Lilienthal Wins First Victory In Test Vote

Balloting Expected Early in Next Week

Washington, April 3. — (UP) — David Lilienthal has won a major victory on the floor of the Senate that Washington forecasters say virtually assures his confirmation as atomic-energy chief.

Late this afternoon, the Senate voted 52 to 38 against a motion to shelve his appointment until the FBI looked over his past.

The motion to send the Lilienthal nomination back to committee was considered the test of strength between his friends and foes. The most powerful foe, Ohio's Robert Taft, lost one of his most significant in-party battles. He lost after arguing in vain that Lilienthal is "soft" toward Russia and should not be entrusted with this country's most vital secret.

Take Recess

Immediately after the vote, the Senate took an Easter weekend recess. Indications are it will vote on the direct confirmation issue on Monday or Tuesday of next week. And it looks very much as though the former Tennessee Valley chairman will win his long fight.

Western Union Workers File Notice of Strike

New York, April 3.—(UP)—The Western Union division of the A. F. of L. Commercial Telegraphers union announced that contract negotiations with the Western Union Telegraph company have broken down and that it has filed a 30-day strike notice against the company in accordance with the Smith-Connally act.

Krug Closes 500 Mines Regarded as Dangerous

Washington, April 3. — (UP) — One-sixth of the nation's coal supply will be cut off indefinitely by the drastic mine-closing orders issued today by Secretary of the Interior Krug. More than 500 mines, regarded as dangerous, must remain closed until union safety committees or federal inspectors decide their hazards have been corrected.

John L. Lewis has denounced Secretary Krug for failing to close unsafe coal mines before 111 miners were killed at Centralia, Illinois. Lewis told a House Labor subcommittee today that Congress should enact a resolution demanding Krug's removal from office, and he urged Congress to return the $700,000 fine levied on the mine workers—to be used as a trust fund for the families of the Centralia disaster victims.

Committee Approves Plan for Greek Aid

Washington, April 3. — (UP) — Senate Foreign Relations committee has unanimously approved President Truman's $400,000,000 program to quarantine communism in Greece and Turkey. The bill contains an amendment by Chairman Arthur Vandenberg giving the United Nations power to call a halt to the program if it desires. The bill now goes to the Senate floor where debate is expected to begin Monday.

Asheville Electricians Begin Citywide Strike

Asheville, April 3.—(UP)—A citywide strike of union electricians is in progress in Asheville without picketing or violence. The union electricians are members of the A. F. of L's International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. Their contract with Asheville electrical companies ran out April 1, and they are asking 25 cents an hour wage increase which the employers refuse.

French House Will Be Held This Summer

Professor Hugo Giduz, founder and director of the French house, announces that he has finally succeeded in leasing the Alpha Delta house, 407 E. Rosemary, for the 1947 session. The Extension division, sponsor of the French house, was able to secure this lease through the cooperation of the Alpha Delta Pi and the Delta Delta Delta sororities.

The House will operate as last year, women students living in the House and men on the campus. The latter will take their meals at the House and will participate in the entire program there.

Students who are desirous of improving their ability to use spoken French will find here an excellent opportunity for such practice. At all times, the language spoken in the House will be French. Graduate students will be permitted to take courses in the romance language department.

Assisting Professor Giduz will be Mrs. Charlotte V. Huse and Jacques Hardre both of whom were active in past sessions. Mrs. Huse will be hostess and instructor in conversation, while Hardre will conduct a class in conversation and one in French civilization. Professor Giduz will give a course in French review grammar for advanced students and teachers, and a course in the materials and methods of teaching French. Anyone interested in registering for the French house, which will operate during the first summer session (June 12-July 22), may get information by contacting the Extension division in Swain hall (phone F-421), or Prof. Giduz in 305 Murphey or 107 Peabody.

NAVY PHYSICALS

All students who have not completed their physical examinations at the Naval Army are requested to report to the Professor of Naval science today between 9 and 4 o'clock.

Yack Editors Taking Life Easy These Spring Days

Charlotte Now Made Scene of Operations

By Sigsbee Miller
Up in the Yackety Yack office on the mezzanine floor of Graham Memorial, a lot of editors and assistant editors are taking life easy these days. The scene of operations has shifted to a Charlotte printing house where eight miles of glossy surfaced paper is being turned into the 7,000 yearbooks that will be distributed to Tar Heels sometime in May. Suave, immodest Gene Johnstone, the editor in charge of all other editors, even found time to admit the press and give out some pertinent facts on the most ambitious student publication effort ever undertaken in the University's history.

