Warren Austin Receives Post On Assembly

Herschel Johnson
Named Alternate

Washington, April 25—(UP)—The State Department has announced that Warren Austin has been named Chief Representative to the Special General Assembly meeting on Palestine, due to start Monday. Herschel Johnson has been named as alternate.

Earlier today, Austin said that contrary to widely-held belief—the Soviet Union is not trying to sabotage the United Nations.

Austin admitted that settlement of our issues with Russia will take a long time. But, he added, "The progress we are making in the U. N. will result in agreements with Russia on matters that now seem insoluble."

Austin acknowledged that the U. N. had not fulfilled the high expectations with which people had hailed its birth. However, the American delegate said that the U. N. had not failed, but merely has been unable to accomplish immediately the things the world had expected of it.

Hungary to Apply For U. N. Membership

Washington, April 25—(UP)—It was learned tonight that Hungary, one of the former satellites of Nazi Germany, plans to apply for membership in the United Nations. A Hungarian legation spokesman says Hungary's request for U. N. membership will be submitted to the Security Council "in the near future."

Bank Witnesses Say May Cashed Check

Washington, April 25—(UP)—Two bank witnesses have testified that former Kentucky Congressman Andrew May cashed a 5,000 dollar check made out to him by the Garsor brothers munitions combine. They said May took 1,000 in cash and deposited the rest in his account.

Marshall to Report On Moscow Meeting

Washington, April 25—(UP)—The State Department announces that Secretary of State Marshall will give the American people a first hand report on the Moscow conference at 8:30 Monday night (E.S.T.). His 30-minute address will be broadcast from Washington on all major networks.

Mark Clark Blames Russia for Failure

Vienna, April 25—(UP)—General Mark Clark has returned to Vienna from the Moscow conference. He says failure of the Big Four to reach agreement on the Austrian treaty was due almost entirely to Russia taking a new position on issues the ministers previously had agreed upon.

Workers Arrested For Demonstration

San Francisco, April 25—(UP)—Police have arrested 27 telephone workers who defied orders to break up a mass demonstration against an injunction limiting pickets. Some 2,000 strikers took part in the rally and several phone girls were knocked down when the police charged in.

Mediators Meeting To End Phone Strike

Washington, April 25—(UP)—Government mediators have been meeting again with company and union representatives in new efforts to end the phone strike. But one government official says no progress is expected until late tomorrow at the earliest.

Three Strikes, and Out...

Tragedy of Traffic Light Marks Passing of Landmark

By Chuck Hauser

There was no 21-gun salute, there was no bowing of heads, there was no mourning, but at 6:15 yesterday morning another Chapel Hill landmark passed into obscurity.

The famed landmark was the well-known standing traffic light at the intersection of Franklin and Columbia streets, the bane of many a Chapel Hill motorist's existence.

The tragedy was only the climax of an intriguing story, one which might well be called "Three Strikes—You're Out!" for this is the third time in less than six months that the light has been knocked down.

Coup de Grace

The first two times a truck and a small auto with a slightly inebriated driver were involved. But the coup de grace came yesterday morning when a gigantic moving van neatly picked the light up—concrete base and all—and deposited it on the sidewalk in front of Huggins Hardware store on Franklin street.

The van is one which might be familiar to many in Chapel Hill—it is often seen parked in front of the Carolina Theater delivering films. It was headed in from Carrboro when the accident occurred, the driver apparently having fallen asleep at the wheel. Fortunately, no one was injured.

The truck departed from the Hill sometime between 7 and 8 o'clock, being towed out the Durham road by a large wrecker summoned from Raleigh. And so ended another tragic episode in the life of our traffic light.

Never to Rise

But, as the game goes, three strikes—and out. The light, after its demolition, fell, never to rise again.

After Chapel Hill police had been directing traffic at the intersection all morning, the noon sun found a new traffic light being installed, but not in the same place. The new one was to be suspended over the street.

At 10 minutes past 2 o'clock the new light was working, having been transferred from the Columbia-Rosemary street corner up to the busy Franklin street intersection.

There was no 21-gun salute, there was no bowing of heads, there was no mourning—only a sigh of relief from Chapel Hill car-owners.

Pi Kappa Alpha Pledges Fourteen

The president of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity announced yesterday that the organization has recently pledged the following men:

James Boyles, Norman Chesson, Sam Green, Louis Haynes, Grover Henson, Allen Morgan, Robert Morrison, Joseph Murphy, Jim Phillips, George Ray, Joseph Rutledge, Dave Stroud, Andrew Toxey, Johnny Trimble.

Orchestra Plans to Feature 'Suite for Strings' Monday

"Suite for Strings" by George Thaddeus Jones, native of Asheville and well known composer, will be featured on the program to be presented by the North Carolina Symphony orchestra which will perform Monday evening at 8:30 in Memorial hall.

Now stationed in the United States Navy School of Music, Washington, D. C., Jones graduated from the University in 1938 with an A.B. in music. From 1938 to 1941 he taught instrumental music in the Durham city schools; in 1942 he received his M.A. degree in composition from the Eastman School of Music, and since that time has taught composition and theory at the Navy School of Music.

He has also continued his study of composition with Nadia Boulanger and Nicholas Nabokoff, and is a member of the National Association

Jim Camp, shown above, is the president of the Monogram club which is sponsoring the Blue-white game this afternoon. Camp will start at wingback for the white team.

