Russia Loses Major Battle To U.S. in U.N.

Greece to Receive Aid from America

Washington, April 18—(UP)—The UN Security council today rejected a Russian resolution to give the United Nations supervision over U. S. aid to Greece. The rejected Soviet proposal would have set up a UN commission to make sure that U. S. aid would be used only in the interests of the Greek people. This would have blocked the military aid that the U. S. proposes to send.

Defeat of the Russian proposal was a major victory for the United States and amounts to Security council endorsement of President Truman's $400 million Greek-Turkish aid program. Only Russia and Poland voted for the Soviet resolution, with Great Britain, Australia, Belgium and Brazil voting against it. The five other nations, including the U. S., declined to vote. Just before the important ballot, American Delegate Warren Austin announced that regardless of how the decision went, he would not use the veto. Austin also praised the Big Five's growing practice of abstaining from voting on measures they oppose and could kill with their veto.

The U. S. victory came immediately after this nation had won another important decision. In a nine to nothing vote, the Council approved an American resolution to keep a permanent commission in the Balkans to watch for border violations. Russia and Poland did not vote.

Greek Guerrillas Win Battle with Government

Athens, April 18—(UP)—Official circles in Athens report that the nine-day government offensive against the Greek guerrilla resistance forces has failed. These diplomatic quarters say that some 20,000 guerrillas now are fleeing north to set up a new front along the country's northern borders.

Henry Wallace Replies To Churchill's Charges

Stockholm, April 18—(UP)—Former Vice President Henry Wallace has replied to charges of Communist affiliations leveled at him by Winston Churchill. Wallace told a Swedish audience at the Stockholm university today that he refuses to be disturbed by such name calling. He said the charges suggest that he is maneuvering against world peace and he declared that peace can never be served by name calling or hatred.

Wallace's reply to Churchill was contained in the second speech delivered in the Swedish capital. Earlier he charged that the people of both Russia and the United States are being inflamed by propaganda.

Russian Commitments Urges to Be Honored

Washington, April 18—(UP)—Two leading Washington officials have urged this country to honor its post-war lend lease commitments with Russia. Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson described recent congressional action in delaying lend-lease pipeline contracts as, to use his words, "Pretty tough medicine." Senate President Arthur Vandenberg says that this country should be scrupulous in keeping its word about sending the remaining lend-lease equipment to Russia.

Consider Remittance Of Verdict of Death

Baton Rouge, April 18—(UP)—The Louisiana Board of Pardons has begun considering a plea to save the life of 18-year-old Willie Francis, the Negro slayer who got only a tickle from the state's electric chair. The board is authorized to recommend that the governor change the young man's sentence from death to life imprisonment. The appeal to the board was made after the Supreme Court refused to prevent another trip to the chair for Francis.

TEP Takes Academic Lead; Pi Beta Phi Wins Second

There was an intellectual division among campus Greeks yesterday as the Dean of Men's office released the list of the academic standings of fraternities and sororities for the fall quarter. Leading the list in the number one position was Tau Epsilon Phi, while the five sororities placed in the top seven positions.

Second smartest as a group was Pi Beta Phi, and third was Pi Lambda Phi. Then in quick succession came Alpha Gamma Delta, Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi, and Delta Delta Delta, indicating that first-rate gray-matter resides beneath the flowing locks of Carolina coeds.

Number eight was Zeta Psi, num-

DTH Brewmasters Dunk Dook Easily For Second Victory

By Jud Allen and Ed Kinberg

"Why it wasn't even close." "Carolina's athletic teams broke even yesterday in two contests with Duke. Our victory came when the undefeated, untied and uncoated Daily Tar Heel Chug-A-Luggers left their Duke Chronicle opponents literally foaming at the mouth in bearing through to a thumping three-lap victory. Hogan's Lake was the scene of the latest triumph for the superbly-conditioned DTH aggregation.

It was an inspired Tar Heel team that came through to win the meet. In their pre-game dressing room talk, the Schlitz sextet cried in their beer as Coach Knute Woestenburp exhorted, "Let's win this one for the Schaeper!" The veteran mentor of many beer bottles was referring to One-Short Mort Schaaap, Tar Heel ace who was absent. Ugly rumor had it that he was misdirected by Duke spies and ended up at Annapolis, Md., at game time.

In a wire to the dressing room, the grateful Schaeper said, "I'm longing for my old Kentucky foam."

