UP Nominates Miller For Student Body President

Long Named by SP for Office of Secretary-Treasurer

Platform Decided By Student Party

In a brief session yesterday afternoon the Student party nominated Charlie Long, of Thomasville, for secretary-treasurer of the student body and announced a platform calling for a change in the registration system, revamping of the Student Welfare board, and "elimination of the unjust discriminating Chapel Hill Merchants association monopoly on prices and building."

An expected nomination for the Yackety Yack editorship failed to materialize.

Long, a rising junior and ex-G.I., was nominated by acclamation for secretary-treasurer to replace Joe Byrd, who withdrew. Long is a member of the Student Legislature, where he is currently serving on the fact finding board, the ways and means committee and the finance committee. He is a former president pro-tem of the Dialectic Senate and a former vice-chairman of the Student party.

Men's Council Nominates

Nominated for the Men's Council were Ken Black and Charlie Lambeth, rising seniors, and Dick Walker and Al Winn, rising sophomores.

The party platform, made public for the first time yesterday, includes the following planks; Improved seating for students at athletic events, elimination of unfair price discrimination by local merchants, an up-to-date catalogue of courses, a campus information service, a new and better registration system, library facilities available to infirm patients, and a campus schedule of events.

Additional planks were: better Quonset hut living conditions, better telephone service, thorough orientation program, better printing facilities, and reconstitution of Student Welfare board.

Wayne Morse Is Forced To Cancel Talk Here Due to Senate Duties

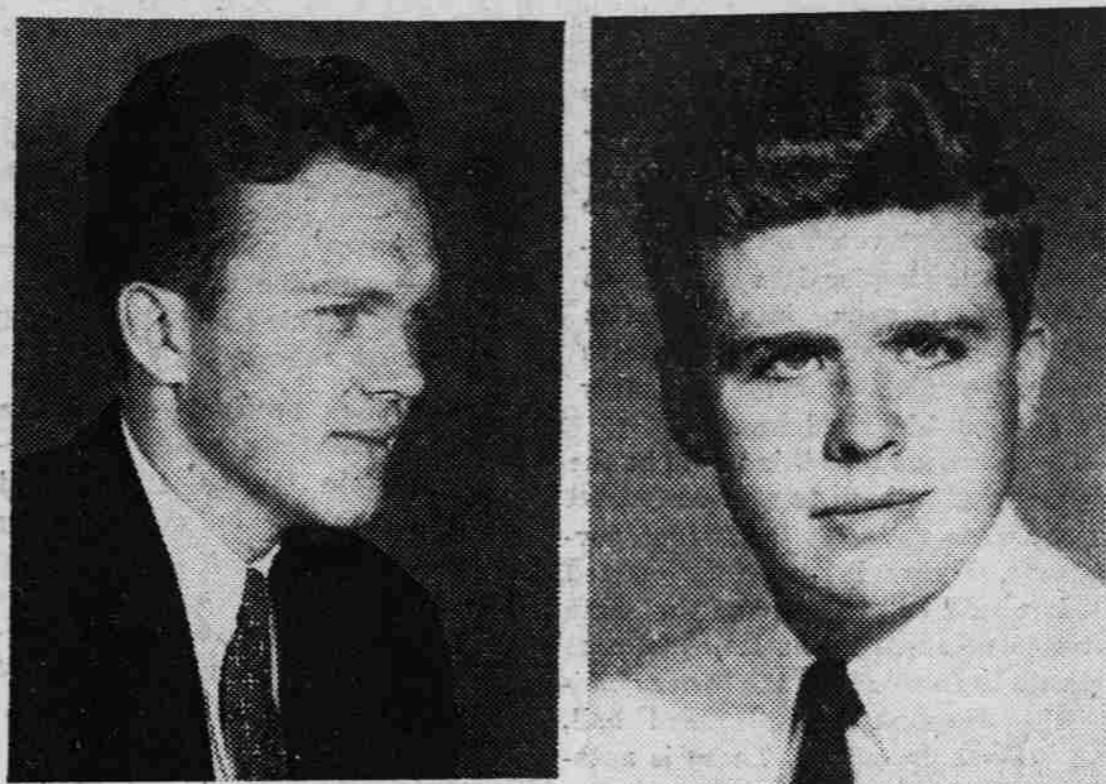

Wayne Morse, progressive Republican senator from Oregon, has again cancelled his scheduled speech here for the Carolina Political union, it was announced by Jerry Davidoff. Originally scheduled for tomorrow evening, word was received by the CPU that Morse would be unable to leave Washington.

