advocates Authority To Control Atom Manufacture

President Backs Baruch-Acheson-Lilienthal Report in Address before Asheville Groups

The world needs an international authority in line with the Baruch-Acheson-Lilienthal report for inspection and control of the sources and manufacture of atomic power, President Frank P. Graham of the University said in an Asheville address last evening before the Americans United for World Government and the State organization of World Federalists.

The address was a feature of the observance of Brotherhood week.

"The one world needs a world court with jurisdiction over the crimes of individuals against the United Nations subject to the guarantee of an international bill of rights," he declared. "The world needs an international police force responsible not to separate nations but to the United Nations. It needs to shift legislative power from the Security Council to Assembly of all the United Nations weighted for representation."

Bomb Greatest Threat

President Graham emphasized that the atomic bomb "in the hands of the absolute state is the greatest threat which has come to man . . .

"It is now imperative that all groups, all races and all nations, whatever be their differences, make their first concern the strengthening of world government through the United Nations for the international control and the humane use of atomic power.

"As the home of the atomic bomb, America has a great moral responsibility," he said. "America, for the sake of her own soul, must take the lead in putting the atomic bomb under the control and ban of world government. America must, with the rise safeguards of an international authority under the United Nations, share the knowledge and use of atomic power and with all peoples, for research and humane causes, for full production and fair distribution within the nations, and for justice and peace among the nations."

Way to Enlightened Faith

"The cross and the stake reveal, and the synagogue and the church carry on, the unconquerable aspiration of the human spirit for a freer and better world. Idealism does not cringe before force. Repression is the way of frightened power. Freedom is the way of enlightened faith.

"With all our efforts for human understanding and goodwill, without a sense of human brotherhood and the sacred worth of human personality, 'They labor in vain who build the house.' Our great religious communions search us through with their faith and ideals."

ADPi House to Be Open For Summer Residents

The Alpha Delta Pi House will be open for living quarters for summer school students with an official house-mother who will operate the dining room, serving three meals a day.

Applications can be accepted only from members of national sororities, or women who have been through an official rushing period here, due to local Panhellenic rulings. All interested persons should contact Virginia Wilson at the Alpha Delta Pi house, either by telephone (F-3071) or by mail.

Welfare Members Term New Level Warranted Rise

By Ed Joyner

Customers of the University laundry will be paying approximately 30 per cent more for their laundry work next month following a rate increase which will go into effect March 1, a week from today.

The decision to make the increase was made after the matter was presented to the executive committee of the Student Welfare board by J. S. Bennett, supervisor of operations. The committee, which consists of Dewey Dorsett, Charlie Warren, and Fran Golden as student members and J. S. Bennett, C. P. Spruill, and E. L. Mackie as faculty members, agreed unanimously that the increase would be warranted.

Immediate cause of the increase as given by administration sources is a 20 per cent plus pay boost for the laundry workers authorized by the State Legislature in its bonus bill for state employees. This increase is paid by the state in cases of non self-supporting departments such as teaching, but self-supporting departments such as the laundry must take care of the increase from incoming revenue.

Lose $1,000 Weekly

Another factor in the rate jump is the fact that the income of the laundry has failed to meet expenses since the Navy pre-flight school closed in the fall of 1945. With the new pay rate in effect and at the present laundry rate, J. S. Bennett, supervisor of operations, estimates that the laundry would lose a possible $1,000 per week.

Even at the increased rates, the University laundry charges will remain an average of 3 per cent less than the lowest rates charged in the Chapel Hill area. At present they are 33 per cent lower than other laundry rates in Chapel Hill.

Almost Same as 1921

With the exception of a straight 10 per cent increase made six years ago, the present rates are the same as they were when the University started its first laundry in 1921.

One expected result of increased pay for the laundry workers is the probability of getting more and better labor and consequently more efficient laundry work.

More Than 200 Cabbies Face Police Questions In S. C. Lynching Case

Greenville, S. C., Feb. 21—(UP)—Every taxicab driver in Greenville has been rounded up in a final drive to complete the case against the white mob that lynched Willie Earle, near Pickens last Monday, leaving not a cab on the Greenville streets. Sheriff R. H. Bearden has rounded up some 200 drivers for screening and questioning and already has 27 detailed confessions from white men, most of them cabbies, who admit being in the party that dragged the 25-year-old Negro from the Pickens county jail in the gloom before Monday's dawn.

The sheriff says he already knows who fired the shot that killed Earle on a back road near Pickens, and he adds that the man who fired the fatal shot is a cab-driver. The bulk of the lynching party was made up of cabbies who wanted revenge for the crime of which Earle was accused. The Negro was held for the stabbing and robbery last Saturday night of cab-driver T. W. Brown.

Two others, identified merely as "prominent" Greenville residents, also are being held. But the names of all suspects are being withheld until additional suspects are questioned.

Authorities have been helped out in their probe by statements from jailer Ed Gilstrap, who was forced to open Earle's jail cell, as well as by statements from his daughter who watched the raid from her upstairs apartment.

ping from the Daily Tar Heel telling of Rameses' bath. As a result, Rameses will go plugging for Duz tonight. Rameses won't be on the program in person. He's much too comfortable over at Hogan's lake, where he resides between football games. And, modest soul that he is, he probably won't even be listening in over WPTF in Raleigh (or any other NBC station) when his "Duzzin'" becomes the top commercial of the evening.

Rameses, Carolina's horned mascot, will appear by proxy tonight on the Duz program, 'Truth or Consequences,' over NBC at 8:30, as the result of a much-needed bath given him by the Athletic department prior to the Carolina-Duke football game last fall.
