Washington, April 22—(UP)—The National League of Wholesale Fruit and Vegetable Distributors has urged all of its dealer-members to comply "to the limit of their ability" with President Truman's plea for lower prices.

Four more cities have decided to try the plan, under which all merchants cut their prices 10 per cent.

At least seven other cities have sent requests for detailed information to Newburyport, Massachusetts. Mayor James M. Curley has called on Boston business men to make the hub of the first big city to try the plan.

He made two formal statements tonight at what is expected to be the next-to-last meeting of the Moscow conference. In one he blamed Russia directly for rejecting the American four-power disarmament treaty for Germany, and in the second for refusing to budge on the issue of German assets in Austria. ## First Drawn by Students... Fee Structure Passage Is Milestone in History

By Barron Mills

The first student fee structure ever drawn up by a student group in the history of the University has been passed by the Board of Trustees, according to Chancellor Robert House.

Passage of the structure by the trustees marks a milestone in University history in that the Student legislature is the first student group to have the privilege to draw up and establish their own fees; it is the first time that the student fees will be able to fluctuate with the needs of various campus organizations, and it is the first fee structure established under the new constitution as passed by the student body last spring.

Special Assembly Of Legislature To Meet Tonight

In what Speaker Charlie Warren indicated will be "a routine meeting," the Student Legislature will convene at 7:30 o'clock this evening at Di hall in a special session to consider three constitutional amendments, a recodifying of the election laws, and a bill to redivide the town districts.

The three amendments which Warren warned "will have to be ready for the May elections," are concerned with a revamping of the Coed Senate, the Dance committee, and the Student Audit board. None of the proposals are thought to be controversial, and little debate is expected.

The recodifying of the election regulations is merely to insure that voting laws will comply with the campus constitution. This bill, introduced a few weeks ago by Johnny Clappitt, sets the expenses which are allowed candidates, and sets the dates of elections, and other such mechanics.

Charlie Long's redividing bill, however, is expected to bring considerable comment from the floor. This measure considered by some observers to be a political move, would establish separate polling districts for town men living in fraternity houses and those who do not.

Warren added, "I hope tonight's meeting will not last too long."

Educational Director To Lecture Tomorrow

Miss Dorothy Berry, educational director of Helena Rubenstein, will lecture to students at the University on Friday morning at 11:00 o'clock in the YWCA office.

Miss Berry, who is sponsored here by the Woman's Vocational Guidance office, will discuss career opportunities for young women and the educational background most helpful in the attainment of certain careers, all of which is part of the Helena Rubenstein Educational program which is a community service keyed to the needs of future career women.

SP to Meet to Elect Town Representatives

The Student Party will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Roland Parker lounge to elect town men representatives to the Student Legislature. The steering committee of the Party will meet at 3 o'clock in the Grail room.

Maddox Asserts U.S. Powers In Campus Address Tuesday

Dr. William Maddox, director of Foreign Service training of the State department, declared Tuesday that the United States, as the most powerful nation in the world, holds a unique responsibility in history. This nation, holding the greatest technological, political, and potential military power on earth, faces two fundamental problems in this responsibility.

One, he said, is not to shirk our obligations in the most powerful leader in world affairs; and the other is not to misuse or abuse our great power. Dr. Maddox stated that the future of America depends on changing our "mentality" concerning international relations from uninformed indifference to vital interest and active participation.

Dr. Frank P. Graham, president of the greater University, seemed well pleased with its passage and stated, "After thorough discussion, the Board of Trustees passed the division unanimously." Chancellor House presented it well."

The five dollars per student each term as a block fee was recommended highly to members of the Board of Trustees by both Dr. Graham and Mr. House.

Of the five-dollar quarterly fee, one dollar goes to the Graham Memorial Student union for operation. The largest amount, $72,916, of the $110,000 budget was allotted to campus publications.

All phases of the campus constitution went into effect last spring with the exception of the fee-structure clause. Preparation of the structure began last summer with the appointment of a special committee appointed by Dewey Dorsett, president of the student body. The committee had worked on the problem with Dean Fred Weaver since that time.