The following telegram was received from the Oregon solon: "Deeply regret must cancel my April 3 date with you because both Lillenthal and Greek loan debate will be before Senate for vote this week. There is no way of telling when vote on them will be taken, hence I cannot risk being off floor of Senate for single hour. Furthermore I shall be particularly active on the floor in debate on both issues. I am extremely embarrassed to cancel my trip to Chapel Hill but I would be derelict in my duties if I were away when important issues are before the Senate. I will be glad to try to arrange another date this spring if you have not already given up in disgust. (Signed) Wayne Morse, USS."

Morse was due to speak here in December, but a trip to Europe forced withdrawal at that time. Complications in University scheduling caused postponement of a January engagement to the April date.

It was also announced that Jo Fishel of Vaughn had been elected CPU secretary to replace Bob Jones who leaves for Latin America this week. William Patterson, Winston-Salem, was elected to membership in the Union.

The roundtable topic for next Sunday's meeting will be the proposed ban on Communists in the government.

Bill Miller, left, and Charlie Long, right, have been nominated for the posts of president and secretary-treasurer of the student body, respectively. Miller, named by the University party is head of the Ways and Means committee of the Student Legislature, while Long has been active on the floor of the campus assembly.

Ralph Strayhorn Chosen to Direct Campaign Policy

By Chuck Hauser

Bill Miller, tall, red-headed junior from Greenville, South Carolina, tossed his hat into the the presidential political ring yesterday with an official announcement that he was running for president of the student body on the University party ticket, stating, his primary objective was "progressive and representative student government above the party line."

Miller's statement in full follows:

Primary Objective

"I thank the University party for the confidence it has expressed in nominating me for the office of president of the student body.

"I will say now, I enter the campaign with no obligations and one primary objective—the formation of a progressive and representative student government above the party line."

Strayhorn Campaign Manager

Ralph Strayhorn, outstanding member of the Tar Heels' 1946 Sugar Bowl team, is managing Miller's campaign for the coming May elections. Miller's qualifications for office, as listed by the University party, are as follows: Chairman of the Student Legislature's Ways and Means committee, top-ranking committee of that body; member and past president of the Debate council; member of the Student Government Leadership Conference committee, whose purpose is to orient campus office-holders in their duties and obligations.

UVA Member

Miller is also a present member of the University Veterans association, having seen action in France, Germany, and Belgium. A resident of Manly dormitory, the candidate was selected several months ago to represent the University as one of the delegates to the national Chicago Conference of college students. He also represented Carolina as a member of the North Carolina Student Legislative Assembly, in which he was elected a member of the Executive committee.

Alderman to Be Feted At UVA Party Tonight

The University Veterans association will entertain the coeds of Alderman dormitory tonight at 8 o'clock in the UVA clubhouse, President Roy Moose announced yesterday.

In line with its weekly program started last fall, a good crop of campus talent will be on hand to perform for the vets and their guests. Free cigarettes, secured from a national tobacco company, will be available for everyone.

Moose urges all veteran members to attend this function.

Hearing of Dorsey Charges Postponed, States Manning

A preliminary hearing of the $16,000 breach of contract suit against Tommy Dorsey originally scheduled for this week's session of the Superior court in Burlington, will not be held, John T. Manning, lawyer for the Grail, stated yesterday.

Judge R. Hunt Parker, who was to have held the hearing, closed the court Monday, and Manning added, "It doesn't look like the hearing will be conducted any time within the next two or three weeks."

Dorsey attorneys had interposed a demurrer in the case, Manning said, and the hearing would have concerned the demurrer, not the charges contained in the original suit. Grail officials have indicated that the case proper will be heard in the May term of the Orange County Superior court.

Charge Did Not Bring Full Band

Filed against Dorsey last fall, the suit charges that the noted bandleader did not bring his full band here on the Carolina-Duke weekend in November. It is alleged that "T. D." had contracted to appear with his whole outfit, but showed up in Woollen gymnasium minus his entire string section.

Dorsey is now reported to be in the Caribbean on a second honeymoon with his actress wife, Pat Dane. He recently stated, while stopping off in Morehead City, "The Grail suit is just a drop in the bucket. People are always suing me for something."

Grail officials, however, have evidenced a different attitude towards the case. They are determined to press charges against "Mr. Trombone" until the courts have handed down a decision.