Different—Surprise
"I think it's going to be a surprise to everybody," said Johnstone. "It's different. Of course I can't tell you anything about the theme or dedication. That's to be the surprise."
He rummaged among a stack of discarded proofs and brought forth a sheet of yellow paper from which he proceeded to read some statistics an enthusiastic staff had worked out. "We're printing 7,000 copies this

Folger Nominated by UP For Vice-President Post

Legislature Shouldn't Be Debating Society, Says Aspiring Candidate for Speaker's Spot

By Chuck Hauser

A Student Legislature which "serves the student body instead of acting as a debating society for political parties" is the proposed aim of Jack Folger, who, it was officially revealed yesterday, has been nominated by the University party for the position of vice-president of the student body.

The office to which Folger, a junior from Dobson, aspires, also entails the duties of Speaker of the Student Legislature.

Makes Statement

Folger's statement was released yesterday by Alex Davis, chairman of the University party:

"If the student body elects me to the post of Speaker of the Student Legislature, I will see that every member of the Legislature has a fair chance to express his views on every bill brought up."

No Debating Society

"I will do my best to see that the Legislature serves the student body instead of acting as a debating society for political parties."

Folger has been a member of the Legislature for two years, having previously served on both freshman and sophomore Honor Councils and Executive committees. Active in campus athletics, he has played junior varsity football, and was a member of his freshman class basketball squad.

SP Names Talley, Park for Council

The Student party, at its meeting yesterday afternoon, nominated Vivian Park and Walt Talley as rising junior class members for the Men's council.

Dewey Dorsett, who appeared during the course of the meeting, asked the Party to submit names, which the group would approve, to fill the vacancies now existing—one man and one coed representative in the legislature, and one coed in the Student council.

Next meeting of the Party is set for Tuesday afternoon.

Students May Pick Up Identification Photos

Students who had identification photos made at the beginning of this quarter may pick them up today in the basement of Swain hall.

General Assembly Approves 28 Trustees for University

Raleigh, April 3.—(UP)—The General Assembly has approved 28 new trustees for the University in a short joint session of both Houses today. The new trustees had been nominated last night in a meeting of the joint committee on University trustees.

Twenty-four of them will serve eight-year terms, one six-years, and three for four-years.

Those elected by the committee include O. Max Gardner, Jr., the 24 year-old son of the former governor and United States Senator. Young Gardner is a senior at State college.

Here are the names of the 11 trustees who were re-elected: H. D. Bateman of Wilson county; I. T. Johnson of Ashe; Willie Lee Lumpkin of Franklin; M. C. Lassiter of Greene; H. B. Marrow of Johnston; W. D. Merritt of Person; I. P. McLendon of Guilford; Clarence Poe of Wake; C. A. Rudisill of Gaston; John W. Umstead of Orange; and Lionel Weil of Wayne.

New members named to full terms include the following:

Wilbur H. Currie of Moore county; B. E. Fountain of Edgecombe; P. B. Ferree of Cherokee; O. Max Gardner, Jr. of Cleveland; L. S. Gibbs of Carteret; A. H. Harris of Pamlico; V. G. James of Pasquotank; J. C. Kesler of Rowan; John Kerr, Jr. of Warren; J. S. Love of Guilford; J. F. Millikin of Union; Rudolph I. Mintz of Brunswick; Mrs. R. B. Parker of Stanly, and E. L. Winslow of Perquimans.

The men named to four year terms are W. W. Stevens of Duplin; F. I. Sutton of Lenoir, and G. M. Stephens of Buncombe.

Budget Action Gets Postponed Until Next Week

Although the campus budget was not discussed, the Student Legislature last night cleaned the table of proposed constitutional amendments, defeating the second half of the Student council change, and a bill which would have killed the Legislature's power to determine offenses.

Bill Mackie, chairman of the Finance committee explained his group's failure to report out on any sections of the 1947-48 budget. Mackie said, "The publications board budget is the largest single item at least $54,000 and has not yet been submitted. Without it, we feel that we cannot sensibly report on any other sections and still properly control the entire budget."

Freshman Elections

The assembly also defeated a resolution introduced by Basil Sherill to hold another run-off in the disputed freshman, sophomore elections.

In defeating the two constitutional proposals, the Legislature kept the membership of the Student council at nine, instead of five as the bill contained.

Also the Legislature retained its power to determine offenses against the student body. Concurrent with this, the body is authorized by the constitution to set the maximum and minimum penalties for violations against the campus and honor codes.

Constitution Finished

With the constitution off their minds legislators can now turn to consideration of the budget which is scheduled to be reported out of the Finance committee by next week.

IRC State Convention To Be in Chapel Hill

The 1948 state convention of International Relations clubs will meet in Chapel Hill, it was decided on Saturday at this year's annual IRC conference held at Meredith college in Raleigh.