Phi Group Accepts Laws of Jim Crow

The Phi assembly last Tuesday endorsed maintenance of the Jim Crow laws after a lengthy, but calm, debate. An overwhelming majority felt that these laws constituted a definite need though they may not be a perfect solution to our problems. Furthermore, it was advocated that educational facilities for the colored race be made more adequate which in turn will ultimately benefit both races to a great extent.

Page Harris, of Durham, was appointed chairman of the membership committee to succeed Orren Hyman who found it necessary to resign because of preparation for Med school.

Russell Johnson, junior from Conway, was initiated into the assembly. Johnson was a former president of the Carolina Conservative club and at one time held the position of sergeant-at-arms with the Di senate.

Hodgson Calls Meeting Of Humor Issue Staff

Matt "Tookie" Hodgson, guest editor of the May Carolina Magazine, to be a humor issue, yesterday called a meeting for 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Mag office for all staff personnel working on the issue.

He is now employed at the Orange Printshop in Chapel Hill, working on the technical side of the DTH, as well as the literary.

Bob Weant, nominated for president of the Carolina Athletic association, is a junior from Salisbury who was a first-stringer for the Tar Heels in 1944 and also won a letter last year for his work as a blocking back and center. He is on this year's grid squad also.

Bob Cox, Weant's running-mate for the vice-presidential post, is a member of both the golf and football teams, and made the limelight last football season with his brilliant extra point-kicking. Cox is a rising junior from Germantown, Tennessee.

Music Sorority Picks Officers and Pledges

The newly elected officers of the Iota Tau chapter here at the University are as follows: Mary Elizabeth Barnes, New Bern, president; Doris Newburn, Sarasota, Fla., vice-president; and Nina Thomas, Tampa, Fla., chaplain. Audrey Green, Lillian Messicks, Ann Brown, and Betty Tucker are the four new pledges.

Consider Coed Permission....

Duke Ambassadors Will Play For May Junior-Senior Prom

The 1947 Junior-Senior dance will feature Sammy Fletcher and his 18 Duke Ambassadors who have been proclaimed "the South's outstanding college dance band." The Ambassadors, which include two vocalists, have already proven their popularity with Carolina students when they were presented in concert to the campus several months ago by Graham Memorial. Besides fronting the band, Fletcher also specializes on the drums.

The prom will be held on May 9 from nine until one o'clock at Woolen gym, and coed permission until 2 o'clock is under consideration. It will be a semi-formal affair.

The freshman and sophomore classes will hold a joint meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock in Gerrard hall, according to an announcement released by Dusty Leonard, sophomore class president, and Steve Nimocks and Al Winn, the two contenders in the current dispute over the freshman class presidency.

Although no settlement has been reached on the two void freshman class elections, both Nimocks and Winn urge all freshmen to attend the meeting today along with all sophomores. Leonard will preside over the discussion which is vitally important to both classes.

It is at this time that any plans for future class activities must be organized. One proposition to be considered is continuing the freshman-sophomore dances which proved very popular in earlier years. At present neither class has a social fund established to sustain any expenditures whatsoever.

Walton Hamilton Begins Lectures

Professor Walton Hamilton of the Yale University School of Law presented the first in a series of Weil lectures on American citizenship in Hill hall last night.

The general topic of Professor Hamilton's lectures is "The Return of Political Economy," and the sub-topics to be delivered tonight and tomorrow night are "The State Goes Economic," and "Union of State and Economy."

The Weil lectures were established by the families of Sol and Henry Weil of Goldsboro, and are normally an annual feature of the public lecture program of the University.

Addressing students and faculty in the division of international studies of the political science department, Dr. Maddox called for realistic, intensive preparation by those who plan to enter the foreign service.

Dr. Maddox addressed the class in the Conduct of American Foreign Relations on Tuesday morning and held a seminar-conference that afternoon.