Student Government Will Get Office, Secretarial Service

By Barron Mills

The Graham Memorial Board of Directors voted to provide office space and secretarial services for the benefit of the officers of the executive and legislative phases of Student Government at a meeting of the group Monday afternoon. These provisions are expected to be in operation after July 1, according to Tag Montague, chairman of the Board.

President of the student body, Dewey Dorsett, stated that the office provided by the Student Union would be used to house the archives of student government, the Student Legislature and the various committees. Also it would be a meeting place of committees and "provide greater efficiency for student government."

Dorsett said that the Board should be commended for its action and interest in taking such steps. "Heretofore all the records of student government, the Legislature and committee meetings have been kept in individual student's rooms and oftentimes they have been destroyed or lost. File cabinets will be provided for the archives and with the help of a secretary, records and

Eisenhower Spends Day Here with Captain Hazlett

By Darley Lochner

General Ike Eisenhower spent yesterday afternoon in Chapel Hill "catching up on old times" with Captain E. E. Hazlett, former NROTC commander and boyhood friend. The general's visit to Chapel Hill was an interlude in his inspection tour of southern Army camps.

"You'll have to ask General Marshall about the Greek situation," General Eisenhower said. "This is a social call with Captain Hazlett and you shouldn't expect me to discuss the international situation during an afternoon's visiting."

The general's smiling geniality hardened only when he was asked about his plans of securing the presidential nomination. "I'll never be a candidate and I don't have any plans. The answer is definitely 'No,'" the chief of staff said.

He had more to say about universal military training. "Anyone who has studied the situation for ten minutes should understand that an efficient program of preparedness is absolutely necessary," the hero of the Battle of Europe stated emphatically.

General Eisenhower displayed a healthy tan even on the top of his bald head.

"Captain Hazlett and I were just figuring how long it was since we have seen each other," Ike commented. "It's not been since 1935 and that has been a long time."

He explained, although he and Captain Hazlett had been boyhood chums, that the Chapel Hillian had priority over him in the matter of Abilene,

Kans., the town which has become famous as the general's home. "Captain Hazlett was born in Abilene and I didn't get there until I was two years old," he said, his blue eyes crinkling with humor.

General Eisenhower laughed heartily when he was shown a copy of "The Daily Comrade," April Fool edition of "The Daily Tar Heel." "This looks like a clever piece of work," he commented. "I'll have to read it more thoroughly."

Mrs. Eisenhower, who is accompanying her husband on his southern tour, asked, "How did you know we were here?" When she was told that Merwin Van Hecke, University student, had removed the rain shield from the special five-star license plate, she turned to her hus-

Assembly Sets Fee Structure

At $5 Per Term

Group Earmarks $1 For Student Union

By Bookie Jabine

Just getting under the Constitutional deadline, the Student Legislature Monday evening heard the report of Budget commission chairman Johnny Jones, and passed a resolution setting a block fee of $5 per student per quarter for student activities.

It was also unanimously decided that $1 of the sum be earmarked for the maintenance of Graham Memorial. The remainder of the budget was turned over to the Finance committee for consideration.

Motion by Wallace

Jimmy Wallace, one of the students who conferred with Dean Weaver over the fee structure, made the motion providing for the $5 assessment.

The figure is believed to be one which will satisfy both the administration and students. Said Wallace, "This is the first time that a student group is assessing the student body."

In his speech explaining the budget, Johnny Jones scathed the heads of various campus groups for their "lack of cooperation," but praised members of the commission who worked "tirelessly" with him.

Budget Great Help

Dewey Dorsett also addressed the assembly, stating that the budget would be a "tremendous help" and that Graham Memorial had decided to set aside another room for the use of student government.

Finance committee chairman Bill Mackie explained that his group will meet today and tomorrow afternoons at 3 o'clock to consider the individual items in the budget. Today they will convene in the Roland Parker lounge, while the Grail room will be the scene of tomorrow's meeting.

Setting its sights for a blue ribbon performance, the University Debate squad embarks tonight for Fredericksburg, Va., to participate in its final off-campus debate of the quarter, the Grand National Forensic tournament to be held on the Mary Washington college campus tomorrow, Friday, and Saturday.

Maurice Braswell, Debate council president, felt confident that the team of 14 speakers would bring a number of victories back to Carolina, as University squads have done in the past in this all-important tourney.

The debaters are scheduled to catch the "Silver Meteor" in Raleigh at approximately midnight tonight and will arrive in Fredericksburg at 5:15 tomorrow morning.