Housing Projects Being Beautified Around Campus

With the advent of spring a beautification program is in full swing about the grounds of the University housing projects. Supervisor of Operations J. S. Bennett announced yesterday that the last of over four thousand shrubs and flowering trees have been planted in Victory Village and that the sowing of grass lawns in the Village is being finished up this week.

Grass and shrubs are also being planted around Nash and Miller halls and in front of the Monogram club, and a new hedge has been installed in front of the trailer camp on Pittsboro road.

Bennett said that the second brick walk to take the place of the traditional gravel ones on the campus is almost complete between Franklin dormitory and Cameron avenue in front of South building. As soon as it is completed work will begin on a third brick section between South building and the Carolina Inn along Cameron avenue.

Another new walkway has recently been laid out between the trailer camp and Victory Village so that students will not have to walk along the highway in that area. The walk is of gravel with street lamps installed at intervals.

Game Concludes Spring Practice; Starts at 2:30

By Irwin Smallwood

The Tar Heel sports picture will make a quick shift from the baseball field and tennis courts to Kenan stadium this afternoon. At 2:30 o'clock the second annual Blue and White spring football game will get underway, producing what promises to be a first-rate preview of what's to come next fall when the Carolina gridders begin the defense of their Southern conference crown.

A crowd of several thousand is anticipated for the Monogram club-sponsored event, which will be complete with all the trimmings of a regular fall encounter. The University band, under the direction of Earl Slocum, the cheer leaders and six coed sponsors will add color to the contest.

Coaching Awards

And at the half, the Monogram club will present its awards to the varsity and jayvee or assistant coaches who, in the opinion of the club members, have contributed the most to Carolina athletics during their tours of duty as Tar Heel mentors.

Charlie Choo-Choo Justice, the Carolina second string All-American tailback last season, will be leading the Blue team in action, and Jim Camp, president of the letterman organization and a star wingback from last year, will pace the Whites along with Walt Pupa.

Each team will have two or three reserves in each position, and these reserves will be lettermen to a large extent. However, quite a few potential Tar Heel gridiron stars seeing action will be playing for the first time under the Blue and White banner, and several jayvee performers from last season will be in the thick of things after having been elevated from the reserve squad.

Married Women Vets May Get $90 Per Month While Attending School

Married women veterans with children may receive $90 a month subsistence allowance while attending school even though they are recognized as dependents of husbands also attending school under the G.I. Bill, the Veterans Administration has ruled.

The decision was based on a case involving a husband and wife, both veterans, with one child. It stated that the maximum of $90 per month subsistence allowance would be paid only if the woman's outside income from productive work did not exceed $110 per month.

The woman claimed the child as her dependent for the purpose of the subsistence even though her husband was in training under the same law and was receiving a subsistence allowance of $90 a month because he had a dependent (the wife).

Under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act, an eligible veteran is entitled to a subsistence of $65 a month if he or she has no dependents, or $90 if there are one or more dependents, provided his or her income from productive work does not exceed $110 a month.

The question whether the woman veteran in the case was entitled to $90 subsistence allowance because of the child was considered in the light of previous opinions and decisions covering the recognition of a child as the dependent of a woman veteran.

Keyboard Caressing Career...

Elliot Lawrence Band to Play At Memorial Hall Tomorrow

By Bookie Jabine

Sending concert audiences is fast becoming a habit to Elliot Lawrence, 22 year-old pianist, who brings his orchestra to the stage of Memorial hall tomorrow evening for a two hour jive session.

ELLIOT LAWRENCE

Beginning his keyboard caressing career at the tender age of six, Lawrence has risen to a commanding position among the new dance bands of the day. Look magazine recently named his outfit as tops among new bands in 1947.

Playing at Penn

Garnering most of his popularity from an impressive list of college dates, the youthful maestro is now a regular feature at the famous Cafe Rouge in New York's Hotel Pennsylvania.

The college crowd apparently went for his smooth, zestful rhythms which he has augmented with many innovations of an almost revolutionary nature. A number of Lawrence's orchestrations have parts for French horn, oboe, flute, English horn, and bassoon, instruments heretofore considered for long hairs only.

Although Lawrence receives 100 per cent billing, it cannot be overlooked that he is bringing with him Jack Hunter and Rosalyn Patton, vocalists who have waxed what swing bugs regard as some of the best discs of the season.

Feature Fila—Trumpeter

Also featured is comparatively unknown trumpeter Alex Fila. His obscurity is attributed chiefly to his youth, but swing circles agree that the young hornster will develop into one of the finer soloists in the business.

With his vocalists and instrumental soloists, Lawrence will bring to the campus a combination of distinctive arrangements to "make for music in the mood that young dancers seem to want."

Social Scientists Holding Meeting

Thirty-five colleges and universities in 13 states have sent representatives to the Working Conference on College training of the Social Sciences being conducted by the University Institute for Research in Social Science here today and tomorrow.

Dr. Gordon W. Blackwell, director of the institute, is in charge of the conference which opened at 3 o'clock yesterday in the Alumni building.

States represented, in addition to North Carolina, are Georgia, Alabama, Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Mississippi, Florida, Louisiana, Maryland, New York, South Carolina, and the District of Columbia.