Drinking in the anchor position in place of Schaaap was Al (Pretzels) Kauffman, who sealed the UNC victory thirty seconds ahead of Duke's last stumbling brew battler. Although drinking with a taped-up esophagus, Tar Heel No. 2 man, Ed Allen, started and ended in his same position—horizontal.

It was the Kruger-to-Nave pass which won the 1939 Rose Bowl game for Southern Cal. Yesterday it was Krueger-to-stomach operation which won for UNC. Shifted to the shock-troops position, Sam Daniels led off the Tar Heels. Number three was Jar-rin' Jud Kinberg, who was accused of feeding most of his liquid to some kegnine who claimed to be Dan the Dog's mother. Earl Heffner, stomach and all, came up in the number four position, but only after the DTH was legally across the tape. Eager Ed Joyner drank number five, with Kauffman finishing with a flourish.

Funfest Starts at Fetzer Field at 2:30; Sweetheart Ball Planned for Tonight

The third annual Sigma Chi derby funfest will take place on Fetzer field this afternoon, with five sororities and the CICA competing in the coed classic. The first event is slated to start at 2 o'clock and in case of rain the events will be held in Woolleen gymnasium.

Naval Scientists Discuss Research

Two representatives of the Special Devices center of the Office of Naval Research of Sands Point, Long Island, spent yesterday at the Communication center, discussing television plans with Center officials, Director Earl Wynn said yesterday. The pair, Dr. Leonard Mead, head of the Human Engineering and Author Hungerford, head of the radar sections at Sands Point, were talking over the possibility of working the University into their research programs.

"It is hoped," said Director Wynn, "that the Communication center will be able to conduct research programs for the office of Naval Research in the field of television."

Further talks on this matter will be held in the future, both here and in Long Island.

Dewey Dorsett, student body president, Jack Fitch, football wingback, Bob Paxton, basketball star, and Roland Giduz, DTH managing editor have been selected to judge the contest.

Fire Causes No Damage At Home of Sherrill

Acrid smoke which filled the Hillsboro street home of Prof. R. A. Sherrill puzzled Chapel Hill firemen late yesterday afternoon until a lively search revealed a burning mop hidden in a closet as the source. Fire Chief J. S. Boone said spontaneous combustion was responsible for the slight blaze, which caused no damage.

Selden Will Select Actors For Lost Colony Production

Samuel Selden, who has directed The Lost Colony since it opened 10 years ago, will be in Manteo today to cast the more than a hundred speaking roles played in the drama by native Roanoke Islanders.

John A. Walker, general manager of the production, explained that the local casting was being done early this year in order to speed preparations for the 1947 season, which begins July 1 and ends September 1, with 49 performances scheduled. The technical staff will arrive June 1, rehearsals will begin June 12, and the Westminster choir, which has sung the powerful music of the symphonic drama since the beginning, will arrive June 19.

UNC Students in Cast
The local casting will be done on a Saturday in order to give the many college students from this section an opportunity to try out for roles as dancers, Indians, colonists and members of Queen Elizabeth's court. Several prospective cast members from the Manteo area are enrolled at the University. The meeting will be held at the Dare county courthouse at 8 p.m.

Local talent has been outstanding in the production since it opened on July 4, 1937, in the Waterside theatre at Fort Raleigh, three miles north of Manteo. Walker said that this summer Director Selden, who is head of the dramatic art department at the University, would provide courses in the drama, acting and stage technique for the Roanoke Islanders. Plans for this instruction will be announced when he goes to Manteo April 19. It is expected that the professional actors who are members of the cast, and experts from the Carolina Playmakers, will form the faculty which will conduct the courses written by Green.

Show Is Complete From 'Soup to Nuts'

By Barron Mills

Everything from soup to nuts, including a chorus line of 10 campus cuties and a skit featuring members of the football squad, will be included in "What a World" Monday and Tuesday evenings at 8 o'clock in Memorial hall.

Many campus celebrities including Dan the Dog, DTH columnist Jud Kinberg's ghost writer, have been contracted by the S&F directors to be on hand when the curtain goes up on the musical madhouse.

Roy Cole and his orchestra with the latest campus crooner, John Shearin, will furnish the musical background of the production which has been in rehearsal since the beginning of the term, under the direction of Don Draper.

Sound and Fury President, Bill Carmichael, in announcing the plot of the musical stated, "We've got everything: it would be impossible to give an accurate account of what we don't include. Our admission charge does not include insurance on the audience."

The sexual part of the show will be the bery of campus chorus girls. Members of the S and F troupe re-