John Bristow, president of the IRC, led the Carolina delegation, which included James Burwell and Kenneth Cruise. The convention elected Burwell secretary of the state organization for the coming year.

Student representatives from colleges all over the state took part in seminars dealing with all phases of international relations. Dr. James L. Godfrey, professor of history at the University, opened the conference with an address. IRC chairman Bristow spoke to the delegates on the Balkan crisis and on the situation in Italy.

Red Charges Flatly Denied By Local AVC Group Hits Passage Of Hayes Amendment

Flatly denying that the American Veterans committee is "communist dominated" or that Franklin Roosevelt Jr. has disclaimed any connection with AVC as was stated before a committee of the North Carolina legislature this week, Walter Spearman, regional vice-chairman of AVC, and Ben Rouzie, chairman of the Chapel Hill chapter, today wired members of the state legislature.

They protested passage of the "Hayes amendment" which would exempt the American Veterans committee from the provisions of a bill allowing income tax deductions on contributions made to veterans organizations.

"The American Veterans committee is not Communist dominated but represents 90,000 liberal veterans dedicated to American principles of democracy," stated the communication to legislators. "Franklin Roosevelt Jr. has not disclaimed connection with the group as falsely stated by James M. Hayes but is actually enthusiastic and active member of National Planning Committee and in charge of veterans housing. AVC is accredited by the Veterans administration, has 10 chapters in North Carolina with some 500 members. Legislature should not condemn unjustly without hearing."

Wiring Legislature

Roosevelt today telephoned Spearman that he was wiring Representative Kerr Craige Ramsey, chairman of the Finance committee of the N. C. House of Representatives, and Senator Gordon Gray, chairman of the Senate Finance committee, urging defeat of the Hayes amendment and declaring he was an active member of AVC and knew it was not a Communist dominated organization.

It was pointed out by Spearman that the American Veterans committee has been particularly active in its efforts to secure veterans housing, increased subsistence for veterans under the G.I. Bill, and terminal leave pay for enlisted men.

"Through its national chairman, Charles Bolte, AVC suggested the plan whereby war bonds paid veterans for their terminal leave could be used to apply on GI insurance premiums," said Spearman, "and the present Rogers Bill for increased subsistence allowances for veterans in school was drawn up by leaders of AVC."

With the slogan of 'Citizens First, Veterans Second,' the 90,000 members would improve the welfare and living conditions of all citizens as well as veterans."

Coeds Will Elect Officers of WAA, Speaker Tuesday

year at a cost of over $35,000," he said, "twice as many as in an ordinary year. Each book will consist of 420 pages. If you put all the pages together they would stretch 35,280,000 feet, or around eight miles. You could ride to Durham on them—by airplane of course. There'll be around 7,000 individual photographs, including a lot of snapshots, about four or five times as many as last year. We've met all our deadlines and the books should be ready by the middle or latter part of May. "And," he added happily, "this is the first time in many years that the printer's deadlines have been met."

Johnstone, who doesn't mind admitting that his very successful year of editorship is due largely to his own tact and diplomacy in dealing with people, is a political science major hailing from Haleyville, Ala. He was associate editor and later co-editor of the 1945 Yackety Yack.

Getting out a yearbook, he said, is a year-round job. "I started work on the 1947 book right after I was elected editor-in-chief last spring," he said. "I worked on it all summer and by the fall term I had worked out the theme. That's the hardest and the most important part of the job. Since last September we've worked from six to eight hours a day, arranging contracts for space, having class photographs made, fitting in art work with our theme, dickering with printers and engravers, and so on. It hasn't been dull a minute, though. There's always something happening."

Eight Miles of Paper Make 7,000 Yearbooks

This was fervently corroborated by Business Manager Jean Huske, who sat on the sidelines lamenting her own star-crossed career. She wanted it recorded, she said, that the business end was the toughest thing of all about a yearbook. Johnstone smiled tolerantly and turned back.

Credit to Byrnes, Evans

Johnstone accorded a large share of the credit for this year's yearbook to Associate Editor Elizabeth Barnes and Managing Editor Ruth Evans. In fact, he observed, the whole staff had been a veritable paragon of cooperation. He mentioned Bill Moffatt and Peter Gerns, assistant editors; Business Manager Huske; Sid McAden, assistant business manager; John Kerr, sports editor; Winkie Andrews, art editor; Les Bodden, photography editor; Bettie Washburn, senior editor; Hubert Philpott, junior editor, and their respective aides.

Plans for circulation of the yearbooks are incomplete but they will probably be distributed after the fashion of giving out grades, Johnstone said.

WEATHER TODAY

Increasing cloudiness and slightly warmer. Light rains tonight.
